CO-ED DEBATE MAY ORGANIZE

League To Encourage Debating Among The Women Planned

The possibility of organizing a Women's Debate League to encourage debating among the women of the institution has been discussed by a group of students and also by the faculty. The league is formed. It would meet weekly include the U. A. C. of V. and the B. Y. C. The women of each of these schools would contend for the honors. Similar leagues are now being conducted at leading universities as Stanford, Berkeley, and Southern California and have proved to be very successful.

FIRST ISSUE OF AG. CLUB NEWS APPEARS

Miss Edna Wyatt First Freshie To Get Weekly Book Offered For Best News Article

In a cleverly written article, "U. A. C. Two Miss Edna Wyatt, a Freshman, showed her superiority as a new-finder over all other contributors to this week's "New for News" contest. The subject of Miss Wyatt's article have been at school ever since the beginning of the fall quarter, but it remained for the "new nose" of a Freshman of the fair sex to find out some interesting things about them for Student Life. This is a high honor for Miss Wyatt. It being the first time a representative of her class has won the weekly prize. Every class has now been represented in "New for News" and we are afraid that some of them are resting on their laurels. The Sophomores are no longer so sure of the Fresh, which disqualifies them for very likely disturb their sleep. The upper classes will also have to exert and labor during the winter quarter as it was during the fall quarter.

Mr. Wyatt will receive her prize book in Student Life meeting today.

Relative Proficiency of R. O. T. C. Platoons Determined

At the final drill period of the Fall Quarter an inspection was made by Lieut. M. E. Wilson with a view of determining the relative proficiency of each platoon in regard to the degree of uniform and equipment. The inspection was conducted on a departmental basis and the following are the results:

- 1st Co. B. 1st Platoon.
- 2nd Co. C. 1st Platoon.
- 3rd Co. C. 2nd Platoon.
- 4th Co. A. 2nd Platoon.
- 5th Co. C. 1st Platoon.
- 6th Co. B. 1st Platoon.

Former Aggie Professor Accorded Honor By The American Chem. Society

C. C. Davis, former instructor in chemistry at the college has been elected chairman of the New York section of the American Chemical Society for 1924, according to a report of the officer of Student Life. Mr. Davis, who is now at the University of California, was recently appointed chief of the United States office of chemical research. Davis is a chemist of the National Bureau of Chemicals.

The newly-elected president is a member of the Utah Agricultural College faculty for several years. He left the college in 1915 to accept the position of chief chemist of the National Bureau of Chemicals.

DR. W. L. WANLESS SPEAKS TO KIWANS

Dr. W. L. Wanless, dean of the school of commerce and business administration, addressed the Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles at the annual meeting of the club on Monday evening. Dr. Wanless spoke on the subject of "The Business Outlook for 1924." The business outlook for 1924 is good according to Dr. Wanless, who gave a forecast of business conditions for the next year, stating that the country is optimistic which prevails is indicative of an era of better business conditions. Purchasing power is increasing and production is increasing. The outlook is good for the next year and a period of stimulated production is coming, according to Dr. Wanless.

Fourth Annual School Will Be Held February 1 To 7 Inclusive

The fourth annual "Student School" will be held at the college, from February 1 to 7, inclusive, it is announced by Dr. George R. Hill, dean of the School of Agriculture at the college and chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The course of study will be intensive and will cover all phases of teaching. Those taking the course will be issued on the pedagogical side as far as possible. Clubs and bands for eight years will be furnished for the college. Literature should be made early for these, says Dr. Hill. Three meals a day will be served by the college cafeteria at cost.

In addition to sixteen members of the faculty of the Utah Agricultural College will give lectures and conduct demonstrations, the following special faculty has been secured: Dr. George R. Hill, Dean of the School of Agriculture, Boy Scouts of America; Lorne W. Bly, Jr., University of California; Charles N. Miller, Los Angeles; Richard Scott, Los Angeles; and Charles Weidner, Desert Gymnasium, Salt Lake City.

Mr. Weidner will give the official Red Cross speech on the subject of "The Red Cross in the World." Speaking officials from Salt Lake City, Ogden and Logan will also appear at the program.

