COACH WATSON WEDS

Our coaching staff has been yet more augmented. We have a coacher of coaches in the person of Mrs. Jack Watson.

Solicitation for her services, we doubt not, began some time ago, but the contract was not duly drawn and signed until January 1. The campaign began in Champaign, Illinois, when Mrs. Watson (nee Miss Ella Tillison) and our coach then fresh from the clouds, began their scholastic careers.

Miss Tillison looked with admiration, we imagine, upon that giant form, and was fascinated by that wholesome smile of "Jack's." And then, we fancy, she was taken up with the manner in which he wore his hair at that time, long, wavy and at times dishevelled. The affection, of course, was bound to grow, as this big lusty boy climbed the ladder of achievements. We fancy we can see her now, sitting on the bleachers tearful at times, even anxious, and admiring, watching with throbbing heart, this son of the soil, plowing to victory through the opposing lines of "Old Illinois."

Eventually, of course, the long locks were Deilahed, but not with the classic effect, for Coach was loser of no strength apparently. On the contrary he grew in emotional power.

Later we imagine them frequenting the sylvan shores of Chrystal Lake, enraptured with the spell of romance which that inevitably inspires. Perhaps he took her in his boat for a ride, and sang her languorous ballads, or poured forth ecstasies of Keats or Shelley.

Well, our leading man executed a very successful campaign, they say. But listen, he is not governor, but governed, in the chase he did not capture, but is captured.

He took the oath of office on January 1, along with Governor Bamberger. The pledge was signed on New Year's Day. May this resolution never suffer the fate common to New Year's determinations, 'is the hearty wish of Student Life.

ALUMNI FEAST IN ZION

First Annual Banquet Held at the Newhouse Hotel

Thursday afternoon, December 22, the U. A. C. Alumni held its first mid-winter banquet at the Newhouse Hotel. It is planned to make this banquet an annual affair to take place each year during the U. E. A. Convention. Sixty members were present.

In the absence of William Peterson, President of the Alumni Association, Dr. A. Ray Irvine presided and acted as toastmaster.

Dr. Irving, '98, told of conditions at the A. C. when the College consisted of the south wing of the Main building and the Experiment Station. Dr. Peterson spoke as an alumnus and as President of the College. Dr. Frank L. West talked of the athletic situation at the A. C. and Bert Carrington explained why he went to the University. Bert suggested that the Alumni Association be made more active and offered to undertake the organization of the members who reside in Salt Lake County. It was suggested that the A. C. Alumni in each county through out the State form an active organization.

Perhaps the most important action taken at the banquet was in response to a suggestion from W. D. Beers, '99. Mr. Beers said that it is time the Alumni Association was represented on the Board of Trustees. A committee consisting of Dr. Irvine, Mr. Beers, and J. Edward Taylor, '05, was appointed to wait upon Governor Bamberger and present this matter to him, requesting the appointment of some Alumni as members of the Board of Trustees.

"JOE" JENSON COMES TO A. C.

U. A. C. basketball stock took a sudden jump yesterday, when it was definitely announced that Coach "Joe" Jenson had been engaged as assistant to Coach Watson. Nothing could have happened to boost the hopes of followers of the hoop game on the hill more.

Coach Jenson is well known to old Aggie students. For six years he has been in charge of athletics at the B. Y. C. the only rival of the College in this part of the state.

Jenson has an enviable basketball record behind him. He entered the B. Y. C. in 1905 and immediately made a place on the team, playing at center. In 1907 he was captain of the State Championship team, and again in 1908 captained the undefeated team which was invincible not only in the West, but which made a victorious tour of the East.

In 1909 "Joe" went to Preston, where he started the Oneida Stake Academy on its basketball career. The B. Y. C. secured the services of Coach Jenson in 1910. In 1912 he put out a team which easily won the state championship.

Jenson was not only a star performer at basketball. He was a good backstop and a home run hitter in baseball and a fast man on the track.

