UTAH TO BATTLE COLORADO TEAM

Will Decide Rocky Mountain
Superiority In Smart Gym
Monday and Tuesday

The basketball fans are right up in the air because of the unavoidable delay in making the proper arrangements for the Rocky Mountain conference championship contest between the undefeated Utah Aggies and the skilled hoopers from Boulder. The telegraph boys are nearly run down carrying messages night and day at both ends of the wire during the past few perilous days in which the arrangements for the famous game have been pending. Prospects are brightening because arrangements have now been completed concerning the ticklish question of finance. The only remaining stumbling block, and this is by no means a vital factor, is the almost unprecedented case where both teams want to play on the other's floor.

The Boulder backers argue that they should do the traveling because the Aggie football team goes to Boulder next season. On the other hand the Aggies believe that the Colorado people would be interested to lamp the Rocky Mountain champs. So there you have it.

It is the unanimous expression of Logan people that the game must be played, there or here. And although we would like to see the boys take this deserved trip, the dope seems to point that the game will occur in the Thomas Smart Gym next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Don't forget it.

TOURNAMENT IS A GRAND SUCCESS

B. A. C. WINS STATE TITLE AFTER STRENUOUS BATTLE

Just chroniclers will put down in history as one of the most successful things ever done athletically, the recent high school tournament staged in the Smart gym. Competing were four teams, the B. A. C., which finally won the high school title, the Tooele High School team, the B. Y. U. high school team and the Boxelder high school team. Besides these were the teams of other schools in the state which had been defeated in the race but who still had an interest in the outcome.

At the outset of the tournament, as all the way through, each team had great ambitions to carry off the state flag and had confidence that they would do it. The B. Y. U. H. S. team appeared to have the title won and were general favorites until the second night when they were beaten by Boxelder. They were too small to stand the strain. After the second night all teams were tied, the losing ones having staged a come back. The third night saw one of the best games of the tourney, that between the B. Y. U. H. S. and B. A. C. It was nip and tuck all thru with the B. A. C. maintaining a two point lead throughout.

The game between Tooele and Boxelder this night was fast but hardly as interesting as the other games in which Tooele participated, due to the loss of Cooper, their popular little guard.

The final game, that between B. A. C. and Boxelder, was fully as exciting as the other battles of the series. It was a struggle worth watching; with the two big teams of the state lined up against each other. As were the other contests close so was this. It ended with a 19-18 score in B. A. C.'s favor, after steady

College Feasts The High School Boys

PARTAKE OF COLLEGE GENEROSITY AND SPIRIT

The State High School basketball tournament came to a brilliant close last Saturday when the competing teams and the other visiting teams were royally banqueted by the institution in the cafeteria. The representatives of twelve high schools and their coaches, besides prominent students and faculty members were present. In all there were about one hundred and twenty five guests.

The banquet itself was one of the best ever pulled off at the college. With a hidden orchestra pouring forth melodious strains and the rooms gorgeous in ferns and potted plants it was an occasion long to be remembered not only by the high school lads but also by the college students fortunate enough to attend.

At the top of the block "A" formation of the tables sat "Wick" Stephens far renowned as the official toastmaster of the Be-No club. "Wick" in his characteristic way introduced the following speakers: Doctor Hill, Mariner Eccles, Joseph Jensen, Andrew Mohr, John T. Caine III, James E. Moss, "Stubby" Peterson and Coach Watson; who spoke on the benefit of the tournament and athletics in general. Mr. Caine and Stubby gave the star talks of the day, the former pointing out in a broad minded way reasons for coming to the A. C. to school, stating among other things that the A. C. had already proved her worth by living up to the present national emergency. He told also of the numerous big men sent out by the A. C. and spoke of Logan's advantages as a college town.

"Stubby" in his talk on "What to look forward to," gave the most popular talk of the day. Starting out by giving a list of the various places of amusement in town he gradually led up to a climax when he exposed the misdeeds of "Tommy Fitzpatrick of the 'U.'" at a dancing party the previous evening. Before arriving at the climax "Stubby" indulged in a few complimentary remarks on the fairer sex directing them, especially at the Home Economics club girls who served the banquet.

During the course of the banquet several selections by the Glee club were enthusiastically received. At the end all joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" after which they repaired to the Smart gym, to watch the B. A. C.-Boxelder game for the championship.

