MISS BABCOCK GIVES IMPRESSIONS

TELLS OF RECENT NEW YORK TRIP

An interesting conclusion to the visit of the players from the University after their performance of "We Are Seven," at Nibley Hall Monday evening was their appearance at school the following day and Miss Babcock's talk in chapel.

As a lover of dramatics Miss Babcock is widely known. Her ability and constant study of actors and the drama, combined with the recent association with good plays and players in New York City made her talk doubly interesting.

By request Miss Babcock spoke of the impressions she had received during her recent New York visit. Interesting details of the "Washington Square people" and their work, and of individual actors such as Charles Frohman and Bothe, and John Drew were given.

The consummation of art in the amateur's or small theater player's sphere, is reached in the less technical plays—so thinks Miss Babcock. The purpose of the amateur is to interest and entertain, not to instruct. It is sufficient if the play be a wholesome and pleasing diversion. She assumes the more difficult ones that aim to instruct to be problems of professionals.

In conclusion Miss Babcock spoke of Maurice Brown and Madam Hammer who are to appear at Logan next week in Ibsen's plays. Her personal knowledge of the genius of these two players is sufficient assurance to A. C. students that these players will be unusually good. Her definitions of good acting and good plays will assist us to appreciate them.

CLASSIC BALL ROLLS AROUND

ANNUAL MILITARY BALL COMES ON 9th

Our next big social event is the Military Ball. In point of dignity and attendance the Military Ball is the acknowledged leader of all our social functions at the College. The Military Ball is notable in its dignity because of the fact that the Governor and other high state officials usually attend. The attendance is always large because, besides the large number of students and townspeople in attendance, there are always numerous out of town people, notably the Ogden and Salt Lake High School cadets.

One distinctive feature of the Military Ball is the appearance of the cadets in their military suits. It is a welcome change to see the

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS LIVE UP TO PAST REPUTATION

The University play, always looked forward to with pleasure, by townspeople and students alike, put in its annual appearance at Nibley Hall Wednesday evening. The players fully lived up to the excellent reputation established by previous University players.

The implement chosen to display the talents of the players this year is Eleanor Gates' farce comedy, "We Are Seven," a play involving the treatment of a subject which might, under less skillful management, be indelicate. However, so clever are the lines that nothing of the sort is even hinted at.

The success of the University play seems to answer the question whether plays by college amateurs should be light, wholesome ones to please an audience, or heavy ones to instruct the audience.

As to the acting and staging of the play, we can give general praise for the snap and vim with which it went off, but coming to the critical side of it we may appear less kind.

Miss Burrows in the leading part captivated the audience by her personal charm. However her interpretation of the part had in it an element of burlesque, she seemed to be not sincere in her character. Her youth also was quite apparent and she at times was theatrical.

Miss Cornwall as the spinster aunt was hardly spinster enough. She did not live up to her reputation established in "The Rainbow" last year.

Miss Brinton as Doctor Fannie Grant lacked the elements of masculinity usually found in the woman who talks of equal rights and takes up many professions.

Of the male characters and in fact the whole cast, Mr. Bolln as Colonel Avery the long-put-off bachelor, was best. He suggested the older man very well.

Mr. Lockhead in the part of Peter Avery, the lead, was aided in getting the part over by a pleasing personality but was handicapped by what we college students call a "lack of pep." He hardly suggested the dashing and mischievous young devil so full of practical jokes that he was a menace. In justice to him, however, let it be said that he took the part on three days' notice.

Our critical sense (so well developed in all college students) fails to distinguish anything wrong enough with the remaining actors to speak of. They were all good.

There'll be a dance after the game so be there.

We beat them once. We'll do it again.

THE IBSEN PLAYS COME NEXT WEEK

NOTED NORWEGIAN ACTRESS PRESENTS "HEDDA GABLER" AND "THE MASTER BUILDER"

The biggest moment of the dramatic year comes to us next Monday and Tuesday. We shall then have an opportunity to see two of the best of Ibsen's plays given by an excellent company. On Monday night "Hedda Gabler" will be given, and on Tuesday "The Master Builder."

