In the eyes of the students, the qualities that make "Doc" a great Forester and teacher are as well known as the definition of silviculture. His high standards in the classroom and in the fields of forest research and silviculture show his regard for the Forestry profession. In the eighteen years served on the faculty, he has worked tirelessly to promote the profession of Forestry here at Utah State University. His numerous achievements and many campus activities set an example we should all strive for in our professional life.

To this outstanding silviculturist and teacher we respectfully dedicate the 1962 UTAH JUNIPER.

From the Dean's Desk

Dear Students and Alumni:

Now it can be said, after many years of reporting progress in building plans, then appropriations, then contracts for building, then migration from the old building to the new building, we have now arrived. We are all in the new Forestry-Biological Science Building---log, livestock, and gun barrel. The final transfer of all personnel from the old building was made during the Christmas holidays. The laboratories were finished and turned over to us in mid-March. Consequently, we are now ready to do business in what in our estimation is the finest facility for teaching and research in our area of interest in the western United States. If you doubt this, come and visit us.

The year started out well with an enrollment of 415 undergraduates and 57 graduate students. Twenty-two of these graduate students are working toward the Doctor's degree, and 35 toward the Master's degree. We will be graduating a senior class of approximately 90 students this spring, just about equally divided among the three departments.

More good news has come to us during the last few months. Our first dean, Paul M. Dunn, was this year elected to the presidency of the Society of American Foresters--a recognition well deserved by our former dean. Last week Aggie graduate Edward P. Cliff in the class of 1931, was appointed Chief of the U. S. Forest Service. Our alumni are making significant progress throughout the United States and the world, filling important positions as college professors, research leaders, and land and animal managers. At the end of last year we had granted 1097 degrees for the Bachelor of Science in our three areas, 143 Master of Science degrees, 5 Master of Forestry degrees, and 14 PhD's.

Personnel-wise we are growing in quantity and quality. Since the publication of the Juniper last year we have had five new people in our building assisting with research and teaching. Dr. Frederic Wagner was appointed Associate Professor in Wildlife Resources. Mr. Jack D. Schultz and Mr. Richard O. Meeuwig, Collaborators from the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station, are now housed with us doing watershed management research. Dr. Donald R. Franklin joined us in January to establish the first Cooperative Fisheries Unit in the United States, and Dr. Roger Peterson, Forest Pathologist of the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station, will join us on April 1. He will be responsible for heading up the unit of research on "Native Rusts of Western Conifers".

The staff is well qualified to supervise and conduct graduate work. More than 80% of the staff have going research projects. The research projects are being supported by various funds in addition to state and federal support, such as National Institutes of Health, National Science Foundation, and others.

The Forest Management Department increased its emphasis on research during the year. Dr. T. W. Daniel is engaged in two projects dealing with ecology and tree physiology. Professor Ross Tocher is working in cooperation with the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station on Forest Recreation research. Dr. Frank Kearns has had two Economics projects going. Dr. Helmuth Resch spent the summer months with the Forest Products Laboratory at the University of California. Professor Raymond R. Moore is in charge of the Summer Camp and is working on a small research project in Pinyon-Juniper.

Our plea to the alumni does not change much. We want good students. The demand for the future is for better scholars. We believe we are now prepared to offer a program of education and research to challenge the best students. Send them in to us and we will build from there.

Forestry Field Trip

The 1961 version of the annual Forestry field trip provided the students with an overall picture of Forestry and its related industries in the western United States. Traveling through six states, slightly under 3,000 miles, gave the students the opportunity of comparing methods utilized in different areas.

Heading west through Nevada, the first official stop was at Placerville,, California, at the Forest Genetics Institute, where research was being conducted on producing ideal tree strains and hybrids. Northward along the coast of California and Oregon, the students were exposed to everything from management, logging, decking, and loading of Redwood and Douglas fir, to state park operations, erosion control, to assorted types of milling operations including an unprecedented tour of a fiber board plant.

At Longview, Washington, Weyerhaeuser's integrated operation seemed to summarize the complete trip. Two days later, twenty-six travel-weary people climbed out of the bus for the final time, after two weeks on the road.

The trip was more than an education in Forestry and its related fields. For many, it was an excellent scenic tour of the western states. Who among the unique group of travelers will ever forget Reno, Nevada, that sea food dinner or trolley car ride in San Francisco, fishing in the Pacific Ocean, the nightly camp fires, the Sea Lion Caves, Mike's Place in Vernonia, Oregon, "the highlight of the trip", or the town of Boise. Yes, everyone, including the bus driver, had a good time on the Junior Forestry field trip.

