THREE STORIES ABOUT THE BAZOOKA

Invasion Story

★ A German fort was causing considerable trouble to an American landing party. One soldier detached himself from the party, and waded ashore with a Bazooka. With one shot he knocked out the fort, and the Germans surrendered.—From a report from the European theatre.

Jungle Story

★ A Yank on patrol suddenly came upon two Japanese tanks. He slipped behind a tree, and let go at the nearest tank. The first rocket from his Bazooka blew up the tank, and its exploding ammunition set off the second tank. Score, two tanks with one shot!—From a report from the South Pacific.

Home Front Story

★ Back of the action stories of the Bazooka on the fighting front is an action-packed home front story of how the Bazooka was built.

On May 21, 1942, a U. S. Army pursuit ship slipped into an airport near a G-E plant. It carried an Army Ordnance officer, and instructions for General Electric to design and produce within thirty days several thousand rocket guns—an assignment so important that it took precedence over all other ordnance in the country.

Twenty-four hours later a G-E engineer came up with the design.

Four days later the first gun was turned out.

Then came the tests, at Aberdeen. For more than two weeks the Bazooka was tested and developed and improved until it had proved itself as a first class fighting weapon. Two men could handle it easily—one in an emergency—yet the Bazooka fired a projectile that could knock out a tank.

All that remained was to produce the quota, several thousand Bazookas, within the remaining eight days!

G-E men and women did it. Parts were rushed by plane and taxicab. Men and women worked through their lunch hours, and stayed over to help the next shift. And seven days after production started, while the first Bazookas produced had already been rushed into action on the Russian and North African fronts, the quota was made, with eighty-nine minutes to spare!

Since then General Electric has turned out hundreds of thousands of Bazookas, but the story of how the first several thousand were produced remains a tribute to G-E workmen, and another example of how G-E engineering and manufacturing experience work to meet America's needs—in war, and peace. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Engineers Acquire Valuable Equipment

Plan Extensive Program for Postwar Era

A complete change in the machine shop at the Utah State Agricultural College was effected as a result of the War Training Program of 1942-1944. The accompanying photographs show clearly the sharp contrast between the "old" and the "new." The new equipment has modernized the shop and made it a more inviting environment for the student, faculty member or casual visitor.

Dean Clyde stated that, "it would have taken twenty years by normal processes for the division of engineering to have acquired the valuable machinery that has been installed in the last two years." The value of this equipment has been placed at $146,028.40. This addition was made possible by grants from the United States government as a part of the extensive training program instituted to assist the war effort.

To house the defense training programs, it has been necessary to greatly expand the quarters normally occupied by the machine shop. The Industrial building has been remodeled and additional space added. These additions have not only provided adequate space for the regular equipment, but have made quarters possible for radio and woodwork.

The engineering department has made careful plans for the postwar period. When present commitments and recommendations are completed the School of Engineering will be able to present the most extensive offering yet made available to students.

The College made an outstanding contribution to the war effort through cooperation with the several branches of the armed forces. The division of engineering was responsible during the past biennium for the conduct of the following special programs: Civilian Pilot Training, War Production Training, Naval Radio Training, Army Specialized Training Program, Engineering, Science, Management War Training.

Other divisions and schools were utilized in these training programs. There was a total of 5,828 students trained to January 1, 1944.

The staff of the School of Engineering looks forward to a period of expansion and advancement. A serious shortage of engineers has been apparent for some time and training drastically curtailed. The demand for technically trained people has steadily increased.

The age of air power which is upon us demands that emphasis be given this phase of training. The School of Engineering, Industries and Trades expects to make the USAC the strongest Aeronautics school in the intermountain region.

DR. FRANDSEN TO ADMINISTER G. I. BILL

Special machinery for the guidance and training of returning servicemen and women has been set up at Utah State which has been approved for participation in the national veterans' education program.

