The Final Word On The Excursion

IF THERE IS ANYTHING YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT THE EXCURSION, READ THIS

Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the excursion train will leave the O. S. L. Station. Every student should deem it his patriotic duty to go to Salt Lake on this train. Mr. Morton of the O. S. L. estimates that there will be five hundred football fans from Logan and Cache valley who will go on this excursion. There will be on this train two bands, our cheer masters and song leader. There will be music, songs, and cheers from Logan to Zion.

It is estimated that this will be the largest excursion ever recorded in the annals of football history in the state of Utah. It will be holding to the facts to say that on Thursday, Nov. 29, the U. A. C. Student Body, Logan city and Cache valley will migrate to Salt Lake city.

Every student should be wearing the White and Blue. Don't forget your pennants.

The fare will be $2.50, returning not later than Friday night. A rate of $4.05 beginning today and continuing until Monday may be had on both the O. L. & I. and the O. S. L.

The train arrives at Salt Lake at 11 a. m. All the fans from Cache valley and the students will form a parade, led by the Board of Trustees, President of the College, Mayor of Logan, President of the Commercial Club, and other dignitaries. Banners will be carried and some unique stunts pulled off. This parade will march from the station to Main street, then down Main to Second South; counter march to the Hotel Utah where the team will be staying.

The game is to be called at two o'clock sharp. Every supporter of the White and Blue should be on the field at 1:30.

Remember Aggies that we are playing the University of Utah.

Army Commissions For A. C. Men

SIX FORMER MEMBERS OF CADET BATTALION ARE HONORED

The list of successful candidates for U. S. army commissions just published for the second training camp contains the names of six former U. A. C. cadets. As in the case of the first camp the A. C. boys were uniformly successful in obtaining their commissions at the second camp.

The successful A. C. boys are:
First Lieutenant (Infantry) Thura M. Aldous.
Second Lieutenants (Infantry): Jack Major, Hugh Peterson, Dresden Cragun, J. Kenneth Cannon.
Second Lieutenant (non-flying section Signal Corps), Glen S. Vorhees.

Hugh Peterson, Thura Aldous and Glen Vorhees will be remembered as three of the best athletes who ever fought for the Blue and White, while Kenneth Cannon's and Jack Majors' names are both recorded in the local hall of fame as debaters and actors. Dresden Cragun was a stellar soldier of the U. A. C. Battalion.

Faculty Members Return From Washington

REPORT MUCH INSPIRATION AND MANY IDEAS BROUGHT BACK

President Peterson, Dr. Harris and Dr. Hill, who went to Washington in the interest of the U. A. C., have returned.

President Peterson delivered three lectures before the international conference of agricultural workers at Denver.

He also attended the government agricultural meeting at Washington D. C. Here was emphasized the necessity of food conservation and that all must adopt more rigid means of habit and self denial in order to win the war. On the agricultural colleges depends the work of food campaigns. To this end the U. A. C. will cooperate with the Hon. W. W. Armstrong of Salt Lake who is Mr. Hoover's representative in this state.

President Peterson applied to the war department for additional assistance to help in the military work at this College.

Extension division work and needed assistance from the government in this line were discussed.

Dr. Harris visited and investigated Experiment station work in North Dakota, Wisconsin, Ohio, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, and Texas. He attended the convention at Washington of Experiment Station workers and Presidents of Agricultural colleges. How to cooperate and organize to meet the needs occasioned by the present war and the need of rigid economy in foods and materials were among the principal topics of discussion.

Already Passed On For Graduation

At a meeting of the council of the College held recently, the following students were passed on for graduation in June, 1918, upon completion of their present schedule: Commerce; Jesse Roylance, Springville; Home Economics; Vile B. Kerr, Wellsville; Rachel Dunford, Salt Lake City.

Thanksgiving In 1917

It is more blessed to give thanks than to receive thanks. Thanking is its own reward, because it carries with it the joy of giving. In this good year of our Lord nineteen hundred and seventeen the "Zeltzeist" is giving. Give here, give there, give everywhere. Give Treasure, give Service, give Life—and give Thanks. Give to the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. Give to the poor. Give to the Army. Give to God. Give till you turn pain into pleasure. Give Thanks. Sing Praises. Worship. Humble hearts are striving. Physical hosts contend. Right struggles with wrong, truth with error. Civilization trembles. Justice veers. Faith leads and sustains. Hope beckons. Give Treasure; give Service; give Life; give Thanks.

Save For The War

Mr. Geo. R. Hill, Jr., reports a very earnest appeal, that was made by Dr. F. N. Carver, the noted economist of Harvard University, that people refrain from spending money for things they could get along without; that to spend money for things other than the necessities for health, efficiency, or production was bidding against the government of the United States for men; that such expenditures were bidding against the farmer for men to the extent that men were necessary to make these purchases possible, that such expenditures were in effect treason. Since the war must be paid for from the savings of the people, every cent possible should be saved and loaned to the government in the form of liberty bonds, etc.