With two men like Watson and Jenson, the A. C. should not be behind any school in the state in athletics.

TRUSTEES AUTHORIZE EXPENDITURES

Much Needed Improvements Are Planned

At its recent meeting the Board of Trustees of the U. A. C. authorized expenditures which will result in some much needed improvements on College Hill. President Peterson pointed out in his biennial report the immediate needs of the College and the Board of Trustees was quick to recognize the value of such improvements as were suggested.

Every student or the College will hail with satisfaction the announcement that a dairy and live stock building is first on Dr. Peterson's list of proposed buildings. Such a structure, where an up to date dairy could be installed, would enable Mr. Bingham to vacate the part of the main building which he now occupies. Students have long objected to the present location of the dairy and its removal will indeed be welcomed.

For the H. E. C. girls comes the good news that a Home Economics Practice House is being planned. This will contain the very latest laboratory conveniences and will add greatly to the possibilities of the Department of Home Economics.

The erection of a horse barn, to replace the unsightly structure between the Chemistry Building and

TWITCHELL CHOSEN FOOTBALL MEN CAPTAIN LOSE AWARDS

FIGHTING FULLBACK HONORED BY TEAMMATES

At the annual football banquet given by the Be-No Club, in the Hotel Logan, Alvin Twitchell, the hard-hitting Aggie fullback, was elected by his teammates to captain them next year.

Twitchell was the hardest player on the squad this season, but he worked under "hard luck." In the games in which he was able to play, he was the most consistent tackler on the field. His offensive work was also of a high character.

Twitchell was popular among the members of the squad. He is well liked by all except those who have been jolted by his vicious tackle; he is respected by them.

Drama Students Interpret Ibsen

The presentation of Ibsen's play, "The Doll's House," Wednesday afternoon, December 20th, in the College chapel, by members of Miss Huntsman's class in the interpretative study of the modern drama, marked a red letter day, in the history of dramatics at the A. C.

Those who went out of curiosity, to see a play without the usual stage setting and without the usual men in the men's role, remained to applaud the work done, profoundly interested in the splendid and convincing interpretation that the young women of the class gave of this remarkable play.

The interior of the Helmer home was merely suggested by arranging a few pieces of furniture against a background of screens on the chapel platform the rest was left to the imagination of the audience.

Each of the three acts of the play was interpreted by a different set of actors, in order to give an opportunity to each member of the class to appear in public as the course requires. So truly were the interpreters responsive to the big idea of the play; so sincerely bent on a sincere rendering of the part assigned and

WATSON REFUSES TO RECOMMEND MAJORITY OF TEAM. DANCERS CAN'T HAVE A'S

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee, Coach Watson recommended four men to receive A's for their work on the football team during the past season. The lucky four, whose services merit awards, are Andy Mohr, "Brig" Johnson, Gardner and Reese. Others had played the required quarters, but were not recommended for awards. Captain Judd, Kapple, Carl Petersen, Twitchell, Lindquist, Sutton, Morrell and Cannon had all done their full share in the games of the season.

Utah Musicians Score Success

Mr. McClellan, Miss Hyde, and Miss Jepperson Enthusiastically Received

No musicians who have visited Logan recently have been so enthusiastically received as were Prof. John J. McClellan, Miss Romania Hyde, and Miss Florence Jepperson, the popular Utah artists who appeared at the Tabernacle, December 18. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity and the musicians were always greeted with a warm round of applause.

Prof. McClellan, at the organ, has always charmed his audiences, and he maintained his reputation well. Invariably he was called upon for an encore but did not respond until his listeners refused to be satisfied after the rendition of "An Old Melody," arranged by Mr. McClellan, himself.

