UTAH AGGIES TRIM COLORADO

Team Makes Splendid Showing Against Visitors.

Meet Montana Teams This Month.

29 to 0, and time to spare! Such was the tune to which the Utah Farmers danced away from the Colorado Aggies, on the U. A. C. campus Monday. After the first quarter it was no longer a question of who would win, but rather what the score would be.

The Colorado team actually played better ball, after they got started, than their slow ragged signal practice before the game would even suggest. Their team work was much stronger on defense than on offense, holding the Utah boys for down three times when their goal was in danger.

On offense they were very poor and throughout the whole game never threatened the Utah goal or made their ten yards in their three downs.

The U. A. C. on the other hand played brilliant offense and stubborn defense. Their smashing, tearing attacks could not be withstood and never before on a Utah field has the forward pass been handled as well as the Utah farmers handled it Monday. It was used repeatedly for long gains, and had the Colorado boys "up in the air" at all times. It simply bewildered them.

There was not a man who played on the U. A. C. team Monday but what should be mentioned for good work, some how, some where, during the game.

Quarterback Brossard played a remarkable game. He handled the team and played beautifully, and was the best ground gainer on the field, never downed until he couldn't possibly wiggle an inch farther. In fact he was a whole team in himself. Whenever he hit the line something had to come, and three times the result was a touch down. His clever passing was a big feature of the game.

The half-backs, Dave and Captain "Jink" Jones, Vaughan, Howe and T. Aldous, played good ball, and Coach Teetzel has developed two snappy ends in Clayton and Peterson.

The tackles and guards played consistently at all times, piling up every line rush attempted and continually breaking through and stopping plays. The U. A. C. line is without doubt the best line in the state. It was said by all who saw the game between U. of Utah and Colorado, and also saw the game of Monday, (Continued on page 4)

EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR WARMLY PRAISED.

The best exhibit in the West! Such is the consensus of opinion of those who were fortunate enough to witness the A. C. exhibit at the State Fair.

All departments of the College were skillfully shown up. Among the most effective was the agronomy exhibit. Long benches filled with soils from different areas in Utah. In one part was shown a first class dry farm soil with the typical plants which grow in it—sagebrush, rabbit brush and wheat grass. In another part was an alkali soil with its typical plants—greasewood and shadscale.

ART DEPARTMENT FORGING AHEAD

NEW QUARTERS AND EQUIPMENT PROVIDED.

The old dark, dingy gym, so long an eyesore to all connected with this progressive institution, is now but an unpleasant memory in the minds of the students. It never did fill the measure of its creation, and has now passed away unwept, as do all old fogies in the wheels of progress. In its passing, birth was given to a new and better line of work which now occupies the same floor space. The old gymnasium room is no longer dark and dingy but has in its ceiling a nice large skylight which affords light sufficient for the six excellent rooms into which the old room is divided.

Here is the permanent home of the Art department with all its enlarged and new courses. For a long time Prof. Fletcher has struggled on, doing the best he (Continued on Page Two)

VERE MARTINEAU TO QUIT FOOTBALL

Our old center, Vere Martineau, has had to stop football on account of the illness of his father. Mr. Martineau, Sr., has been ill with typhoid fever for some time and has been in bed for the past two weeks, which leaves the boys with a great amount of work to do and they found it a little too great a strain to study and play football besides the work at home.

We are indeed sorry to lose Vere from the team, for with his three years experience at center, he has accomplished wonders, and any new man who takes his place, no matter how capable, must, in the minds of the older men at least, who have played with Vere, materially weaken the team.

We sincerely hope that Vere's retirement from the game is not permanent, and look to see him in the familiar football togs before long.

STUDENTS HAVE FIRST DANCE

AUDITORIUM TAXED TO ITS CAPACITY.

Colorado Aggies As Guests at Function.

Monday night was a big date in the history of the school year, the event being the first Student Body dance.

Fully 500 earnest, happy students were gathered in the big auditorium when Thatcher's orchestra struck up the opening tune, and from then on till eleven o'clock it was one continual feast of pleasure.

Heeding the admonition of President Widtsoe that "a good start is half done," the students entered into the spirit of the dance with a vim that speaks well for all future gatherings. Everybody was there and all his relations! Seniors, bearing upon their faces the beaming light of superior wisdom; Juniors, reflecting well the dignity of their station; Sophomores, whirling and pirouetting with Freshies; Preps, happy to just be alive. It was just one of the jolliest crowds imaginable!

