MAKING A BUZZER

Did you ever stop to think how much it costs to build a Buzzer? Did you ever take your pencil and paper and figure out just how much money the Buzzer manager collects when he sells 600 buzzers at four "barries" each? Six hundred buzzers at four dollars each is $2400.00. What? That sure looks like a lot of dollars eh? And besides this $100.00 a page for all Fraternities, Societies, and clubs amounts to several hundred more and then add to this amount money received from advertisers in the back of the book and you have in total the "income" of the year book, which is around $4000.00. Though this may sound like a great amount to the man who has been through the mill once he renders where in the world he is going to make ends meet. So the boy in which Manager Thompson of this year's Buzzer is floundering. He knows all his possible avenues of "income" but he doesn't know all his possible avenues of "expense." He knows it will cost him close to $1500.00 in engraving, almost that amount for printing and $550 for covers. Add to this amount the photographer's bill, advertising, freight on postage, and the cost of the innumerable other expenses and where does the $4000.00 go? Well—beside your soul, his gone before they get it. This Buzzer Buzzer Buzzer is the "income" of the year book, the spare time of twelve of the hardest working students in school. Occasionally the editor goes to a party, to a dance, to a football game, and at that time he is fortunate enough to have the where-with-all. But the rest of his time is eaten up in preparing a creditable animal.

Now, here is the point—if the Buzzer staff is willing to assume the gigantic task of building the year book, which we can enjoy the rest of our lives, then the fire of interest is kindled. They ask for our support. Let's give it! That's means first lay a Buzzer, second have our picture taken when asked to do so, third contribute our photos, cartoons or any other thing we might have.

NEW IDEAS FOR AN OLD NAME

Let's have a campaign of any kind, here is always much noise coming from the extravagant advertisements and enthusiastic promoters of the movements. This is all important, proper, and necessary to catch the attention of those not working with the year outline and to spread to them the fire of interest so much felt by those whose own thoughts and ways have planned the program.

Students imitate the spirit and true meaning of this campaign, and when the noise is over, they are the first to stand and take with you to your sanctuary of thought and reason, the plans proposed.

The plans proposed, if carried out will result in early production of the "1922 Buzzer." The board of editors believe that in this publication we will have the birth of a new annual retaining the name and taking the place of those that have come before, but added upon with a new life and a new creation.

The cataloging of departments, activities, classes and clubs will be given our best efforts, we will attempt to praise our athletes and their accomplishments with the force and grace with which Shakespeare describes Prince Hal, as men able to "Witch the world with noble horsemanship." Our orators, debaters, actors and dancers will be told of with such appropriate words as "What a piece of work is man. How noble in reason, how infinite in faculty, in form and moving how express and admirable."

The nervous of the book will be in the first ten pages and in the last section. These departments will be made up of home productions—joys, sorrows, impressions, feelings, humor and any moods that might be subject to. The choice bits of creation or discovery that the creators and discoverers of this school might present in class or have published in the papers and publications of the school have only lured for the readings they have not been prepared. We feel that this should be preserved, we are proud of these good things. In this issue of the Buzzer we are dedicating space to the recording of worth while products of the minds of the Students' Book. This department will contain such wit and fertility of thought that the master of subtlety of Cyrano de Bergerac can not give reproach.

There may be in this new addition elements of infancy, but a thought, a suggestion capable of developing into maturity with ripeness and quality will have been started.

MIDNIGHT OIL

Whoever gave us the expression, "Oil will do it," must have once been on a Buzzer staff for, he was reasoning in a great, meaning. If oil will do it (and it is oil of the midnight grade to which we refer) then the 1922 Buzzer ought to slide along a pretty smooth trail and arrive on the campus May 15 sure enough.

Midnight oil is not measured by the quart but rather by the hour. This year the Buzzer staff is handling bulk quantities of the rare product which is being boiled down to more concentrated forms. The burning of the oil and boiling down of the products will continue until in the spring a very concentrated product called the Buzzer will be here for students to bask in. The longer they study this coming volume and the older it becomes, the more valuable it will be to them.

There are a couple of little rooms on the third floor next to the attic; there is a lady's rest room on one side of the hall but no rest on the other side. Manager Wendell Thompson is thumping away on the typewriter selling Arco Colars or Hart-Schaffner & Gordon. Editor Reed Bailey is sitting, tearing his hair—he is apologizing to the editing company for the lack of photos this week owing to the fact that the Sophomore class, the oil burns late at a committee meeting where questions are being discussed such as, to whom shall the volume be dedicated, which of the possible 5000 borders shall be adopted, which department shall be enlarged and to what extent to make the annual more valuable to the average student or what.

In the same hall can be done to get the rest of the Fresh down to the photographers. Everybody knows that the putting out of the Buzzer is the most thankless job in the world. If the Junior class is seeking honors, the Buzzer is about the most fruitless field on the campus. But, like the classes before it, they are real Aggies and in agreeing to edit and finance a year book of the properties of the coming Buzzer, for the pleasure of the students and credit of the school, they show real Aggie spirit. Now the staff or the class doesn't ask credit or honors for working long nights and tedious days.

They are going to put out a Buzzer that every Aggie will treasure as a reminder of the best days of his life and to this end is every talent being solicited, every effort exerted and every resource taxed.

AGGIE STORIES FEATURE IN TRADITIONAL BOOK

College life one could expect to be a happy time for the student. The student to forget his F's, P's and D's. To go to the gym and play basketball. To go to the library and read. To go to the store and buy a new pair of shoes. To go to the dance and have a good time. To go to the party and have a good time. To go to the game and have a good time. To go to the school and have a good time. To go to the world and have a good time. To go to the future and have a good time. To go to the past and have a good time. To go to the present and have a good time. To go to the future and have a good time. To go to the past and have a good time. To go to the present and have a good time.

Picture of every athlete in the institution will be in the Buzzer. These will come in handy to you some cold winter night when you are howling and you have no one to come home with you to show them something funny to what they are. If you are an athlete and you are in the Buzzer, you will be proud to say that your husband was not always as fat as he is now.

The Rocky Mountain Conference is coming, which our football team won this year is something of which you will always be proud. Think of your pleasure you will get out of showing your Buzzer to company next day, showing them the record of the team, and revealing out your chest with pride when you tell them that you have the Buzzer. They will be proud to say that your husband was not always as fat as he is now.

Boosting The Buzzer

If this school that you admire should ask you to be true Ask you to buy a Buzzer. What are you going to do? Buy a Buzzer. Will you reach down to your pocket and bring from your treasure chest your hundred hard earned pennies? You've been saving up before.

Will you be a tight-wad? Or will you be a share? You've been saving up before.

Never say that you don't care.

Yes, of course, it seems a problem. May mean sacrifice to you. But by the fact that you've been true. Buy a Buzzer.

Yes, a humble loan one day. Paying in a funny way. Will you be so kind as to send me a Buzzer?

That was in the fall you see. When I had that handkerchief. But this message stays with me. Buy a Buzzer.

That's all I need. I need more than I do. Lots of hard work you don't see. But for a year or two to be a Buzzer.

That's all I need. I need more than I do. I would think my school I'd not get my Buzzer.

That's all I need. I need more than I do. I would think my school I'd not get my Buzzer.