Summer Camp

Jim Zumbo

Once again Summer Camp opened it's doors to the pre-Junior Foresters for another season. Since four whole days separated finals and the first day of camp, all 45 men were certainly eager to hit the books again. Especially one of the men who had been married two weeks before....!

In all seriousness, though, most of the men enjoyed themselves, and everyone felt that the schedule was a fair one. This was indicated by the many volleyball games, fishing trips, and of course the water fights.

Four fires kept the men in good shape throughout the summer. The first, on the Bridger National Forest near Pinedale, Wyoming, was battled for four days. After the first two days on this fire, the whole gang was released and sent back to Logan. A long day of rest was granted us the following day, (thanks, Prof. Moore). But alas, the fire blew up and once again the troops responded to the call. Two more days on the fire saw the blaze under control. It also saw 40 or more tired Foresters wearily returning to the safe confines of Logan Canyon.

Logan Canyon was not so safe, however, for two weeks later a small fire near Ricks Spring was attacked by a handful of the men. Two hours were needed to subdue this one. The next fire was located in Ogden Canyon, and required headlamps. The Foresters fought this one throughout the night. Actually, it was not "fought", unless one would term the practice of crawling through ashes and feeling for hot coals as "fighting". The last fire was located in Logan Canyon, and required five hours of fighting to control it.

The weather was almost perfect this summer, with rain falling only 3 times. Of course, the rain had to fall at the most inopportune moments. For example, while on the way to an Idaho sawmill, mother nature let loose with a downpour which succeeded in drenching everyone riding on the trucks. That day was a memorable one, what with the water fights on the way back and the Rudbeckia occidentalis flying back and forth between the two trucks. It was on this day that war was officially declared. Most of the major water battles were fought at the camp. Marine pumps, fire extinguishers, hoses, buckets and hardhats were all put into action. Dick Estes put his marine training to use and guided Section 1 on to victory with his well-planned ambushes and surprise attacks.

Three rattlesnakes met death on the slopes of the camp. Heroes of the day were Ron Lind, Jerry Horgesheimer, Marv Queen, and Doug Silgen. Frequent trips to Montpelier were undertaken during the course of the summer. Liquid refreshments were enjoyed by all, especially after the surveying final. Beach parties on the shores of Bear Lake also helped to pass time away.

The last day in the school forest saw a heavy rainfall, which hindered the aerial photo hikes. Hail as big as mothballs turned back all but the most courageous of the men. As it turned out, the cabin on the school forest was filled to capacity with soaked and sorry Foresters. A cheerful fire in the stove plus a penny-pitching game against the wall brightened up the day considerably. Sorry to say that Professor Moore lost all his pennies and turned everyone out to complete the project when the bad weather moved away.

RANGE MANAGEMENT

RANGE DEPARTMENT

Enrollment in Range Management decreased slightly this year, but demand for men increased to almost unbelievable proportions. We are in need of a lot of new students. Please help us locate them!

Graduate work is becoming increasingly important and takes more and more of the faculty time. Fifteen Masters degree students and eight Doctorate students have been registered this year. We have students from India, Pakistan, Sudan, Mexico, Canada, Egypt, and Argentina.

One sad occasion this year is the resignation of Thad Box from our staff. So far we haven't located a man capable of replacing him. Thad will take over the number one range post at Texas Tech. Our regular staff is now supplemented by two capable research collaborators, Alvin T. Bleak with the Agricultural Research Service, and Phil J. Urness with the Utah Fish and Game Department. These two men, together with Phil Ogden, stationed at Cedar City, give us a full-time staff of nine men.

Perhaps the most exciting event of the year is the official move of the department into our wonderful new building. We now have a large forage plant laboratory, a large ecology-watershed laboratory, and two excellent research laboratories with complete chemical facilities and temperature control chambers.

We rounded up 40 graduates in far-away Corpus Christi, Texas, for a range alumni luncheon during the annual meeting of the Range Society. What's more, we had the president of the University there to meet them. Our plant judging team honored us as second place team in national competition there, and we were especially proud of senior student Ralph Rawlinson, who won first place in individual competition. Members of our staff, the president, and four students all visited Monterrey, Mexico, after the meeting, to confer with the University and Mexican stockmen about range education problems.

Next summer the American Institute of Land Appraisers will hold a range appraisal shortcourse on our campus for an estimated 150 people from all over the United States.

This year also marked the release of a range research textbook published by the National Research Council and edited by a committee of six, including C. W. Cook and L. A. Stoddart of our staff.