Mr. Hill also reports that the food situation is particularly acute; that our European allies were reported by the Food Administration to be almost in a starving condition and that to win the war America simply must cut down her use of exportable foods such as wheat, sugar, beef and pork, and make greater use of potatoes, beans, milk, fish and poultry products.

Football Rally In Chapel

CHAPEL HOUR TURNED INTO RIOTOUS "PEP" FEAST

The chapel hour on Tuesday was used by the student body for a football rally, and a very successful rally it was. Mostly the rallying of football men to the stand. Some were found on top of the building writing letters home to the folks, while still others were caught gliding along gently at full speed toward town.

The Theta girls sang "Where Does the Ball Go Now, Boys!" after which Mutt and Jeff paid us an informal call. They entered by the back door, and proceeded to the stand talking all the while in loud tones about war being declared in Europe. Meeks was busy talking, but Mutt couldn't be delayed so he politely took charge and asked Mr. Meeks to sit down. After settling a few minor difficulties about club affairs in school, they decided to go consult the Ag. Club as to the selling price of last spring's chickens.

President Peterson appealed to the students to support the Thanksgiving excursion. He also asked that they act the part of true A. C. sportsmen regardless of the result of the game.

Dr. West warned the students and members of the team against overconfidence. He said we had lost games with the U in the past simply because we were over-confident, and (Continued on Page Four)

Music Students' First Recital

Last Friday afternoon the Music students of the U. A. C. gave a very creditable concert, demonstrating that a great deal of interest and enthusiasm prevails in the music department. At no time during the hour of the concert did the interest wane, or the audience become conscious that they were listening to amateurs rather than professionals.

The contralto solo, "Good Bye Sweet Day," by Miss Lola Leonard and the piano duet, "Poet and Peas" (Continued on Page Four)

Aggies Determined To Break That Tradition

THE TEAM AND STUDENT BODY
TENSE WITH "PEP"

If the Aggie squad can only keep the spirit at the high pitch at which it now reigns, and if the University can acquire some of the "pep" and enthusiasm prevailing in abundance at a recent dinner accorded the members of the football squad, the Salt Lake public will experience one of the niftiest little struggles of their career at Cummings field on Thanksgiving day.

Both teams are determined to attain the goal dearest to their hearts. The Aggies are determined to trim their old rivals on their own field and thereby break that tradition which has become so prominent of late. They will also have to do this in order to be considered on even terms with Denver for the championship of the Conference. The Crimsontones are determined to defeat the Blue and White warriors, and if they do so, it will be considered a successful season for the State Institution.

In the first place, while comparing both teams, it may be well to begin with the Coaches. Coach Jack Watson of the Aggies is an old Illinois University star, an All-Western center, and a great big-hearted fellow. Coach Norgren made his great reputation at Chicago, where he won letters in all branches of athletics, and was also a member of the All-Western eleven. The former coach, however, seems to mix with his fellow-players better, and for this simple reason seems to get the work out of them with better results. He has developed a line this year, second to none in the Conference, and we think that we are not overestimating the ability of the line when we say that they have the edge on their rivals from the Salt Lake school. Our tackles, Mohr and Twitchell, have been touted by (Continued on Page Four)

Post-Season Game Probable

RED CROSS TO RECEIVE PROFITS
IF GREAT STRUGGLE
MATURES

With Thanksgiving day just a matter of a few hours away, the football situation in the Rocky Mountain Conference has resolved itself practically into a tie for supreme honors with the Utah Aggies and the Denver Ministers fighting it out for the coveted laurels. The Aggie squad is very desirous of playing this game, as they are under the impression that they have the edge on their rivals from Denver. For many reasons this game should be arranged. In any kind of competition, if it is possible to decide the logical winner, all competitors deserve an equal chance, and since two teams are now tied for the Conference Championship, one or the other should be entitled to claim the undisputed title, and in only one way can this be decided: By a post-season game. Secondly, there is a more important reason why this game should be scheduled. If the proceeds are given to the Red Cross, it would mean donation of several (Continued on Page 2)

DO YOU NOTICE IT?

One of the blessing a football team is to a college will be lost if the season closes with out the students coming to a conscious admiration of the grit shown in the game. This do or die battling expression of a football man should become a permanent picture on our brains, so that when we are tempted to let up on our oars and drift in school, it will glare down on us and shame us into action. He who sees a football player step out bravely on a sprained ankle and throw himself into the knees of an opponent, without hoping that he too would have the same courage if put to the test, is missing the best part of the game. The example of the football players should dissolve the least trace of a yellow streak in a student like hot water eats up salt.

