President Peterson Outlines Policy of The Institution

President Peterson gave an enlightening talk on the underlying principles of the college in chapel Monday.

"This is an institution of direct social and industrial service, services that help to obtain a better living," President Peterson said. "It is devoted to agriculture, engineering, economics, commerce and business administration. Research is the foundation of education. We have here in this college a vast number of the best workers in the extension of education who will carry out the fund of information they have created here.

The soul of the institution is created by its teachers, pupils and workers. These realize that the strength of the nation depends on education as a fundamental and so work to toward that end. Education is the backbone of every member of this republic. After he has obtained this education he has the freedom to express his individuality and give service.

The founders of Utah, great leaders, created for us this institution. We enjoy it by the virtue of the right of others. Labor has given us our opportunity, and the structure of civilization advanced through the United States.

Absorb the spirit of the Agricultural College, and make it a part of your life and ideals. Carry these ideals abroad and make the world better for having had them.

This year promises to be larger than any previous year. There is an reason why it shall not have successful end if the students will not to this institution as to a temple of learning, and treat it as such."

"When the modern, daughter is feeling especially gracious, she is a 'nice old thing'."

A Motorcycle is like a girl: she will not want to speak, there is no "no" in her.

Who is the man who knows what not to say, and remember not to say it?

Man once forgave a woman who was more authority than he has, but he did not make more noise than the woman who turns the mill wheel.

By Agnes W. Hill
 This little space I try to fill
 Don't think it's little
 Dear Reader,

For "wholesome fun" is hard to write
 It keeps me guessing day and night.
 To feed?

Many is the man
 With cash who will Afford to court ladies fair.

Many is the man
 Of wit, who can Appreciate fashion's race.

But where is the man
 Who has the soul
 To go with his knees all bare?

"25—when do the leaves commence to turn?"
 "24—The night, before, exanx."

 Mill—share! A loud went in with pop and the beer was a little.

The Frosh came in a bathing suit
 and he knew we were bent.
 His last was gone so were his shoes
 His spirit too was spent.

A bloody battle followed soon
 'Twas painful to see
 As the Frosh knuckled out his wily
 By a left up to the knee.

"Shifty" Hart is the new phrase going the rounds on the local prairie this week. Chick describes that commoner, for recently meeting the gauntlet of the Arctic backfield. As he faltered the sensational run
 "Shifty" Hart, but also as "Shifty"
 "Shifty Hart." That however is only a sample of the results being achieved in the Adams field, even afternoon, largely aspirant for a backfield position but his teeth, when Coach yelled out that name, and every man in his turn made a brave run, and a shift or other through that string of men. Accordingly when we saw speak of our backfield we are for from being again if we refer to them individually as not only
 "Shifty" Hart, but also as "Shifty"
 "Shifty Hart," Hansen, Knowles,
 Cough, Wooley, etc. Even Hansen, should be returned, must be so
 "shifty."

The line is rapidly being bolstered

 even more apt to call a play.

 Houtfield and others has plastered in the Adams field, even the line at present is beginning to take on a hunch as to what the staff will call a play.