Last, but not least, we all pay tribute to our 1931 range graduate, Edward P. Cliff, who this year was made Chief of the U. S. Forest Service.

Range Plant Judging Team

Utah State University's Range Plant Judging Team took second place in the International Range Plant Contest. Although the team was delayed several times enroute to Corpus Christi, Texas, they all did a fine job. Ralph Rawlinson placed first in individual points.

The team attended several Range Society meetings, including a field trip to the King Ranch. A rodeo and International Range Education meeting in Monterey, Mexico were also part of the program sponsored by the American Society of Range Management. Thad Box, the team's coach and advisor (complete with Python skin boots) and President Daryl Chase also made the trip.

WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

WILDLIFE REPORT

In line with our expanded interest in basic research we have changed our name to Department of Wildlife Resources. This is more in keeping with our six areas of activity: wildlife resources, fishery resources, environmental biology, Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit, Cooperative Fishery Unit, and Cooperative Wildlife Extension Service.

Dr. Frederic H. Wagner joined the staff at the beginning of the school year. Dr. Wagner is not new to USU, having served on the faculty during the 1958-59 school year when he replaced A. W. Stokes, who was in Europe on a sabbatical.

The first Cooperative Fishery Unit in the United States was established in the Department on January 1, 1962. Dr. Donald R. Franklin is the Unit's Leader. Our department received a National Science Foundation Undergraduate Research Program grant. This research program has four phases. Two in behavior and two in fisheries. We are also continuing with numerous research projects supported by grants from several different organizations. The department also initiated the practice of publishing a newsletter bi-yearly to keep the alumni informed of activities of our department.

For the second consecutive year we have a Fulbright scholar; one in Ecuador and one going to Australia during the summer.

Wildlife Field Trip

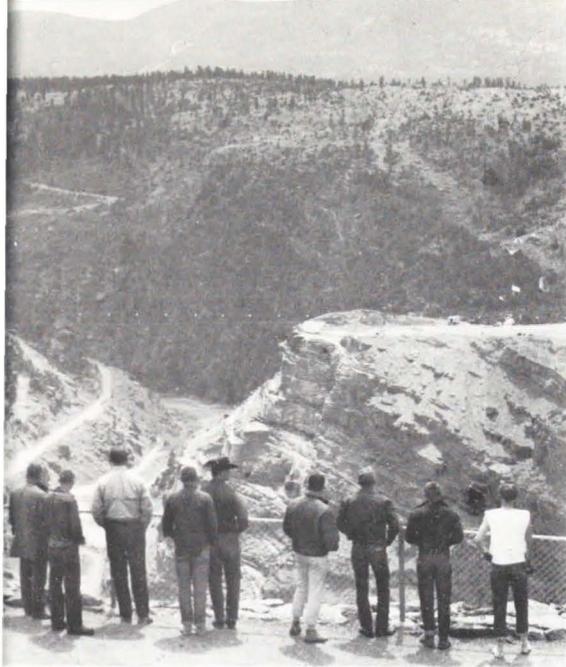

On April 28, the grind of study and the results of midterm exams were forgotten as Wildlife students departed for Jackson Hole, Wyoming on their annual spring field trip. Contrary to previous years in which only one trip was taken, the field trip consisted of two weekend trips; one to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, and the other to Flaming Gorge, Utah.

Upon our arrival at the National Elk Refuge in Jackson Hole, we were promptly ushered to an abandoned house out in the middle of nowhere. This was to be our home for the next three days.

The first item on the agenda prepared for us by employees of the National Elk Refuge and the National Park Service, consisted of a slide lecture on Friday night, which, with the injection of various illustrations denoting a field of study somewhat removed from wildlife management, proved to be very interesting.

On Saturday we toured the National Elk Refuge, which was established along the migration route of the southern Yellowstone Park elk herd to provide a wintering area and to prevent the destruction of forage by the elk on private lands farther south. We learned of the problems connected with managing winter range for elk, the various fallacies of a winter feeding program, and the program of trapping and tagging elk during the winter season for migration studies.

The last day consisted of a tour of Grand Teton National Park and a U. S. Government fish hatchery located between the National Elk Refuge and the Teton National Park.

Yellowstone Trip - February, 1962

One of the highlights of the course in big game management during winter quarter this year was a field trip to Yellowstone National Park. The trip was made to gain insight into the problems of managing wildlife in a national park, to observe big game winter range, and to learn more about the elk reduction program in Yellowstone, which has created much controversy throughout the nation.

