Comrades Answer Death Call

POPULAR STUDENTS AND FRIENDS OF COLLEGE
PASS AWAY

The student body was completely stunned last Monday morning when news arrived by telegram that two U. A. C. men, Guy Alexander and Clayton Preston were killed in a train accident occurring at Cotopaxi, Colorado at 5:50 a. m. The troop train was bound east, when the third section crashed into the rear end of the second section, crushing the car in which some of the soldiers were riding. One other man named Whitehouse was killed, while sixteen others were seriously injured, several of whom were Logan boys and former students of the college.

Guy Alexander was 28 years old. His home town was Heber City. He has fulfilled a mission to Holland, was a charter member of the Alpha Delta Epsilon Fraternity at the U. A. C. and was instructor in band at the college last year. Last August he married Viola Allen, a student of last year. Mrs. Alexander has a sister in Ogden, the other members of her family live in Canada. He was leader of the 42nd regimental band when killed.

Clayton Preston was 23 years old; a charter member of the Delta Nu Fraternity; chairman of this year's Junior Prom, business manager of Student Life, and active in other lines of college life. He was married in August to Miss Marian Smith of this city. He had given up his college work to act as drum major of the 42nd regiment. His brothers, Dr. Booker Preston, Dr. Alec, Preston and George Preston were all out of town, but will be able to attend the funeral Friday at 2:30.

Both bodies arrived in Logan last night and will be buried here on Friday. The Governor has requested a military funeral which will mean that a detachment of soldiers representing the State and Nation will attend the funeral, accompany the flag-draped caskets to the cemetery and fire a salute over the graves, after which a bugler will sound "taps." It is expected the remains may be viewed Friday morning.

These young men were unusually cordial, and students and faculty feel it to have been a privilege to have enjoyed their wholesome comradeship during their school career. Sincere sympathy is extended to those who are bereaved.

This week's death role also announces the sad death of Miss Manilla Greenhalgh another of last year's students. She was ill but a very short time. A blood clot gathered on the brain, and all possible means were used to dissolve and remove this gathering but their efforts were in vain. Miss Greenhalgh was a very prominent member of the social group, taking part in last year's opera, a member of the choir and a very accomplished young lady in every respect. She will certainly be missed by all who knew her. Student Life extends its deepest sympathy.

Word also arrives of the death of David McKay, father of Mrs. Lizzie McKay Hill, and Hon. George C.

Whitmore, ex-board member of the U. A. C. These men have been true friends of the institution for many years and their friendship and efforts directed toward the helping of this school, will be missed.

Eccles Buys Blankets

PROMINENT UTAH BUSINESS
MAN PROVES HIS LOYALTY
TO U. A. C. FOOTBALL TEAM

The long felt need of the football team for blankets or coats to wear on the sidelines and between halves of the games, has at last been filled through the generosity of Mariner Eccles.

At a banquet given the team by the Commercial Club recently, Mr. Eccles signified his desire that the team be not obliged to shiver on the side lines and offered to pay for having that desire granted.

Mr. Coburn gave the order to the Provo Woolen Mills and the blankets are expected for Saturday's big Boulder game. They are to be navy blue with white U. A. C. letters across them lengthwise.

The team is delighted with the prospect of having them and express sincere appreciation to Mr. Eccles. They have been handicapped by getting cold between the halves of the recent games, which slows them down when they get back into the game. The spectacle of an injured player having to keep warm with a sweater jacket will be seen no more.

PRESIDENT PLEASED WITH CLASH RUSH

To The Editor:

May I, through the columns of Student Life express my congratulations to the Freshmen and Sophomores on the occasion of their very commendable spirit as shown in the organized sand-bag rush on Adams' Field Tuesday during the game? The affair was well thought out and well handled and should be an object lesson to all future classes indicating how class spirit can be developed and class competition indulged in.

Just such exhibitions as that of Tuesday characterize the larger, better colleges of America. The occasional organized rush is sensible and enjoyable. It is on the other hand the mark of an under-developed "smart-alec" college where the spirit is immature, when the students engage in duckings, hair-cuttings and other such manifestations of personal violence.

