BLUE WARRIORS LEAVE FOR TEN DAYS' TOUR OF COLORADO

ORGANIZATION AND LEADERSHIP WILL BE TAUGHT RURAL WOMEN

Fifteen Counties to have Representatives at Latest Innovation of Extension Service.

New School Will Be First of Kind In U. S.

From November 4th to November 15th inclusive, a leadership and organization school for rural women will be conducted at the College. The number of participants will be limited to four from each county, one to study clothing, one home management, one foods, and one organization. From fifteen to twenty counties will be represented at the least.

The school is an innovation of the Extension Service and according to Mrs. Mayhew, state home demonstration leader, is an entirely new thing in the country. For the first time every senior extension worker will be carried on in such the same manner this Junior high work year. The school will be held at the College for ten days intensive training.

This year's instruction will be supplemented by instruction to be given in the next three years in similar schools. At the end of four years study at these special schools the leaders will be given certificates. For this reason the same women will be asked to return year after year until they receive their certificates. The women representatives to the school from the counties in most cases will have their fares paid to and from the College by either the county, Farm Bureau, the local Relief Society, or some community social club. The College will furnish free instruction and free housing to the delegates.

Most of the instruction will be given in the livestock building, but the classes in foods will be held in the Home Economics building. The daily program will take up from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. There will be two hours in the morning given to project work, two in the afternoon given to the same work, and two hours in the afternoon given to work in organization. All of the instruction given in these sessions will be supplemented by motion pictures and slides.

From 4:30 to 5:30 each afternoon demonstrations will be given. The girls who were at the state fair will give their demonstration. Mr. Mark of the poultry department will give a demonstration of poultry slaughter and picking. Emil Hansen will give a demonstration in flower judging.

The following members of the real estate faculty are on the regular program: Henry Peterson, Mrs. Brown, Dr. J. E. Groves, who will speak on "Infection," Dr. F. J. Duck, who will speak on "The Horse Fly," Prof. Carter, who will speak on "Milk."

On the Sunday of the women's stay the Phi Upsilon Omicron girls will cook a special breakfast for them. Mr. Owen of the Experiment Station staff will conduct them to church, then in the afternoon they will have dinner at the Bleibred. At all other times they will eat at the College Cafeteria.

Evaluations will be open for entertainment. The last evening will be stunt evening, when the groups, selected on the first day, will present their stunts.

The Experiment Station and Extension service staffs are in charge of the school. The Utah State Farm Bureau has sent out circular letters, and has sent a sufficient number of prospective leaders have signified their intention to be on hand, when the school starts, that the school's success is almost assured.

C. F. Aled Not Coming

Dr. C. F. Aled of Los Angeles who was to be the speaker in chapel services next Tuesday will be unable to fill this or any other immediate engagements on account of illness.

Reception Today For All Girls of College

The Faculty League of the Utah Agricultural College invites all the girls of the college to reception to be held today from 3 to 6 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Fredrick P. Champ, 191 E. 1st North. Members of the League are hopeful that every girl in the College will accept the invitation.

EMIL HANSEN DIRECTS UTAH LANDSCAPING

Beautifying Bee Hive State is Project.

"Utahs being systematically landscaped in accordance with a well defined plan and under the direction of a skilled landscape gardener. Sixteen of her twenty-nine counties already have their improvement projects well advanced. The remaining thirteen will undertake similar projects as soon as the supervising gardener, Emil Hansen, Landscape Specialist, with the Extension Service of the Utah Agricultural College, can find time to effect the necessary organization of forces in these counties."

To carry on this momentous project, Mr. Hansen's plan of organization, in brief, is this: from each community (that is, city or town) within the State, representatives will be appointed—the number of representatives varying with the size of the community. For instance, in a small community of one ward, approximately 10 representatives will be appointed, while in a larger sector of two wards or more, the committee will be proportionately larger.

Each committee then elects a chairman, and it is with this chairman that Hansen makes all of his arrangements for community improvement work.

When a certain community, in attempting an improvement of its civic grounds, strikes a problem (Continued on Page Two)

PETER NELSON LAUDS MID-WEST COLLEGES

Grad of '20 at Urbana.

The following was copied from a letter from Peter Nelson, graduate of the institution 1920, and during the last few years has been in charge of the Experiment Farm No. 1, and is at present attending school at Urbana, Ill.

