To-morrow sees our first football game for this season. The Aggies go up against a bunch of old A. C. players assisted by the many star men here who are barred from the first team because of the one semester ruling. The game promises to be an excellent one, the All-Star line-up being everything that its name implies.

Class of 1911 Heavily Repre-

In addition to the heads of departments mentioned in the last issue of "Student Life" who are either returning to, or have been added for the first time, to the faculty, there are other notable additions to the instructing and assisting staff. The increase in the number of students has made it imperative that the number of assistants and instructors be increased.

Mr. A. E. Bowman of the class of 1911, has been made instructor in Agronomy and assistant agronomist of the Experiment Station. Mr. Bowman, it will be remembered, in addition to his strictly academic work, was prominent in musical productions

HIGH PRAISE TO 1911 MAN FROM WYOMING DRY-

Professor L. A. Merrill, Director of the Agricultural College Extension Division and in charge of dry-farming experiments in Utah recently received a letter from the Wyoming Dry-Farming Board.

Among other things the letter says, "I want to say that Mr. Watson, (Class '11), has already shown himself worthy of the high recommendation you gave him. He has made good in every position in which we have placed him. He has splendid executive ability and understands thoroughly the science of dry-farming and in addition has the energy and industry to apply it effectively. He made one of the very

"We will have a gymnasium which will be second to none in this western country. A few may be larger but none will fill the wants better and none will be better adapted to the wants of their patrons than the one which has been designed and is now being erected on the campus. The interior of the building will be constructed of reinforced concrete which will make it absolutely fire proof. The location is an ideal one and the type of architecture employed will guarantee a very pleasing effect."

In these words the contractor in charge of the construction of the Smart Gymnasium, Mr. Koch, gave his opinion of the new building. He very kindly consented also to outline, to a Student Life reporter, the details of the plan of the building.

"You will notice," he said, "that the large excavation will form the main gymnasium building. The front will be the administration portion of the building. The building faces one of Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma will lecture in Logan on Wednesday, October 4th. The subjects announced are, "Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis" and "Social Duty."

This lecture is the first number of the A. C.—B. Y. C. Lyceum Course for 1911-12. The enterprise is an entirely unselfish one, being simply an attempt on the part of the two Colleges to bring to the city high class lecturers and entertainers. Student body cards admit to these numbers.

Senator Gore is prominent nationally, being recognized as one of the leaders in the national assembly. His exposures in connection with alleged public land frauds as well as his aggressiveness in behalf of clean government always have brought him prominently before the public.

He is reported to be a man of striking personality and of great ability as a speaker. W. J. Bryan says of him: "Thomas P. Gore a practice for Student Body cheering as for our football men, so all be out. The game will be good and we want to see how our team works out.

Coach Teetzel has been assisted in practice this week by a number of graduate coaches. These he has placed in charge of certain positions which they played when in College and they are giving the men individual attention. This modified coaching system, announced by us last week, has been established by Coach Teetzel in order to maintain interest by the alumni in the welfare of College teams and he expressed the opinion also that the system will instill into the men higher ideals of College athletics.

The team was materially strengthened this week by the appearance of Elmer Brossard, last year's quarter-back, who will be in the line-up this year contrary to expectations early in the season. Brossard has been elected to the managership of Student Life, but will delegate this work to a subordinate during the football season. Andrews, last year's tackle is again in uniform and will probably be seen in the first game of the season. Another new addition this week is Clayton, the distance runner in last year's track team and winner of third place in the mile in the last State meet. He is showing up well at end. Snow, the promising Murdock Academy man is still one of the most promising men on the team. Judd, a 200 pound man and a shot-putter is being tried out for a line position.

State championship in debate from the B. Y. University at Provo and the University of Utah. The successful debaters were J. S. Welsh, N. Comish, V. C. Woolley, and A. M. Gurjar, who comprised the University team, and I. B. Ball, W. L. Quayle, and H. Bunderson who appeared against the B. Y. University. The team which debated against the Agricultural College of Montana was composed of Merrill O. Maughan, W. A. Lindsay, and A. L. Nelson. Montana triumphed in this contest.

The donors of the medals are the Rev. John Paul Jones, Attorney A. E. Bowen, Howell Brothers Clothing company and the Cardon Jewelry company. In addition to these medals presented by the local professional and business men, the student body voted to present to each University debater a gold medal.

