I guess I'm still a little behind and just thinking about the process of selecting the digital trend of the year, rather than making a decision. For those of you that are like me and need to visualize things, I've made a little powerpoint about my process of locating digital folklore trends and such. A work in process for sure, but here goes:

Canvas wouldn't let me upload a powerpoint, so I hope it's okay to have this on slideshare. Let me know if you want me to make it private.

Somehow, a venn diagram with a banana slicer in the middle is the best venn diagram.