"I watched the football game with Iowa State College yesterday. The score was 15 to 6 in our favor, so you see the teams were well matched. 'Red Grange' was there, as a homecoming visitor."

"The game, however, was not the only thing that attracted me. The spirit seemed genuine on both sides. There was not a single act on the part of the players that could be interpreted as dirty. The playing was fast, very fast, but no one was hurt. Another thing, Iowa had a band of 65 pieces to help their roots; Illinois had one of 150 pieces. These bands were not made up of all saxophones either, by the way. They were proportioned about as most good music think a band should be with about one third or more of woodwind instruments. Between halves the bands took turns in performing various interesting drills and other stunts on the field to keep the crowd interested."

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

Owen, Holmgreen and Pond Get Most Votes.

After some misunderstanding among the judges in chapel last Monday, as to the system to be used in voting Freshman students, numbering ninety-six, met and quickly indicated who their popular nominees were. An official count of the votes gave the presidency to Ezra Owen by a two-thirds majority. There being only two nominees for the vice-presidency the voting for this position ran neck and neck to the last: DeSta Holmgreen won by a scant four-vote margin over Lucille Blair, her only rival. Voting for the position of secretary and treasurer took much the same trend as that for the presidency; Alma Pond proved to be the favorite for this office by another two-thirds majority vote.

It is regrettable that such a small freshman vote of this year's Freshman class was present in the voting. Ninety-six votes out of a class of approximately 350 students is certainly not a commendable showing, although in view of past years' elections this small turnout was all that could be expected.

Tabulated results of the election are:

For the Presidency	Votes
Ezra Owen	64
Morgan	32
Doty	11
For the Vice-Presidency	Votes
DeSta Holmgreen	50
Lucille Blair	46
For Secretary and Treasurer	Votes
Alma Pond	57
Jack Wyant	39
Paul Larson	23
Judges—Freshmen—Leon Halverson, Mary West, Elizabeth Layton, Ann West. Appointed by the student body—Frank Christensen, Sterling Reese, Louise Shepard, Polly Rich.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA HOLDS ELECTION

Skanchy President.

The members of Tau Kappa Alpha debating fraternity held their first meeting Wednesday for the purpose of organizing for the coming year. Leland Skanchy was elected President for this year, Miss Norma Hansen, vice-president, and Dr. F. D. Dalnes, secretary and treasurer, were elected last spring to their respective offices.

Members of the organization expressed a desire to act as judges for the county high schools in their respective offices. Taking charge of oratorical contests and debates, are included in the year's program.

Tau Kappa Alpha is a national debating fraternity organized to promote an interest in forensics, and to make oratory a prominent activity in colleges and universities. Membership in the fraternity is gained after two years of inter-collegiate debating or after two years' participation in both intra and inter-state debating. The winning of an oratorical contest is considered the equivalent of one year's debating.

Members present suggested two questions for state debates. These were the much discussed athletic question, which has risen to prominence because of its rapidly gaining popularity in colleges, and the prohibition question. The personnel of Tau Kappa Alpha consists of Dr. F. D. Dalnes, Dr. N. A. Pedersen, Dr. F. J. Duck, Attorney Ana Bullen, Gordon Wright, Leland Skanchy, Owen Roush and Norma Hansen.

PARENTS' DAY NOVEMBER THIS YEAR

Armistice Day Program In Conjunction

Invitations Sent Out

The Father and Mother of every U. A. C. student will be the guests of the college and of their sons and daughters at the second annual Parents' Day, to be held this year, on November 11. The parents will be given a chance to share in the typical, everyday activities of the school. It is expected that such a close contact with the actual life of the institution will do much to develop a sympathetic relationship between the college and the parents of the students who are here.

With this in mind, then, committees have planned a program which will present the several phases of school life to its visitors.

Classes will be visited. A special assembly will be held, a football game between the Utah Aggies and the Colorado State Teachers College will take place in the afternoon. All of these features, and others, will help to make this day a memorable one to the parent visitors.

The following is the program as given by the committee in charge:

From 8 to 11 parents will register at booths provided for this purpose in the main hall and will visit classes with their children. Parents, boys and instructors will meet them and explain the work of their own particular department.