High Honors For An A. C. Graduate

WM. JARDINE, '04, MADE PRESIDENT OF KANSAS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Dr. William M. Jardine, a graduate of the U. A. C. in 1904 has been elected president of the Kansas State Agricultural college. Dr. Jarvis' career has been one series of promotion. Soon after graduation in 1904 he held positions successively as instructor, assistant professor and professor of agronomy at the U. A. C. From 1907 to 1910 Dr. Jardine was assistant cerealist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. From 1910 to 1913 he was elected professor of agronomy in the Kansas Agricultural college. In 1913 he was made dean of the School of Agriculture in that school and director of the Kansas Agricultural Experiment station.

The Utah Agricultural college and state of Utah are proud of Dr. Jardine's record, and his present position is a compliment to the school.

MILITARY BALL IS A MARTIAL SHOW

Hundreds Enjoy State's Classic Ball

GOVERNOR UNABLE TO ATTEND

Why is that all the girls liked the Military ball so well? We hardly know unless it was the music, the floor, the refreshments, the crowd and the fellows. The uniforms might have fascinated them.

The Military Ball was one of the most brilliant affairs of the year. The presence of the military men from Fort Douglas and elsewhere and the cadets from Salt Lake and Ogden, as well as our own cadets in uniform, certainly added to the brilliancy and dignity of the occasion.

The decorations were of course in the national colors, but the arrangement of the flags and bunting was very effective and cleverly thought out.

The music, furnished by the college band, was good and everybody seemed to enjoy it. Delicious punch and candy was served.

The guard mounting certainly was excellent considering the amount of practice that the boys have had. The drill was carried out with a considerable amount of precision and dispatch. It excited favorable comment from our visitors.

The grand march was another detail of the ball worthy of mention. The sight of the men in their immaculate uniforms and the women in their beautiful gowns was very imposing.

There was one thing, however, that could have easily been dispensed with. The taking of moving pictures of the cadet drill was unnecessary, and somewhat out of place at a function like the Military Ball. It could easily have been done before the ball or any other time but the one in question. It took considerable time and as a result the full program of dances, which in itself was not large, could not be carried out. This thing placed a blot on the escutcheon of the ball that otherwise would have been spotless.

We can congratulate the Military department on carrying out another successful Military ball.

FOOD PROBLEMS ARE VERY ACUTE

DR. HARRIS REVIEWS FOOD SITUATION

On Tuesday in Chapel exercises, Dr. F. S. Harris reviewed the present food situation and its bearing on the ultimate outcome of the war.

The food question is probably the greatest problem of the war and at this particular period must be considered very seriously. Foodstuffs center particularly on cereals, including wheat, corn and rye, meats, beans, sugar and dairy products as these form the bulk of the human diet. For this reason the Hooverizing requirements have affected these foods most. Previous to the war the imports of food products to the U. S. were greater than the exports. Now that many Europeans are dependant on the U. S. for food it will be necessary not only to Hooverize but to increase the output. During the last year of the war ten per cent of the food shipped between the allies was sunk by submarines.

The big problem remaining with the people of the U. S. is to centralize and organize our efforts to secure the greatest efficiency in production and distribution. This great

Ag. Club Hears Address By Big Man

DOCTOR C. H. ECKLES OF U. OF MISSOURI TALKS ON DAIRYING.

Dr. C. H. Eckles of the University of Missouri gave a lecture to the Ag club Wednesday, March 6, on "The Handling of Calves for the Production of Dairy Cattle."

Dr. Eckles is an authority on dairy breeds of cattle. For more than twenty years he has been connected with Agricultural colleges in the central states.

Dr. Eckles took a few minutes in telling of the Ag club in the University of Missouri. It was, indeed, very interesting to hear of the similarity of the club there and our club here. The Missouri farmer lads have a point over us however.

Each year they give an annual fair which has become so famous that schools within a radius of twenty-five miles are dismissed for the occasion. According to Dr. Eckles as many as 10,000 people are attracted to the fair.

Dr. Eckles has been carrying on a number of experiments at the experiment farm in Missouri for a number of years, the results of which he gave to the club in the course of the lecture. His own are the only experiments on the subject known by Dr. Eckles to have ever been made. The results of these experiments, contrary to the current opinion among cattlemen and dairymen, show that the amount and type of feed a calf receives has no perceptible influence upon the milking quality of the calf when grown; and secondly that the time of calving has no perceptible influence upon the milking quality. Dr. Eckles thinks these results show that the stimuli for milk production is hereditary and not due to environmental factors.

His lecture was very educational. The club members enjoyed it very much, and hope to have the privilege of hearing Dr. Eckles again.

After the lecture the old members entertained the "Short Horns" on a peanut bust in the club room.

Morris And Kearl Win Their Debate

RECEIVE UNANIMOUS DECISION
ON COAL QUESTION

Another victory was added to our already long list when on last Friday an unanimous decision in our favor was obtained in the Wyoming debate.