When it is remembered that this was the first dance of the season the way the students warmed up and got acquainted was little short of remarkable.

One thing impressed itself upon the spectator, and that was the number of fine looking girls, and dandy fellows there are in the school.

The Colorado Aggies football team was in attendance and the cordial reception shown them must have served as balm to their wounded feelings after their defeat earlier in the day.

The faculty members were conspicuous for their absence and the students who missed the dance were unfortunate.

Students of Miami University have voted to adopt the Honor System by a very positive majority. The adoption was at issue for several months.

ART DEPARTMENT FORGING AHEAD

(Continued from page one) . . . could, cramped up in rooms 351 and 357, hoping some day to see his department given the recognition which it deserved. This year his hopes have, to quite an extent, been realized. The six new rooms have been arranged into a private studio for Professor Fletcher, also a studio for his assistant, Prof. Moser; one large general studio for advanced students in sculpture and drawing; one class-room for light and shade work; one room for designing, decorating and lecture purposes, and a room for art crafts.

The Art department is now equal to any in the country. It affords better courses and gives more attention to the students than does most of its kind found in New York or Paris. The following are a few of the courses now open to students:

Homes crafts course; which includes Tooled and Repousse work.

A course in pierced and hammered work in copper and brass; also advanced stenciling and block printing, Jesso and burning.

A course in pottery and china decorating. In connection with this course a first class pottery and china kiln will be installed in the near future.

Students will be given opportunities to pursue work in Aesthetics and history of art.

A complete three years course will be given in special scientific drawing, also one in illustration drawing.

One of the newest and best courses afforded is that of professional interior decoration. This course takes up the designing of interiors, including all the technical processes involved in executing the same. Also the making of tiles, decorative modeling, Jesso, stenciling, wood carving, and all other necessary work for applying decoration to interiors. There are also opportunities for good work in Fresco and mural decorations.

A special course is being given in commercial lettering and advertising.

The greatest stress is being laid on decorative work, but excellent opportunities are afforded to students who desire to specialize in oil painting, water-color or pastel, or in any of the lines of work offered by any general arts school; and in connection with the Mechaic Arts school of this institution, students may get a complete course in wood-carving.

A new and required course will be given to Junior girls in Domestic Arts. It will include special work in costume designing and decoration. Here sketches and drawings will be made which will be worked out in the senior year.

Art 12, is a most excellent course in art needle work for Art's sake. Prerequisite to this course is two year's work in designing. Only students are admitted who have a good understanding of stitchery and elementary designing.

Any of these advanced lines may be used as a minor leading to a degree. All courses in art are arranged to suit the needs of the student in his special course.

The College has at last sufficient room and will soon be fully equipped to give any of these courses in a way that will give satisfaction to all students desiring to follow the e lines. A long felt need is now supplied. Many students are registered for the work and some excellent results have already been obtained.

To pay as you go is to travel farther, for you don't have to come back to settle up.—Ex.

well kept fallow with an illy kept fallow, the latter showing weeds, grass and stubble present. Then came an exhibit showing grain growing on properly and improperly fallowed land; and another to show proper depth to plant grain.

The dry farm grain was said to be the best ever seen at the Fair, and probably best ever shown in the U. S. A. variety exhibit of potatoes was tastefully shown in a glass case.

The Entomology department was represented by cases showing in striking manner the life history of many of our common insect pests.

The Department of Horticulture exhibited the principal varieties of apples grown in Utah; also trees injured by rabbits, gophers, flat headed borer, crown gall and blight.

Dr. Bachelor placed an exhibit showing convincingly the value of fruit from thinned apple trees as compared with that from trees unthinned.

Mr. Windsor prepared a striking Irrigation exhibit, showing miniature mountains, valleys, canyons, and farming country with an irrigation and drainage system in full operation.

Mechanic Arts exhibit work done by students in its various lines—a delivery wagon, a complete gasoline engine, carved oak sideboard, and six of the twelve chairs finished. Smaller work was shown up in cases.

The Domestic Arts exhibit was fine, as usual. Dresses on forms were shown; also many unusually fine pieces of art needle work both white and colored.

Several finished hats completed an exhibit showing the different stages in construction of a hat.