The leading actress will be Madame Hammer of the National Theatre of Norway, and with her come several members of the Chicago Little Theatre company, most noteworthy of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Browne. This is a Lyceum number equal in importance to the concert by the Minneapolis symphony orchestra and as the company comes to Logan after playing in Salt Lake, it will not give us any tedious hours of waiting. This is a chance to show what Mrs. Fiske says is true "that the fine thing well done always does pay."

We shall have to see the world's greatest plays admirably acted and it is for us to show that we appreciate a fine thing. Besides the joy of the mind that we shall all have in watching the work of good actors we shall be glad to note in that distinguished company a former A. C. student, Miss Mae Edwards, who although as yet playing only a small part, will not do the least meritorious work. It is a pleasure to see an A. C. girl get a big chance and use it.

Lecture Course By Home Ec. School

At the request of the federal food administration and in order to help still further the conservation program now under way, the School of Home Economics of the College has arranged to give an extensive series of war time food courses at the institution. These courses will consist of eight lectures, beginning Tuesday, February 28 and running every Tuesday and Thursday thereafter until March 21. The subjects to be discussed, with the dates, are as follows:

Variety in Food, February 26; Value of Cereals, Feb. 28; Store Room Supplies, March 5; Meats and Meat Substitutes, March 7; Stretching the Wheat, March 12; Fats in the Home, March 14; Sweets in War Time, March 18; Pressure Cooker Savings, March 31.

The lectures, which are free, will be delivered at two o'clock in the afternoon in the Women's building.

SONS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION ORATORICAL CONTEST

The preliminary contest for the Sons of the American Revolution medal will be held in Room 280 Monday at 3 o'clock.

ARE WE GOIN' TO KEEP UTAH'S GOAT? H----L YES!

SECOND GAME BETWEEN OUR RIVALS SATURDAY—GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED

The recent victory of the B. Y. U. over the U. of U. may cause many Aggie backers to think lightly of the game next Saturday between the local quintet and Tommy Fitzpatrick's warriors. On the other hand, however, if these same enthusiasts just stop and think about the significance of this victory they will see, very readily, where the fight on Saturday will be much harder than was previously expected.

The University, still tasting their recent defeat, will be determined to defeat the Aggies and if they succeed will proclaim this a successful basketball season. That there is great spirit is shown by the placards advertising the B. Y. U.-U. of U. game. They contained short snappy statements like the following: "Come and see the Great Team that the Utah Aggies refused to play." NOW, STUDENTS, WE WANT EVERYONE OF YOU AT THE GAME SATURDAY TO SEE THE TEAM THAT WAS TRIMMED BY

THAT GREAT AGGREGATION FROM PROVO AND WHOSE GOAT THE AGGIES HAVE GOT AND ARE GOING TO KEEP. Are you going to help keep it? Then make yourself heard at the game Saturday night, and bring all your neighbors!

In the recent battle between these two old rivals, the Aggies returned victorious, after outplaying their rivals two to one during the second half. That was a noble victory, but we want to make the next one a victory that will remain long in the hearts of the Aggies and longer in the mouths of the U. people. Our squad is not in the best of condition, but we are sure that fight will not be lacking. To make up for their lack of condition, the fellows will need some spirit, coming externally from the student body. It's your one big chance, students, to vindicate yourselves for the way the Salt Lake public have made you the target for their "WITTY" remarks.

TO ENTERTAIN HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES

COMMITTEE WORKING OUT FEATURES FOR EVENT

The Aggies are preparing to show the High School athletes who will represent their respective schools in the High School Basketball Tournament in Logan on March 6, 7, and 8. Just how the Aggies do it. Preparations are now under way for some high class entertainment. Committees, composed of students from the four towns that will be represented by the four teams, will be appointed by the Reception committee. It will be their duty to see that their friends are shown some real lively times during the three or four days of their stay in Logan. There will be a large banquet for the athletes Saturday, March 9, and later in the evening the Military Ball will cap the climax, and very fitly close the big tournament. If possible, plans will be made whereby the fraternities will have open house for a couple of hours of each afternoon that the fellows are in town, and thereby give the athletes an idea of the club life at the A. C.

Efforts are being made to secure the football awards, sweaters and fobs, which, if they arrive by this date, will be awarded to the fellows at Student Body meeting on Thursday. This will afford the visitors a chance to see how the athletes are treated in the institution.