Though enthusiastically received, Miss Jepperson possessed an air of affectation which lessened the effect that her voice would otherwise have had. A beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums which she received after the rendition of Schubert's

R. O. T. C. TO BE ESTABLISHED

APPLICATION OF U. A. C. ACCEPTED BY WAR DEPARTMENT

The application of the U. A. C. for the establishment of a Reserve Officers' Training Corps has been granted by the War Department and before many weeks the new order of military training will be in effect here. As has been stated before in the columns of Student Life, this innovation will insure additional aid from the Federal Government in carrying out its work in military science and tactics. All cadets will be furnished free uniforms and those desiring to continue their military training more than two years will be allowed $9 a month. Such men will be required to sign an agreement with the government to enlist as officers of the regular army in case of war. After graduating, these men will be taken into the army for six months as Second Lieutenants.

In speaking of the establishment of the R. O. T. C. at the A. C., Dr. Peterson says: "There is an idea abroad that this is a movement to make the Agricultural College a military school. Such is not the case. It is simply a means of obtaining additional aid from the Federal Government and of furnishing our country with much needed trained army officers. The work will not interfere in the least with the regular work of the College. In my opinion, it is a very commendable movement and should receive the hearty support of the people of the State."

HENDERSON SUCCEEDS TITUS

Was Formerly at B. Y. C. Later Principal of Weber Stake Academy

President Peterson announces that Mr. W. W. Henderson has been appointed to succeed Dr. Titus as head of the departments of Zoology and Entomology at the College. Mr. Henderson is a Utah man, having had most of his schooling in this state. He has spent one year in Cornell University. He was for several years in charge of the work in Zoology and Entomology at the Brigham Young College of this city; later he acted as Principal of the Weber Stake Academy, a position which he resigned several years ago to take charge of his father's estate at Arimo, Idaho.

Mr. Henderson is said to be a thorough student of Zoology and Entomology and to possess a pleasing personality.

An effort to communicate directly with Mr. Henderson proved unsuccessful, hence the indefiniteness of the information concerning him.

Aggies Defeat Oneida Boys

The present basketball season began rather unceremoniously Tuesday December 19, when a half hearted, dwarf sized crowd assembled to see the Aggies make their first showing against Packer's Oneida Stake quintet.

So far as a real basketball game is concerned, it was a rather distant

MODEL ADDRESSES

The U. S. Postal Department is now undertaking a campaign in an endeavor to correct the many errors which occur in addressing letters. President Peterson has posted a sample letter in the hall for the benefit of the students of the College. No College man can afford to be ignorant in this regard. A glance at the model address would be worth while.

STALE NEWS

Some of the events reported in today's Student Life are confessedly stale, but to complete the chronicle of the annals of the 1916-17 College year are given due space in our columns.

Roberts Delivers Christmas Message

Christ As Incarnation of God Idea
Is Theme of Speaker. Special Music by Choir and Glee Club

In a masterly fashion Hon. B. H. Roberts delivered a deeply impressive Christmas message to the students of the College, Tuesday, December 19. "Christ as the Incarnation of the God Idea," was the theme of the speaker, who presented this difficult subject in a manner as enlightening as it was impressive.

For an hour and fifteen minutes Mr. Roberts eloquently and logically traced the development of the omnipresent God idea, portraying clearly and forcibly the fact that Jesus was the incarnation of the Immanent Deity.

The speaker introduced his theme by reading St. John's well known discussion of the Word, and reminded his listeners that it would be necessary to hold two things in mind in order to solve the mystery of the ever-present God.

First, the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us; Jesus was the Word. Secondly, the Word is called the "Light and the Life," "the Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." The Light and the Life was incarnate in Jesus, by and through whom all things were made and are sustained.

The greatest fact about God is that we hail Him as creator and sustainer of the universe. Christ was and is God. His divinity is attested by the entire scriptures.

Man has always demanded that God be very near. Paul and David, the poets and philosophers of many lands teach the omnipresence of God. All men have tried to express conviction of the presence of God in the universe. In all philosophy and religion, ancient and modern, pagan and Christian the idea of the all-pervading Deity may be found.