In the fine Domestic Science exhibit five features were emphasized. First, the exhibit of lunch for school girl, boy, working man, office man, housekeeper with cost placards. This was very attractive. Second, dining table carefully set, and one correctly set. Third, exhibit of sanitary appliances for handling and feeding of milk. Fourth, exhibit showing amounts of various food necessary to equal in nutritive value one quart of milk. Fifth, electric and oil stove exhibit and cost of current at several cities. This exhibit was very ably presided over by Mrs. Hazel Love Dunford and Miss Leah Ivins of the Extension staff. The room was prettily decorated with many beautiful pennants kindly loaned by hte Morrell Clothing company and Howell Brothers of Logan.

TRIM COLORADO

that the U. A. C. line is far superior to that of the U. of U.

Vere Martineau played the field from one end to the other, and was a veritable battering ram in every "down", even diving through and blocking two punts right at the Colorado's goal.

The game was slow in starting. Colorado seemed to be trying to kill all the time possible, but finally, about a quarter of four, they got into action, the A. C. kicking to Colorado. After four minutes of play, time was taken out to wrangle over the rulings on the forward pass. Five minutes after, play was resumed, Crookston carried the ball over Colorado's goal line for the first touch down. Jones kicked goal. 6-0.

Colorado kicked off to A. C. and the rest of the quarter was played in A. C. territory.

Second Quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter the Aggies made good gains, then failed to complete a forward pass. Crookston to Peterson; but on the next down executed a beautiful pass, Crookston to Batt, netting 15 yards. Brossard tore through the line for a gain of six yards. Another beautiful twelve yard pass, Crookston to Emerson, brought the ball to Colorado's 12 yard line, then Colorado took a brace and held the A. C. for downs, the ball going over to Colorado on their own five yard line. Colorado punted to Brossard who returned the ball 30 yards. A short pass, Crookston to Peterson, brought the second touch down. Jones kicked goal.

Colorado again kicked to A. C. who by succession of line bucks and end runs carried the ball to Colorado's 10 yard line, where it went over to Colorado on downs just as the half ended. Score 12-0.

Third Quarter.

The A. C. kicked to Colorado who were held for downs and punted to Brossard, who ran the ball back 20 yards. An attempt at a place kick went wild and ball was put in play on Colorado's 25 yard line. After a series of plays Crookston went over the line for the third touch-down. Jones missed the goal.

Colorado kicked to the Utah Aggies, Brossard receiving the ball behind his own goal, ran it out forty yards through a broken field, before being finally downed. A long pass from Crookston to Clayton followed by a long run by Jink Jones, brought the ball to Colorado's 5 yard line. Again Colorado braced up and the ball went over within one foot of the Colorado goal line. Colorado dropped back for a punt and Martineau broke through and blocked it, forcing a Colorado man to fall on it back of the goal, scoring a safety for the U. A. C.

Fourth Quarter.

Two touch downs were scored in the fourth quarter; Crookston going over the line on a buck through tackle. Brossard scored the last touch down of the game by a 30 yard run through a broken field. Final score 29 to 0.

During the game a cheering telegram from Fred Brossard, a last year's student now at Berkeley, was read, and received with applause.

The next game will be with the Montana Aggies at Bozeman, Montana, on the 25th of this month, and at Missoula, Montana.

MARRIED MEN'S CLUB!

A married men's club of the Utah A. C. was decided upon Tuesday at a meeting called for that purpose. Heber J. Webb resided. A committee was appointed by the chair to draft a constitution and by-laws, and Messrs. Israelson, Bjarnason, and Humphries were appointed. The committee will report next Tuesday at 3:40 p. m. in room 279.

SENIORS HOLD MEETING.

At a well attended meeting of the senior class, a constitution was adopted and the following officers elected: Miss Hatch, vice president; Porter, debating manager; Miss Irene Hendrickson, Mr. Humphries, Mr. I. B. Ball, members of executive meeting. Buzzer manager Goodwin reported a deficit of $500 on account of last year's issue. Steps are to be taken to cover this amount. Next meeting will be Wednesday at 4:30.

WHAT THE SCHOOLS ARE DOING

AGRICULTURE

Animal Husbandry and Dairying

The popularity of this work is well shown by the large and enthusiastic classes registered in the department each year. The success of its graduates speaks well for the nature and grade of the work done in the department.