It is up to the students to see that

BIGGEST SUCCESS OF SEASON

The Junior Prom passed into history as one of the grandest social events ever given at the college. Everything that pertained to it was eminently fitted to be a part of the best Junior Prom. ever given at the College. The Prom. Committee had worked hard and long to make it a success and that it stood the test is fully attested by the comments freely given by those who attended.

The decorations were probably the most attractive ever seen at the Smart Gymnasium. The hall decorated throughout in a Japanese scheme was a vision to behold. A latticed ceiling of strips of pastel paper hung low over the heads of the dancers and added to the cosiness and seclusion of the place. Purple latticed arches harmonizing with the ceiling extended around the hall. Numerous flowers and cosy corners filled up the otherwise bare spaces of the hall. The lights in the ceiling extended below the lattice and were covered with flower covered shades. The Junior booth was a quaint little Japanese tea garden where iced tea was served. The faculty booth designed by Professor Powell was a charming home-like fire place and drew many students to bask in its ruddy glow. The Senior booth was cleverly arranged in the Japanese scheme. The Sophomores had a charming rustic booth. The Freshman booth was composed of

STAY IN SCHOOL

Next week will see the end of the Winter term. With its termination many students will be tempted and many will, leave school, for the rest of the year. No doubt, with some of them it will be particularly imperative that they do go. With others however there may be a temptation to leave school for no particular reason except that some one else is going. Students will do well to consider seriously their actions before leaving school. Those who are going into military service may think that little good can come of further attendance this year inasmuch as no credit will be received if they quit in the middle of next term. Credit should be disregarded and the concrete good thought of. Some students may be tempted to leave to go directly into service. This move may also be unwise. An instance of an A. C. man who enlisted about six months ago lying idle up to the present time comes to mind. The government has more men than it can handle at present so students can very profitably prepare themselves by remaining in school and go forth to service as our last twenty-three did.

THE DANCE

At periodical times there sweeps over nearly everyone a little shame—perhaps for his actions or perhaps for something he has seen. It is not the purpose of Student Life to essay the role of a reformer. It is a thankless and almost hopeless task. However a casual observance here on our dancing might not be inappropriate. At our dances we see much individually displayed—individually not only in step but also in the manner of holding. No doubt many of the holds may be very pleasing and may not lead to anything more serious than an observation by faculty members that it is a very improper hold, but the fact remains that it is distinctive. Distinction is good, but when it manifests itself as it does with some of us in the dance it ceases to be.

FACULTY COMES TO LIFE

There must be a spirit of rejuvenation in our midst these days. The faculty has decided to attend the basketball games in a body. Therefore if we are blinded by the brilliancy of this learned body Saturday night take it as a blessing in disguise and treat it accordingly.

This move on the part of the faculty is a good sign. It proves the progressiveness of our able corps of educators. It shows that they appreciate the wonderful prowess of our teams and that they appreciate our athletics.

As stated above, the faculty will attend the games in a body, they will have a block of seats reserved for them, and what is more they will have their own cheer leader. Let us hope that their cheering will inspire us and lead us on to greater efforts in this line ourselves. We sadly need an awakening in the cheering line and let us hope that the faculty will arouse us.

WILL WE CHEER THIS TIME?

"The cheering was ragged." This was the statement made by the Salt Lake papers the morning after Coach Roberts got U's goat. It's a good lesson and there's a chance for us to profit by it. Surprises like that one have been sprung on teams before and will yet make overconfident teams and students feel like a spent dime. Fitzpatrick is coming to Logan Saturday with a team that has learned its failing. About 200 students will accompany them and they might put us in the limelight. Shall we stand around on one foot like we have in the past games, let some one else have the satisfaction of a tip to Colorado, or shall we show a little "High School" spirit and win. Let's answer the question by a re-awakening next Saturday night.

