Utah State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution

Issued in furtherance of Cooperative Extension work, Acts of May 8 and June 30, 1914, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Robert L. Gilliland, Vice President and Director, Cooperative Extension Service, Utah State University, Logan, Utah. (EP/5-95/DF)

Wheat

Wheat is the most important grain crop in the world, inasmuch as it provides more nourishment for more people than any other grain. It has been estimated that wheat supplies 40 to 60 percent of the available energy and protein in developing countries. Wheat is high in carbohydrates and protein. The protein quality based on essential amino acid content is the best of any grain. Wheat is also an important food in the world because it can be stored for long periods of time and provides a good foundation for a home food storage plan. (See Extension Circular 371, Home Storage of Wheat.)

Origin and History

The history of wheat parallels the development of civilization. Wheat was cultivated even before history was recorded. Archaeologists have found wheat kernels in ancient ruins which are thought to be 6700 years old. Various forms of wheat and bread have been referred to with reverence through history. The Bible has references to our daily bread, Hebrews celebrate the Passover by eating unleavened bread, and Europeans commonly refer to bread as the staff of life.

Types of Wheat—Winter Wheat vs Spring Wheat

Two main types of wheat are winter wheats and spring wheats. Winter wheats are planted in the fall and harvested the following summer. Spring wheats are planted in the spring after the threat of frost is over and ripen in the summer of the same year.

Hard vs Soft

Hard wheats are higher in protein content (11-15%) than soft wheats and are usually used for bread. High protein durum wheats which are used for pasta are also hard wheats. Soft wheats are lower in protein (6-12%) and are used mainly for cakes, cookies, pastries and crackers. All-purpose flour is usually a mixture of high and low protein wheats and contain a medium amount of protein which makes reasonably good bread as well as good cakes, cookies, pastry and other baked products.

Nutritional Value of Wheat

Wheat is high in carbohydrate, mainly complex carbohydrate (starch) which is a primary source of energy for many populations. Wheat has the highest protein value of any of the cereals, however, it is not a complete protein. Wheat makes a good contribution of some of the B vitamins and trace minerals (iron and zinc) as well.

Whole grain wheat products contain more nutrients than refined wheat products where the germ and bran are removed. White flour is frequently enriched with the addition of B vitamins and iron to replace the nutrients which are lost in processing. Whole wheat is a good source of fiber. A comparison of whole wheat and white enriched flour follows.

The revised USDA Dietary Guidelines for Americans includes the statement: "Choose a diet with plenty of vegetables, fruits and grain products." The recommended number of daily servings of breads and cereals is six, an increase from four servings. At least half of the servings should be whole grain products. The increase in complex carbohydrate (starch) and dietary fiber from these foods is thought to be preventative of chronic diseases such as cancer, diabetes, and heart disease.

Wheat Flour

Most wheat is utilized by grinding the whole grain to a fine dry powder called flour. A coarser grinding will result in a meal or cracked whole grain product.

Bleached and Unbleached Flour

After the grinding and separating of the whole wheat kernel, the resulting flour has a yellowish, creamy color due to the carotenoid pigments from the wheat. This is the same pigment in the yellow and orange vegetables and fruits which is converted to vitamin A. Freshly ground flour may be allowed to stand for several months while the carotenoid pigments are oxidized naturally and changes occur in the protein. This whitens the color and also improves the baking quality. Fresh flour gives a relatively low volume and a fairly coarse textured loaf. A faster method to accomplish the maturing and bleaching process is the addition of permissible products (bleaching agents) to the flour. The flour must be labeled "bleached." There are no differences in the texture or flavor of products made from either bleached or unbleached flour.

Enriched and Fortified Flour

White flour which is labeled “enriched” has had the following vitamins and minerals added.

Amount per lb. of flour

Thiamin	2.9 mg
Riboflavin	1.8 mg
Niacin	24.0 mg
Iron	13.0 to 16.5 mg
Calcium (optimal)	960 mg

If calcium is added, the flour is labeled as “fortified” since the original wheat does not contain calcium, whereas “enriched” indicates the addition of nutrients which are lost during milling.

Gluten Flour

Gluten flour is a special mixture of wheat flour and gluten (the protein in wheat) with a higher total protein content of 41 percent. This flour can be mixed with a low-protein flour to give sufficient strength for yeast leavened breads. Approximately 1/2 cup of gluten flour added to two loaves of bread will improve volume and texture.

Self-Rising Flour

Self-rising flour has had the addition of soda and a dry acid for leavening and salt. The flour is frequently used for quick breads such as pancakes, biscuits and muffins.