Christ was the incarnation of this God-idea. He was God in the flesh, the incarnation of that light which proceeds forth from the God to fill the immensity of space. The conviction that we can live constantly in touch with Christ is of the utmost value to man. When we comprehend Christ as the incarnation of the all-pervading as well as the personal God and realize that we "live and move and have our being" in Him, life takes on a new and grander significance. The arrival of Christmas should remind us of the homage we owe to God and recall this great truth of our continual contact with Deity.

The work of the choir in its rendition of the anthem, "Awake, Put On Thy Strength, O Zion," and of the Glee Club, which sang, "There Were Shepherds Abiding In the Fields," added greatly to the spirit of the occasion.

Christiansen Chosen Manager

Howard Christiansen, assistant to Manager Howells, was appointed Football Manager, at the last meeting of the Executive Committee. Mr. Christiansen was active as Assistant Manager during the last season, and should have a good insight into the workings of the business end of football. Already he is arranging a schedule for next year.

Melee Goes Off With Whizz

The annual Fraternity melee, given under the direction of the U. A. C. men's Pan-Hellenic Association, took place Dec. 19, in the Pavilion. Always one of the most enjoyable dances of the year, it scored a still greater success this time. The holiday colors of green, red and white, were used to striking effect in decoration. Streamers of these colors were draped from a large bell hanging in the center of the hall, to all sides. At one end of the hall hung a large shield on which the emblems of the five fraternities were arranged. Palms were placed at intervals about the hall. Pineapple frappe was served from a prettily decorated booth. One hundred and twenty-five couples were present.

NEW CLASS IN DANCING TO BEGIN JANUARY 12

A new class in social dancing will be organized next Friday to follow the course just completed. Students will be required to register for this course and attend regularly.

The class has proved very popular in the past, and Mrs. Johnson has been successful in teaching the class a number of the new dances.

Students wishing to enter this course please see Mrs. Johnson immediately. Only a limited number of couples can register.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES AUTHORIZES EXPENDITURES

(Continued from page one) the green house was urged by President Peterson. The present horse barn has long been an eyesore on the campus and its removal has been hoped for by every student who feels a pride in the beauty spot on College Hill.

Prospects are bright that the boys who work in the shops will at last have a suitable lavatory provided. No improvement in the Mechanic Arts Building could be more timely. An Irrigation and Farm Mechanics building is planned where work in irrigation can be carried on efficiently. The new importance which this work is assuming is ample justification for a separate building where proper apparatus can be installed and where this work can be given the consideration its importance justifies.

Other minor improvements are suggested in the report of the President. If the necessary money is available, next year should see a marked change in the appearance of the College campus.

TEN DEBATERS CHOSEN

At the final debating trout, held the Tuesday prior to the holidays, ten men were chosen to represent the College in the inter-state and triangular debates for this season. These men are: Peterson, Cowley, Meeks, Snow, Hanson, Sharp, Cannon, Hatch, Morgan and Merrill. Purcell and Bates were chosen as substitutes.

Six of these men, Peterson, Cowley, Snow, Sharp, Meeks and Morgan will debate in the triangular meet with the U. of U. and the B. Y. U. though it has not definitely been decided how the teams will line up. Of the other four, two will debate the U. of Wyoming, at Laramie on the Monroe Doctrine question, and two will meet the U. of Idaho at Logan on the question, Resolved, That the United States Senate should Adopt Some System of Closure.

Marley Bracken, a popular young student of the B. Y. C. and a brother of Mr. Aaron Bracken, instructor in Agronomy, died December 20th, in Logan. Mr. Bracken had contracted a case of measles, but was not considered seriously ill until it was found that he was beyond medical aid. The body was taken to the family home at Freedom, Wyoming.

