USU's School of Accountancy is pleased to announce achievement of AACSB accreditation for five additional years - February 2013

On January 14th, the AACSB Accounting Accreditation Committee granted a continuation of accreditation for USU's accounting undergraduate and master's degree programs. USU's School of Accountancy is one of a select group of schools worldwide to have been awarded special accounting accreditation. Congratulations to our faculty, staff, students and our alumni and supporters who worked to make this possible.