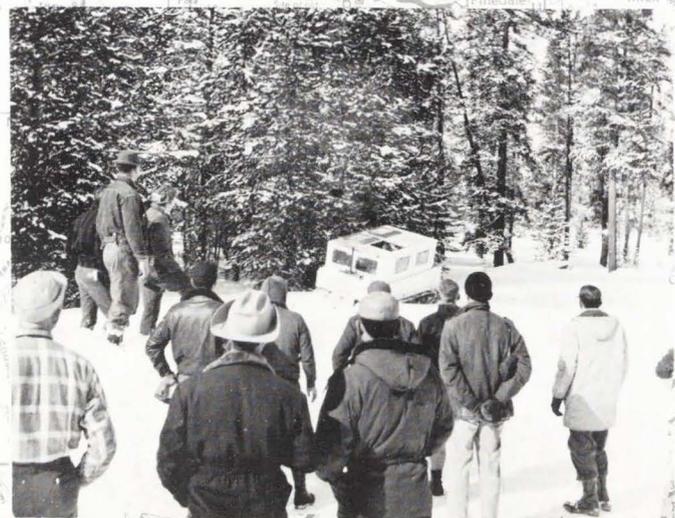

The very fine program, prepared by employees of Yellowstone Park, consisted of trips to various points of interest in the park during the day and lectures and movies about management policies and programs in the evening.

The trips to various points of interest in the Park afforded students a chance to observe many of the big game animals they were studying. Among those seen were deer, elk, bison, antelope, and mountain sheep. Other interesting aspects included explanations of trapping and transplanting programs, a lecture on the geology of Norris Geyser Basin, and how geysers and hot springs are formed, and the illustration of range problems created by the overpopulation of an area by big game animals.

Just a minute-gotta get this shot!

Student Chapter

The student Chapter of the American Society of Range Managers has had a very active and rewarding year. In addition to the interesting and informative meetings, the Chapter has had several worthwhile projects.

This year a new short-term loan fund was set up with the excess funds in the treasury. Officers for the past year included: Chairman, Gary Oliverson; Vice Chairman, Norman Huntsman; Secretary-Treasurer, Lew Munson; Directors, Jim Bowns and Richard Dee; Advisors, Thad Box and John Vallentine.

Wildlife Society

Student Chapter

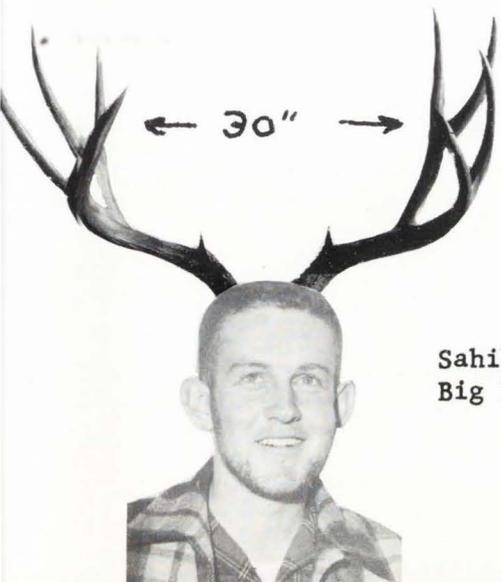

The first student Chapter of the Wildlife Society of America ever to be formed on a university campus came into being at USU on May 16, 1961, when a group of 35 Wildlife students met to form an organization aimed at furthering professional standards, promoting public understanding of wildlife management, and stimulating an interchange of ideas among members of the profession. Officers elected for this year were: Ralph Blotter, President; John Nagel, Vice President; Steve Bayless, Secretary; and Ray Lyon, Treasurer.

The Chapter was officially recognized by the parent society on March 11, 1962, at a meeting of the National Council at the North American Wildlife Conference in Denver, Colorado.

Projects for the year included a series of lectures on the history of the Cache elk herd at Hardware Ranch, improvement of job opportunity information, a book-selling project, and public relations promoting National Wildlife Week. Programs at the meetings consisted of movies and informative lectures by key personnel in the field of wildlife management.

On the basis of this beginning, the Chapter is looking forward to an even better and more progressive year next year.