Wednesday evening a fitting reception was given in honor of Coach and Mrs. J. W. Watson who arrived on the 8 o'clock train from Chicago. A delegation of friends met the happy couple at the station and escorted them to their new home which had been previously prepared for the occasion. A delicious lunch was served, generously accompanied with frequent showers of rice and old shoes. The company dispersed at an early hour, leaving with Mr. and Mrs. Watson a multitude of good wishes for the future.

Tuesday night Dec. 20 before blaze of the Yule Log, twenty-seven Beta members, Mrs. N. G. Hill, Miss Edith Bowen, Miss Johanna Sorenson, Miss Moen and Mrs. H. Yeates, gathered in Christmas celebration. Music, readings, toasts and games provided joyful amusement. Luncheon was served, during which the Christmas pudding, illuminated with small candles, furnished the light for the dining room.

Girls Pan-Hellenic January 15

Everybody is now waiting for the annual Girls' Pan-Hellenic Ball. At least, the boys are waiting, and, Jessie Eccles, chairman of the committee which has the dance in charge, says that they can do nothing but wait. Dissatisfied with the results of their leap-year efforts, the girls are determined to have one more chance at the backward Aggie boys. Miss Eccles is firm in her assertion that all the boys can do is hold themselves in readiness. Every girl who can find a partner, whether she be a sorority girl or not, is invited to attend and enjoy this quasi-leap-year party.

AMERICA BEFORE THE WORLD

Dr. Fisher To Deliver Popular Lecture Next Monday Night

Lovers of America and of her grandeur will have the privilege, Monday night, of hearing the best illustrated lecture that has ever been prepared on the beauties of the United States. Dr. F. V. Fisher will appear at the Tabernacle and deliver his famous lecture, "America Before the World." A matinee at 3 p. m. will be given for children, an admission of 10 cents being charged. The evening lecture will commence at 8 o'clock, general admission 25 cents, Student Body cards good.

Those who have seen Dr. Fisher's slides, of which he has 400, and heard his most charming lecture, are unanimous in pronouncing them a revelation. The beauty of America, and even of Utah, is little known to most Utahns. Dr. Fisher opens the eyes of his audience to the marvelous grandeur of their own surrounding country.

Press comments, wherever Dr. Fisher has appeared, have been enthusiastically favorable. "Masterly illustrated lectures," "Anyone within gun shot of these lectures who does not hear him has missed a great treat intellectually, geographically and educationally." "Dr. Fisher's lecture is the finest thing of its kind ever shown in Salt Lake."

These are but a few of the comments of the country's press.

FOOTBALL MEN LOSE AWARDS

(Continued From Page One.) Coach's recommendation, but the cause of his refusal to give letters to the other members of the team is no secret. Watson says that he instructed his men, early in the season to refrain from dancing as part of their training. A few days before Thanksgiving game with the University of Idaho, the Coach learned that most of the members of his squad had failed to obey, to the letter, the rule against dancing. Upon learning this, Watson threatened to cancel the Thanksgiving game and refuse to give letters to the players. The morning following his discovery, he met the squad and offered the men the choice of canceling the game or forfeiting their A's. Every member of the squad voted to play the game. The refusal to recommend eight men for awards is the outcome of the trouble.

Dissatisfaction with the action of the Coach is heard on every side. There seems to be a feeling among the students that, every thing considered, the punishment of Watson is out of proportion to the offense of the dancers.

DRAMA STUDENTS INTERPRET IBSEN

(Continued from Page 1) so well chosen for that part, that the audience was held from the beginning to the end of the play and felt no lack in setting or acting, the presentation was thoroughly interesting and convincing.

Space will not permit comment on the work of each of the players, they were all adequate, many of them admirably so, but the "Noras" deserve special praise. Mae Hutchings as the "frisking squirrel," and "twittering lark," of the first act, carried the audience with her buoyant vivacity and made the care-free joyous Nora cherishing her secret, very real. Claire Cardon interpreted the Nora who had come to a realization of her innocent wrong doing, and who hoped for yet feared the Mirralle, in a manner that showed us the very mind and soul processes of the unhappy woman. While her work was somewhat uneven, many an experienced actress might have been proud of Miss Cardon's interpretation.