Dr. Arden Frandsen, coordinator of veteran education at the College, states that the curriculum intended for veterans includes courses in forty-eight departments of the seven schools at the College. The program offers training for hundreds of different vocations and professions and prepares men and women for happier and more efficient living besides qualifying them for doing needed services for the community and the nation.

Two provisions for assisting ex-servicemen and women in education have been made by the United States government in the GI Bill of Rights. Every honorably discharged person who has served three months or more in the armed forces since September 16, 1940, will be eligible for one year of training with fees plus $50 a month living expenses paid by the government. An additional year of training for each year in the armed forces will be given; however, men over 25 years of age, to take advantage of the program, must show that their education has been interrupted. Such training must be initiated two years after discharge or the end of the war, and cannot be continued beyond seven years after termination of the war.

The second plans provide for the education of persons who have received physical disabilities in the service of the nation. Persons who have sustained disabilities should file application for pension on form 526, obtained from the American Legion offices, from American Red Cross offices, or Veterans Administration offices. If a pensionable disability producing a vocational handicap is found, the veteran will be advised to make application for vocational training. This training may extend from one to four years and school fees plus living costs of $80 per month will be paid. If the veteran is married $90 plus $5 for each dependent child will be paid. This training must be completed within six years after the termination of the war.

Additional information on the various training opportunities offered for returning servicemen may be found in the 1944 College catalogue, although veterans may obtain information directly at Utah State. Application forms for the training under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 can be obtained at Veteran Administration offices or directly from the USAC.

Thirteen men have already begun training in the rehabilitation program at Utah State in the following curricula: agronomy, bio-chemistry, home appliances, mechanics, photography, automotive mechanics, aeronautics, civil engineering, economics, merchandising, education, and poultry.

H. Parley Kilburn, '31

Kilburn Selected As Executive Secretary

H. Parley Kilburn was recently chosen Executive Secretary of the Aggie Alumni Association according to A. Russell Croft, Association President. He succeeds Mrs. Marjorie A. Henderson, who has been Acting secretary since last spring when Leonard W. McDonald resigned to become managing editor of the Utah Farmer.

Mr. Kilburn received his bachelor's degree at the USAC in 1931 and his M.S. two years later. At present he is a candidate for a doctorate at Stanford University. He has also studied at the University of Michigan and Columbia University.

Since 1942 the Secretary has been instructor of social science at Weber College. Previously he had been head of the social science department at Logan Junior High School, instructor at Snow College in Ephraim, principal of the Logan Woodruff elementary school and instructor in the Davis, Morgan and Weber county schools.

He has been active in state educational circles for many years, having been former president of the Logan Teachers Association and Vice-President of the Utah Educational Association.

In addition to his educational pursuits, Mr. Kilburn has been active in civic and community affairs. He was the first president of the Logan Junior Chamber of Commerce and has held many committee posts in the state and national organization.

Bell Completes Registration Plans

Plans are being made for a normal registration for the school year 1944-45. Full attention will be given to civilian students. Course work in all divisions and departments will be available. The registration of women students is expected to be unusually high. The School of Home Economics is preparing for an extra heavy student load. The surge of men and women returning from war service will undoubtedly get under way during the coming school year, picking up momentum as the year progresses.

The College is prepared to render full service in the postwar reconversion period. A fine record of service in national defense and war training programs, of which the Alumni of the Institution can well be proud, has just been completed. A full program of civilian courses has been maintained throughout this period even though civilian enrollments have been considerably reduced. The immediate future will undoubtedly bring demands that will tax the physical facilities of the Institution, as well as challenge the best efforts of the faculty and administration to meet. The support of a loyal alumni group can do much to encourage the best efforts of all concerned.

Romney Drills Aggie Gridders

Football has been resumed at the USAC. Coach E. L. "Dick" Romney reported that thirty-three gridgers answered the first call and were issued suits.

The group is led by Burns Crookston, only returning letterman. Despite the lack of manpower, enthusiasm among the players is high and they are looking forward to a season of fun on the gridiron.