SOLDIERS TO ASSIST WITH FARM WORK

President Peterson received the following letter from Senator King of the United States Senate:

"The President and the War Department are favorable to some plan by which those in military service of the government, but who are in this country, may be made available for farm service during limited periods in each year. The details have not yet been worked out, but unquestionably some regulation will be provided, or some law enacted that will relieve the situation considerably and enable very many of the soldiers in the various camps in this country, to be furloughed in order to aid in planting spring crops and in harvesting the crops in the fall. I am in favor of some relief along lines indicated. There is now pending in the Senate a bill which if enacted into law, will bring about this result."

In substance, the bill now pending provides "That wherever in the opinion of the Secretary of War the interests of the service or the national security and defense render it necessary to grant furloughs to enlisted men of the army of the United States with or without pay and allowances or with partial pay and allowances, and for such periods as he may designate, to permit said enlisted men to engage in civil occupations and pursuits."

majority of the men at a ball in military instead of dress suits. Another distinctive feature of the Military Ball is the exhibition drill of the U. A. C. cadets.

Of course the decorations are in the national colors and they are always beautiful and unique. In all probability the college band will furnish the music so that we are assured of good music.

The Military Ball is purely invitational. All students in military suits will be admitted without their invitations, others will have to show their invitations at the door. Each cadet is allowed to send two invitations to his parents, friends, or whom so ever he may desire. Before sending invitations, however, students are urged to remind their prospective guests that invitations must be presented. It is desired also that there be no duplication of invitations.

Remember the date, March 9, 1918, and the place, Smart gymnasium.

HANSEN WRITES BULLETIN ON LANDSCAPE GARDENING

A most timely booklet of instructions on the beautifying of home grounds has just been issued by the Extension Division of the College. The bulletin, written by Mr. Emil Hansen, one time floriculturist for the royal family of Denmark, now floriculturist and landscape gardener at the College, explains fully not only the proper planning of home grounds, but also what plants and trees should be used to produce certain effects. Complete lists of shrubs, ornamental trees and plants adapted to Utah are given, with proper methods of planting and care. Remedies for the common plant diseases are also set forth.

Following the section of the bulletin given to the beautifying of home grounds is a section given to the construction and use of hotbeds and coldframes. One of the most useful sections in the booklet is that devoted to house plants, in which their selection, propagation and care are clearly set forth. House plant diseases are fully treated.

The bulletin is well illustrated with plans for home grounds and with pictures of shrubs, trees, and plants described. It is for free distribution.

ATTENTION SENIORS

The committee on graduation desires to call the attention of all students and especially those who expect to graduate with the class of 1918 to the following:

The Utah Agricultural College has been designated by law as an Infantry Unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. As such it has promised the Government to give certain military instruction of a definite kind and character.

Every physically fit male student who registers at the College becomes automatically a member of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and subscribes to the military requirements of the institution.

In order to remain and receive instruction at the College or to graduate from the College the student must attend all military classes and do satisfactory work in them.

The military requirements of the College are as follows:—FIVE HOURS PER WEEK OF MILITARY INSTRUCTION DURING EACH YEAR OF THE REGULAR FOUR YEAR COLLEGE COURSE OR DURING SUCH LESSER TIME AS THE STUDENT MAY BE IN ATTENDANCE AT THE COLLEGE.

No School Director may present to the Committee on Graduation the name of any student who has incomplete or deficient grades in any of the subjects that he wishes to use for graduation. NO CANDIDATE FOR GRADUATION WITH THE CLASS OF 1918 WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER MAY FIRST.

Students who expect to finish their work during the summer may be presented to the committee after May first, and will be graduated with THE CLASS OF 1919.

streamers and Japanese lanterns cleverly arranged to harmonize with the other Japanese effects.

The music, according to some, was the best ever heard in Logan. It certainly was the best that we have had at the College this year. The orchestra was gathered from the best real artists of the town and valley. The pieces were modern and up-to-date and indeed anyone who could not have danced to them must have been physically incapacitated.

The crowd was all that could have been expected. The students themselves turned out in force. Some of the faculty not often seen at student functions were there and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Many of the best people of the town also seldom seen at college festivities were there.

Taken all in all the Junior Prom. was a huge success and deserves to go down in history as one of the really big things of the college year.