The larger colleges long since abandoned these practices. They still persist in a few small western colleges and in certain of the small academies of the east. Real colleges do not practice them any longer.

It is a source of gratification therefore that our own college classes have this year exhibited no evidence of these crude, entirely uncollegiate activities. The Freshmen and Sophomores have set a commendable example.

Very truly yours,

E. G. PETERSON.

NOTICE

The Greenhalgh funeral will be held Friday noon in the Fifth ward meeting house.

The Preston-Alexander funeral will be held Friday at 2:00 in the Tabernacle.

Letters have been sent to all alumni and by their hearty response this promises to be an epoch making event. One minute speeches will be made by many old football stars and state officials who have all been invited to participate.

The big game on Saturday with Boulder will be the great attraction. Special stunts are in the making for this game and everything will be done to make the most enjoyable afternoon of the season. The Be-No Booster will be on sale at the game.

A ball will be given Saturday night to acquaint the students with the alumni. The Colorado football men will be special guests.

Committees to provide for the following features:

General Committee, Parade, (for Friday night, November 16); program (for street meeting Saturday); seating arrangements at game, stunts at the game, arrangements for the ball, get acquainted committee for the ball, November 17th.

Dr. Thomas Speaks At Chapel

OF LAST YEAR ADDRESSES
STUDENTS

On Tuesday, Dr. Thomas explained the causes of the war's effect on our standards of justice. As a nation before the war, we had become individualists and worshippers of wealth. The real problem of what was right or wrong was presented by the war, and our neutrality of thought and action was broken by our national conscience declaring against Germany.

Individual standards have been selfish. We were drifting to a dangerous condition where our laboring classes felt they were not receiving justice. We are now re-adjusting our standards and questioning actions we have always considered correct. Any man whose standard does not require him to sacrifice himself for the common good, has a false standard of justice.

Cherniavinsky Trio Applauded

Musical critics pronounce the Cherniavinsky Trio of last Thursday evening a very artistic musical treat. Although the troupe did not bring their own piano, remarks were heard in the audience that it was a pleasure to hear a new piano occasionally. The pianist was wonderful in technique and interpretation. His first number was the Chopin Nocturne and last the celebrated Chopin Polonaise.

The first number of the evening, the Concerto from Mendelssohn, was keenly appreciated. The characteristic music in the Slav dance also proved popular.

The violinist used a real Cremona violin. His "Ave Maria" was very soulful. Because of an oversight the music for the D minor Concerto was left in Salt Lake, but the audience was pleased with his splendid substitution.

At the conclusion of the concert, Fred C. Graham announced the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra would play here on February 13th.

Freshies Suffer First Defeat

Last Saturday Tommy Fitzpatrick's fast East Side team beat Joe Jensen's team 70-0 in a one-sided but well fought game.

The East Side team used the open formations and uncorked some of the prettiest trick plays that have been seen here for some time and every trick play netted them a big gain. One play that was a feature was a long forward pass from Smith to Oswald. Oswald received the pass under the goal post.

The Freshies played a fine game but were handicapped by the loss of Henroid at quarterback who is out of the game because of injuries received in the Brigham game. Our team was also handicapped because of their inexperience this being only their third game this season.

Smith and Oswald were the big stars for the East Side. Smith handled his team well in the pinches and proved to be a hard man to tackle when carrying the ball.

Jordan was the star of the Frosh team, making the longest gain for us. West played a fine game and Andrews, a new man at guard has promises of being a whirlwind next year.

E. J. KIRKHAM ADVERTISING U. A. C.

Mr. Kirkham has been delegated by President E. G. Peterson to make a tour of the central part of the state to advertise the splendid opportunities presented by the courses of the second term. Posters and bulletins explaining the 92 courses will be circulated in sixty-one towns of seven counties.

He will visit the local papers, distribute literature to influential citizens, churches and schools. Prior to his departure Mr. Kirkham was presented with a bill poster's brush, a bill pasters suit and a receipt for making paste, but he explained that the dignity of his trip would prevent him from accepting these tokens of respect.

The student body is gratified to know that Ebenezer J. will join them in Salt Lake at the big game.

