Cultivating New Champions on Capitol Hill

Center for Persons With Disabilities

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/cpd_blog

Recommended Citation

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Center for Persons with Disabilities at DigitalCommons@USU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Blog Posts by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@USU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@usu.edu.
CULTIVATING NEW CHAMPIONS ON CAPITOL HILL

February 1, 2011 by cpehrson

Now that the election is over, new representatives are heading to Washington, new committees are being formed, and new issues are being discussed.

Disability advocates are gathering in DC to meet and “cultivate new champions on Capitol Hill.” Utah is sending its own delegation to meet face to face with Congressmen and Representatives to discuss critical disability issues.

The 2011 Disability Policy Seminar will be held on February 14-16. The final day of the Seminar is set aside to make visits to meet over 100 new Members of Congress on Capitol Hill and let them know what issues are important to people with disabilities.

It is not too late to register for the Disability Seminar. Information and other resources are also available online to help advocates to get organized for these visits with legislators.