A New Apartment Community for People With Developmental Disabilities

Center for Persons With Disabilities

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/cpd_blog

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/cpd_blog/208

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Center for Persons with Disabilities at DigitalCommons@USU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Blog Posts by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@USU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@usu.edu.
People with developmental disabilities will soon have more options for affordable living arrangements in Brigham City.

The Neighborhood Non-profit Housing Corporation creates quality, affordable housing opportunities and provides individuals with disabilities a chance to become self-sufficient. Their latest project is a 6-unit group home and 15-unit apartment building located in Brigham City, Utah. This project is currently under construction, and is expected to be completed by December of 2010.

The beautiful new building is strategically located across the street from a city park and has a large community room with a fireplace and kitchen. Supportive services are available on-site.

Heads of households must be at least 18 years of age, have a documented developmental disability, and meet income requirements. They are currently accepting applications for this apartment community.

To place your name on the contact list, you can call NNHC at 435-753-1112, ext. 0, or email Sandra at sandra@nnhc.net.

To see the apartment layouts and features, go to the NNHC website.