The schedule of debates for this year has not yet been worked out, but it is expected that the program will be very much the same as last year. Montana has signified a desire to send a team against the College. Provo will without question be on the list and it is hoped that arrangements may be made whereby we will meet again the State University.

Of the successful debaters of last year eight are absent this year due to graduation. I. Ball, and H. Bunderson of the successful Provo team are the only ones of last year's debaters who are in College this year. A number of promising men who were alternates last year will be eligible this year.

Ralph Porter is also back with us ready for debating work. Mr. Porter has represented the College upon two inter-collegiate debating teams and will prove a valuable addition to our forensics.

BROSSARD FAREWELL.

Tonight at the Fourth Ward Hall a farewell party will be given to Mr. Edgar Brossard, '11, who leaves tomorrow morning for the Swiss-German mission field under the auspices of the Mormon church. An excellent program has been arranged to be followed by a dance.

Talk—Dr. Widtsoe.

Reading—Mrs. Jennie E. Hansen.

Song—Miss Nora Eliason.

Song—Miss Ethel Jensen.

West Lindsay, another Aggie student, also called on a mission, will leave with Brossard.

THE COLLEGE AT THE STATE FAIR

The exhibit of the Agricultural College has arrived in Salt Lake City and is being set up under the supervision of Mr. Bowling. The exhibit will be larger this year than ever before. It is doubtful if sufficient room can be obtained to display all of the articles sent down.

The dates of the State Fair are October 2nd to 7th inclusive.

There are to be many new features this year. The lecture room in the A. C. building has been converted into exhibit space to accommodate the irrigation and drainage exhibit which is much larger this year than heretofore. This exhibit will show the effect of irrigation on the growth of peach trees and on other fruit. There will also be models of flumes, weirs, etc.

The largest and best dry-farming exhibit ever seen in the state will be made this year. Dry-farm grains of all kinds and varieties will be on exhibit. A new feature will be an exhibit showing the native plants such as sage-brush, grease-wood, shade-seal and the soil in which they grow.

There will be a large exhibit of potatoes, showing the best varieties for Utah and their relation to seed-production, etc.

The Domestic Science department will have several new features this year, among which will be an exhibit of school lunches, tables properly and improperly set, many new electric, labor-saving devices; an exhibit showing the comparative cost of electric, oil and coal stoves as used for ordinary cooking.

The Domestic Arts department will have an unusually large and fine exhibit of hats, dresses, underwear, and art needle work, displayed in large glass cases.

There is to be an extra large exhibit of products of the Mechanic Arts department, one especially notable being a gasoline engine made by students. A delivery wagon made by students for College work is also on exhibit; in addition there will be a carved sideboard, tables, chairs and a spinning wheel.

In the Horticultural Department Dr. Batchelor has an exhibit showing the effect of thinning and not thinning apples. An exhibit showing injuries caused by different animals on young apple and peach stock, is being prepared from the Departments of Horticulture and Zoology.

The Entomological department has a large exhibit of the insects of special significance to the Utah farmer.

The Poultry Department this year for the first time will exhibit. Model coops, drop nests, feed hoppers and all other necessary appliances for the commercial chicken man will be on exhibit. A special feature will be an exhibit showing a hen, the amount of feed she eats and the number of eggs produced in one year.

There will be a live stock exhibit again this year of sheep, hogs and cattle.

INSTRUCTORS AND ASSISTANTS ADDED

presented by the student body.

Miss Zella Smart becomes this year instructor in English, part of her time being taken up with dramatic dork. Miss Smart is a lady of considerable educational experience, having been at different times a member of the Columbia University of New York, and of a number of dramatic schools of the East. She was formerly an instructor at the B. Y. College, where the dramatic work under her supervision attracted very favorable comment. She has outlined this year a rather extensive lot of dramatic work which will be presented during the winter.

Mr. George L. Zundel, also of the class of 1911, has been made instructor in Botany. In the absence of Prof. C. N. Jensen, who will return at the end of the first term, Mr. Zundel will teach all of the courses in Botany.

Mr. D. Earle Robinson, last year's editor of Student Life, becomes this year an instructor in History. Mr. Robinson was a member of the debating team winning the Thomas medal during Sophomore year and was awarded a Student Body medal during Junior year for work in debate.