Actual work is being done this term in five courses as follows: Stock Judging, Breed Types, Nutrition, Advanced Stock Judging, and Seminar. During the winter course and short course several of these will be repeated, and in the second term a course in Breeding and Herd Book Study, one in Livestock Management, and one or two in Dairying, will be added.

The department has been considerably strengthened this year by the addition of one member to the faculty and by the purchase of a large number of purebred livestock. During Fair week in Salt Lake two young Holstein bulls and one Jersey was sold from our exhibit. There are now available for class work and experimental purposes good representatives of all the important breeds of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

COMMERCE

The members of the club held their first meeting Oct. 11, 1911, for the purpose of electing new officers for the year. As there were several graduated last year it left the club with but ten members. The number of members for this year, however, will be greatly increased, as there are several eligible students who have expressed themselves as anxious to join the organization. This enthusiasm was manifested by the fact that four new members were added at the first meeting.

The aim of the club this year is to enlarge its influence in the school and finally to become the power that it properly should be in an institution where so many of the students are doing work in the commercial department.

With the following officers at the head of the club it is assured work will be carried out.

President, H. Bunderson.

Vice President, W. L. Smith.

Secretary and Treasurer, Ed. N. Morris.

Publicity Committee, John O. Pence and Jas. Osmond.

MECHANIC ARTS

F. E. Shurtliff is finishing an oak davenport. It's a hummer, and together with an oak rocker, already finished, will be found, for inspection—to friends—at his room. Furnishing a house, eh? Well, in a way. Got a girl? He says nit.

Mr. Eugene Worley is making a fine oak sideboard, all for himself and little wife. Eugene says he won't take the best cow on earth for that sideboard. Oh, that meat should be so cheap, and oak so awfully high!

Prof. J. H. Petersen of Smithfield, is taking special work in the shops. He has just now finished a pine book shelf, done in brown, and it's well done.

The horse shoeing, as hinted at before, is fast becoming popular, and already the students are afraid that there are not horses enough to go around. The cry is not: "give us room that we may dwell," but give us a horse that we may shoe.

And now comes over the wireless, a message from the machine shop, that several advanced students are ready for work. Every pulley, but one, will be changed into the most intricate wheels, yes fly-wheels, and wheels that can't fly—mind you, I have said nothing—but believe me aviation is contagious.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Cook spent the fore part of last week at the fair in Salt Lake City. Miss Crookston was down to Salt Lake this week.

The D. S. '13 girls are even now looking somewhat careworn—a result of just thinking (they haven't started the real task yet) of the reading required in that course. They are now planning college courses in Home Economics.

In D. A. '11 the girls are just at present very much interested in the work of drafting and designing skirts on paper—later they will be worked out in cloth.

Most of the girls will be excellent sprinters by spring—they find it necessary to make the run from the fourth floor Woman's building to the third floor Main building, a number of times daily, in about 1 minute 57 seconds.

Last Saturday afternoon the girls very patiently waited and watched for Miss Huntington and Miss Brown to appear at the Woman's building, but alas! they did not come. Finally they were informed that the ladies in question were now far on their way up the canyon for a few days jollification. Report says they had all the good time, and even more than they anticipated.

Music

"Music is a kind of inarticulate, unfathomable speech which leads us to the edge of the infinite and impels us for a moment to gaze into it."—Carlyle.

Wednesday or Music Day in Chapel has in past years been very popular among students generally and especially so with those engaged in special music work. At times we have noticed the presence of visitors from town who are attracted to the exercises by these little programs frequently so well rendered.

Two weeks ago the first morning of the series was presented Gounod's uplifting quartette "Adore and be Still." With violin obligato. It is a beautiful bit of sacred writing and was delightfully rendered.

The morning of October 4th was marked by the first appearance of the Faculty string and pianoforte Trio, Mr. and Mrs. Spicker and Mr. Thatcher.

The program was:

1. Cavatina (arranged from the ever popular violin solo)

2. Hungarian Dance, J. Brahms
3. "Caressing Butterfly," (Very New)

Wednesday of this week the Trio gave us some excerpts from Mendelssohn's remarkable music to Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream—the parent of all fairy plays.