In commenting upon the school, Dr. Hill said: "This course is designed to help boys and girls, particularly those living in rural communities, to become more intelligent, clean citizens. The training of our youth into a dependable, intelligent, clean citizenry. Men are doing the splendid work of our unpaid volunteers. It is suggested that where possible communities bear the expense of the men in attending the Desert Military School."

First Girl To Register At The College Dead- Mother of Instructor

Mrs. V. B. Fobberg, Mother of Present Instructor and Former Girl at Enter U. A. C. Dies Following Illness

Mrs. Wendell Fobberg, Fobberg, the first girl to register at the Utah Agricultural College, and the mother of Miss Tina Fobberg, present instructor in the business department at the college, died at the age of 47 years last week at the age of 47 years.

More than thirty years ago when the institution was a small school, Mrs. Fobberg, who later became the wife of Wilhelm Fobberg, a well known manufacturer of shoes at that time, was a scholar at the college which at that time gave considerable work of high grade. Mrs. Fobberg was herself prominent in music circles both at the college during her schooling and in Logan after the completion of her work at the college.

She is survived by her husband, Dr. Fobberg, who is now at the Brigham Young college, her son, Neptune Fobberg, and Miss Tina Fobberg, present instructor at the U. A. C.

SOCCER STARS WANT TO GO TO COLLEGE

Group of Warblers Not Selected Yet—"All At Sea" Is Chosen For This Year's Opera

Prof. C. R. Johnson has been busy engaged in his annual task of trying out contestants for the College Glee Club last week and expects to know definitely by the afternoon who have been selected.

Fifty men are trying out this year and Prof. C. R. Johnson states that he is having a difficult time in choosing the twenty four men most capable of a position on the club. The Glee Club year has not as yet been decided upon but will be shortly after the men have been chosen for the opera.

OPERA SELECTED "All at Sea" by Gilbert and Sullivan is the name of the College Opera which was selected and will be conducted by Prof. C. R. Johnson. This opera has been taken from five great operas written by the famous composers which are: Hilarious, Iolanthe, Pirates, Pirates of Penzance and Mlada.

The chorus work was started last week and forty members will be chosen shortly. The principal players have not been chosen as yet. In all there should be sixty or seventy singers.

Prof. Braithwaite Praised By S. D. Engraving Bureau

The following clipping from a South Dakota paper, indicates the success which is attending Prof. Braithwaite's work as a teacher in the art department at the college. "A letter has been received from the Bureau of Engraving at Minneapolis which has the contract for 1924 to produce four booklets for the school in which Mr. Braithwaite is teaching in which drawings sent in for the Pacific are warmly praised. The letter states that the drawings are the best that have been sent to this company from any college and should prove a foundation for a beautiful book."

"This work was done by the art department of the Normal under the direction of Mr. Braithwaite, head of the department. This is the best that the art department of the school in which any art work has been done for the school year book."

"Nose For News" U. A. C. TWINS

This is an act of twins for the U. A. C. When the weather man or some one guy published an article in the World's Almanac for nineteen hundred and twenty-three and declared that the next few years would be "years for twins," we didn't believe it. Quite recently, however, we have more twin attending the U. A. C. this year than ever before. Four pairs of twins are now attending the U. A. C. and two are well-established seniors. They are Milton and Alvin, and Alvin and Alvin, and Alvin and Alvin. It says that it is fun to be twins but she wishes they looked more alike.

The best pair belongs to the enterprising and booming freshman class. These two are girls and reside out of the little town. My friend Mrs. Hines has a fine pair of twins. She christened them Patrick and Paul. And none but their mother knows one from the other. Because they're identical, I was asked her to tell how she knew them so well. She said, "There's no secret in that. I just stick my finger in Mike's little mouth."

And I know if he bites me it's not that. Those girls are Milton and Anna. Anna says it's no fun when her father mistakes Anna for her. The fourth pair of twins has been chosen. (Continued on page four)

GLEE CLUB COMPLETED

Two Programs To Be Presented By KANSAS ORCHESTRA

The Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra, which will be the fifth Logan Lyceum number of the school year will give two programs at the Logan Tabernacle January 28.