BATTALION ATTENTIO — — — N

Humor has its place but it is surely out of place on the drill parade grounds during the present national emergency. The cadet who laughs at his mistakes while his brothers are dying in France shows about the same sense of humor as Nero did when he fiddled while Rome was burning.

The majority of men taking drill (and the majority take it) go at it with a serious look on their faces, realizing that it may only be a matter of months until the government will call on them to use their training in protecting American honor. Those few who do not belong to this class should be made to feel that they must not slow up the battalion by their slouchy indifference.

POST SEASON GAME PROBABLE

thousand dollars. Such a game would draw a record crowd either in Salt Lake or Denver, the two competing towns for the game. Several critics have versed their opinion of such a post-season game. They are: Clem Crowley, Denver Football Critic: "The best way out of the difficulty would be to have a post-season game between the Utah Aggies and the University of Denver, to take place either in Salt Lake or in Denver, the proceeds derived from such a game to be given to the Red Cross, or some other charitable object connected with the war. A game between the Utah Aggies and Denver University would be a great affair, as Denver also has a powerful offense, and the winning team would be determined by the eleven which would grasp the breaks of the game and take advantage of them."

Lorry A. Jacobs, Colorado Critic:

"Speaking of the question of the Aggie-Denver U post-season game. It is always as hard as pulling proverbial eye teeth to get faculties to consider post season games. But in this case the facts are somewhat different than those usually presented for consideration. In the first place the football teams have done very little toward the war aside from the war tax which was placed on admissions by the government. It is true that the cream of the college athletes went to serve under the colors, but that fact has nothing to do with those who remained. That the Red Cross would receive a great boost from the money taken from such a game is an undoubted fact, and that the authorities at both schools should take the matter up and consider and ponder over it before they decide not to play the game. Every sport in the land has done its bit toward the Red Cross this year. Why not football?"

That the people of Denver would attend in generous numbers is not to be questioned. They would witness one of the greatest grid games in the history of the state, and in addition, would do their bit towards the "worthiest cause." It sounds reasonable and it is reasonable.

Tommy Fitzpatrick, Salt Lake critic: "Denver University is still keeping away from the business end of the football game with the Utah Aggies. The Ministers believe that the University of Utah will spoil the chances of the Utah Aggie boys to the Conference title. This is just what the Aggies have been waiting for and they are out to do Utah the worst they can."

Let's get that Post Season game.

THE HOOD

BARBECUE—YES OR NO

In the good old days of this institution, on great occasions and times of special celebrations there was one event which marked the climax—the Barbecue. It has been quite a long time since we had sufficient cause for such a demonstration of old Aggie spirit.

Have we such cause now?

Shall we make it a barbecue?

Shall we have it when we return after the game?

WOULD IT SURPRISE YOU

TO KNOW—

That every loyal Aggie will be at the game?

That some people think the Aggies will be defeated?

That U can't do it?

That we will have a barbecue to celebrate the victory.

That if beef is too high we will use the Holstein bull.

NEW CLUB PEEPS FROM UNDER THE COVER

For a long time the Art students have agitated the possibilities of organizing themselves into a club. Several times they have put their head above the water but this time it has bobbed up to stay.

The aim of such an organization is to develop further, the aesthetic tastes of the students, to maintain high standards of beauty, to encourage art production, and establish complete harmony between the students and the department.

The various phases of the club will be the production of art, sketching parties, art exhibits and the study of art including lectures and discussions.

Plans are now being completed and the members are taking steps to complete an effective organization.

Saturday they held their initial party in the studio which was turned into a real art salon with statues, drapery, palms and mirrors, and the elements peculiar to the art studio, were further emphasized by such games as modelling and illustrating nursery rhymes, etc.

A very unique basket luncheon was served, followed by dancing.

Apparently two members of the football squad are so socially inclined that they find it impossible to attend a banquet given in honor of the squad.

December fourth the Home Economics club will take charge of the chapel exercises, it being the birthday of Mrs. Ellen Richards—founder of Home Economics.

The Home Economics club members are completing a great many articles in knitting and sewing. Wednesday in club meeting Miss Wyatt will demonstrate the making of bandages. This line of work will be taken up immediately.

YOUR ANTAGONIST IN SPORTS— AND IN WAR

The successful athlete must be a pretty keen student. The tackle who always plunges ahead in the same way, the forward who always runs to the same corner, the pitcher who always tries his fast one in a pinch, doesn't last long. The athlete learns to watch his antagonist, to study him, to endeavor to surprise him, to be constantly on guard for fresh stratagems.

These are exactly the qualities which raise a soldier above the average. The man who has developed these traits on the athletic field will not be tricked by his opponent on the field of battle. He will meet new situations with confidence, will be resourceful, will think on his feet.