Mr. Wallace McFarlane, who last year was assistant in the department of Chemistry, is this year transferred to an instructorship in Mathematics.

Mr. W. L. Quayle of the class of '11 is an instructor in Physiology and Zoology.

The resignation of Mr. E. P. Hoff in Zoology was accepted early in September. His successor is Mr. Mathew Nelson of the class of '10. Mr. Nelson will report for work the first of October.

Mr. Luther M. Winsor has been appointed instructor in irrigation and drainage in the Extension Division. His work will be entirely in the field, part of his time being employed in experimental work and part in Extension work.

The department of Mechanic Arts has added to its staff Mr. Wm. Thornley as instructor in the department. Mr. Thornley is a man of considerable practical experience as well as rather complete theoretical training in his subject.

ENROLLMENT STILL CLIMBING.

The attendance at the A. C. this year is fulfilling every expectation. A large increase is noticeable in the school of Agriculture as well as in the schools of Home Economics, Commerce and General Science. The only decrease is in the school of Mechanic Arts and it is expected that this is but temporary.

Along with the increase in the number registered, the scholastic standing of new students has risen considerably. Our college department this year promises to greatly exceed the last year's enrollment.

THE UTAH GAME.

It is noted with regret at the Agricultural College that the annual game with the University of Utah has not yet been arranged. The date offered by the University management, October 28, was considered by the management of the Agricultural College team to be unsatisfactory. Correspondence was begun with the sister institution in an effort to secure a satisfactory date. Coach Teetzel has accepted, by consent of the Executive Committee, the October 28th date with the University of Montana, to be played at Missoula. This makes it impossible to play the University of Utah on that date. It is understood that efforts are still being made to arrange satisfactorily the schedules of the two institutions. Some question of a division of receipts has arisen, it seems, which, however, it is hoped will be adjusted satisfactorily.

The football team of the Agricultural College will receive with anything but satisfaction the news that the game has been called off. The students of the College are united in a desire for the game to be played. We hope to announce in the next issue that some satisfactory arrangement has been made.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

We venture a word on the much abused subject of College Spirit, simply to define the subject as we understand it.

LON J. HADDOCK

Real College spirit is inseparable from the purpose for which the college was instituted, which is primarily the imparting of information and the strengthening of character. A college spirit which has not a backbone of solid work is vapid and meaningless. The greatest patriot is he who does his work well; the most loyal son is he who honors the institution which fosters him by high service to the ideals of that institution. It is stimulating to know that at the Agricultural College so called student activities have found their proper level. The athlete must first be a student. The debater, the editor, the manager, all are held strictly to account in college work. And any sensible man must realize that a great injustice is done a student, athlete or other, who is allowed even the most trivial consideration because of his public work. And it is generally conceded that a true test of leadership in any man consists in harnessing him to additional burden.

We deprecate the violent sophomore outbursts which are sometimes called college spirit. To march in a parade, to pay honor to men who are fighting for our common good, to cheer lustily a team to victory, these activities it is sometimes a pleasure and privilege to perform. Sometimes the impressionable student accents them much beyond their just meed. He becomes a professional rooter. He makes it a prime duty to talk loudly and long of the militant side of college life. He concocts eccentric schemes to express his unique view.

This is all mal-conceived. College life is essentially sane and quiet. The quest of the higher things is not accompanied by applause. We publish on the front page a contribution to the subject of College Spirit. A man has done, magnificently, his job.

the center battlements of the Logan temple. From the front there are two stair cases which lead to the basement, one to the north and one to the south. The one to the south leads to the ladies' gymnasium or drill hall. The one to the north leads to the main entrance of the men's locker rooms. To the north of the locker rooms on the same level will be found the shower baths, at the extreme north end of the building, is the swimming pool, which is twenty-four by sixty feet in the clear and is approximately three feet six inches deep at one end and seven feet six inches at the other. The water of the swimming pool will pass through heaters in order to maintain an even temperature the year round.

