Social Season Opens Next Friday Afternoon With Dance in Gym.

INITIAL GET-TOGETHER USHERS IN FESTIVITIES—
GUIDES WILL MAKE NEW STUDENTS ACQUAINTED
ALL AGGIES WILL BE PRESENT

As a fitting opening for the most successful year ever experienced at the college, the student body dance will be held Friday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in the Smart gymnasium. Those students who have attended Aggie dances in the past will be there en masse and all new students will be heartily welcomed. We want to get that good, happy, jolly, friendly spirit, that spirit of the Aggie, into the student bodies in the past. You will feel it at the party Friday afternoon.

At least for a few hours banish the frolics and admitted seniors are going to be allowed to mingle on the same plane. It is even possible that pompous juniors will be seen cavorting with senior sophs. Some of the less staid professors are going to lay aside the decorum of the class room and will try the light fantastic with the liberality of almost forgotten youth.

The party will be entirely devoid of formality. Dancing will commence promptly at 4:00 to the strains of the best orchestra that Manager Moe Rich can command. Large quantities of delectable refreshments of exceptional quality have been ordered. The students without adequate boarding accommodations will be very interested in this line of the program.

During an intermission, President Logan will deliver the address of welcome in commenting on the fraternalism and the pull-together spirit of the Aggie. The college song will then be sung. Twelve or fifteen guides have been selected who will be dressed in the red and white Aggie robes.

Twelve or fifteen guides have been selected who will be dressed in the red and white Aggie robes. It will be their duty to make everyone acquainted.

Tradition has it that no one will be allowed, just pick your partner and if you don't know her see the guide. The most successful year ever experienced at the college to date to come to this party.

Remember that the time is Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Forget yourself and your classes and have a good time, bring a girl or a fellow Aggie. The time is Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. FIRST DAY SHOWS UNUSUALLY LARGE REGISTRATION

500 BEGIN REGISTRATION
ON MONDAY—SEVERAL STATES REPRESENTED

The Utah Agricultural College opened Monday morning with the biggest registration in the history of the institution. Registration did not commence until nine o'clock but by eight thirty the main hall was crowded with students anxious to begin enrollment.

Before noon, over five hundred students had begun registration, by the close of the day practically every county in Utah was represented while students had enrolled from the following states: Idaho, Utah, Idaho, Colo., Cal., Nev., Maryland, Texas, Ill., New Mex., Minn., Kan., Ariz., Okla., Iowa, Georgia, and from Canada.

An exceptionally large number of high school graduates have entered the college this year. Many of these students have college credits from other institutions having applied for admission not over before on the opening day.

Oldest Staff Member Begins His 20th Year

A large bundle of papers arrived at Student Life office today. They were delivered by Student Life's oldest staff member. The papers are the issue of Student Life and the oldest member is William Currier. For 20 years "Bills" has "transferred" student life from the pen of the Journal office, to its editorial members at the college.

Mr. Currier has been at the college ever since President Peterson was elected. He is now 60 years of age.

TWO VACANCIES IN STUDENT OFFICERS

Wesley Schaub And
George Spencer Fail
To Return To School

Student body elections last spring have resulted in two vacancies in the student body administration for 1923-24. Wesley Schaub, who was elected to the Executive Council will not be back to school this year. He has departed to fill a mission in Germany.

The other vacancy is that of Huger editor, George Spencer, who was elected to the position of editor of the 1924 Buzzer fulfilling a mission in the southern states. At the last session of the Student Body last year, while Morris held register a victory over the Washington State Buzzer.

With these men as the mainstay and an abundance of new material given to the staff, it is safe to predict that the Aggie are headed for another championship.

He has just graduated from the University of West Virginia and is now coming to the college to secure his master's degree in agricultural engineering. In order that he "may hold an important professorship for which he has been selected by the Serbian government."

PRESIDENT REVIEWS CHANGE IN ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Standards of scholarship and requirements for graduation at the Utah Agricultural College have been so increased that the College has entered with the strongest institutions in the West, declared President Elmer G. Peterson in an address delivered this morning before the first faculty meeting for this school year.

The meeting was held several days in advance of the opening of registration, in order to lay final plans for the opening of the school year. President Peterson reviewed briefly, the changes in entrance requirements, calling attention, particularly, to the more definite segregation of the work of the College into junior and senior college courses and announced that a number of large credits would be granted, at the close of the sophomore year, to students who meet the requirements of the institution.

Those who respect this College desire it to be free from those evils which are so undermining the confidence of people in certain aspects of higher education. We desire to be unlike any other institution of learning on earth. We can be superior in a great moral and spiritual way. While the Institution has achieved a position in scholarship which is very good, it is not our intention to hope that those old and homely qualities which from the beginning have made people proud will be in abundance. Frugality is one of the most important of these.

