Winter 12-5-2017

Laffy Taffy Joke

Natalie Randall
natalierandall23@gmail.com

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/student_folklore_all

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/student_folklore_all/82

This G4: Jokes is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Folklore Fieldwork at DigitalCommons@USU. It has been accepted for inclusion in USU Student Folklore Fieldwork by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@USU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@usu.edu.
“Laffy Taffy Joke”

Tales and Jokes

Informant:

Lucy is a 19 year old sophomore studying at Utah State University. She is currently an undeclared student, but is thinking about becoming an English major. She is a very happy person and is nice to everyone she meets. Family is very important to her and she often goes over to family members houses on the weekends. She is one of my roommates and I have only known her since the beginning of the semester. She’s very diligent and good at doing her homework. If she’s not doing homework, she’s probably watching netflix. She’s a super laid back person.

Context:

I knocked on her door and asked her to tell me a joke, any joke, for part of a project. She laughed and said that she was back at telling jokes. Nevertheless, she told me her favorite laffy taffy joke. It was a very laid back situation and we laughed about it. It was a short conversation, but got cut a little short because a friend of ours came over. It was just her and I in the room when she told it, with the only background noise being her fan.

Text:

I: What did the cashew say to the peanut?
N: What?
I: Imma Cashew!

Texture:

She was pretty excited to tell me the joke and she told it almost as if she was telling it to a child. We were both very animated in our laughter and she in particular was animated in the way in which she told it.