HELP FOR GOOD A SUCCESS!

By Jeff Sheen

Volunteers cleaned the Spectrum to support the Post-secondary Education, Employment and Research project.

On Friday November 13th, following the USU women’s basketball victory over the U of U, a fantastic group of almost 40 people gathered at the USU Spectrum to pick up trash, sweep, and mop for a good cause. In just under one hour, $250 was raised to support additional social activities for the participants of the Post Secondary Education, Employment and Research (PEER) project housed at the CPD.

Participating in the cleanup effort were several students from the USU Armenian Students’ Association, Huntsman Scholars from the Jon M. Huntsman Business School and the Society for International Business and Economic Development, students from the CPD’s Interdisciplinary Disability Awareness and Service Learning (IDASL) class, Project PEER participants and family members, personnel from both Logan and Cache school districts, and numerous CPD staff and their family members.

To all those who helped, we extend a heartfelt THANK YOU! We hope to organize similar events for other CPD related projects in the future so stay tuned for the next opportunity to support a good cause.
