We believe that a policy devoid of factionalism should govern the administration of student body affairs. We believe that it is the right of the student body to know every procedure of its officers and executive bodies in the exercise of their official duties. We believe that if the executive committee cannot decide, by use of the ballot, who should occupy student body offices, the decision should rest with the student body.

ADOPT THE HONOR SYSTEM

There seems to be a stronger crystallization of sentiment than ever in certain sections of the student body in favor of the adoption of the "honor system" in College examinations. The question was brought forcibly to the minds of some students because of a rather humiliating situation which occurred after the final examination in a particular course last quarter. It was determined on excellent authority that a few students in the class had cheated during the examination and had practically brought the entire class in disrepute in the eyes of the professor.

The question has been argued pro and con before. Some professors are so inclined that they have pursued such an honor policy in all of their courses. It has been pointed out on the other hand that certain other teachers have been so antagonistic in their attitude that they have encouraged cheating by their incessant efforts to catch someone doing it.

A large number of institutions in various sections of the country pursue the "honor system" and are ardent advocates of it. A notable example in this class is the University of California at which so many of our graduates are studying and from which has come a number of our professors.

It is our opinion that the "honor system" could well be adopted in the Utah Agricultural College. This College has always stood for the ideals on which the system is based. In the courses in which the system has been attempted it has been admirably successful and the adoption of such an honor policy would go far toward standardizing the entire examination system of the College. From the sentiments which have been expressed by members of the student body to which this subject has been broached we believe that the big majority of students are in favor of the plan.

THAT IT MAY NOT BECOME PRECEDENT

That the executive committee should choose its members by drawing a name out of a hat after several ballots had resulted in a tie, seems incredible, yet this has the method used last fall to select a member to occupy the vacancy left by the failure of one of the executive committee members to return to the college. This information has just leaked out despite the fact that effort appears to have been made to keep it from the student body.

The executive committee is supposed to represent the student body. If there should be a tie vote on which the important matter as the selection of a new member of the committee, the student body and not chance, luck or fate should decide the matter. The executive committee has the conduct of student affairs completely in charge and it is insulating the dignity of the position to select a member of this committee by mere chance.

Even though the executive committee were tied in their vote upon the two candidates, it is safe to say that there would not have been a tie among the students as to which candidate should be chosen to occupy the position. If the executive committee choose its members by an election, the student body should be allowed to vote upon the candidates. A name drawn out of a hat does not represent the choice of the student body.

Student Life places these facts before the student body in an effort to prevent such practices from becoming precedent.

Seated: A Good Collector
There were muffled sounds of a struggle in the other room, and a girl's voice squealed:
"Stop!"
No response—
"Oh, please don't, mother said—"
No response—
"Oh, wait just a moment, please—"
No response—
"Let me go this moment!"
"One more yank and I'll have it out," cooed the dearest—
"Ah," says Brudner Haturu, "shooting dice for a livin' sure am a shabby business—"

Theta Ball Committee

LUCILLA MAY

Miss Lucilla May, who is a junior in college and the usual Theta Ball which will be staged next Friday evening in the gymnasium. Miss May has been busy for a month supervising the work parties at the Theta house and packing her stock of gifts for the affair next Friday evening. Josephine Harshbarger, vice-president of the student body is handling the publicity for the ball. Miss Naomi Brown, senior class vice-president and a member of the debating team which will meet the University and the U. Y. U. the latter part of the month will handle the refreshments.

The decorations are under the supervision of Miss Mary Browning and when the decorating starts this afternoon Miss Browning will have her hands full.

Miss Mary Browning will take care of the music and Miss Edna Hansen the program.

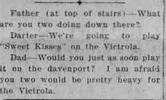

Quida: "I know what the V. A. stands for on your sweater."
Servatina: "What does it stand for?"
Quida: "Why? Varsum above."
Dean (in Ed. Psychology): "Miss Brown, you have been teaching a little what you understand by the 57 family as used in the lower grades?"
Girl (happily): "Heinz 57 cat-lets."

Captain Peterson: "Give me what you consider the most important date in history."
Soph: "The one that Anthony had with Cleopatra."

Father (at top of stairs): "What are you two doing down there?"
Darter: "We're going to play 'Sweet Kisses' on the Victrola."

Dad: "Would you just as soon play it on theavenport? I am afraid you two would be pretty heavy for the Victrola."

But nobody had thought to do it

By bringing electricity down from the clouds over a kite string, it was a simple thing to prove that lightning was nothing more than a tremendous electrical flash.

For centuries before Franklin flew his kite in 1751 philosophers had been speculating about the nature of lightning. With electrified globes and charged bottles, others had evolved the theory that the puny sparks of the laboratory and the stupendous phenomenon of the heavens were related; but Franklin substituted fact for theory—by scientific experiment.

Roaring electrical discharges, man-made lightning as deadly as that from the clouds are now produced by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are part of experiments which are making it possible to use the power of mountain torrents farther and farther from the great industrial centers.

U. of Colo. May Enter
New Debating League

U. of Colorado—Letters inviting the University to enter a triannual debating league with Iowa State College and the University of Indiana were read at a meeting of the U. of C. Debatist Board held last Friday afternoon. The Board, while strongly favoring the offer, can make no definite arrangements until it is found whether the University can withdraw from the existing league with the University of Wyoming and Utah.

Cave Valley Banking Co. speaks on the relation of the present program of tax reduction to the engineering profession. Tax exemption of public securities is drawing capital from ultimate business enterprises at the rate of $200,000,000 per month. If we are to develop new industries, we must not expect to advance until all securities are taxed and the money left in the hands of the public officials.
