STUDENT BODIES

GLEN WORTHINGTON, THERON SMART AND ELLIS WADE RECEIVE HONORS

Due to several unexpected occurrences in the Student Body Council, the annual athletic award day, which was originally booked for last Monday, will take place Monday, January 14. Sixty letters were sent to the Aggie team during the past year of these eighteen were won in football, twenty in track and field, eight in basketball, six in tennis, seven in wrestling, eight in swimming, and one in the cross country.

All-round athletic honors of the year go to Glen Worthington, Theron Smart, and Ellis Wade, each of whom won letters in three branches of major sport, football, basketball, and track. These athletes are seniors in school this year and when the school year of 1928-29 comes to close the Aggie will lose three of the most valuable athletes they have ever had.

The award system at the College provides that first, second and third year football players be awarded heavy, shaker knit, crew neck slip-over sweaters with the Aggie logo in block letters. A white band around the arm of the sweater designates the number of awards won. First year athletes are awarded the block "A" sweater, second year men receive block "B" and third year men receive block "C" sweaters.

The following men will receive the Aggie awards: Football: Ellis Wade, Theron Smart, Glen Worthington, Douglas Bergeson, Harry Clark, George Judah, Wesley Stork, Ed. Jensen, Eugene Smith, George E. Smith, Glen Worthington, Alf Saxer, Kenneth Vanderhoof, Joe Dwyer, Wendell Phillips, Joe E. Jensen, and Ed. Jensen.

Track: Glen Worthington, Melvin Burke, Dan Gilchrist, Charles E. Jensen, Vernon Harris, Lewis Walker, Miles Bowen, Levi Meyers, Vernon Call, Keith Stanger, Eugene Smith, Harry E. Jensen, Wendell Phillips, Ellis Wade, Lester Stewart, Theron Smart, and Ed. Jensen.

Former Aggie Is Appointed Asst. Attorney General

Aggie students will no doubt be interested in the recent appointment of Attorney Mose L. Rich to the Assistant Attorney Generalship of Utah. The appointment was made by Judge George H. Parker, Attorney General, and the State was announced on the radio some time ago.

Mr. Rich was enrolled at the College back in 1920 - 23, during which time he was registered in the School of Business and took active part in student activities. He was a member of the Aggie Tennis team and a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity, which has since then been accepted into the national fraternity of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Upon leaving the Utah Agricultural College Mr. Rich entered the department at the George Washington University at Washington, D. C. While studying law he acted as secretary to Congressman David C. Barker, and received his L. D. degree and passing the bar examination Mr. Rich came to Logan, Utah, where he was engaged during the summer in the general law practice with his father in Logan.

STOCK JUDGING HONORS

CLARENCE BURNHAM, Aggie Senior, Wins Barrett Fellowship

Clarence Burnham, student in the School of Agriculture of the College, has been awarded the research fellowship recently established by the Barrett Company. The fellowship provides $1000 per annum for a period of three years. Under its provisions exemption from the college is determined by the value of ammonium sulfate as a fertilizer for Utah soils.

Mr. Burnham is the son of W. C. Burnham of Brigham City. He is a graduate of the Box Elder High School where he was a Smith-Hughes student. He will be graduated from the College next June with a bachelor's degree in Agriculture. His major is Agronomy.

A distinctive feature of his achievement is the fact that Mr. Burnham has found it necessary to spend the last year of his school life in the laboratory of the Barrett Company. He was obliged to borrow money to finance his schooling during the last year of his school life and was able to attend only the first two quarters of the school year. Since that time he has been successful in finding enough employment to carry him through school.

AGGIE MAKES REPUTATION

The success of the 1928, world price record breaking, California Livestock and Baby Beef Show, first annual show of its kind to be held in the Golden State, was attributed to a great extent to the show organization's hard working manager, E. W. Stevens.

Mr. Stevens was a former graduate and a popular student of the College.

DEBATING

It is true that athletics eclipses all other activities in American colleges and universities at the present time. The fact is not at all astounding, for under this head are all those branches which stimulate human interest, physical excellence, excitement, and enthusiasm to the greatest extent. The other extracurricular activities, however, draw their quota from the student ranks, and, though not as popular generally, they are probably of greater value to their enthusiasts in later life than athletics.

Such is debate and its companion activities. Admittedly, there is a growing need for persons with ability to speak and think logically. All phases of debate, oratory and extemporaneous speaking are excellent training for this trait. Such activities serve as a splendid means of developing leadership and consequent opportunity of gaining distinction in the business world.

Besides these theoretical benefits, there are numerous other important inducements for student participation in forensics. The debate trips around the state and to adjoining states compare favorably with those taken by athletic teams, and render a definite asset in the form of valuable personal contacts.

Representatives who participate in contests are eligible to membership in Tau Kappa Alpha, a national honorary debating fraternity which ranks as a leader in honor societies. The honors attainable in this field of activity are worthy, and benefits of participation are many, so that consideration of supporting the call for debaters should not be overlooked.

HISTORY QUIZ

A rather unique history examination paper reached the writer's hands several days ago. Not only is the paper unique in the field of history but it has an interesting setting. Mr. Milton Merrill, who is in charge of the history department, had left town and left his classes under the supervision of one of his most dependable students. This particular student was giving the test in history which his friend happened to be a member, a quiz. The coed pupil apparently took the test in sincerity and passed the following examination paper:

In history class one day, Mr. Merrill went away. He left the kids well versed in it. But when an exam was sprung we took a fit.

