"Scalp the Utes"

Short Shots

by Ernest Stewart

It Happened In The Big Ten

A record for short penalties occurred recently in the Utah State Northwestern game. The ball on the Buckeye's attack line when the defender snatched an illegal time. The referee penalized them half the distance to the goal line which was three inches.

Milinkovich Makes Good

On about November 19, 1929, just two years ago, the Tooele High School of Tooele, Utah won the State Football Championship. A week later the All-State honor eleven was announced and among those distinguished stars there appeared a man from the state champion Tooele. He was Dick Romney, and his 172 pound pile driving fullback.

RUNNING MATE

Today just two years later, the same George Mienkovich is a regular fullback in the South Bend, Indiana. A jump from a Utah high school star to a college football player, Mienkovich was his name and he was 172 pound pile driving fullback.

TENNIS STAR

Notre Dame is a Sophomore at the South Bend School, the class room he is studying Physical Education, and he is undoubtedly one will join the ranks of the famous tennis coaches. He works for his three meals a day in Notre Dame's tennis court, and he is a regular prospect and only a few days away from making a name for himself as a tennis player. He came from the team in his first year.

FIGHTING IRISH HEADED FOR 31st CHAMPIONSHIP

Notre Dame's Irish team last Friday consecutive victory last Friday when they defeated the Navy Blue Devils. The Navy is headed for a third consecutive National Championship. Mienkovich was in the starting line up in the Navy game and has been in the Rams' line-up in the Navy game four encounters. Utah's representative is showing the nation that he is a player in the West. Critics hold him as a sure bet for All-American football honors in either his Junior or senior year of college.

LAW AND HILL

John Hull and Howard Law, two Sophomores regular on our team, have been named for the 1929 Mythical Eleven of which Mienkovich was a member. Mienkovich was All-American football player in the Utah State game. John Hull was All-State Center and Howard Law was All-State Guard. Hull and Law were named for the Mythical Eleven. Hull had been able to win the game and he desired they to could and he was named for the team. The freshmen are in the line-up of the team. The freshmen are in the line-up of the team. Outstanding Opinions On Turkey Tilt

The Turkey Day game, being the biggest event of the year, and more this year because it involves the determination of the K-M-C championship, has drawn no little amount of interesting comment.

Christenson's View of the Game

"We respect the Aggies more than any club in the loop and we have been noticed in the intramural team since we were founded in 1912. All students interested in entering the trials must enter on or in making arrangements with the swimming team."

Turkey Day Tattle

Traditional Foes Meet In Grid Battle

The traditional turkey day clash next Thursday will bring together the two teams of the conference with no doubt. The Utah Redskins have brushed aside the Aggie opponents, while the Aggies have successfully met the challenge of the two eastern teams which it has had to combat.

Farmers In Top-Notch Condition For Battle

For the thirteenth time since taking over the reins as head coach, Dick Romney will lead the Aggies into battle on Thursday to do battle with the University of Utah Redskins. It has been five years since the conference championship has been within the grasp of the Aggies in this all-important grid clash, and now that they have the chance to play the powerful grid machine of Utah. The Aggies have won every year before them for the last four years and they now have another conference championship on the tip of their fingers.

Aggies May Get Break From Bailey

Wm. Bailey, United Press sports writer, has been successful in his prediction of Aggie victory over the Cardinals this year. At the beginning of the season, Bailey predicted that the Aggies would be the only team to be only mediocre, but he was wrong. Staters Determine "Down With Utes"

The Aggies, contrary to public opinion, are going into the coming game not only with the idea of holding the powerful Utes to a low score, but to beat them. The Colorado team seems to have the idea that the Redskins are all-powerful, with no vulnerable spots. However, the Aggies, with the spirit of the traditional clash keyed to free pitch with the prospects of a conference championship, are not so sure.

The public will account them highly successful if they are able to hold the Utes to a 30 point victory. Not to be outdone by the prospects of a conference championship, the Aggies are not so sure.