U.A.C. PROFESSORS ESCAPE IN FIRE AT BERKELEY

PROF. N. A. PEDERSEN AND
F. D. DAINES OUTSIDE
FIRE AREA

A note sent to President Peterson from Professor N. A. Pedersen, former head of the English department at the college, who is on leave of absence studying at the University of California, says that all of the U.A.C. professors who were outside of the fire area during the November fire which recently raged in Berkeley, California, escaped.

A sudden change in the direction of the wind was the thing that saved the U.A.C. professors. Had not this change occurred, the U.A.C. professors would have been in the line of the fire which was burning in the direction of the U.A.C. building.

Girls Buy Eats
For Football Men

The girls of the Colorado State College put on a Tex Day, the proceeds from which will be used to provide a training table for the football team of the school. According to Coach Hughes, "it will enable the twenty men who have been picked for the training table to get the proper food during the football training period." The society which sells the most number of hats is to be given an "A" blanket.

Enrollment Decreases
At Colorado School

Colorado State College. Enrollment at the Colorado State College shows a slight decrease from last year. Seven hundred and seventy-four students have registered to date, and although the freshman enrollment has slightly increased, the total enrollment is somewhat smaller than last year.

College To Have
Novel Exhibit
At State Fair

COLLEGE BUILDING WILL BE TURNED INTO LARGE REST ROOM

The exhibit at the State Fair this year will be novel in that it will not be an exhibit according to the ordinary understanding of that term, says Mr. Don Hansen, of the College, who is in charge of the exhibit.

The College will turn its entire building into a large rest room, or canteen, to Mr. Hansen. Miniature trees and flowering plants will bank the interior walls of the building while a grassy plot, with a flower bed in the center, will grace the center, will grace the center of the room. Rustic benches and a vine covered summer house will carry out the idea of out-of-doors. In this summer house will be easy chairs where tired visitors can rest and books and magazines to enable them to enjoy a few minutes away from the excitement of exhibit viewing.

The most unusual part of the U. A. C. building will be the treatment of the walls in order to make the out-of-door atmosphere even more real, a series of paintings in poster treatment will be placed on the side and end walls. These posters are being made especially for the fair.

U. A. C. Credits Given
Full Value at U. of Cal.

Mr. Earl Thompson, who graduated from the Utah Agricultural College last spring, writes from the University of California, where he has registered as a graduate student, that his U. A. C. credits were accepted at full value by that institution, and that he had 23 semester credits more than he needed to secure full graduate standing.

Washington State
Has Heavy Enrollment

The campus of the State College of Washington is alive again for the vanguard of the annual influx of 1,900 new students—freshmen, and advanced credit students from other institutions—are already swarming into the buildings and along the walks, under the trees. Secretary C. A. Isaacs predicts an enrollment of 2,000 this year, as he expects, from increased correspondence and creditable fall, when there were 2,800.

Between 150 and 200 have already made application for advanced standing, bringing credit not only from the University of Washington and all the state normals, but from Oregon, California, Idaho and scattered all over the other states. Last year 15,000 credit hours of advanced standing were brought, enough to graduate 100 students; correspondence to date indicates an increase this year, the two seasons.

Although all dormitory rooms were assigned long before registration day, Sept. 17, all students were able to find comfortable rooms near the campus, for Secretary Paul Phillips of the Y. M. C. A., and Dean of Women Virginia Martin, have lists of inspected rooms on reserve hill from which newcomers might choose.

The New Dormitory for men has increased its capacity to 255; Perry Hall accommodates 141 more; and the fraternities about 500 men. The city's population held about 400, and the four dormitories 312 more.

FOR THE STUDENT'S CONVENIENCE

Occasionally it is inconvenient for the student to carry a checking account of sufficient size to permit of maintaining the required balance.

And yet, recognizing the safety and convenience of a checking account, he would wish very much to enjoy its advantages.

Our "deposit-check system" is the solution.

Through it an account can be opened for Twenty Five Dollars and in exchange for the deposit the student receives a book of checks which may afford him safety for his money, a record of expenditures, and convenience in making disbursements.

Let our officers talk it over with you.

He watched the pot as it boiled

Thousands of people had watched the boiling pot, but Count Rumford wondered why it boiled. He did more than wonder; by scientific research he found out for himself.

And Rumford laid the foundation of the greatest generalization the human mind has yet conceived—the law of the conservation of energy.

Scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are devoting their lives to pure research, carrying on the work of Rumford and other pioneers of modern science. By methodical investigation, the frontier of scientific knowledge is being pushed steadily forward.
