During this season of thanks, our students are also giving thanks. Twenty-six students from our Master's in Human Resources (MHR) Program recently volunteered at the LDS Ogden Cannery, and together, produced more than 36,000 cans of beef chunks for those in need. Additionally, more than 500 students participated in the Business Week service project to provide a six-month supply of design journals and blankets, and wrote 480 letters of support for Huntsman Cancer Institute patients.

In this month's video we also want to thank you, our alumni and friends, for all your support to our students and our school. At this time of thanksgiving, our thoughts turn gratefully to you with warm appreciation.

Happy Thanksgiving,

Doug