"In front, under the administration part of the building, are the dress booths, also the men's toilet. In front of the ladies' gymnasium or drill hall is the gun room. There are double stair cases in the main hall going from the basement to the first floor. These stair-ways are built of metal and are fire proof. There is also a stair case leading from the ladies' gymnasium to the mezzanine floor upon which is located the ladies' locker room. On the main floor is the main entrance which is flanked to the north by the different administration rooms necessary for the conducting of the affairs of the building. From the main hallway one has direct access to the ladies' locker room. This room is connected with the shower bath rooms, hair drying rooms, and also with the stairway which leads to the pool. At certain days the ladies, it is assumed, will have access to the pool. In the rear of the building there is a circular stair which rises from the filter room in the sub-basement to the second floor. Upon the second floor, in the administration part of the building, are located ladies' retiring rooms, trophy rooms, team rooms, buffet kitchens, instruction offices, and private exercise rooms. Upon this floor one can obtain access to the main gymnasium, which is a room approximately one hundred and thirteen feet long and sixty-nine feet wide without pillar or post.

The floor of the main gymnasium is constructed of re-enforced concrete over-layed with a maple floor. This will be an exceptionally good place for dancing and parties and no doubt will be used to a very great extent for such pleasure.

"Ten feet above the main floor of the main gymnasium, suspended from the roof trusses, is the running track. Access to the same can be had by circular stair-ways in the corner of the main gymnasium, also through the main stair hall. The length of the track is approximately eight-teen and thirty-one one-hundredths laps to the mile. The track is inclined so as to permit of the greatest amount of speed. In the opposite corner are two sliding poles for the benefit of those who do not care to adopt the slow method of walking down stairs. In the administration part of the building is located the hand-ball court which is lighted by a sky light having a gallery for spectators.

"This is but a simple, brief description of the plans of the building," concluded Mr. Hoch, "but we believe these plans have been very well thought out and are well adapted for the work for which they are intended."

Upon reading the above description of the arrangement of the Smart Gym, it becomes at once apparent that the architects, Messrs. Cannon and Feltzer have taken especial pains to plan a building fully filling the needs of the school. Mr. Curley, the contractor is one of the best in the county and with the work under the direct supervision of Foreman Koch, we may expect to see the Smart Gym, ready for occupancy in a comparatively short while.

We make a specialty to satisfy our patrons. Give us a trial.

Alumni Notes

The Alumni editor desires to get the address of every member of the U. A. C. Alumni Association in order to send them this year's Student Life. Any one who knows is asked to send the addresses of the following members of the class of 1911 to Mr. Canute Peterson, care U. A. C., Logan, Utah.

A. M. Gurjar, Frank M. Brown, George L. Reese, James Tovey.

WHAT LAST YEAR'S SENIORS ARE DOING.

Last week Student Life published a list of the members of the class of 1911 who are at present teaching school. Following are some members otherwise engaged.

Ephraim P. Burton—Ranching at Afton, Wyoming.

L. L. Cook—In charge of the farm at the State Mental Hospital, Provo.

Frederick Froerer—At Richmond testing milk for the Richmond Milk Testers' Association.

Heber C. Hancock—Government Service, Forestry Division, St. Anthony, Idaho.

J. Carlos Lambert—Deputy State Food and Dairy Commissioner.

John S. Paddock—Government Service, Forestry Division.

Earl Robinson—Home at Richmond, Farming.

James Holden—Government Service, North Dakota.

Geo. L. Morrison—Farming near Preston, Idaho.

A. L. Nelson—Attending school at the Kansas State A. C.

Wilbur M. Ball—At the Smelter at Murray.

J. L. Peterson—Government Service, Forestry Division. Address St. Anthony, Idaho.

Jos. A. Willey—Government Service, Forestry Division. Address St. Anthony, Idaho.

Edward H. Watson—Charge of State work in Dry Farming, Wyoming.

John S. Welch—Idaho Experiment Station, Gooding, Idaho.

L. M. Winsor—Department of Irrigation at A. C. U. Extension Division.

Edgar Brossard—Called to fill an L. D. S. mission.

Clyde Lindsay—Farming near Ogden.

Juanita Rich—Home at Blackfoot, Idaho.

Nan Nibley—At home, Logan, Utah.

The old letter still remains with the college, but it was somewhat dismantled in taking it down. If possible it will be put into shape again and erected in the new gymnasium to be used in case of basketball games and other activities occurring there.