French Army Officer Lectures

CAPTAIN HENRI BLOCH TELLS IN FRENCH OF WAR
CONDITIONS

Monday evening at the Bluebird hall the Logan French students enjoyed the rare opportunity of hearing a French army captain give, in the French language, an account of some of his experiences while on the firing line.

The evening commenced by the students singing two typical French songs with which Capt. Bloch seemed very pleased. Prof. Arnold then introduced Captain Bloch who was applauded by the seventy-five or eighty persons assembled.

"I am very glad," said Captain Bloch, "to talk to the people who love France and especially to the people of the state I am sent out to work in. My duties at Fort Douglas keep me very busy, but it is pleasant work to give the benefit of our experience to the Americans that they might not make the mistakes we made at the beginning of the war."

"When war commenced, three false notions prevailed in France. First, it was thought a war could not be; Second, after war was declared both France and Germany were sure it could not last longer than six weeks to three months. Third, Germany had made a treaty with Belgium promising to not infringe on its neutrality in case of war. Therefore, the thought of Germany entering France by way of Belgium was not considered by the French. On the assumption that Germany would respect treaties and international law France mobilized her forces on the eastern frontier. Thus it was that northern France was in no position to stop the onrush of the Germans. The resistance on this front was so weak that the

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING ERNEST

There are several reasons why Oscar Wilde's brilliant, witty comedy was chosen as the college play this year. In the first place it's a change. While it is high class comedy and up to the high standard of plays produced by the college in the past years it is what may be called a "light" play—that is, it furnishes entertainment pure and simple with no attempt to convey a philosophy or point a moral. It's a play you can sit back and laugh at and enjoy without any "brain-strain" and yet feel that the evening has been most delightfully spent and in these days of serious thought and sacrifice for each and all of us it is well to spend an evening now and then when we can forget ourselves in sheer enjoyment. Here too, the play is one that can be produced at a minimum cost and that's a big item these days also. It's a non-"star" play and that's another point in its favor. The honors are equally divided among several players, each of whom has an excellent opportunity to do good work. All in all it's a "corking" good play for amateur production—just the sort of a play that everyone is going to like and it ought to be a huge success.

OUR GUESTS

What would you think of a man who invited you to come two or three hundred miles to meet him in an amateur sport in which there was no salary for him or you and then when he gets you among HIS friends would permit them to insult you by yelling: "Aw you got a yellow streak?" Then if nothing was done to entertain you after the game, and you were defeated, would you return home thinking, "That fellow is a good sport living in a good town?" Not hardly. You would say: "He robbed me of the game and didn't even thank me for it." It is possible that students who are courteous to their friends at home and school might make nasty remarks to a rival football team, but it is not at all probable. People who make such remarks as "kill him!" "Put him out!" whether they are from town or college, should be made to feel they are disgracing the college and giving the town a black eye. The most enthusiastic rooters, who cheer the team whether they are winning or losing, are not the ones who make these bitter, sportsmanlike remarks. Nothing should concern us more than remembering that everyone of the school is a host to our football guests.

One of our players said that while he was in Missoula, as a result of the courteous treatment received there he felt that if he ever changed schools he would go to the Montana U.

A MISTAKE

You have all heard the story of the little shepherd who called "Wolf! Wolf!" just for the fun of having the village men come to his aid, and then when a wolf was in the flock his call was not heeded. The senseless ringing of the fire bell on the north stairs may cause students to take this bell about as seriously as the village men did the wolf howler. But it is a dangerous thing for us to become indifferent to so important an alarm, and those who, for some obscure cause, ring this bell for a joke or accidentally pull the cord, are guilty of criminal carelessness, endangering the life of many.

If there be students who must ring a bell, arrangement can be made for them to ring the Providence district school bell, if they will hand their names to the chairman of the Council of Defense.

XMAS PACKAGES FOR U. S.
SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

The Red Cross girls have been very busy in getting the Xmas packages of the A. C. soldiers off on yesterday's mail. Each package is made up of a book and a box daintily and artistically filled with walnut fudge, peanut brittle, Persian tuffuti, raisins, dates, figs, chewing gum.