This makes debating a fifty-fifty game this year, two debates lost and two won. The two won were with unanimous decisions, while one was lost by a two to one vote. Considering last year's record we have reasons to feel satisfied with our success this year in this branch of activity.

In the debate last Friday, Morris and Kearl handled their question very well. Never did the audience feel in doubt as to what the outcome would be. They succeeded admirably in establishing their proposition, "That the U. S. should not own and operate her coal mines," and won.

Freshmen Start Work On Play

The Freshies are hard at work on their play, each and every member of the cast recognizing "the importance of being earnest" in matters dramaturgic. There has been much interest and keen competition for the various parts in the play. Miss Huntsman says "there is much promising dramatic material in the Freshman class and she ought to

ATHLETIC PLAN IS SUGGESTED

COMMITTEE SUBMITS RECOMMENDATIONS

The committee appointed by President Peterson at the instigation of President Meeks of the Student Body, to make recommendations for an athletic council submitted the following brief to him, which was approved by the executive committee with an addition to clause two stating that an account be rendered them at the end of each semester. Clause four was changed so that the student body managers will be elected by the executive committee and approved by the athletic council.

The plan when adopted is expected to materially increase the efficiency of our athletic management. The new committee will have direct and full power in its government. The men on the committee will know athletics and how to best direct our policy.

The committee composed of a representative from the faculty, the alumni, and student body, having met for the purpose of recommending to you a plan for the organization of the athletic work of the College, submits the following recommendations:

1. That an Athletic Council, composed of three faculty members, three alumni, and three students, together with the Director of Athletics, be given control of all phases of athletic work, responsible to the President of the College. (It is suggested that at least one of the student members should also be a member of the executive committee of the Student Body.)

2. That a budget sum be turned over to this Council from the funds of the Student Body to operate the work in inter-collegiate athletics, the exact amount or per cent of the student fees to be determined later. Account rendered at the end of each semester.

3. That the details of management be done by the Director of Athletics, subject to the Athletic Council which will determine policy.

4. That the student managers be appointed by the Athletic Council from the nominations made by the coaches.

If the above meets with your approval, we recommend that the appointments to this Council be made as soon as it is convenient.

Yours truly,

WM. PETERSON,
FRANK WEST.

Football Men Awarded

Fifteen Men Finally Receive Gold Footballs

Last Thursday the regular Student Body period was taken up in showing our visitors of the tournament how we reward our athletes. Our football men received gold footballs as a means of recognition for their winning the Rocky Mountain football championship. The gold emblems were presented by President E. G. Peterson. John C. Sharp of the board of trustees, presented the school with a large pennant commemorating the championship team. Our board of trustees always support the team loyally and high school athletes need have no fear of not receiving suitable rewards for their athletic endeavors at the U. A. C. The team had already received their letters and blankets at a previous meeting.

The meeting closed with a rousing "pep" rally. Some of the best cheering ever heard in the old chapel was given.

NO MORE REPORTERS

Hitherto the editorial column has contained a list of names headed "reporters." In this list are names of people who have been reporters in name only. There have been articles written generally accredited to the reporters which were in reality written by other students. In order that credit be given to those who do the writing, hereafter a list of the students responsible for articles each week will be published instead of the list of "reporters." This change should encourage students who have not already written to write and should act as a spur for old writers to keep their names on the contributors' list.

CHEAP SPORTS

Hoovering appears to be becoming popular at the A. C. It was especially noticeable at the Military ball when several of our students saved their fifty cents by presenting complimentary tickets which were intended only for the visiting high school athletes and which they had secured in some not unknown manner. To say the least it took nerve to do it and especially by those who had done nothing in the guard mounting, decorating or other work to make the ball a success. They contrasted greatly with those who not only had been generous of their time and labor and who almost without exception, bought their tickets and found no fault, and with those who came without intention of dancing but to do their part in the drill. Fortunately we had comparatively few who were guilty of using comps. otherwise the ball would have been a greater financial failure than it was.

A PLEA FOR MORE TENNIS COURTS

With the coming of spring all "tennis sharks" begin to feel an almost irresistible desire to get out their old racket and get in the game again. Everyone should play tennis and it is expected that a record run on the courts will take place this spring.

This fact brings to our minds the fact that east of the main building there are two clay courts that have been so long in disuse that they are overgrown with weeds. Would it not be possible to fix up these two courts or else build two more cement ones so that there would be ample room for all the exponents of "the fascinating game" to practice their art?

Think it over.