Next Wednesday morning will be given over to pianoforte work, at which time Mrs. Sloan will play:

1. Impromptu, F. Schubert
2. Gavotte, J. S. Bach
3. Song of the Night, Searlatti

Franz Schubert (christened Franz Peter Schubert) was born at Lichtental a suburb of Vienna January 31, 1797. His native genius both in singing and in comprehending the rules of composition asserted itself almost immediately. He died Nov. 19, 1828.

Denver "U" has thirty men out for the first cam.—Ex.

Art

The department of Art in connection with the school of Home Economics recently purchased some very fine examples of Goghlin tapestries. In design and workmanship they are from the Louis 15th period of France. They are very interesting in color and composition, and considering the purpose for which the designs were originally made, are real works of Art.

Mr. Rose is again with us. His health has improved materially, and although he will be compelled to take a light course we expect something good from him. He has just completed a set of cartoons for the Logan papers.

"We ascribe beauty to that which is simple; which has no superfluous parts; which exactly answers its end; which is related to all things; which is the mean of many extremes. Things may be pretty, rich, graceful, handsome, and still lacks beauty.

The same fundamental principles of beauty apply alike to music, painting, sculpture, architecture, literature, elocution, oratory, or any line of beautiful expression. They vary in the means of expression, but are all governed by the same laws.

It is interesting to note the growth in the department during the past four or five years. One room was utilized by the department and practically all the work was of the same nature. Now six rooms adapted to six or seven different lines of work are in daily use. Two students were all that were registered except in the elementary required work. We now have about sixty students doing advanced work mostly of college grade and about half that number are registered in elective lines of work.

Alumni Notes

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Members of the Alumni Association will be grieved to learn of the serious accident encountered by Wilbur M. Ball, '11, Wednesday evening, October 11. Mr. Ball, who has been in the employ of the U. S. Smelter company at Murray since early last spring, while returning from Salt Lake City to Murray on a bicycle was run into by a motor cycle and rendered unconscious. He was taken to the L. D. S. Hospital, and his condition is decidedly critical. His brother Dr. Ball, left Wednesday night for Salt Lake City. We trust this accident may leave no permanent injury.

CHORUS HYMENEAL.

The past summer has been provocative of many marriages among the Alumni. We publish below a partial list, asking at the same time that all members taking this serious step, or hearing of others taking it will kindly inform us.

Early in the summer occurred the marriage of Miss Florence Irene Dudley, '10, to Lashbrook Laker Cook, '11, both of Logan. Miss Dudley was for a year instructor in the Department of Home Economics at the U. A. C. Mr. and Mrs. Cook are at home to friends in their residence at the State Mental Hospital at Provo, where Mr. Cook is farm superintendent.

On Wednesday, July 12, 1911, Miss Lucile Crookston, well known as a former A. C. student, was married to Dean Freeman Peterson of the class of 1910. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson spent their honeymoon in Logan canyon, then left for a visit to Seipio, the home of the groom, and from there went on to Manassas, Colorado, where Mr. Petersen is teaching Agriculture and various other subjects, in addition to athletics, in the high school.

On August 16th, at Salt Lake City, occurred the marriage of Miss Inez Powell, '07, to Mr. Roswell C. Belnap. Miss Powell is well remembered as a very prominent Sorosis girl during her connection with the College both as student and as instructor in the Department of Home Economics. After a year at Columbia she returned to Utah to take charge of the work in Domestic Science in the Branch Normal at Cedar City, a position which she has held with great success for the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. Belnap are at home to friends at 2173 Adams Avenue, Ogden, Utah.

Miss Jessie Christine Anderson, '09, of New Harmony, near Toquerville, was married to John A. Hongard. Miss Anderson was, for a year after graduation, in charge of the work in Home Economics in the Snow Academy, Ephraim. Mr. and Mrs. Hongard are residing at Manti where they will be glad to see old friends.

On Tuesday, October 10th at the family residence in Logan, Miss Blanche Elise Caine, '05, was married to Mr. George Lyman Hyde of Salt Lake City. Miss Caine has the credit of having established the department of Home Economics in the Manti and the Salt Lake City High Schools. For the past three years she has been with the latter institution, and her success has been truly phenomenal. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde have gone on a trip to the Coast, and will be at home after November fifteenth at the Meredith Apartments, Salt Lake City.