Instantized Flour

Regular all-purpose flour is exposed to hot water droplets or steam to combine individual particles into agglomerates resulting in a granular flour which blends more easily with liquid.

Whole Wheat Flour/White Flour Substitution

In a recipe the word “flour” usually indicates white flour. Substituting whole wheat flour for white flour in most baked products will cause changes in texture, flavor and color. The use of whole wheat flour will give less volume and more compact texture. Many people prefer using half and half to retain the desirable characteristics for special baked products.

❀ WHOLE KERNEL WHEAT ❀

When rehydrated and cooked, wheat kernels expand and pop open. In addition to being used as a hot cooked cereal, cooked whole kernel wheat can be added to casseroles and combination dishes to add variety, texture and flavor. Meat dishes can be extended by adding wheat. The sudden consumption of large quantities of high fiber whole grains can cause gastrointestinal distress. A gradual increase in whole wheat is recommended to avoid this problem.

How to Cook Whole Kernel Wheat

Wash one cup of clean whole kernel wheat and add to 2 cups of cool water and 1 teaspoon of salt. Allow to soak overnight or for 12 hours. Place rehydrated wheat in a pan and bring to a boil. It may be necessary to add water. Simmer for about 1 hour until tender. Wheat need not be covered with water since cooking by steam is effective. Water should be mostly absorbed at the end of the cooking time. The plumped, cooked wheat will keep in a covered container in the refrigerator for about two weeks or frozen for longer periods of time.

Alternative Cooking Methods

1. A slow cooker or deep well cooker might be used to cook wheat.
2. The use of a pressure saucepan will decrease cooking time. Process 1 cup of washed wheat in 2 cups of water at 15 lbs pressure for 15 minutes. Salt is optional.

Wheat may also be cooked by placing 1 cup of washed wheat in a thermos. Pour 2 cups of boiling water over the wheat. Salt is optional. Allow to stand 2-4 hours. The kernels will be tender at 2 hours and more open and tender at 3-4 hours. Don't allow wheat to stand until temperature of the water cools. Bacterial growth can occur at temperatures below 140 degrees F.

Use in Meals

The tender, fluffy kernels can be used as a substitute for rice, pasta or beans in combination dishes. The addition of whole cooked wheat to salads and sandwich fillings gives texture and flavor. Whole cooked what can extend meat mixtures and casseroles.

The recipes which follow are some examples of use of cooked whole kernel wheat.

GROUND BEEF CASSEROLE

- 1 lb ground beef
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- 2 cans (4 cups) spaghetti sauce, without meat
- cooked wheat or noodles
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 can (30 oz.) tomatoes
- 1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms, with liquid
- 1 tbsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup grated cheese

In a large skillet fry the ground beef, onion, celery and green pepper until lightly browned. Add the spaghetti sauce, tomatoes, tomato sauce, mushrooms, sugar and salt. Simmer for 2 hours over low heat. Pour over 1-1/2 cups cooked whole kernel wheat, or 12 ounces of cooked noodles. Top with grated cheese. Heat thoroughly.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE

2 cups cooked, whole kernel wheat or 3 cups cooked rice (1 cup uncooked rice)
1 can (4 oz.) pimentos, chopped
1-1/2 tbsp. flour
1-1/2 cups diced, cooked chicken
1/4 to 1/2 cup canned mushrooms
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1-3/4 cups chicken broth

Combine wheat and pimento, or substitute the rice. Place 1/3 of wheat mixture in oiled casserole. Alternate layers of remaining wheat, chicken, mushrooms and almonds. Pour over chicken broth seasoned with salt and pepper and blended with flour. Bake at 350° F. for 1 hour.

CHEF'S CHICKEN CASSEROLE

- 1/4 lb. butter or margarine
- 1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 4 tbsp. all-purpose flour
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
- 1 tsp. salt
- Chopped parsley
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 small clove garlic, very finely chopped
- 4 cups cubed cooked chicken
- 1-1/2 cups cooked whole kernel wheat, or 8 oz. medium noodles, cooked and drained

Preheat frypan to 300° F. Add mushrooms and saute, stirring frequently. Remove from pan. Turn dial to 240° F. Stir in flour. Cook, stirring constantly, about 2 minutes. Add broth, milk and seasonings gradually while stirring. Stir until thickened. Fold in chicken and half of mushrooms. Arrange cooked wheat in a border around outside of frypan, pushing it into sauce. Push chicken meat to the center. Lay the remaining mushrooms in a circle around meat. Sprinkle parsley over wheat. Turn dial to "warm." Cover, open vent, until ready to serve directly from frypan.