BAN ON CIGARETTES

Logan, Sept. 27.—The cigarette must go. So says the governing body of the Agricultural College of Utah, who have instituted an active crusade against the nicotine habit. This rule for a long time generally has been considered impracticable in a modern educational institution. The opponents of the anti-cigarette rule maintained that the personal freedom allowed in college made the rule difficult or impossible of enforcement. The announcement from the college this year is that the rule will be enforced in letter and spirit. It means that any student of the college found smoking on the college premises will be dismissed from the institution. The leading students of the institution are giving the movement their united support. The argument for the crusade states that the college, being a very pronounced co-educational institution the presence of ladies should prevent any gentleman from smoking. The ban is put on the cigar and the pipe as well.

The president in an address to the students Saturday, outlined the attitude of the administration on the subject. He maintained that the cigarette habit was first of all unhygienic and was in addition immoral. He emphasized the point that it was not an infringement of personal liberty to exclude cigarette smokers from the college. It was on the contrary simply an extension of the principle. He maintained that the students had a right from the standpoint of personal liberty to object to the habit in their associates.—Deseret News.

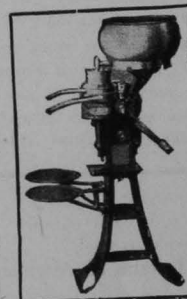

THE NEW LETTER.

Old students have noticed, doubtless, that the electric "A", placed upon the college tower by the Student Body something over a year ago, has been taken down and replaced by a much larger letter. This work was done during the summer just past. The new "A" is about four times larger than was the old letter, being twenty seven and one half feet high and twenty two feet wide. It is fitted with 125 elec-

DE LAVAL

The Cream Separator by Which all others are Judged

For more than thirty years the DE LAVAL has been acknowledged as the World's Standard.

You may hear it said of some separator that "It's as good as a DE LAVAL;" or if some competing salesman wants to make his argument particularly strong he'll say "It's better than a DE LAVAL." The concern with a cheaply and poorly constructed machine says "Just as good as a DE LAVAL and costs less."

But everywhere the DE LAVAL is recognized by experienced creamerymen and dairymen and even by makers of would-be competing machines as the

The cream separator is more frequently used than any other machine on the farm, and for that reason, if for no other, only the very best should be purchased, and that's the DE LAVAL.

Ben R. Eldredge, Utah Dairyman, was visiting here yesterday.

Don't you like your teacher? May be the fault lies with you. Try preparing your lessons.

Any student who doesn't go home tomorrow afternoon with a hoarse voice should be ashamed of himself.

The first Cache County Fair is a huge success. The exhibitions are excellent and the amusements and very good.

The second week of actual school work is now nearly over. Still some students are wandering around, not registered.

Root for some one tomorrow, whether the Aggies or the All-Stars doesn't really matter. The important thing is to root.

John T. Caine III left Monday for Summit county on Institute work. While there he will act as the judge of livestock at the county fair.

Every day sees many old students back again. "Petit" Laursen, Taylor, Carmichael, Vern Peterson, Olsen and many others are to be seen in the halls lately.

We had heard rumors, and rumors, affirmations and denials,—but it has been settled at last. It is true! Honestly—we didn't think it of Dave—or of Patti either for that matter—but they've gone and done it. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, if you please, are now at Bingham, where Dave has a good position, and Carmichael is authority for the statement that "they are as happy as a pair of turtle doves."

Old students will remember the epidemic of marriages that struck the College Faculty last fall. This epidemic seems to have spread to the students this year. During the summer L. L. Cook and Miss Florence Dudley were married. Just one month afterward Faun Cook and Lennie Jardine were married. Elsewhere in these columns the marriage of Dave Sharp and Patti Barrett is announced. We await further announcements.

Are you working yet?

Remember the first football game tomorrow. All be out.

West Lindsay, a last year's student, who leaves shortly for the missionary field with Edgar Brossard, is visiting friends around school.

Students should appreciate the beautiful surroundings furnished them by the State while at school here and be careful that they deface no school property.

English 20, the course in argumentation and debating, under Prof. Pederson, will meet the 4th hour on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays in Room 356. All registered for this course please take notice.

Tennis is beginning to occupy the attention of the students. The College provides excellent courts for all who like this form of athletics. Those who are unable to perform or do not care for the strenuous work football calls for should purchase a tennis racket and shoes and take advantage of the beautiful days we are now having.

The Science Club, a faculty organization for the promotion of the spirit of scientific investigation at the College, met for the first time this year on Wednesday night in the Main Building. Plans for the year were discussed; and Professor William Peterson talked on some phases of the Smithsonian Institute. President Widtsoe was in attendance and joined in the discussion.