Thursday, October 12th Miss Tillie Stillman of East Mill Creek Salt Lake County, was married to George Francis Taylor, '00. Mr. Taylor, who is also a graduate of Harvard, recently returned from Australia.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

At the regular weekly meeting of the Executive committee, the question of filling the vacancies in the offices of Managers of Theatricals and Socials was discussed. Several names were suggested, but action was deferred one week.

Whether or not to issue a quarterly literary number of Student Life in magazine form this year was brought up. Some favor running an extra sheet in the regular weekly numbers for literary features. Extra advertising could pay for the extra printing, it was thought, and in this way save the expenditure of nearly $400 for the three or four magazine numbers. Also, it was said this arrangement would enable the literary efforts to be handled as they come in, rather than to force extra work on the editors to prepare for magazine issues. No action was decided upon.

On motion of Dr. Thomas it was voted to allow married students to take their wives to any college entertainment for half price. Heretofore a married man was allowed to purchase a Student Body ticket for $2.50 for the whole course.

A request was made for information from the manager of Student Life as to the cost of the paper to each subscriber, so that the charge of subscriptions to members of the Alumni Association could be determined upon.

FOOT BALL GAME ON LOCAL CAMPUS.

On Saturday, Oct. 14, there will be pulled off on the college campus a foot ball game in which the strong team that will make the trip to Montana will be seen in action. Such men as Switzer, Kirby, Taylor, Goodby and others that were not permitted to take part in the game with Colorado on account of the three year rule will be in the line-up. This will be the only opportunity to see the team in its full strength and every student should be out to witness the contest and cheer for the team. The game will be called at 3:30.

The name of Leroy Jones is the next we have heard to be added to our marriage list. He is at present teaching school at Fillmore, Utah.

DE LAVAL

The Cream Separator by Which all others are Judged

For more than thirty years the DE LAVAL has been acknowledged as the World's Standard.

You may hear it said of some separator that "It's as good as a DE LAVAL;" or if some competing salesman wants to make his argument particularly strong he'll say "It's better than a DE LAVAL." The concern with a cheaply and poorly constructed machine says "Just as good as a DE LAVAL and costs less."

But everywhere the DE LAVAL is recognized by experienced creamerymen and dairymen and even by makers of would-be competing machines as the

World's Standard

The cream separator is more frequently used than any other machine on the farm, and for that reason, if for no other, only the very best should be purchased, and that's the DE LAVAL.

The more you come to know about cream separators the more certain you will be to buy a DE LAVAL.

Locals

Dr. Titus spent part of last week at the State Fair.

Dr. F. S. Harris was over in Park Valley yesterday, on college business.

We are glad to mention that Dave Stoddard and "Les" Richardson are back at their posts.

Students make use of your by-products-opportunities. Contribute to your paper. Help make it a success!

Mirt Johnson says Ivan Hobson is enjoying his work at the Ogden High, and she's looking for a substitute.

Pres. Widtsoe and Drs. Stewart and Harris will leave Sunday for Colorado Spings, to attend the Dry Farming convention.

Prof. Larson left Thursday for Manti where he is to deliver an address to the teachers of San Pete county in their monthly institute on Saturday.

Prof. Wm. Peterson, when asked what had happened in his classes for locals: "Nothing happened."

Anna M. was eighteen years old last Monday. Different students contributed twenty-one cents. She intends to have another next Monday.

A crowd of the teachers spent the week-end at the Rich cabin in Logan canyon. The party was delightfully chaperoned by Mrs. Bessie Day.

Elmer Brossard lost a small I. P. Loose leaf book, Monday, in football lockers. The book contains valuable information to the owner. The book doesn't count for much but please leave the notes where they can be found,

Jack Major, of theatrical fame, is teaching school in Lyman, Wyo. "There's a reason."

Miss Cooper holds that morning walks are better than evening walks. All in favor say "I."

If the weather man is bound that it must rain every time we have a student body dance, we trust that it will rain often. O, wasn't it a rousing success!

Doctor: "How are you today little lad?" "O, I feel better, only my breath seems to bother me." Dr. "That isn't much, just wait a minute, I can soon stop that."

Miss Smart spent part of last week in Salt Lake. While there she enjoyed the theatres. She is just about ready to announce the selection of the college play for this year.

One of Prof. Larsen's English students to his land-lady: "Say, which is correct, to speak of a sitting hen as a setting hen?"