THE REMAINDER

Since the winter term ended the halls, like the dead of night, are dead again. There has been a great thinning out of the students and it is absolutely necessary that "the remainder" get together and work together. Where we had a battalion of six large companies before we now have only three. We have lost about three hundred students since the winter term ended and we can easily notice it. This will not be so much of a disadvantage as we think if we work together. If we get in and work, if we stick with the school "like grim death," we will succeed in making the spring term as successful and interesting as the winter term was. Many interesting things will take place during the coming term to reward your decision to stay, if the fact that you are helping your country, your school and yourself, is not reward enough.

ENGLISHMAN DEPLORES WASTE

President Peterson has received the following communication from the Committee on Public Information. It clearly shows the ends to which the war has driven the people of England and may drive us if we ignore the principles of economy and saving:

It is considered "bad form" in England today for a woman to appear in a new costume and any lady so presenting herself generally does so with ample apologies for the absolute necessity of the case.

This was a statement made by Professor Stoughton Holborn of the University of Oxford in a lecture delivered this week in the Fine Arts course in Washington. Professor Holborn has not been long in this country and two of his first impressions were the want of self-denial of the people in regard to the luxuries of the table and the apparent amount of wealth and material spent on women's dress.

"Before I was twelve hours in America I noticed in a hotel in Boston the waste in sugar. As an instance, I observed a man and his child each put several spoonfuls of sugar on their morning bananas. This surely is unnecessary waste of a scarce commodity. In contrast to this I would tell you that only three quarters of a pound of butter has come into my British household within the past three months.

"My wife writes me," continued the Professor, "that cooking utensils are no longer cleaned in the old way. Every vessel in which food has been cooked has water poured into it. After a time that water is strained and the food which originally adhered to the side of the vessel is saved and cooked again."

FRAT HOOP TEAMS SHOW GREAT CLASS

GREEKS PLAY GREAT BALL

Yesterday at 3 o'clock the Fraternity basketball tournament began. For real rivalry the high school had nothing over the Fraternity.

The Sigma Alpha lost to Delta Nu in the tournament opener. The game was somewhat slow due no doubt to the fact that most of the players were not in the best of shape. Delta Nu won by a large score, 27 to 2, and the score just about indicates the relative strength of the two teams. The Sigs were no doubt weakened by the loss of their two stars, Andrus and Bernston, and probably this will account for their small score. Both of Sigma Alpha's counters came as a result of foul pitches, as they were not able to cage a single field basket due to the iron-clad guarding of the Delta Nu men. Jorgensen starred for Sigma Alpha while Holland was high point getter for Delta Nu, although the entire team played good ball.

In the second game Pi Zeta Pi went down to defeat before Alpha Delta Epsilon. The Epsilons clearly showed their superiority by a 25 to 9 score. This game was more evenly matched than the previous one, however, and consequently more interesting. The Pi Zets were at a disadvantage because they have few men this year who have any basketball experience whatsoever, while the Epsilons have men who have played high school ball. The Alpha Delta Epsilon team was clearly superior, however, and the best team won.

The two winners will draw to decide who plays Phi Kappa Iota tomorrow and the winner of this game will play the other team that loses the drawing, for the Fraternity championship of the school.

Soldier Editor Writes Of Fight

Dear Student Life:

In Utah it is quite usual to attend a dance on Saturday night in the same room that for church the day following, but the Army Y. M. C. A. buildings have gone a step further in the common-sense direction of combining religion with utility. Recently I attended a boxing and wrestling contest in a Y. M. C. A. hall.

I started out across the artillery parade ground on this particular warm night in February, here at Camp Stanley, with a moving picture show as my destination. I was attracted into the Y. M. C. A. hall by the lights and music. On the stand a mat had been spread out, and in the center of this mat stood a red-headed infantryman whom I at once recognized as George Dunford. He was coatless, had his leggings off, and was stepping around in wrestling shoes. The "sky-pilot" in charge of this hall blew his whistle for attention and announced George as the umpire for the matches to follow.

The first battlers were introduced as "Joe" and "Poncho." Joe was colored and weighed five pounds. "Poncho" was also colored, only a different color, and weighed eighty pounds. He issued a challenge to any boy in the camp who weighed not over ninety pounds. As the umpire tied the gloves on him his keen black, Mexican eyes, searched his dusky opponent. The dark rolled his eyes first at the audience and then at his opponent, making the streak of white show up in them very clearly against the dark background of his features. The Mexican had his father along as manager and the man whispered some advice to the kid just as the latter stepped onto the mat.

They pummeled each other for four three-minute rounds. When they clinched the umpire broke them apart but as they parted, the Mexican invariably jabbed the negro on the jaw for the first hit. The crowd seemed immensely pleased.