Merle Taylor returned to school yesterday. During the summer Mr. Taylor conceived the idea of publishing a little booklet full of advertising matter for Logan and Cache County. In conjunction with the Commercial Booster Club he has published a sixty page booklet filled with excellent views showing the industries, the homes, etc., of Logan and Cache. The book has considerable merit and reflects credit upon Mr. Taylor. It will be remembered that Taylor was Art Editor of last year's Buzzer. He is graduated this year with the class of 1912.

Banners, megaphones and colors should be in evidence tomorrow afternoon.

Sorosis cleaned up their rooms the other day! Report says that they are going to refurnish their rooms, but we can't believe everything.

Fred Dale Pile, '02, irrigation engineer, doing work on Nebraska's reclamation projects in the Reclamation Service, is out west inspecting Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and North Dakota projects. He visited the College on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Drs. Widtsoe, Stewart, Harris and Prof. Merrill leave soon for the International Dry Farming

Congress to be held at Colorado Springs, Colorado. Mrs. Widtsoe and Miss Huntington will accompany the party to attend the International Congress of Farm Women to be held at the same place. The dates for these two Congresses are Oct. 17, 18, and 19.

Lingering.

Did you have a trial before you hanged that horse thief?

We sure did, replied Piute Pete. He was a mighty bad man, and we wanted to give him all the unpleasant suspense possible.—Ex.

HADDOCK AND FISTER NAMED

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF STUDENT BODY ELECTS
LON J. HADDOCK EDITOR OF COLLEGE PUBLICA-TIONS.

Fister Named to Succeed Olsen as Manager of Football.

Lon J. Haddock, the man who last year won all our hearts by his splendid college loyalty and his ever present good humor, has been selected to fill the important office of Editor in Chief of College Publications for the ensuing year. Mr. Hobson, who was elected last spring to fill this place, found himself unable to return to school this fall, leaving the office vacant. Under the constitution of the Student Body, it is the duty of the Executive committee to fill such vacancies. This committee selected Mr. Haddock and a better selection would have been impossible to make. Mr. Haddock, in addition to having had experience in editing college publications, has had much more practical work upon commercial dailies. He has also had extensive experience in business, and was elected secretary and manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers Club of Salt Lake City, an organization of wide influence.

OUR NEW FOOTBALL MANAGER

Another Student Body office was also found to be vacant when school started this fall. This was the office of Football Manager. Jos. Olsen was elected to fill this position, but couldn't arrange his affairs so as to permit of his return to college this fall. Mr. George Fister has been selected by the committee to fill this office. Mr. Fister is very well qualified for this position, having the push so necessary to secure results. He is already hard at work, in connection with the coach, upon a schedule for this fall, and promises an excellent series of games.

best addresses given during the recent session of our Dry-Farming Congress. I am confident that he is going to make a high record and accomplish a great amount of good in the position he holds here."

It will doubtless be news to the majority of the students to learn that Mr. Watson was struck by lightning the early part of this month while performing work connected with his office. While out surveying with an assistant a bolt of lightning came out of a perfectly clear sky, striking Mr. Watson and his assistant and demolishing the instruments. It was thought for a time that Watson was fatally injured, but that he soon recovered is evidenced by the following telegram received by Mr. Haddock a day or so after the accident:

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 4, '11.
Lon J. Haddock,
Leadville, Colo.

Telegram just received. Was burned on left arm and shoulder and pretty badly shaken up. Chain was melted and torn to fragments. Clothing reduced to molecular state. It is hard to understand that so little injury was sustained. Feel mighty thankful. Expect mother in the morning. Thanks for your concern.

E. H. WATSON.

At present Mr. Watson is entirely recovered and again at his work.

A COLLEGE CALENDAR.

Among the many new methods the College has adopted for advertising purposes is the calendar idea. An order has been placed with the Gerlach-Barklow Engraving company of Joilet, Illinois, for a large number of calendars, covered with matter printed and otherwise, for advertising the College. Many beautiful views of the college buildings and campus appear upon this calendar as well as a statement of the courses given here. The paper used will be heavy, enameled stock, and will be finished in a beautiful, rich sepia. It will be distributed among the various schools of the State and placed in other places where it will be seen to advantage.