BEEF STROGANOFF

- 4 tbsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 lb. beef sirloin, cut in 1/4 inch wide strips
- 1 cup thinly sliced mushrooms
- 1/2 cup onions, chopped
- 2 cups cooked whole kernel wheat
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 4 tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1 tbsp. tomato paste
- 1-1/4 cups beef stock, or 1 can condensed beef broth

1 cup sour cream

Combine 1 tablespoon flour and the salt, dredge meat in mixture. Heat skillet, then add 2 tablespoons butter. When melted, add the sirloin strips and brown, quickly turning meat to brown on all sides. Add mushroom slices, onion and garlic. Cook 3 to 4 minutes or until onion is barely tender. Remove meat and mushrooms from skillet. Add 2 tablespoons butter to pan drippings; when melted add 3 tablespoons flour. Add tomato paste. Slowly pour in cold meat stock. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Return meat and mushrooms to skillet. Stir in sour cream and heat briefly. Serve with whole kernel wheat.

Bulgur Wheat

Bulgur is a pre-cooked, dried cracked wheat. It is toasted in appearance, nutty in flavor, and easily adaptable to favorite dishes. It is an ancient food. In the Middle East its use in the daily diet dates back to Biblical times. In the United States, Armenian immigrants continued to make and consume it. Recently there has been a renewed interest in use of bulgur and it has assumed a position of distinction with gourmet foods.

Bulgur has the advantage of cooking more rapidly than whole or cracked wheat. The nutritive values of bulgur are approximately the same as those of whole-wheat flour.

Home-Made Bulgur

1. Wash wheat in cool water and discard water.
 2. Cover the wheat with a generous amount of water (2-3 times the amount of wheat) and steam until water is absorbed and wheat is tender. This usually takes from 35 to 40 minutes.
 3. Spread the cooked wheat thinly on cookie sheets or shallow pan and place in a warm oven to dry (200° F). Wheat must be very dry so that it will crack easily.
 4. When wheat is thoroughly dry, remove the chaff by rubbing kernels between the hands. A little moisture added either to the hands or to the surface of the wheat will assist in the removal of the chaff.
 5. (Optional). Crack wheat in mill or grinder (moderately fine) on coarsest setting. A blender may also be used for this purpose.
- Cracked wheat may be used at step 1 instead of whole kernel wheat. Omit steps 4 and 5.

This processed bulgur is easily stored and may be used in many recipes. If the recipe calls for cooked bulgur, boil in water for 5 to 10 minutes or until rehydrated. It will be approximately double in volume.

Most of the recipes in this bulletin were originally developed in the Western Regional Research Laboratory of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Albany, California. The recipes were developed as an aid to wider use of bulgur. They are based on the traditional dry cracked bulgur. Development of the recipes revealed that bulgur is versatile in cookery and is usable in every course and every meal of the day. The recipes can be followed closely or used as a guide to other ways to use bulgur.

Uncooked, cracked wheat may be used in the place of bulgur in most recipes, however the cooking times will need to be increased.

🌸 SOUPS, STEWS AND CHOWDERS 🌸

BEEF-VEGETABLE SOUP WITH BULGUR WHEAT

- 1 lb. beef stewing meat, or 2 lb. meaty soup bone
- 1/2 cup chopped onions or leeks
- 1/4 cup snipped parsley
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/8 tsp. powdered cloves

1 cup bulgur
1 cup diced or shredded carrots
1 cup sliced celery
2-3 tsp. salt
1 can (10- 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom or tomato soup

Simmer beef in 2-1/2 quarts water 2 to 3 hours. Remove meat and bones and skim off fat. Add bulgur, carrots, onions, celery, parsley, salt, pepper, and cloves. Cover and continue cooking until vegetables are tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Remove meat from bones, dice and return to soup mixture. Stir in can of mushroom or tomato soup and heat to boiling.

1/2 cup diced tomato
1/4 cup minced parsley
1/4 tsp. minced garlic
1-1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. oregano
1 cup sliced zucchini
Parmesan cheese

Heat oil in saucepan and add onion. Saute until onions are opaque. Add beef, celery and water. Cover and bring to a simmer; simmer slowly until meat is tender, about 3 hours. Remove meat. Dice and return to stock. Add tomato, cabbage, parsley, carrots and garlic. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle each serving with grated Parmesan cheese.