Because he has had to study hard to grasp the principles of athletic success he is ready the more quickly to grasp the things which are placed before him in the military training camp. He does not have to be told things twice, and learns with astonishing rapidity. He has learned to understand instructions and to make mind and body act together. His athletic training has come close to making of him a trained man in the military sense.—From the October American Boy.

many Colorado critics as the best pair of tackles seen in action in the Conference for many years. They are both slated for All-Conference positions.

The backfield, consisting of Peterson, Hanson, Conkwright and Stiefel for a quartette of backs, who have been successful in skirting the ends of their opponents in every game of the season, and their line plunging ability was demonstrated against Boulder, who were supposed to have the strongest line in the Conference. The Aggie backfield gained three-fourths of their ground against the Boulderites through their line, and took their opponents and fans off their guard. Goodwin in Utah's backfield is the only man who can compare favorably with this set of backs from the Aggie dugout, and no faster backfield has ever been whipped together in this state.

From a comparative standpoint, it looks as though the Aggies have the edge on their opponents, but this does not always count in a game such as the Thanksgiving contest will be. The team showing the greatest amount of fight will be the winner. COME ON, AGGIES, LET'S TEACH THEM THE MEANING OF FIGHT!

SAVE FOR THE WAR

Food Administration, Mr. Lou D. Sweet, Mr. Hill brings the report that potato growers of America and particularly of the West, situated so far from market, should turn their attention to the manufacture of the potato into products such as potato flour, starch, dehydrated potatoes, etc.; that Germany had some hundreds of such plants before the war, has doubled the number during the war; that small potatoes, knobby potatoes, frost-nipped potatoes and bruised potatoes, all should be utilized in this manner.

Mr. Hill stopped off at Madison to attend the Wisconsin State Potato association exhibit and meetings. He reports a wonderful exhibit of potatoes, potato by-products, and demonstration of disease control, methods and of preparing potatoes for food.

LINDQUIST FEEDS ROCKY MOUNTAIN CHAMPIONS

Last Friday evening after a strenuous practice, the Aggie football squad modestly assembled in the Lindquist home to partake of a royal "feed." Mr. Lindquist has had this "under his hat" for some time—in fact, since last year, and considered the lull prior to the Thanksgiving battle as a good time to "spring it."

About the beautifully decorated table were assembled about thirty fellows. At one end was a miniature goal post wrapped in blue and white, while similarly at the other end was one of red and white. In the center of the table sat the familiar old "pig-skin" from which sprang a fragrant bouquet of roses and ferns. This was accompanied by the official score board giving the score by quarters as follows:

U. of U.....0	0	0	0
A. C. U.....25	50	75

The banquet itself was one of those unmatchable demonstrations of cooking such as are only found at home, and will long be remembered by those present. A little jollification afterward sent the boys home early in fine spirits and with genuine appreciation to their host.

This was the third banquet for the squad so far this year, and each was a splendid demonstration of the Logan spirit and its loyal citizens who are backing the team.

If a hearty welcome and good nourishment is a factor in producing a winning team, then Mr. Lindquist has done his part in getting Utah's "goat."

FOOTBALL RALLY IN CHAPEL

If we win this game we have got to fight not only on the field but on the side-line too.

The Thetas again sang "Where Does the Ball Go Now Boys?" while the football men were being directed toward the stand. It seems that the girls have quite a pull with the members of the team, because nearly all of them insisted on being escorted to the stand by a lady.

The squad showed wonderful ability in an oratorical way. Each man was allowed one-half minute, and some of them actually extended their remarks over time. Captain Twitchell, Stiefel, Gardner, Mohr, Swede, Stubby and Manager Rowe gave star talks, having had adequate time to make preparation.

NEW DE LAVAL
Cream Separator

NINE people out of ten turn the separator handle too slowly. Thousands of tests with experienced separator operators show this to be the case.

Other tests made by the highest authorities have shown conclusively that there is a big cream loss when the cream separator is not turned fast enough.

Such cream losses are avoided with the New De Laval. The Bell Speed Indicator on the New De Laval is a "warning signal" that insures proper speed at all times. No matter who runs the De Laval, this "warning signal" tells when the speed is not right. You hear it, and do not need to see it. This one feature alone may easily save the cost of a cream separator in a few months.

But that is only one of the big advantages of the New De Laval.

Other advantages are greater capacity, closer skimming and easier turning, simpler bowl construction and easier washing.

All discs are now interchangeable and are unnumbered. There are fewer discs. On account of greater simplicity of bowl construction, the New De Laval is easier to wash and, capacity considered, is still easier to run than before. High grade construction and design, together with perfect automatic lubrication, are a guarantee of durability and satisfactory service.