A U. A. C. postcard upon which is written "Xmas Greetings From A. C. Student Body." is also enclosed.

The various articles are wrapped in tissue paper and tied with red ribbon. It is thought that these packages will not fail to convey the Xmas spirit to the boys.

The Commercial division of the Red Cross work is now fully organized. The officers are:

Mrs. Johnson, faculty representative; Miss Moen, general supervisor; Ruby Rosengren, secretary; Miss Bingham, knitting; Orissa Brinton, garments and bandages; Elizabeth Cannon, relief work; Stella Young, Xmas work.

BE NO BUSINESS

The Be No Club held its first meeting and elected officers to fill vacancies left by those who entered the military service. George Ward was elected vice president. "Swede" Lindquist secretary and Vic Larsen treasurer. Stubby Peterson, the president, was the only old officer to return. The club will again put out their annual Be-No Booster and as usual the proceeds will go towards giving the football team a banquet. The Booster will have twenty-four pages and will contain pictures of all the players and all the dope and yells necessary for the fans. Rowe and Peterson will have charge of the Booster again this year. The club has been in existence but two years and already sixteen of its member are in military service. Only seven of last year's members are back at school, but after a few initiations in the famous Lindquist undertaking parlors watch the club step to the front as it has done in the past.

SOCIALLY SPEAKING

Last Saturday evening the Sorosis pledges entertained the active members and partners at a dancing party. The affair was given in the Bluebird hall which was effectively decorated with cut flowers. A unique program was arranged whereby wall flowers were eliminated from the scheme of decoration. Mr. and Mrs. Asa Bullen chaperoned thirty couples. Three dainty damsels served refreshments from an attractive booth.

Miss Lucile Rogers went to Salt Lake Saturday to see the Elk's production of the Mikado.

Sorosis house girls entertained the Sigma Alpha house members at dinner Sunday afternoon and evening.

Amy Redd and Pearl Oberhansly were guests at dinner at the Theta Sorority house Sunday.

The Beta Delta Sorority announce the pledging of Prudence Roberts and Isabel Buck.

Mr. James Chipman spent the week end visiting with her daughter Dorothy.

Saturday evening, an all-night wake was held and some real things transpired before the Beta goats were brought under the yoke. But after sufficient butting and strenuous leaping, Marjorie Turner, Ona King, Sybil Hopkins, Chloe Nelson and Ella Milner landed on the other side of the bars into the Beta Delta Sorority.

Sunday a social afternoon was spent at the Beta house in honor of the sorority birthday anniversary. Those present were the members and visiting guests, pledges, and Miss Edith Bowen, Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Miss Moen and Miss Mary Sorensen. Vases of white roses adorned the rooms and light refreshments topped the time. The sorority was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Misses Anna and Grace Edmunds and Mrs. Clarence Aldous of Salt Lake, Miss Alta Calvert of Ogden and Misses Georgina and Myrtle Davidson of Brigham city, all U. A. C. alumni, spent the week end as guests of the Beta Delta sorority.

HON. FRANCIS NEILSON TO

Next Tuesday at 8:30 Mr. Francis Nielson will lecture at the Tabernacle on "Secret Diplomacy and the War."

Mr. Nielson was a member of the British Parliament for five years and promises to be one of the most gripping numbers of the Lyceum course this winter. All who profess an interest in the problems and events of today cannot afford to miss it.

U. A. C. COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

A student body Council of Defense has been appointed at the college to handle all situations concerning the students which result from the war. They are at work on the list of U. A. C. students to whom Christmas packages are to be sent. The committee is composed of A. E. Backman chairman; Edith Hayball, Eva Joy Nielson, Ray Silvers, Stephen Deal. They will welcome any suggestions relative to their work.

RED PAINT

Before sunrise streaked the eastern sky Tuesday morning the Freshman football team (the live ones) had streaked the main stem of Logan with red paint. Considerable art was displayed in the lettering and great ability in a literary way by the sentiments expressed. During the morning President Ballif of the Sophomore class was called on and asked for a speech. He gave a very touching discourse on "The Girls Wouldn't Love Me If I Lost My Hair." Breakfast was served at the Boosters Inn.