SCOTCH BROTH WITH BULGUR WHEAT

2 pounds lamb shanks
1 cup diced or shredded carrots
1 cup sliced celery
2-3 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. curry powder (optional)
4 tbsp. flour
1 cup bulgur
1/2 cup chopped onions or leeks
1/4 cup snipped parsley
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Simmer lamb shanks in 2-1/2 quarts water for 2 to 3 hours. Remove meat and bones and skim off fat. Add bulgur, carrots, onions, celery, parsley, salt, pepper and curry powder. Cover and continue cooking until vegetables are tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Remove meat from bones, dice and return to soup mixture.

Over low heat, blend butter with flour. Slowly stir in about 2 cups of the soup mixture, then stir into remaining soup mixture. Continue cooking until thickened, about 3 minutes.

VEAL WITH BULGUR DUMPLINGS

2 lbs. veal cutlets (1/4-inch thick)
1/4 cup vegetable oil
3 tbsp. flour
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
1/2 tsp. salt
grated Parmesan cheese
1 clove garlic
1-3/4 cups beef bouillon
2 tbsp. chopped onions
1/4 tsp. pepper

Sprinkle veal with cheese, rubbing well into cutlets. Turn cutlets and repeat on other side. Cut veal into 1 x 2-inch strips. Heat oil in heavy skillet and add garlic and veal strips. Brown veal on both sides and remove from skillet. Discard garlic. Blend flour with remaining oil. Remove from heat and slowly stir in bouillon, mushrooms, onions, salt and pepper. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add veal, cover and simmer gently about 20 minutes. Add Bulgur Dumplings, cover and cook 25 to 30 minutes.

BULGUR SWEDISH CABBAGE ROLLS

12 large cabbage leaves
1/2 cup chopped onion
2-1/2 cups cooked bulgur
1 tsp. seasoned salt

1/4 tsp. mace
3/4 cup meat or chicken stock
3 tbsp. margarine or drippings
1/2 lb. ground beef, veal, or pork
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 cup beef stock or tomato puree, or mixture of both

Wilt cabbage leaves in hot water 5 to 10 minutes. Melt margarine in heavy skillet and add onion and ground beef. Saute over moderate heat until lightly browned. Add bulgur, salt, seasoned salt, pepper, mace, Worcestershire sauce and 3/4 cup meat stock. Cover and cook over medium heat until liquid is absorbed.

Mark mixture into 12 parts. Spoon one part on each cabbage leaf. Roll up leaves, starting with thick end, and secure with toothpicks. Place rolls, sealed side down, in shallow baking dish. Pour cup of beef stock over rolls. Sprinkle each roll with seasoned salt and dot with butter or margarine. Cover and bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 45 minutes. BULGUR WHEAT PIZZA

Pizza Sauce

2 tbsp. vegetable oil
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 tsp. minced garlic
3/4 lb. lean ground beef
3 cups tomato sauce
2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 tsp. pepper
3/4 tsp. oregano
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup sliced mushrooms
1/4 lb. Italian sausage, thinly sliced
1 can (6 oz.) tomato puree
3 cups water
snip of bay leaf
1 tsp. salt

Heat oil and saute onion, pepper, mushrooms, garlic, sausage and ground beef until onions are opaque. Add remaining ingredients, cover and simmer 45 minutes. Uncover and simmer an additional 45 minutes.

Pizza Dough

1/2 cup bulgur
1 pkg. (1/4 oz.) active dry yeast
2-1/2 cups flour
1 tbsp. vegetable oil
1-3/4 cups water
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1 tsp. salt

Combine bulgur and 1-3/4 cups water in a saucepan. Cover, heat and simmer 15 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Sift flour and salt together. Add oil, cooked bulgur and yeast mixture. Mix thoroughly (until dough leaves sides of bowl). Lightly oil surface of dough, cover and let rise in warm place, about 85° F. until doubled in volume, about 1-1/2 hours.

Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a circle to fit a 12-inch pizza pan. Brush surface lightly with oil. Let rise in warm place about 20 minutes.

Arrange slices of mozzarella cheese on surface of pizza crust. Top with layer of sauce. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 35 to 40 minutes.

❁ ACCOMPANIMENTS ❁

QUICKIE PILAFS

Dehydrated soup mixes with chicken, meat or vegetable flavors offer a variety of ready-to-use seasoning agents for quick pilafs. Readily available on the market are dehydrated onion, mushroom, chicken noodle, beef noodle, garden vegetable, green pea, and tomato soup mixes. Each of these imparts its characteristic flavor to the pilaf.