WARD TO BE MANAGER OF STUDENT LIFE

The spring term will see the third business manager of the year assume the duties of managing the paper. George B. Cook, who was appointed manager to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of the manager elected last year to return to school, enlisted in the aviation service. Stephen Deal, who was named manager in Cook's place, will leave school at the end of this term to engage in pastoral and matrimonial pursuits. Now George Ward will take on the burden. Ward is a Junior and K. K. K. man and no doubt will adequately fill the requirements of the position.

DROP "PIPE" COURSES

In time of peace we have often heard it said that the college leader is to be one of the future leaders of the country. This same maxim applies in war times. The only difference is that college men have an even greater duty to perform during and after the war.

Second semester schedules have been made, but there is still time to change the blanks and substitute other courses. If the government is encouraging college educations at present, it is recognizing that they are valuable. Small things have no place in today's crises.

We should drop those courses which are easily passed, but which do us no practical good, and turn out more valuable men to our country, and at the same stroke, to ourselves.—The Michigan Daily.

NOTICE

Captain Abbot has received the following communication from the Adjutant General's office:

As enlistment of medical students is provided for in Section 151 Selective Service Regulations, you will forward to this office for disposition of cases of the students who apply to you with proper paper for enlistment who have been exempted or discharged by local boards on account of physical disability, or who, upon examination by you, are found to be apparently physically disabled for military service. Upon receipt of these papers they will be forwarded to the Surgeon General of the Army for his recommendation and you will be advised of proper action to take in each case.

By order of the Secretary of War.
F. MURPHY,
Adjutant General.

ARMY BLANKETS

Me and my army blankets,
As thin as the last thin dime,
A German spy, I think was the guy,
Who made them for Uncle Sam.
How do I sleep? Don't kid me.
My bed is filled with straw;
And lumps and humps and big fat bumps.
That punch me until I'm raw.
Me and my two thin blankets,
As thin as the last thin dime.
As thin I guess as a chorus girl's dress;
Well, we have one hell of a time.
I pull them up from the bottom,
(My nightie's my B. V. D.s)
A couple of yanks to cover my shanks,
And then my tootsies freeze.
You could use them for porous plaster.
Or, maybe to strain the soup.
My pillow's my shoes, when I try to snooze,
And I've chillblains, and cough and croup.
Me and my two thin blankets,
Bundled up under my chin.
Yes, a German spy, I think was the guy
And gosh, he made them thin.

AGGIES BREAK OLD TRADITION

DEFEAT B. Y. C. TWICE THIS YEAR

The Aggies broke what was hitherto a prominent tradition throughout the Logan sporting public when they defeated their rivals from the B. Y. C. by the score of 29 to 21. It is needless to say after printing the score that the B. Y. C. quint sprung almost as big a surprise as did Coach Roberts of the B. Y. U. against the U. of U. Everyone was expecting a one-sided score, and possibly this same over-confident feeling entered into the minds of the players themselves, because they certainly were off-color on Friday. Their passing was ragged and their basket-shooting was inaccurate.

Probably the absence of Jarvis who had his ankle injured during the fore part of the week interfered greatly with the team work. At any rate the playing in the first half was decidedly ragged. Andy Mohr, Jarvis's running mate, was also on the sick list, but is expected back in harness before the week expires. His indisposition also interfered materially with the result of the B. Y. C. struggle.

The Coach was truly disgusted with the evening's entertainment and as a remedy for their "slouchiness" has given the boys a week of hard work in anticipation of the big U. game on Saturday.

DEBATING WEEK IS HERE

ALL TEAMS IN ACTION IN NEXT
TEN DAYS

Debating season opens in full swing Friday night when A. C. colors will be represented on three platforms. Our affirmative team debates with the U. of U. here at seven-thirty o'clock. The team consists of Lorenzo Hatch, George Hansen and Arthur Fife. The team which meets the B. Y. U. affirmative at Provo are Russel Croft, Louis Ballif and Lionel W. Sorenson. The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That we adopt compulsory arbitration in our labor disputes." The third team accompanied by Prof. Ogburn left Wednesday afternoon for Montana to debate the affirmative of the question "Resolved that Alsace Lorraine should be returned to France as one of the terms of peace." Delbert Taylor and Heber Jones made the trip with Prof. Ogburn.