In walks Norm Jensen, quite the lad. He had a sore toe that was very bad.

White marks on the board he writes. Say, "Kids pipe down or there'll be some fights."

And looking in a hard boiled way, Right by our radiator he does stay. Now Keith and I knew quite a lot. But history isn't food for thought.

So why waste valuable time in studying. When with other things we could be muddling.

This is the moral, "Norm, don't tell." If you do we'll consign you right to Well, the moral is. This is a heck of a history quiz.

NOTES FROM THE EXCHANGES

At Columbia University, which offers a course on how to make leisure profitable in terms of culture, the members of the men's faculty club have passed a year and a half out of the last eight years, playing bridge. Some mischievous person found a book containing the scores, which revealed that at least 25,000 rubbers, at a rate of thirty-five minutes each, had been played in the preceding eight years—making a total of 500 days.—Daily Trojan.

SOME NEW YEAR BROMIDES

W. McBurnie

What a pity it is that the new year finds us still struggling along with our uninteresting system of chapel. An excellent new year resolution would be either to make the chapel exercises so gripping, so interesting, so vital that students would go of their accord, or else discard the practice altogether.

Any change would probably be for the better as the present system is almost unbearable, even to the most intelligent for whom, of course chapel is intended. The result of the effects has even gone so far as to penetrate the ironlike shells of several faculty members. At a recent chapel program I noticed several of these august gentlemen who appeared to be frankly bored and took but very little pains to conceal it. One professor even went so far as to advise his students to study their lessons in chapel.

Here's a cheer for the professor. Sad to say, many of our most intelligent students have got into the habit of regarding the Faculty men much as they regard a scientific truth, something which exists and functions but is entirely irrespective of time, place, or human emotion. But such students are wrong and so are their viewpoints.

Faculty men are occasionally human, they do have whims and fancies and occasionally little things can please them mightily. For instance there is one member of the faculty who says that nothing gives him quite so much joy as finding a pine nut in some hidden recess of his overcoat pocket. And so a word of kindly advice to those who would receive A's: "If you would stand in with the prof, then look well to the little things—the big will take care of themselves."

One of the things which the more intelligent population of the Utah Agricultural College desires is an increased number of plays and musicals. And what a sad dearth of such there is at present, both in the college and in the leading theatres of the town.

Russell Budge, a former Aggie and Delta Psi, who is attending the Northwestern University, was a dinner guest of the Delta Psi on Sunday, Jan. 6.

Lights that Fill the Skies with Commerce

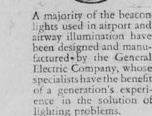

THE air map of America is now in the making—on the ground.

Ten years ago, there were 218 miles of air mail routes with two station stops; to-day, a network of sky roads bridges the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Can you imagine this growth without electricity—without illuminated airports—without trunk lines studded with electric beacons?

Men of vision are building for increasing traffic of the air. Soon, the skies will be filled with commerce.

Just as electricity is helping to conquer the air, the land, and the sea to-day, so to-morrow it will lead to greater accomplishments in aviation and in every human activity.

All honorary fraternity and sorority members, the Knights, and Spur Club members are requested to have pictures taken this week.

Miss Faun Singleton, an Aggie student, has not yet returned to school. During the holidays, her father, a merchant in Serton, Utah, died. Friends of Miss Singleton extended her their sincerest sympathy and regret.

Holiday greetings have been received from the following Sigma Chi missionaries laboring in the European mission field: Kersey Ritter, Joseph White, Willis Hart, Ray West, Stanley Hall, and Peter Stewart. At a meeting of the Alpha Gamma Phi Fraternity held Wednesday January 9, nominations for officers for the ensuing year took place. Candidates for the various offices are as follows: President, Leslie Jackson; Marlin Dittmore; George Lawrence; Owen Taylor; Vice-president, Elden Westenskow; Arden Lauritzen; Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Gregory; and Civil Lauritzen. The elections will take place at the next regular meeting of the fraternity.

On Saturday evening, Dec. 15, final initiations were held at the Hotel Eccles for ten men who had successfully completed their monthlong for the Friars Club. Joseph Quinney, a former president of the Canadian mission, also went through the final ceremonies of initiation. He and Dr. W. Henderson, leader of the L. D. S. Institute and Collegiate Sunday School, have been elected honorary membership in the local chapter of the Friars. Alton Melville, general president of the organization, and Royal Garf, general secretary, both of Salt Lake attended the initiation. On the evening a dancing party was held which was the second Friar dance of the year. Five "U" Friars including President Derrick of the "U" chapter were special guests. About fifty couples were present.

The seniors forgot their dignity last Monday night and donned tattered habiliments of hoboes to give their version of a "Bum's Rush". One would not suppose that such a disreputable assembly was representative of the highest and most august of classes.

To be consistent with their role of famished tramps they clamored for crusts of bread at a bread line—then scattered to forage in the hay for root beer and apples.

Two hoboes from Hyrum entertained the Bum's convention with a tap dance, and Zeta Worthington sang a few songs of the road. In between times the bums forgot their profession and danced to music produced by an orchestra of four seedy looking individuals. Vera Calder, Allan Cannon, and Henry Daines, as entertainment committee of the class, had charge of refreshments.