At 11 the guests and the student body will gather in the assembly hall for an Armistice Day program consisting of the reading of the Logan Post of the American Legion, will be given.

The President's reception for the visiting parents and their children at school will begin at 1:00 p. m. and last till 2:15 and will be held at the President's home, on the campus.

Immediately after the reception at 2:30, the Utah Aggie football team will meet the team of Western State Teachers College, on Adams field. Admission will be charged parents this year for the game.

At 6:30 p. m. the Parent-Faculty dinner will be given in the Hotel Reeler. There will be an interesting program of addresses and music.

As a fitting consummation to the day's activities, a special carnival dance will be held at night in the Logan Danseur.

CADET BATTALION TO ELECT SPONSORS

22 Pretty Co-eds to Get Places

Preparations for battalion, battery, and platoon sponsor elections were started last Tuesday in the college military department. A committee consisting of these cadets from each of the six platoons was appointed to submit six lists, each having the names of eight or nine, freshmen or sophomore girls.

From these lists three girls will be elected to represent as sponsors each of the respective platoons.

These eighteen platoon sponsors will be elected, three for each of the six platoons in the battalion. In addition to these, four girls will be elected to the positions of battery and battalion sponsors.

Second Free Matinee Dance Held Yesterday

The Student Body celebrated with another free matinee yesterday afternoon in the gym.

Peep and enthusiasm were much evident, despite the vicious rush season, just ended. Probably the pep was a left over from the rally at noon. Anyway every body had their share of fun. Benny Lewis' Rhythm Rhymes played the dance music.

A. W. S. VAUDEVILLE TO SUPPLANT ALL CLIQUE FUNCTIONS

All Talented in College to Be Considered.

Things aren't just as they used to be, and that isn't all either, they are going to be even more different. Time was when the Honor System was scoffed at, when the fellows laughed at the Big Sister movement, when the idea of an A. W. S. hall was enjoyable but joking, but all have made a permanent place, and the girls have proved themselves to be as much as they thought they were.

Now they're going to prove to be as much as they think they ARE. Other years, our college life has been a series of clique activities. They were successfully done and the Student Body enjoyed them, but so much talent, existing in the whole school was never discovered. That envies jealousies, and over-competition resulted.

Belong far-seeing and steadfast despite the jeers and past laughs they have received, the A. W. S. is beginning something else. They are going to add a vaudeville to the bigger things at the U. A. C. This vaudeville will take in all the talent in the school and replace smaller organizations: special stunts, and make past affairs stand amazed at its splendor.

Dr. N. Alvin Peterson is chairman of the whole activity. Nothing need be said about him or his ability, since all Aggies know "N. A." in the main hall and will visit classes with their children. Parents, boys and instructors will meet them and explain the work of their own particular department.

BEAUX ART GUILD BEGINS SEASON

Canyon Party Enjoyed.

The Beaux Art Guild started off their activities with a bang last Wednesday night by holding a bonfire party up in Logan canyon.

About thirty were present, most of whom are active members. Miss Norma Hansen played several selections on her steel guitar while Lloyd Peterson rigged up his radio. Other musical numbers were some vocal solos by Harry Reynolds including "O Sole Mio."

Refreshments including hot dogs, coffee, marshmallows, ice cream and apples were served. The interference had with the radio was the howling of owls, but this was soon disposed of by Harry Rogers' interpretation of the Greek tongue.

Later in the evening the multitude's attention was attracted by the splashing of water, or closer investigation we found that two of the smallest girls had tossed Harry Reynolds into the river.

A midnight hike was taken up the Crinson Trail, led by Prof. Fletcher and Prof. Feldman. Dick Reese was chosen to pick up the stray ones along the trail.

The purpose of the Beaux Art Guild is to encourage work in Art. Lectures and programs will be given by the instructors during each quarter.

Keep your eyes and ears open for the announcement of the first exhibit to be given some time this quarter.

New Class Dropping Rule To Obviate Flunk Evasion

The faculty wishes to announce that at a meeting held September 24, 1926, the following rule was passed: "Students shall not be permitted to drop classes after the end of the first six weeks of each term." Classes may still be added after the end of the first six weeks, but only with the consent of instructor in charge. It is intended that the rule will obviate last minute dodging of deserved flunks.