"I won't go first; I'm fourth; I speak fifth; stick fourth and you will get a good one; I speak last." This is a little of what you would have heard had you been in the Theta library last Saturday night. The girls were "lined up" in the dining room while the East Side football players were in line in the parlor. Louie managed the two hall doors letting one fellow and one girl in the hall at a time. Here the East Sider met his partner, took a good look at her before she went up stairs to get her wraps. To be sure there was some graft in that line up. But everyone soon got acquainted and all paraded the streets down to the Auditorium where a jolly time was enjoyed.

C. E. Cotter, '14, who is stationed at Fort Monroe, Virginia, has been promoted from Lieutenant to Captain in the Coast Artillery Corps.

The tryouts for "The Importance of Being Ernest" will be scheduled sometime next week. Watch the bulletin board for further notice.

Letters have been received during the week from Chester Knudson, Lee Dean, Howard Hudman, Leland Hiener, Burt Fitzgerald and Irvin McAllister.

A school boy asked to give a sentence using the word "notwithstanding," came back thus: "Father's pants are all worn out, but notwithstanding."

All students should buy war tax tickets for Saturday's game at the Book store Friday, as the rush from the rally will make it impossible to sell these tickets at the game fast enough.

Axell Christensen, '14, is on the Wyoming State Experimental farm, Grover, Wyoming. He hits it right when he says the cause of his uneasiness was that he was not keeping in close touch with the U. A. C.

Johnny Fritz, son of Fred of Pekin, Ind., will be a corporation lawyer when he grows up. Forbidden to go beyond the front gate the other Sunday afternoon, he took the gate off its hinges and carried it in front of him to a ball game.

The "fraternity brother" racket will go pretty far among college boys, but the limit was reached at Chicago university the other day. In the course of a war argument in a chapter house Edward Pietsch told his "bunch" that he'd like to stick a knife in President Wilson. The "bunch" informed the district attorney's office, and "Brother" Pietsch is now trying to land $10,000 bail.

NOTICE—IMPORTANT!

All students intending to enter the tryouts for the college play hand their names into Miss Huntsman not later than Monday the 19th. Names may be left in Room 359 or in Miss Huntsman's mail box in Room 105.

POST-SEASON FOOTBALL GAME BETWEEN D. U. AND UTAH AGGIES PROBABLE

Overwhelming Victory of Mormon
Farmers Over Colorado Aggies
Presages Tie for Rocky Mountain
Honors; Scene of Title Conflict
Big Obstacle

(From the Denver News)

The overwhelming defeat of the Colorado Aggies at the hands of the Utah Aggies at Logan yesterday bears out the prediction made by experts at the beginning of the gridiron season that the Mormon Farmers would prove the strongest football aggregation in the Rocky Mountain conference. The ease with which Coach Watson's men walked over Hughes' eleven seems to justify the claim that the Loganites cannot be stopped by Colorado University, nor Utah university, the only two teams that stand in the way of the championship goal.

The Utah Aggies have only three conference games on their schedule and if they win these only Denver university can question their right to the Rocky Mountain title. And at that the Ministers must win from both the Mines and Colorado college to tie the Logan eleven.

On the assumption that Denver university and the Utah Aggies will go through the season undefeated, feelers were sent out from Logan today with a view to staging a post-season game for the purpose of settling the question of superiority in the Rocky Mountain region. Although no official statement could be obtained the local institution appeared to be in a receptive mood and such a game does not seem at all improbable.

The biggest obstacle in the way of the proposed post-season conflict is the question of deciding where it should be staged. Utah naturally favors Salt Lake City while the Ministers contend that Denver, with her greater population and the natural center of the Rocky Mountain region, is the logical battlefield.

C. H. Wingender, manager of athletic activities at Denver university, is in Tulsa, Okla., completing arrangements for the Ministers' game with Kendal college there next Saturday. As a result no definite statement can be had concerning Denver University's attitude in relation to a play off with the Mormons. However, when it was suggested last week that a tie seemed inevitable in the Rocky Mountain conference this year, Manager Wingender declared that if Denver was one of the principals she would be willing to participate in a post-season struggle.