The first program will be given in the afternoon as a "Children's Music Appreciation Program." Students of the high schools and grade schools are especially invited to attend this program. Twenty-five cents for students will be charged in the afternoon and fifty cents for adults. In the evening a more extensive program will be held for the senior high school and college students as well as the general public.

In order to insure the amount of money guaranteed by the association to maintain this wonderful orchestra, 25c and 50c will be charged students and 75c and 1.00 for adults.

This orchestra recently played in Salt Lake City, where it has been commended as being the best orchestra in the state in its class and also to have been in the city for twenty five years.

Erwin Harris Elected Track Manager By Executive Committee

Erwin C. Harris was appointed track manager for the coming season by the executive committee in their weekly meeting held last Saturday. Track basketball was previously held by Lawrence Carter, who due to his ill-health returned to school. It was necessary to choose another appointment and Harris, received the honor.

Mr. Harris' matter taken up was a motion passed to the effect that the U. A. C. would receive the "Red Cross" medals for the college. The committee also passed a motion to appoint Secretary John Coburn, P. J. Wilson, Treasurer, and student social manager, Miss Hines.

Dairy Short Course Program Is Issued

Making and Marketing of Cheese And Butter Will Be Demonstrated. Lectures On Program

The program for the dairy short course to be given by the dairy department of the College from January 21 to 30, inclusive, has been issued and is now ready for distribution.

The program lists a complete course in cheese and butter making, for cheese-makers and dairymen, and for a buttermakers' school. Each list of courses covers practical demonstrations, discussions and lectures on the dairy manufacturer's business and on subjects closely related, such as advertising and marketing of dairy products.

The work will be under the direct supervision of George B. Cole, Professor of dairy husbandry; and Gustav Wilsner, professor of dairy management, both of whom are well known. With them, will be associated the following: Dr. George R. Hill, Dean (Continued on page three)

DEBATES LAST OF PREPARATIONS

Tryouts For Interstate Teams Will Be Held Today—Council And Debaters In Trim

Detailed preparation is being made by the word artists of the school who are preparing to once more bring the state debating title to the U. A. C. Dr. W. L. Wanless, who is head of the debating team, assures us that nothing will be lacking and each man on the team will be in first class mental shape when they travel to Provo to meet the "U" January 25th and return to Salt Lake to meet the "U" January 26th.

Professor Vickers is leading the affirmative team and if work either by him or the team will defeat the "U" "U" in the Logan, victory will be ours. "Work first and sleep second," is the motto carried by our debaters and they are sustaining everything to uphold the standards of our school in the coming meet.

Aspirants for birth on the Interstate debating team will arrive in Logan 2:30 this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The question at issue is "Resolved that the United States should enter the world court under provisions of the League of Nations."

Many new men are out to win as well as the few experienced debaters. Erwin Harris, who has had several years experience will try and also will Carl Frankham, an old Aggie debater. Weston Vernon, because of other work, will not try out. The business interest is not so great as it was in the past to the fact that we are to meet the University of Southern California, the University of Wisconsin, the Michigan Agricultural College and the Michigan Agricultural College all in Logan. Another contemplated debate is one which will take our title to some California school.

The crowd will be for those who are holding a place on either of the state teams as the council will decide the final result. The debaters will be showing the make before the council in preparing for the state meet.

ADOLF STERNER SPEAKS

Salt Lake Man Gives Chap Address-World Is Unit Is Theme

This humanity is a unit, and that the hope of the world, lies in the universal realization of this fact, was the message of Adolf Stern, a German, who is now a member of the Utah Agricultural College staff Monday.

The speaker presented his message in the form of a statement that judges by the headlines to be found in the press today, one would not judge that there is any small world any more mankind. He declared, however that to truly appreciate this world as a human mosaic, we must look more on the side of the spiritual and eternal. Men are essentially a unit and the realization of this fact, they are most completely a unit in the most spiritual aspirations.

"Whether you are a Jew, a Mohammedan, a Jew, a Catholic or a Mormon, every individual is essentially like every other individual in his aspirations for righteousness and his desire to place himself into harmony with a higher power," said Adolf Stern. "It is at such times that a unified seeking after God."