SCHOOL PLAY CAST HARD AT WORK

Rehearsals Nightly.

"The Goose Hangs High" and the rehearsals have become an established series. Each night at 7:30 the cast is busy preparing to hang that "Goose" to the "High-est" of dramatic perfection.

The thirteen Aggies in the play are showing a healthy interest as well as an unusual amount of ability.

The play itself is particularly adaptable for college production, of incidents that might happen to any one in a family. The acting is good, and the holiday season, making Mr. Myers plan for producing it before Christmas a distinctly timely.

"A" RAMBLERS MAKE MT. MAGOG CLIMB

2 Women Show Mettle.

Thirty-two Aggies declared the Ramblers trip to Mt. Magog, last Saturday to be the most successful and enjoyable hike ever planned at this school. Twenty sons and daughters of the Blue and White became members of the club by reaching an altitude of 9000 feet. The remaining twelve qualified last year.

At eight o'clock the track arrived at Tony Grove ranger station. A little before noon, the first snow, reached the summit of Mt. Magog. Others arrived at intervals during the next three hours.

The descent to White Pine lake was the most exciting part of the trip and included climbing over two 7000 foot cliffs. It was a real test of nerve and required about two and a half hours of steady plodding.

The climax of the day's activity came when the Aggie crows were raised on the back of a porcupine to the top of the highest tree in sight. To recover the blue and white animal was brought down by force, and the track and all concerned returned O. K.

Tomorrow's hike will be to Mt. Logan. Let's go, everybody.

Hansen Visits B. A. C.

Emil Hansen, landscape gardener of the Utah Agricultural College, was a guest of the Branch Agricultural college Tuesday.

After looking over the grounds and inspecting the improvements recently made Mr. Hansen attended chapel, where he talked to the students.

Following the chapel exercises Mr. Hansen spent the remainder of his time working out improvements for the college campus.

DENVER GAME

Yesterday afternoon at twelve, the entire student body united in cheering the Blue Aggie huskies off on their ten day's trip to Colorado. Profuse cheering featured a brief program in the chapel after which the group of nearly a thousand formed a snake dance on the quadrangle where the team was working out before grabbing the Pullman for the East.

Announcement was made, definitely that the Grid-graph will be able to function at about 2:15 Saturday afternoon, in the Logan High Auditorium. The actual expense for the trip will be charged, 10 cents to students, 25 cents to others.

After holding the speedy Wyoming Cowboys to a 6-6 tie, last week at Laramie, Coach E. Lowell Romney's Utah Aggie gridder, left Thursday afternoon for Denver, Colorado, where they are billed to lock horns with Coach Fred Dawson's powerful Denver U. charged to what will be one of the crucial tilts of the season for both sides. Out of three starts the Utah Farmers have won one and tied two, and therefore they still have a percentage of 1.66, while the Denver Parsons have grabbed three tussles and lost one, giving them a standing of 750. A defeat for either team will eliminate it as a serious contender for conference honors, and on the other hand a victory will give it a good chance to finish well up in the first division.

The Aggie gridder will be gone on the present trip for about a week's time, as they are scheduled to play two games in Colorado during that period. On October 30 they will meet Denver in the Denver stadium and November 5 the Colorado Aggies will be met at Fort Collins. Both of these games away from home will be exceptionally hard on the Farmers, chosen as Denver and Colorado Aggies have tough aggregations to put against the Logans. After the Colorado Aggie game Coach Romney and his warriors will return to Logan, where they will meet Western States Teachers on November 11 and later Utah at Salt Lake, on November 25.

The American Legion Fife and Drum Corps accompanied the team to Denver, where they will parade the streets advertising the big game and give an exhibition drill on the football field during the 15 minute period at its half. Trip in 21 hours, leaving Logan Thursday afternoon. They plan to return immediately following the Denver tilt. The presence of the Legion organization will undoubtedly stimulate a great deal of love and spirit in the Utah grid machine.

The Aggies will find the going pretty tough against Denver as Dawson's team is generally rated, even now, practically as strong as the Colorado Aggie, even though the latter beat them by a lone point. The blowers feature a powerful attack, centered around their great running star, Al Panek. They also have a couple of other speedy backs, but Mildexter and Jones are Dawson's team's secondary.