Landlady: "Well, I don't know about that, but can you tell me when a hen cackles has she been laying or is she just lying?"

The Sophomore class had a rousing meeting last Saturday and the following officers were elected for the year:

Leone Pond, President.
Alf Caine, Vice President.
Ruby Woolf, Secretary and Treasurer.
Ed. Holmgren, Debating Manager.

Byrant Bullen, Athletic.
Hal Quinney, Cheer Master.
Andy Holmgren, Eugene Merrill, Neil Salmons, Executive Committee.

To the other classes, "Go ye and do likewise."

We are glad to welcome Art Ellison back to school.

Miss Huntsman spent Wednesday and Friday in Salt Lake City on business.

"Jenk," walking home after the Student Body dance: "Ellen, I wonder if it's raining all over the world?"

Chester Whitehead is visiting around school this week. He says his father would gladly send him back if he'd only spent as much time educating his head as he did his heels.

A WORD AS TO POLICY. At a party given recently a young man was called upon to respond to the toast "Religion." He arose and holding his glass aloft said, "Religion is an insurance against fire in the next world, for which honesty is the best policy."

Now it is not our purpose to discuss religion at this point. Religious discussion, like crop rotation, has its place and season. We do desire, however, to project a few projections on the subject of Policy. The Agricultural College is the "school of the people." That much is plainly evidenced by the remarkable increase in the number of students during the last few years. The people of Utah are turning their eyes in the direction of Logan, and the sentiment is fast growing that a college calculated to meet the needs of a rapidly unfolding state, must have in its curriculum that happy combination of theory and practice which the A. C. is now presenting. Our college motto is: "Labor is Life," and to exemplify that sentiment—in all its ramifications—is the ultimate end of the school.

Our policy then, briefly stated, is to boost the Agricultural College of Utah! This is a worthy object and we invite every one of the students and faculty to join with us in our purpose. Knock the Knockers, and Boost for the Booster! Talk up the school wherever you go. Make mention of its work in your letters to your friends. Remember, that so far as you are able to judge, it is the BEST COLLEGE IN THE WEST. It is not to be supposed that we can outline our whole policy in one brief editorial, but as the succeeding issues of the paper appear we shall endeavor to disclose just what we are driving at. We shall point out a few of the things that we believe are now holding back the A. C., and we shall presume to suggest a few ideas which we think may be adopted with profit.

Faculty, students and friends on the outside! favor us with your suggestions to this end, that the Agricultural College of Utah may continue to enlarge and expand, until it fills every reasonable demand that the people of Utah may make of it.

WHEN THE HEART RESPONDS. Our hats off to you, Professor William Peterson! for the splendid chapel talk you gave us last Saturday. We like your idea of saying a good word to a fellow being while he is alive, instead of muttering sentimental baubles over his casket. Mark Twain says, "We'll be a long time dead," and we have no reason to question the veracity of the honorable Mark. But we're alive at present! There's some consolation in that. And we can lengthen out our lives about a hundred fold—regardless of the years—if we will only loosen up a little toward each other as we go along.

In conversation with an alumnus the other day we happened to mention that one of his classmates, who was teaching in the college, was handling his work in a splendid manner. In fact, we enthused just a little over this particular classmate's prospects for the future. How were our plaudits received? With a grunt! Honestly, the Alumnus only grunted. Instead of brightening up and exhibiting a keen interest in his former associate, he gave a grunt. Well, well, well, let's get over it! Maybe if we will get into a habit of boosting our friends while they are living, why, they may get into the habit of boosting for us, and if we boost for them and they boost for us, and we all boost for one another, why, what's the answer?

THE LAUNDRY BOOSTERS. That was a splendid exhibition of loyalty on the part of a business concern, by the American Steam Laundry, Monday.

Just as the game was starting an immense flat wagon carrying a bevy of mighty good looking young ladies, and all decked in A. C. U. colors, drove into the grounds. Each young lady carried an A. C. U. flag, and overtopping the whole was a banner reading "Boost for U. A. C."

It was one of those things done at just the right time, that we characterize as happy.

Students, boost for the people that boost for you!

Pennsylvania is raising $100,000 for a new Deutscher House for German activities.

Prep. to Senior: "Say, can you tell me how Bishop Spaulding got his collar on?" (How does this strike you, Lon?)