On March 8th the University of Wyoming affirmative team meets Chase Kearn and Elgin Morris, our negative team here. Their question is, "Resolved that the Government should own and operate all coal mines doing interstate business."

These boys have read, studied and practiced for weeks in order that they may do justice to A. C. It is highly as honorable to be successful in brain competition as that of brawn. We've seen what sideline support can do for our athletic boys. Cheers from the school will likewise help the teams to give their best. Let's wake up and give them some Aggie football support.

AN EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION

To the many earnest and enthusiastic young women who responded so generously to the arduous work of selling Red Cross tickets for the entertainment last night, the committee desires to express its sincere appreciation. It was a splendid effort and showed the noble willingness of the young women to "do their bit" gladly and efficiently.

The faculty and students who responded to the winning appeal of President Owen of the Commercial Boosters club by buying tickets have also earned the thanks of the committee, which are hereby extended in behalf of the Red Cross.

WEEKLY BUNK

She stood before the looking glass
Her eyes were closed up tight,
She was trying to see just how she looked
When she was asleep at night.

This week's song is entitled "As soon as the soles of my shoes wear out I'll be on my feet again."

One old timer wrote in to the Bunk editor and said there wasn't enough wind in his country for the two windmills he had so we wrote and told him to take one of them down.

Don't throw away old door mats as they can be used for tooth brushes if cut up small.

"Jazz" Hansen takes good at the scortities; he doesn't visit.

Tommy Fitzpatrick will find out that it doesn't pay to try and get on the right side of the B. Y. U. They'll do it every time, Tom, and the sooner you find it out the better.

You can't choose your relatives but you can pick your own teeth.

Every male student should bring a girl to the U. game. Remember boys the girls are as interested in the team as you are and maybe more so.

The Seven wonders of the World:

- 1.—Steve Deal getting to school at 10 o'clock.
- 2.—Tommy Fitz. falling for Roberts' alibis.
- 3.—Pistol in full dress.
- 4.—The U. beating us in basketball.
- 5.—Solon Barber in tights.
- 6.—Someone handling some snapshots in for the Buzzer.
- 7.—The Aggies yelling at a game.

Jack Hale couldn't wear Swede's dress suit to the Prom., the Phil Kaps borrowed it to have their Buzzer pictures taken.

There is a letter in the Student body office from Salina for Elizabeth Cannon.

Zabriskie didn't like the Frosh booth at the Prom. It wasn't dark enough. He said he thought Silvers knew better than to have a glaring are light in a cozy corner.

There is a time and a place for everything Vard.

CONKWRIGHT ACCEPTS POSITION WITH SALT LAKE BASEBALL CLUB

The Aggies lose probably one of the most promising athletes that has ever attended the institution when Allen Conkwright, fullback on the 1917 Championship Football aggregation, leaves for Porterville, California today to join the ranks of professional baseball. He has recently accepted an offer from Manager McCredie of the Salt Lake Baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, which opens the training season on March 4.

We certainly regret seeing this prominent athlete leave school. It will leave a large hole for the Coach to fill in next year's football eleven. Conk was the mainstay of the backfield this year, and deserves much more credit than was given him from his nerve and pluck.

Well, Conk, although we hate to see you leave, we want to wish you all the luck in the world, and hope some day to be able to return to Salt Lake and watch you perform upon the mound for the Bees.

TO ENTERTAIN HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES

these athletes are entertained in the best style, because it is upon some of these youths whom we will have to place our faith in athletics in the future. Some of them will be representing the Aggies in athletic contests in future years, and it is up to us to show them now just how they will be treated then.

THE NEW DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

Will Give You

Greater Capacity, Longer Wear,
Better Service, Bigger Value

THE bowl of the New De Laval has greater capacity for a given size and a given speed than any other. The experience of thousands and thousands of users has proved that a De Laval will outlast and outwear any other make.

Look well to service when you buy a cream separator. That means more than anything else. That should include not only a good working and reliable machine, but the right sort of attention and interest on the part of the seller, not only at the time the machine is set up but as long as you continue to use it. De Laval service is well known. You can depend upon it.

Value depends upon the amount and quality of service the separator gives you—what you get out of it. You get more value for your money when you buy a De Laval, because it will give you more and better service than any other separator.