Mae Edwards as the Nora who finds herself in the third act, revealed an unerringly true dramatic instinct and creative talent of a high order and at times reached a level of interpretation that has never been equaled in the school and was quite out of the amateur class. Through the long "quietly talking" scene with Torvald at the end of the act, Miss Edwards held her audience in a tense of silence and no shade of the intellectual and emotional experience of the clear, visional Nora, was lost.

Miss Huntsman is to be congratulated on this excellent beginning in making effective her experiment in a laboratory course in modern drama.

It is to be hoped that the Student Body and the public may enjoy many more such interesting and artistic representations of the class work.

AGGIES DEFEAT ONEIDA BOYS

(Continued from page one) show, but it did at least give an idea of what material we had to bank on in our coming hoop campaign. The score, incidentally stood 48 to 25, at the end of the game.

Both teams showed a clear case of stage fright in the opening minutes of play. The passing was fairly accurate and speedy, but the boys seemed unable to stick to the ball and consequently a good deal of unnecessary fumbling resulted. A little later in the half the Aggies picked up and displayed some wonderful form, considering the early season.

Taken altogether, the outlook appears good for the Aggie roster. Our men are green, but showed the brand of material that can be developed. With proper supporting spirit we should make a close bid for the state title.

A. C. STUDENT DIES IN SALT LAKE

William Gilligan Succumbs To An Attack of Pneumonia

William Gilligan, well known student of the College, died at the home of his father, Dr. J. H. Gilligan, in Salt Lake City, December 23. The death of Mr. Gilligan came as a sad surprise to his many friends at the A. C. A few days before the vacation began, he was reported to be recovering from the attack of pneumonia from which he had been suffering for some time. Possessing a none too rugged constitution, Mr. Gilligan was expected to have a serious struggle, but his recovery was confidently awaited.

Mr. Gilligan who was 23 years of age, was born at Green River, Wyoming. He came to Utah four years ago, attended All Hallows College in Salt Lake two years, and entered the A. C. at the beginning of 1914. He was a student of the School of Agriculture. It was his object to prepare to manage the agricultural interests of his father, in Wyoming and Nebraska.

Mr. Gilligan, commonly known as "Bill," was a familiar figure in the College campus. Though never robust, he possessed a cheerful disposition which invariably won him friends. He was an active member of the Be-No Club.

Student Life hereby extends in behalf of the students of the U. A. C. heartfelt sympathy to the parents of Mr. Gilligan.

Miss Hyde, with her unassuming and charming performance on the violin, was easily the choice of the Logan music lovers. "The Minuet in G" following Kreisler's "Liebesfreud," brought forth prolonged applause.

Once again, those in charge of the Lyceum Course are to be congratulated on their happy choice of entertainers.

DE LAVAL

Cream Separators

SAVE IN SEVEN WAYS

QUANTITY of cream that no other separator will recover completely, particularly under the harder conditions of every-day use.

QUALITY of cream as evidenced by De Laval butter always scoring highest in every important contest.

LABOR in every way over any gravity system, and also over any other separator, by turning easier, being simpler easier to clean and requiring no adjustment.

TIME by hours over any gravity system, and as well over any other separator by reason of greater capacity and the same reasons that save labor.

COST since while a De Laval cream separator may cost a little more than a poor one to begin with it will last from ten to twenty years, while other separators wear out and require to be replaced in from one to five years.

PROFIT in more and better cream, with less labor and effort, every time milk is put through the machine, twice a day, or 730 times a year for every year the separator lasts.

SATISFACTION which is no small consideration, and can only come from knowing you have the best separator, and being sure you are at all times accomplishing the best possible results.