Intramurals

John Pritchard - Intramurals Manager

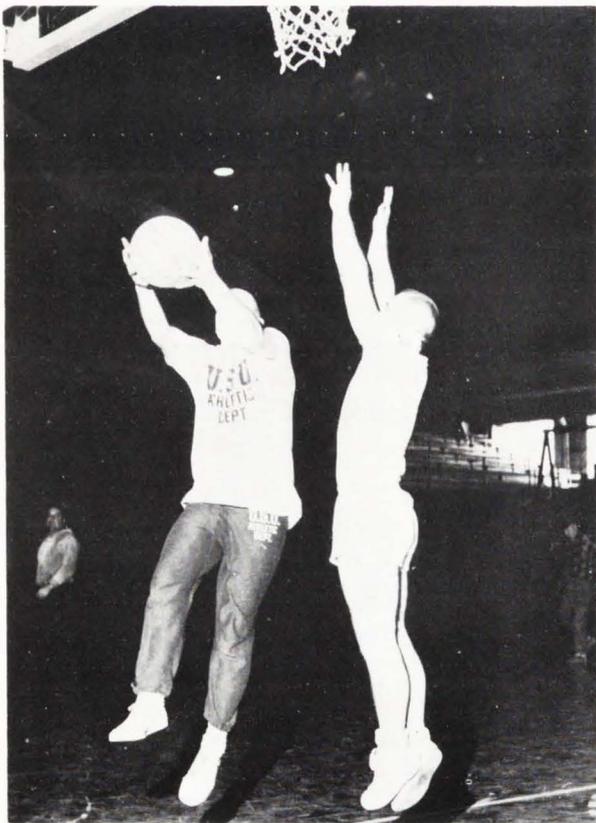

The 1961-62 Foresters had a successful year in the University's Intramural program. The middle of spring quarter the Club was fourth out of a field of 14 in the overall club standings. The Foresters had accumulated a total of 500 points, while the league leaders (Weber) had a total of 688.

A quick run-down of the individual sports shows the Club's weak and strong points. The Foresters took second place in fall quarter football, losing the championship by four yards in a scoreless playoff game with Weber.

An 8th and a 12th place were taken in A and B Basketball respectively, and the Club took 12th in Volleyball.

The other major events during winter quarter, and perhaps the highlight of the year, was Winter Carnival. After spotting 30 points to the other clubs by failing to enter the snow sculpturing event, the Foresters swept all but two of the competitive events, and emerged with a well-deserved first place. Additional honors were brought to the Club by Dick Kleinfelder, who won the coveted Ski Meister Award, by taking three firsts, a second, and a third in the five required events.

Spring quarter found the Foresters represented by their softball and golf teams. Unfortunately the results of the spring sports were not available at the time of printing.

Pritchard defends for the Foresters.

The scene is Beaver Mountain. With Kleinfelder leading, the Foresters wrap up the Winter Carnival.

Conservation Week

The combination of Conservation Week and the Association of Western Forestry Clubs Conclave produced a memorable week for the College and guests. Governor George D. Clyde started the week with the traditional signing of the Conservation Week Proclamation. We were honored to have Mr. Virgil Fischer speak at the Conservation Banquet. A dedicated conservationist, Mr. Fischer forcefully outlined the challenge the resource manager faces in obtaining sound utilization and recreational policies for the Nation's timber and grazing lands. We wish to thank Mr. Fischer for taking time from a busy schedule to speak at the Conservation Banquet.

Presentation of awards and new Forestry Club officers preceded the guest speaker. Last, but not least, a big thanks to Dave Hieber and his assistants for the effort they expended in making the banquet a memorable one.

Awards

BRIDGER AWARD

Mr. William D. Hurst
Deputy Regional Forester, Ogden, Utah

"is the recipient of the Bridger Award for his outstanding achievements in the field of sound resource management."

SON OF PAUL AWARD

Kenneth Gamble

"is presented with the Son of Paul Award for his outstanding scholarship and exceptional promise as a member of the 1962 Senior class."

HEADLESS AXE AWARD

Sam Brewster, Jr.

"Is awarded the Headless Axe for his overnight stay in the West Field Swamp during which he lost a shotgun and his sense of direction. Lately Sam has stopped falling asleep in sawmills and is working out a sustained yield program for the Fir Barrens (mostly barren) of Ecuador."

Box accepts the Headless Axe for Sam, being a Southerner himself.

DAUGHTER OF PAUL ... MARIANNE HOLMGREN

A. W. F. C. Conclave

The eleventh annual Conclave of the Association of Western Forestry Clubs was held at Utah State May 2 to 5. Ten Western Forestry Colleges sent delegates to the Conclave.

May 2nd started the ball rolling with afternoon registration of the delegates. Dusk at the American Legion Hall in Logan Canyon saw the men enjoying a brew or two at the Brown Jug Party. The party produced some novel versions of "the twist".

Thursday saw the official welcome of the delegates by Val Gibbs, AWFC President. After a short business meeting, the delegates split up into several discussion groups, covering such topics as curriculum, events, and publications.

