OLD GRADS TO GATHER IN FAMILIAR HAUNTS

AGAIN ON OCTOBER 17

Large Registration Completed at

Institute

It is believed that when the registration for the fall quarter is completed, the L. D. S. Institute will have the largest enrollment record in the school's history.

the school. The first year the institute was established the largest enrollment for one quarter was one-hundred and fifteen. Since then it has been as

As two-hundred and eighty seven, a larger number expected this year. Dr. Romney, formerly of the B. Y. U. at Provo, Utah, is again at the head of the institute and under his splendid guidance students may expect literary studies of a high quality. The historical value of the Old Testament; the comparative values of religions of the anent world; The life of the Man of Galilee"; the formation and value of the New Testament to mankind or the religious beliefs of the Latter Day Saint Church.

Credits of one and two hours are given and accepted by the college for each of these courses with the exception of the last one.

Every Sunday morning, Sunday school is held especially for the college students. The three classes given are taught by Dr.

The L. D. S. Institute is really

tion to our college as it has many students who desire a religious education in college and would go elsewhere
if it were not given here.

ENROLLMENT AT A. C. CONTINUES

Thirty students have register-at the Utah State Agricultural college during Monday and Tuesday of this week according to W. H. Bell, registrar of the college. This swells the total registration to 1294, which is an increase of 9 per cent over the enrollment for the same period last year. The number of students in the department will be available within a short time.

There are twice as many men students registered at the Utan Agricultural College as women students, according to W. H. Eiler, registrar of the college. There were 841 men and 453 women. Figures of the enrollment show that while the numof woman students registered this year is approximately the same as last year a large increase has been made in male enrollment.

PLATES MUST BE OBSERVED

P. V. Cardon, on behalf of the college authorities, made a stirring and real appeal for the observance of parking rules on the campus in a speech before the assembly Wednesday. But Mr. Cardon but due to the fact that the former president and vice-president, Clara Daniels and Bert Lenkersdorfer, didn't return this year new officers were chosen.

The new officers appointed were: Yencie Cardon, president; Luzelle Sorensen, vice-president; Rebecca Ririe, secretary and treasurer. For historian Phyllis Kirkham was chosen; for reporter, Margaret Boley; and for corresponding secretary, Maude any other one man or a group of men cannot do what, as a body, we should be doing for our own safety. He explained that those parking regulations were not in existence merely Because cars were not wanted near the buildings, because that makes no difference. But those regulations are the result of many years of experimentation with the problem of protection of buildings and students. It is not only a problem of accidents, yet that is grave; but the largest hazard of cars parking near the buildings or the chains as they do now, that there would be positively no entrance or exit should a fire break out among the buildings. The cars have been moved away from the buildings alright they are now parking on the side chains which are only temporary obstructions on main thoroughfares which should be removed. The question involves only about half dozen cars. The chains along the north entrance, the south one and the one by the city building are the only ones in question. It is so simple that we wonder why it should be a question at all.

"I'm afraid you can't wait very well Ed?"

"No darling, but I surely can intermission."