Prepare 1 cup bulgur according to directions in introduction. Add 1/2 envelope of the seasoned soup mix at beginning of cooking. Adjust seasoning to taste with salt, pepper and seasoned salt. Increase the water by 1/4 to 1/2 cup if the soup mix contains a starch thickener (cream of mushroom, green pea mix, etc.). A cup or more of left-over diced chicken, meat, or fish, or a can of tuna fish may be added for a hearty pilaf entree. Grated Cheddar cheese or crumbled blue cheese, or a sprinkling of grated Parmesan cheese offer flavor variations. A tablespoon of bacon drippings adds zest to the green pea soup pilaf. This one is especially good with wieners or ham. Curry (1/8 teaspoon) improves chicken noodle soup pilaf and a pinch of parsley enhances the flavor of the garden vegetable pilaf.

These quickie pilafs are excellent dishes for camping menus as well as for quick meals at home.

BULGUR BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

1 cup water
2 cups flour
3/4 tsp. salt
3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup bulgur
3-1/2 tsp. baking powder

1/4 cup shortening

Combine water and bulgur in saucepan. Cover and heat to simmer—do not boil. Simmer about 20 minutes or until most of the water is absorbed. In separate bowl, sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut shortening into flour mixture with pastry blender until shortening is finely distributed. Stir in milk and cooked bulgur. Turn out on lightly floured paper. Knead about 10 times. Pat or roll out about 1/2-inch thick. Cut with floured biscuit cutter or knife into 2-inch squares. Bake on greased baking sheet in preheated oven, 400° F., until biscuits are lightly browned, 25 to 30 minutes.

BULGUR WHEAT MUFFINS

1/4 cup bulgur

1 cup flour

1/3 cup sugar

1 egg, slightly beaten

1/4 cup vegetable oil

1 cup water

3 tsp. baking powder

1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 cup milk

Combine water and bulgur in saucepan. Cover and heat to simmer—do not boil. Simmer about 20 minutes or until most of the water is absorbed. In separate bowl, sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine egg, milk, cooked bulgur and oil in small bowl. Stir into dry ingredients just enough to blend. Do not over-stir; batter will look rough. Drop into well greased (2-1/4 in.) muffin tins. Sprinkle tops with mixture of 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in hot oven, 400° F., 20 to 25 minutes.

WHITE BREAD WITH BULGUR

1 cup water
1/8 tsp. salt
1 pkg. (1/4 oz.) activated dry yeast
4-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
3 tbsp. sugar
1/4 cup bulgur
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 tsp. salt
3 tbsp. vegetable oil

Combine 1 cup water, bulgur and 1/8 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Cover and heat to simmer; do not boil. Simmer about 20 minutes or until most of water is absorbed. Cool to lukewarm.

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm. Blend yeast and lukewarm water. Stir milk into yeast mixture. Sift together flour, 2 teaspoons salt and sugar, reserving 1/4 cup. Add remainder to yeast mixture with the cooked bulgur. Add vegetable oil and mix thoroughly.

Turn out on board or brown paper which has been lightly dusted with part of the 1/4 cup reserved flour mixture. Knead about 10 minutes or until dough is smooth and satiny. Form into ball. Place in warm greased bowl. Brush surface lightly with oil. Cover and let rise in warm place (80° to 85° F.) until volume is doubled, 1-1/2 to 2 hours. At this point dough will retain impression when pressed with finger. Punch down dough. Turn out on board or brown paper which has been lightly dusted with remaining flour. Divide into two equal portions. Mold each into a ball. Cover and let rest for 15 minutes. Shape into loaves.

Place dough in two lightly greased loaf pans. Brush tops lightly with oil or melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place (80° to 85° F.) until volume is doubled. Bake in preheated oven, 400° F., 35 to 40 minutes.

BULGUR DARK FRUIT CAKE

3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 1/8 tsp. mace
 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 1/2 cup currants
 1 cup diced glace citron
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup strawberry preserves
 1/4 tsp. baking soda
 1/4 tsp. allspice
 1/8 tsp. nutmeg
 1/2 cup golden raisins
 1 cup diced mixed glace fruit
 1/2 cup glace cherries
 2 eggs, separated, room temperature
 1/4 cup cider
 1-1/2 cups cooked bulgur

Sift together flour, baking soda, cinnamon, allspice, mace and nutmeg. Add fruits and mix enough to separate pieces of fruit.

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat until thick and creamy. Stir in cider, preserves and bulgur. Add flour-fruit mixture and blend thoroughly. In separate bowl, beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold peaks. Fold into batter. Fill greased loaf pan or mold about three-fourths full (coffee or shortening cans will do). Cover tightly. *Steam for 3 hours. Cool for 15 minutes, remove from pans, and brush with Brown Sugar Glaze.

*Any large covered utensil with tightly fitting cover can be used as a steamer. Place rack in bottom and keep water level at about 1-1/2 inches. Keep water boiling gently.