The speaker emphasized his remarks by a time to time with humorous anecdotes that kept his audience in a joyful mood. He emphasized the importance of righteousness and a belief in deeds and not in riches. He declared that it matters little in what church one worships so long as he honestly tries to do out and live a righteous life.

Before the address, the College Orchestra, "The Heavenly are Telling the Story of God."

Volume XXII

Number 14

We believe that a policy devoid of factionalism should govern the administration of student body affairs.
We believe that it is the right of the student body to know every procedure of its officers and executive bodies in the exercise of their official duties.
We believe that if the executive committee cannot decide, by use of the ballot, who should occupy student body offices, the decision should rest with the student body.

EVAADING THE ISSUE

Although evading the issue and attempting to introduce an undesirable personal element into the question, the executive committee has seen fit to follow last week's editorial concerning the method of selecting student body officers in case of a tie, with a letter which appears in another part of Student Life.

Let it be understood that Student Life is not seeking additional representation on the executive committee. The relationship between Student Life and the executive committee is defined in Section 4, Clause 3 of the Student Body Constitution where it says: "It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep and preserve an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the organization and the executive committee and to report the proceedings of the executive committee each week through Student Life." Incidentally, Student Life has failed to receive any such reports, and has had to send reporters to various members of the committee to find out the doings of the committee, thereby resulting in some confusion and a few mistakes of a rather serious nature. Hereafter, however, we hope to receive these reports, thus providing due publicity to the affairs of the student body as handled by the executive committee. This is all Student Life desires. The suggestion of the executive committee, therefore, is out of order and throws an unwholesome personal light on the affair.

Regarding the not infrequently, whether or not student body officers shall, in the future, be selected by drawing a name out of a hat, the committee is still silent. No explanation, justification, or definition of future policy is yet forthcoming. While Student Life does not wish to appear unduly antagonistic, neither we nor the student body should be identified with an executive committee which is merely a hollow form of representation, undesirable and unsound.

The executive committee may satisfy itself by evading the issue, but the student body has not been satisfied as to the real question, "Are student body officers going to be selected in this manner?"

ENGAGE IN ACTIVITIES

Very few students in the College are doing all of the work that it is possible for them to do. Such a statement should cause a furor of denial in light of the well known statements of college students regarding their untiring activity. The fact was brought home forcibly by a former student of the College on the completion of his collegiate career. He said that time spent uselessly was a very significant proportion of his statement. This student had been prominent as a scholar, was an able debater and athlete and did a large amount of remunerative work aside from school activities. We agree that this student was fair in his analysis of his college life.

If such active students have spare time it is undoubtedly true that the majority of us have an even larger amount of leisure. Students can very efficiently spend their leisure time in college activities. Every activity offers enjoyment, satisfaction and development to successful aspirants. There is an excellent opportunity in this institution for participation in a wide variety of activities. The problem of these activities at our College is to encourage more students to try out in various departments. The standard of our collegiate competition could be materially enhanced by the inauguration of such a system.

A number of oratorical contests will be held in the near future. Tryouts for the class debates will come very shortly. If you want to make the track team begin training now. Every student has the time and unlimited opportunities.

Aim to engage in at least one college activity.

Women's Pan Hellenic Ball Is Scheduled For January 18

Mrs. H. H. Hordley Chadwick announced that the women's Pan Hellenic ball is being held last Friday the 18th of January at the University Hotel. The decorations will be changed for the annual Women's Pan Hellenic ball. Mrs. H. H. Hordley Chadwick will be held January 18, at 8:30 in the Smart Gymnasium.

The decorations will consist of balloons hung from a dropped ceiling and the different society insignia will be artistically arranged. According to precedent and the law of probability, dates made for the Women's Pan-Hellenic Ball will be extended to the first of the month and the men's ball will be held on the 19th. In making dates for their annual social the failure of which would necessarily cause cancellation by the faculty.

Committee's are: Decoration: H. H. Hordley Chadwick, Edna Hatch, Lucille May, Claudia Pink. Programs and Refreshments: Josephine Harshman, George Benson.