While the fighters were being fanned the umpire picked up change that was tossed onto the mat, and later divided it between the fighters as a tangible means of expressing appreciation.

The next number was a couple of light weight boxers. They were introduced and stepped out in the neat track suits to give an exhibition of what might have been mistaken for shadow boxing. They must have been diplomatic enough to get together before the fight and decide not to hurt each other. But this diplomacy did not please the audience. Such remarks as "Look out Percy, I'll strike you directly," and "Now boys, if you don't play hard you won't have an appetite for tea," failed to make them hit each other.

The other number in which I was interested was a wrestling match. The sporting "sky-pilot" introduced a wrestler with a line of titles as long as the red tape on a legal document. China seemed to be the field of most of his victories. Then simply "George Dunford, private of the 3rd company," was announced as his opponent.

They took the mat and in just six minutes Dunford had him pinned.

Each Aggie wishes you the best of luck.

HULME NEBEKER.

THE CASTO MEDAL

The oratorical contest for the Casto medal will take place April 1st. This contest calls for a prepared and memorized speech of twelve minutes' length and is open to both men and women. Students wishing to enter this contest are requested to hand their names in to Miss Huntsman.

SPRING ATHLETICS START BOOMING

PROSPECTS GREAT IN ALL FOUR SPRING SPORTS

Now that spring is showing some signs of life the followers of the spring sports begin to revivify and limber up. Spring football begins next Monday and Coach Watson expects a large number of pigskin chasers to be out all ready for good hard work. At a meeting held recently for those interested in football over one hundred men were present. This surely is a good sign and if this number will get out and work we will be assured of a real team next fall.

There is a strong movement on foot to put baseball back on the athletic map. Other schools are going to play baseball this spring and so should we. Our baseball men are just now beginning to limber up their arms in readiness for a grueling season ahead. We have excellent prospects for a winning team with such men as Jarvis, Hansen, Steifel, Sid and Lolo Spencer, Wright and Bowen.

The participation of the Utah schools in track this spring is assured. Although baseball and track took a slump last spring it is not likely that such a thing will happen again and we can expect keen rivalry to exist this year in the four big spring sports, track, baseball, and tennis. There are a number of good track men this year. "Nig" Steifel, "Stubby" Peterson, "Speed" Hansen, "Pesty" Jarvis, "Jim" Anderson, "Curley" Bowen and others will make competition keen in track for the other schools.

As soon as the court is dry tennis will begin to boom. Tennis has many devotees at the A. C. and there is always a run on the courts when the weather permits playing. It is hoped that we can choose a tennis team to compare with our other star teams of this year.

Arno Kirkham, Bert Smith, Cyril Hammond, Gibbs Langton, Solon Barber, Ray Silvers, Joe Reed, George Eccles and many others should make this desire easily realized.

OPERA CAST ANNOUNCED

The opera company is practicing daily. The choruses are ready and staging began last Friday.

The singers are determined to maintain the standard set in last year's opera "Iolanthe."

The music of "Baccaccio" is on the whole better than the opera a year ago. There are ten principals with the responsibility about equally divided, so success does not depend on any one person.

Those who have been successful in the competition for principal parts and the parts they have secured are as follows:

but not spectacular playing on their part.

A custom of picking an all state team prevails. We feel that although many of the stars of the state were present at the tournament, they were not all there. Therefore, we do not feel justified in picking an all star team but are inclined rather to compliment all the boys on their playing and hope that we shall have many of them and their type of sportsmanship with us next year.

TENNIS NOTES

A week from this Saturday the last order for Tennis club pins will go in. All students desiring to join the club and wishing pins see Ray Silvers or Solon Barber immediately. This will be the last chance to secure pins this year.

Three Important Reasons For Buying a

NEW DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR At Once

THERE are three very strong reasons for the immediate purchase of an up-to-date De Laval Cream Separator.

In the first place, a new De Laval machine will now save its cost in a few months—in more and better cream and butter and in time saving—at the present very high butter prices and great need of every minute of time.

In the second place, the patriotic duty rests upon every producer of butter-fat to save every ounce of it, and nothing is of greater food value to a nation at war. All European countries are encouraging the sale of the best cream separators in every way possible.

In the third place, railway delays are such that you can't depend upon quick delivery, and if you don't order your De Laval now there is no telling when you can get it. Moreover, the supply of labor and material is uncertain and all last year De Laval deliveries were nearly two months behind.

There was never a time when the immediate purchase of a latest improved De Laval Cream Separator was more important to everyone separating cream, or when it could less wisely be delayed.