A trip to the Kennecott Copper Mine in Bingham and a sightseeing stop in Salt Lake City occupied the delegates on Friday. The home troops spent most of the day guarding the Queen (successfully) and recovering the plywood statue of Paul the splinter-pushers had ruined. Curry and his crew worked late into the night readying the scene for the contests Saturday. The Conservation Banquet provided the delegates a chance to relax with their dates and hear an excellent presentation by Mr. Virlis Fischer.

The flying chips and sawdust signaled the woodsmen's events Saturday morning. A large crowd saw a terrific show, which ended in a tie between Humboldt and Montana State. The McCulloch Chain Saw Company awarded both schools a chain saw instead of one saw to the top school, as is the usual practice. Utah State finished third in individual point competition.

A quick snack and presentation of the awards officially ended the Conclave. Next year the Conclave will be held at Humboldt State College, Arcata, California.

Our team did a fine job in the competition. A special vote of thanks goes to Bob Curry for the hours of work he has put in all year to make the events run smoothly. Thanks also to the faculty members (Ray Moore, Frank Kearns, Thad Box, Herman Wiebe, George Kelker, and Dean Wasser from C.S.U.) for officiating in the competition, and to the guardians of the Forestry Queen, led by Art Holmgren, Jerry Horgesheimer, and Bill Brooks.

We wish to thank the local merchants for the prizes they donated to the contestants and the McCulloch Chain Saw Company, and to all the other people that helped to make the 1962 AWFC Conclave a success.

Mr. Edward Cliff

Mr. Edward P. Cliff, Chief of the Forest Service in the Department of Agriculture, is a native of Utah and was graduated from Utah State University in 1931 with a B.S. degree in Forestry. In March 1958 the University conferred on him its Distinguished Service Award.

Mr. Cliff is a career Government forester, having entered the Forest Service on the Wenatchee National Forest in the State of Washington in August 1931. From 1934 to 1939 he was in charge of Wildlife Management in the Pacific Northwest Region with headquarters in Portland, Oregon. In May 1939 he was appointed Supervisor of the Siskiyou National Forest, and in January 1942 was transferred to the supervisorship of the Fremont National Forest, both in Oregon.

In April 1944 Mr. Cliff was transferred to Washington D. C., as Assistant Chief of the Division of Range Management. In September 1946 he became Assistant Regional Forester in charge of the Division of Range and Wildlife Management for the Intermountain Region, with headquarters at Ogden, Utah. He was appointed Regional Forester for the Rocky Mountain Region with headquarters in Denver, Colorado, holding that position from January 1950 until his transfer to Washington, D. C., in 1952 as Assistant Chief of the Forest Service. In that capacity he was in charge of the National Forest Resource Management Divisions, directing timber, watershed, range, wildlife, and recreation activities on all the National Forests. He was appointed Chief of the Forest Service on March 18, 1962.

Since 1953 Mr. Cliff has been the U. S. Department of Agriculture Representative on the Board of Geographic Names. He was appointed Chairman of the Board in 1961. He is a member of the following professional organizations: The Wildlife Society, The American Society of Range Management, the Society of American Foresters, and The Wilderness Society.

Mr. Paul Dunn

Recently Mr. Paul M. Dunn was elected President of the Society of American Foresters for a two-year term.

Mr. Dunn served as Dean of the College of Forest, Range, and Wildlife Management at Utah State University from 1938 to 1942, and on the faculty from 1931 to 1942. He left Utah State in 1942 to accept a position with Oregon State College at Corvallis.

Mr. Dunn has participated in many activities in the Forestry profession, and in world forestry, where he worked through the United Nations to help establish a Forestry curriculum at the University of Chile.

