Dec. 11, 1906.

Mrs. Jane Matthews,
Matron of the College Dormitory, City.

Dear Madam:

I am just informed that men have rooms on the women's floor in the Dormitory, and that the associations of men and women boarding at the Dormitory are, in some respects, objectionable. In this connection, I wish to call your attention to a provision of the contract adopted by the Board that you are "to have women only on the second floor and men only on the third and fourth floors," and to instruct that you take steps at once to remove all men from the women's floor and to see that men be not allowed on that floor at any time or under any circumstances. If there should be any difficulty in your carrying out these instructions, I shall be glad to have you advise me, so that I may take such steps as may be necessary to assist you in having them enforced.

Yours truly,

President.
