Dear Research Team,

Here's the press release listing the Digital Trend of the Year for 2014; it went out today: <https://english.usu.edu/htm/digital-folklore-project/digital-trend-of-the-year/>
🔗 Feel free to share the link in all your social media worlds.

A big thank you to you all! I so enjoyed reading your messy musings and getting updates from Dr. McNeill about your work. Here's what I wrote about you all in the preamble to the ballot that went out to all the panelists: "Finally, we want to give a shout out to the terrific graduate students who were part of our research team this past semester. They researched their digital hearts out, thought deeply about and debated every item on this ballot, and generally inspired us."

I mean that,
Jeannie (aka "The Monarchy")