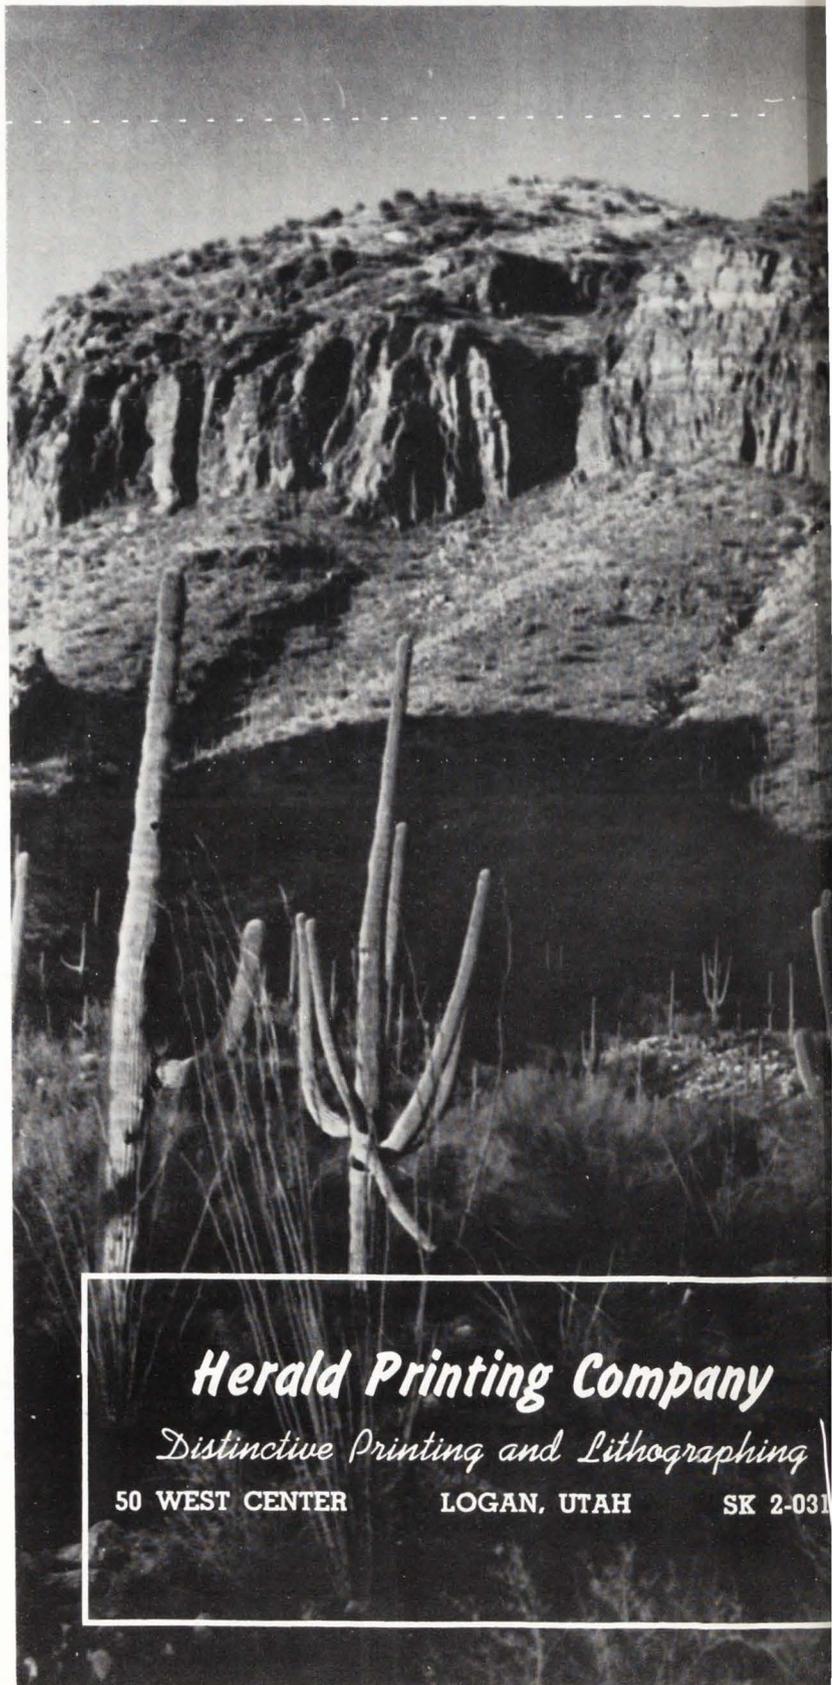

Since 1955 he has served as Director of Forestry for the St. Regis Paper Company, and was recently named Director of Forestry and Timberlands by the firm.

As president of the Society of American Foresters, Mr. Dunn directs the action of the professional Forestry organization. Although he is not an alumni of our College, we are justly proud of his achievements in furthering the profession of Forestry.

The Juniper staff wishes to congratulate both Mr. Cliff and Mr. Dunn on their new positions. The achievements of these two men are certainly outstanding, and the graduating students would do well to emulate their example in effort and industry.

ALUMNI

Fellow Alumni:

The response to our letter has been gratifying. Approximately four hundred of you have responded with up-to-date mailing addresses and dues. Your secretary is especially grateful for the two-dollar bills that some of you submitted. Was I wrong to assume the extra fifty cents was a tip to be spent for coffee at the "Bird"? No, it didn't upset my bookkeeping Dave (D. Latimer '42).