This is the first time that the Utah Aggies have ever figured materially in the Rocky Mountain conference football race and incidentally it is the first year that they have had Class A rating in the college organization. For several years they have been in the Class B division along with Wyoming and New Mexico universities. Heretofore they were regarded as only good practice material for the larger colleges in the conference.

The team which beat the Colorado Aggies yesterday is said to have speed, weight and experience, three vital requisites for a winning combination. The backfield made up of Peterson, Stelfel, Hansen and Conkwright, is said to be one of the fastest ever seen in the Rocky Mountain region. In the line Mohr and Twitchell, tackles are touted as exceptionally brilliant.

Inasmuch as the Utah eleven has not been seen in Denver and is not scheduled to appear during the regular season, a post-season contest here would undoubtedly draw big. It would be a boon to the athletic treasures of the two colleges in addition to promoting the good of football.

Germans penetrated almost to the forts of Paris. What prisoners she took were compelled to work in German munition factories.

Due credit must be given the German soldier. He is brave and well-trained but he is not thoroughly converted to the war. In many instances Germans voluntarily surrender in order to free themselves of war. One such case of many, took place at Verdun. An attacking party of one hundred Germans, rather than return to their lines, concealed themselves in the craters of a shell torn field and gladly gave themselves up to the French. When the war began the soldier's weapons consisted of the rifle but now is made up of grenades, auto rifles, machine gun and other modern devices. The first grenades were made of tin cans filled with explosives. These have been perfected and there are now three distinct kinds viz: explosive, incendiary and asphyxiating. Gas is extensively used in the present war. The French obtained knowledge of its intended use by the Germans in advance of its actual appearance on the battlefield through German prisoners. The French made a gas attack on the Germans and its effects were felt for thirty kilometers in the rear of the German lines. At another time the French launched a gas attack which came near proving disastrous to the French because of a reverse in the direction of the wind.

"One evening my Supply Sergeant and myself were sleeping in a dugout near the enemy trenches. We were awakened by dirt falling in our faces and a slight noise outside. We felt sure it was the Germans. We took our revolvers and went out to investigate, expecting every moment to be fired on. We discovered the annoying individual to be nothing more than a big white cat belonging to a neighboring dugout.

"French conditions now are much better than at the beginning of the war. In some places it is quite comfortable. The offensive trenches however are not very desirable—they are merely temporary trenches and very shallow and provided with no comforts."

"France has withstood the bluntness of the fight and are in need of help. French soldiers were overjoyed when U. S. broke with Germany. We feel that the U. S. soldier will be the best on the battlefield, similar to the Canadians many of whom were Americans. He has the "sang froid" (cold blooded) of the English joined with the "elan" (dash) of the French. The condition of Italy and Russia has prolonged the war but the result will be the same and that is Victory for the Allies."

The assembly then sang "The Marseillaise" which Captain Bloch much appreciated.

Refreshments were then served. Captain Bloch shook hands with all present.

It was through the efforts of Prof. Arnold that this pleasant evening was made possible. All those present certainly appreciated it.

NEW DE LAVAL
Cream Separator

NINE people out of ten turn the separator handle too slowly. Thousands of tests with experienced separator operators show this to be the case.

Other tests made by the highest authorities have shown conclusively that there is a big cream loss when the cream separator is not turned fast enough.

Such cream losses are avoided with the New De Laval. The Bell Speed Indicator on the New De Laval is a "warning signal" that insures proper speed at all times. No matter who runs the De Laval, this "warning signal" tells when the speed is not right. You hear it, and do not need to see it. This one feature alone may easily save the cost of a cream separator in a few months.

But that is only one of the big advantages of the New De Laval.

Other advantages are greater capacity, closer skimming and easier turning, simpler bowl construction and easier washing.

All discs are now interchangeable and are unnumbered. There are fewer discs. On account of greater simplicity of bowl construction, the New De Laval is easier to wash and, capacity considered, is still easier to run than before. High grade construction and design, together with perfect automatic lubrication, are a guarantee of durability and satisfactory service.