GRIFFIN OF SCHOOL BOARD RUNS FOR SENATOR

John E. Griffin, who has been for two years a member of the U. A. C. Board of Trustees, has been selected as Democratic candidate for State Senator. He is from Newton, in Cache Valley, and is an alumnus of the B. Y. C. and of the University of Utah.

The Phi Kappa Phi fraternity announced the pledging of the following: Alvin Johnson, Orla Marker, Carl Madison, Theodore Maden, Loyd Hall, Erna Owen, Carl Sheffield, Arthur Wintergreen, Glen Clark, George Juday, Wendell Phillips, Richard Stratford, Elvin Evans, Theodor Hickman, C. P. Melton, L. Grande Wilson and Orville Hussak.

A few loyal Aggies decided to see the game at Laramie last Saturday, so they started out with their packs on their backs. Friday evening they were guests of the county sheriff at Lockington, Wyoming. Due to the hospitality of the sheriff they were forced to forego the pleasure of seeing the game. Oh! those loyal Aggies.

Logan to Get Trophies

Logan city has just been informed that it will receive, in addition to a 75 millimeter gun which arrived a short time ago, a number of other war trophies from the war department.

These additional trophies consist of eight Mauser rifles of the 1898 model with bayonets, two saw-toothed bayonets, a case of cartridges for a 150 millimeter howitzer, fifteen "Gott Mit Uns" belt buckles, an eagle helmet, a machine gun and some other small articles.

"Why men prefer blondes" may be answered by the fact that few are frequent visitors to the beauty parlors. One girl out of ten going to the parlors is a blonde and their overhead expense is much less than that of the brunettes.

The style of bobbed hair is not going out, at least among the coeds, who still answer to the call of "next". The results show that as many are cutting their hair as did last year.

The Ivory Tower

What is a student life without a telephone. Traffic becomes so congested during the day in this region that all officers are required to dismount, dismount and pass out checks for the telephone. It looks more like a brokers office or a stock exchange than a newspaper office. Yes it is also used for a clothes closet, army warehouse, rushing parlor and many other things.

Say, you ought to come down and see the Grid-graph work. Last Saturday the audience became as excited as if it were in the slides.

What price glory? Five enthusiastic Aggies became vagrants last week in order that they might see a big football game in the whereabouts of Wyoming. Evidently their appearance was such that gave away their identification and a prevalent officer at Rock Springs gave them tickets looking in that city. The next morning, still 300 miles from the scene of battle, gloomy and discouraged knowing they could not reach their destination in time except by air route—but it has no blimps—they boarded a slow moving freight homeward. Sir Transh Gloria Mandi.

The percentage column is a remarkable thing sometimes. It is giving us a fair deal in the Rocky Mountain Conference this year. We have essayed three games, won one, and still maintain a percentage of 1000. Now if the "Whipnet" had neglected negotiating the goal in order our percentage would be naught.

Thoughts while strolling: Up at seven. Look for tomorrow. Buggy at the knees. Style requires no pressing. Grab at an egg and eat on road to school. Wonder when car parts will be worn. Arrive at school on date. See conspicuous buttons on students lapels. Maybe Simon and Snow hired them for publicity. That yesterday was Fred bid day. Pledge buttons and not campaign material. Go to class and stay awake. Watched girl beside me. Away from school at five and home to prepare for the next day. Not much variety for me.

"Dead men tell no tales!" The old proverbial saying still has a place in student governmental affairs at the college. The executive council at the first of the year invited an editor from Student Life to attend its meetings. This was done for a couple of meetings until upon second thought the committee revealed the fact that possibly their free speech would be obstructed by its publication. This attitude is that it is all right to say the wrong thing or support a thing as long as the students who put them there know nothing about it.

Well, we don't get to executive meeting any more. This makes it possible for the President and his friends to talk freely and courageously behind closed doors.

The long heralded bus service is all apple sauce as far as most of its college customers are concerned. We would rather have "Leaping Lena" ten times over—If we've got to walk to school every other morning, carrying seventeen pounds of books.

There's something maddening in waiting ten minutes of a nippy morning for a rattle from college hill, to be overpassed by a lumbering bus overloaded before it came into sight. Give up, Lena. We were only ten minutes late for her. But now and in the end, we wait!