I hesitate even to comment regarding promotions and other advancements made by you for fear that someone will be overlooked, but the advancement of three of our number seems especially worthy of mention. Most of you will have read that Ed Cliff '31 was made Chief of the U. S. Forest Service. Less likely to be known is that Bill Hurst '37 and Basil Crane '36 have occupied two recently created positions in the Forest Service-Deputy Regional Forester-Bill in R-4, Basil in R-2. Nor can I neglect to mention that all three were range management majors. We hope for many more such performances as the years pass. I wish it were possible to give all of the newsy family dope that many of you sent in. 'Twould have been too much.

I can't, however, pass up the chance to twit Rangwell Christenson '39 for boasting he has two sons studying engineering. Then there is Henry Davis '52 who sheepishly (?) admits to being employed as an engineer. Paul Bunyan must suffer from these happenings. Much better is the performance of Paul Howard '41, whose son is studying forestry, or Garland Call '40 who sends a beautiful daughter Garlene to grace the campus.

On the military front you may be interested to note that Lt. John Deeming '59 in Japan hopes to shed the brass and begin to work in 1963. More hopefully Bill Gee '60 is expecting to get back to tree scaling in October. Paul Jenkins '41 commiserates with brother (Capt.) Gene '51 who is in "Korea--poor devil". On the other hand, there are people like Frantzen Todd '40 (Col. USAF) and George Chabbot '50 (Capt. USAF), the latter assigned to Royal Air Force flying college, who seem to enjoy military life.

Lots of you boast of sons and daughters but the claims of two especially stood out. Blaine Morse '37 has quit speaking of the first and is counting the next generation. "Have eight grand children." All girls, Blaine? Any of you have competition for Blaine? Even Dell Fausett '30 can only claim two. And what do you make of Lamar Mason '39, who last October welcomed a newcomer Douglas Lamar. Trying to prove something or other, no doubt.

A trio of marriages may be of interest. Donald Flook, MS '55, imported a bride from Plymouth, England. Sam Evans '38 also took the plunge, as did Jim Shelley '53.

A few invitations may be welcome to some of you. Warren Giaque '43 wants any classmates to call if they get in Washington D.C. and Dave Dutton '61 says to call in on the way to the Worlds Fair. Boy! you're taking a chance, Dave. Have you lots of beds? Stan Gessel '39 was more cautious. He merely says see the fair!

And Smith's nomination for the error of the year goes to J. B. Hilmon MS '55, reporting on his research: "Integrated-cattle-timber-Wildlife habitat." Don't you know there is no such word south of the Mason Dixon line, J.B.?

Wonder how John Birch '52 feels to have a society named for him?

Lastly, I am about to give up my claim to spending the longest time acquiring a Ph. D. to Ervin Schmutz '39. He's still at it. Grant Harris '39 is going to beat you, Ervin.

To a host of you who extended good luck in trying to get this alumni dope together, thanks. I sincerely hope I haven't left anyone off the mailing list or committed other equally bad faux pas, but if any errors occur, a post card (no longer 1 cent, unfortunately) and a gentle reprimand will put me to righting the wrong.

Finally, should you know the whereabouts of fellow alumni not accounted for in the directory, how about dropping a line and tipping us off?

From your alumni officers: Paul Grossenbach '36, President; Hallie Cox '51, Vice President; and Art Smith '36, Secretary, the very best wishes.

Arthur D. Smith, Secretary

In Memorium

H. Keith Erickson, '47, passed away June 12, 1961 in Denver, Colorado, after a short illness. At the time he was Chief of the Denver Section of the Branch of Technical Illustrations Publications Division, U. S. Geological Survey. He served this agency for 20 years.

In recognition of Keith's long and faithful service a Meritorious Service Award was presented to his wife, Eleanor, by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall in December.

We take pride with her in Keith's achievements.

The support these manufacturers and local businessmen have given the JUNIPER is gratefully acknowledged. Support these businesses with your patronage as they have supported the JUNIPER.

Congratulations to the students and alumni of the College of Forest,
Range and Wildlife Management on your fine yearbook.

We urge you to support the USU Alumni Association with your membership as you have supported The Utah Juniper.

The Official Aggie Ring

The response to the new official school ring, being sold only by the Alumni Association, has been excellent. We want to call to your attention again that this beautiful ring is available for order to any alumnus or former student of Utah State University.

Price of the ring, including taxes is $35.28. There is a charge of $4.00 per ring to back-date the year of graduation if it is before 1961. This year's graduates do not have to pay the $4.00 back-dating charge.
