

Utah State University

DigitalCommons@USU

---

USU Student Folklore Fieldwork

Student Folklore Fieldwork

---

Fall 12-6-2017

Person Under Car

Thomas Lee
tleeisfree@gmail.com

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/student\_folklore\_all

---

Recommended Citation

Lee, Thomas, "Person Under Car" (2017). USU Student Folklore Fieldwork. Paper 104.
https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/student\_folklore\_all/104

This G2: Enemies, Thieves, Liars, Murderers is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Folklore Fieldwork at DigitalCommons@USU. It has been accepted for inclusion in USU Student Folklore Fieldwork by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@USU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@usu.edu.

Kayla Lee
North Logan Utah
December 6, 2017

Person Under the Car
Legend

Informant: Kayla Lee is my mother. She is 48 years old and lives in North Logan, Utah. She has lived in North Logan or the surrounding areas for most of her life. She works as a part-time high school math teacher and adjunct professor of Chemistry at Utah State University Context: Kayla told this story in our living room during the day. It was a response to me asking about stories or traditions she remembered from her childhood.

Text: My mom would tell me kind of stories that were also warnings, ya know. Anyway, she said one day that she had heard that people would hide under your car and wait for you, and then when you came out to your car then they'd-I don't know- slash your ankles or something and get ya [laughs]. So whenever I walked out to the car after work, I'd always crouch down and check if anyone was under my car from far away before I went over there

Texture: Kayla told me that she always thought this story was a little far fetched but she believed it enough to check under her car when she was in high school. She was happy to share this story and was more amused than frightened as she was telling it. She seems to think it's a little ridiculous now

Thomas Lee
Utah State University
ENGL 2210
Lynne McNeill
Fall 2017