Students are showing great interest in the team and school spirit will be greatly increased by the return of the fall sport. Alumni are urged to be present at as many games as possible and again enjoy that "Aggie" spirit so characteristic of football days.

The gridgers this year are fairly representative of the entire state. So former Aggies everywhere can watch with interest the fortunes of the team. Preparations are going ahead for a full schedule and players are training as though for a championship.

Ernest Groll of Logan and Clifford Hoopiiana and Nick Caputo of West high and Udell Wankier of Nephi are promising boys in the camp.

Residence Halls Ready For Women

Housing problems of the Utah State coeds were solved this summer when the women's residence hall on the campus was returned to civilian use after barracking aviation students for more than a year.

The women's residence hall has been redecorated during the past months in preparation for 104 freshmen women who made it their college home beginning with the fall quarter, September 25.

The modern structure housed freshmen women until February 1943 when it was turned over to the 318th College Training Detachment on the campus. Until June 1944 a part of the aviation students being trained at the College were barracked there. In June the Army Air Corps program was completed and the residence hall turned back for use of civilian students.

Women of the upper classes will reside in the stately Eccles dormitory on West Center street in Logan. It was purchased more than a year ago as a dormitory for freshmen women while the campus residence hall was being used by the AAF.

Freshmen Get Introduction To College Life

Aggie students swung into action this fall with a promise of coming events which will undoubtedly make this one of Utah State's most interesting and exciting years. Traditional friendly Aggie spirit keyed events which acquainted Freshmen and new students with campus life during the first week of the fall term.

AWS "Big Sisters" aided new college women with their problems on the opening day and helped introduce them to Aggie life. Features of registration day activities were a student-body assembly, tour of the campus, and a social Monday evening honoring Freshmen. These activities were followed by the President's assembly on September 27.

Other events scheduled are the historic Columbus Day assembly on October 12, followed by Thanksgiving Day assembly, November 29, and on December 20 a Christmas assembly.

Smith, Ariel Merrill, Lydia H. Tanner, A. Russell Croft, W. W. Gardner, Marjorie A. Henderson, H. Parley Kilburn.

Honoring the new Executive Secretary, H. Parley Kilburn, an Alumni Council dinner party was held in the Ivory Room of Hotel Newhouse, Wednesday, September 6. Frank Fister, member of the class of 1938, was Master of Ceremonies and started the Council members off telling of his most memorable moment spent at Utah State. All council members responded. During the evening piano duets were played by Roma and Rula Hailstone of the class of 1948.

Following the dinner, a short business meeting was held. Brief talks were given by President A. Russell Croft and Mr. Kilburn.

Members not present when the above picture was taken are D. A. Skeen, Ernest O. Larsen, J. Morris Christensen, Ruby Stringham Garrett and Leonard W. McDonald, former Executive Secretary.

Lions International Elect Skeen

D. A. Skeen, outstanding Aggie alumnus of '09, was elected President of Lions International at the closing session of the twenty-eighth annual International meeting held in Chicago.

This organization added 368 new clubs and had an increase of 28,000 members during the year ending June 30, 1944. The new president now heads an association of 4600 clubs with 180,000 members in fourteen countries.

This signal honor came as a fitting climax to the long and colorful service Mr. Skeen has rendered to the Lions Clubs. He has served Lions International as third, second and first vice-presidents, successively. His home club had honored him with the offices of director and president. Mr. Skeen has also been district governor of the Lions Clubs of Utah and served one term as International Director.

Active in legal work, Mr. Skeen is a member of the law firm of Irvine, Skeen and Thurman of Salt Lake City.

In addition to his activities in civic affairs and legal work, D. A. Skeen has been a prominent and active member of the Alumni Association. He became a member of the Alumni Council in 1938 and was elected president of the Association in 1942 and again in 1943. At present he is ex-officio member of the executive committee.

Mr. Skeen was born in Plain City, Weber County. He is married and has five children. His daughter, Bertha Eleanor, graduated from the USAC in 1939.