AN ESSAY CONTEST AMONG COLLEGES IS BEING STAGED

Prizes of $100, $75, and $50, Offered For 3 Best Essays On "Why the U. S. Should Join The League of Nations"

The growing interest among students of American colleges and colleges in the League of Nations and the World Court, has prompted the College Union of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association to conduct an essay contest, with prizes of $100, and $50, each to students who desire to compete for them.

The contest is announced by Corliss Lamont, who, as chairman of the Committee of University and College Students of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, is in charge of the organization of branches of the Association in universities and colleges. Mr. Lamont writes that over eight universities and colleges have already been organized.

The subject of the essay is to be "Why the United States Should Join the League of Nations." Total number of words submitted by the contestant must not exceed three thousand. Only one essay may be submitted by any student. Manuscripts must be typewritten and only on one side of the paper, and must not be rolled. No marks or initials should therefore be included by the sender.

All manuscripts must be received at the office of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, 15 West 27th Street, New York City, by 12 o'clock noon, March 1st, 1924. The submission of any manuscript whether or not it receives an award shall give to the Association full rights to publish any part or all of it in such manner and at such times as it may choose.

COMMUNICATION

JANUARY 14, 1924.
MR. WESTON VERNON, JR., Editor of Student Life, C. Campus.

Dear Sir: I have been authorized by the Student Body Executive Committee to extend to you, as Editor of Student Life, an invitation to attend the meetings of the Executive Committee. The committee extends this invitation in order that you may get a more intimate knowledge of the committee and the affairs of Student Body, and that a greater spirit of harmony may exist between the committee and Student Life.

In view of the fact that invitations to you have not been accepted in the past, the committee asks that this letter be published in Student Life.

Yours truly,
JOHN S. LOGAN, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

An interesting version of Rudyard Kipling's "We Two Male" written by Irene Peterson, student in English at the college and instructor in the South Cache High School at Hyrum, Utah, has been printed in The Century Book of Selections, just issued by the Century Company for use in college and university.

The Century Book of Selections was arranged by Garland Gardner, professor of English at the Utah Agricultural College last year, and Joseph M. Bachelor.

Miss Peterson's version of "We Two Male" is printed in parallel form with the original. In it, "We Two Male" tells the story behind the story is told in dialect. Professor Gardner has this to say concerning it:

"The writing of the dialect always presents a difficult problem. If the attempt is made to represent the words exactly as they sound, they will likely be read with difficulty, and will certainly, if continued at any length, produce monotony. Some writers merely suggest the dialect; then let the reader supply it for himself. Of course this leads to inconsistency in spelling. It will be noted that Kipling is not absolutely consistent, and Miss Peterson, who is telling the story from the child's viewpoint, has introduced greater inconsistency. Since the value of the selection consists in its being a student's unaided production, it has not been edited in any way."

REALLY NOW

Really now, Girls, Isn't it Awful, To be Watching A woman With him, And have Him say "How beautiful!" And then I find that He's really Looking at THE SUNSET?

Harold (at 2 a. m.)—Really, I must be a girl.

Ruth—"Well, I've thought so long at least the last two hours."

MY BRAIN IS DEAD

Tell me not of dear professors That my grade is but a "D" Keep the record in your dresser: And don't spring the truth on me.

Many hours have I pondered O'er such stuff as Math and Chem For into the night I've wondered If such books were meant for men.

Full of Zoo I cram my mental Full of A I also cram, Then the Prof. serene and gentle Plunks me in the first cram.

I would my brain were made of plaster (That might help to turn the trick) Then the dope spoke by the Master Would hit against my dome and stick—Er.

Narcott Smith.

EMPIREAN CLUB

The Empirean Club met Thursday, January 10th at the home of Mrs. Nettie Lamb, 47 South 2nd West. The subject "What should be the attitude of the American government towards Russia" was discussed during the evening.

It was decided that instead of taking up formal debating as the club had previously decided to do, that it would confine itself to informal discussions on some subject of current interest as has been the custom of the club.

We wish to remind all members of the club that the by-laws that two consecutive chances, unexcused by the club, automatically drops one from membership. It was decided to hold very frequently to this rule, in order to keep the club active and make it worth while, as it could not be if it were made up of listless and non-active members.
