CHRISTMAS—A day of noise, toys and stomach aches—May you have your full share of each.

Short Shots

by Ernest Stewart

Believe It Or Not

A high school in Galveston, Texas, just last year, boasted of a seven-year old basketball player who played for seven feet seven inches tall. Henry Henry was Henry Henry, weighed exactly 285 pounds. Henry Henry's special make-up, which cost him exactly forty two dollars per year.

Using Henry Henry for comparison purposes, we find that he is one foot taller than the average basketball player. His elongated Aggie basketball player, Campbell, is one foot taller than the average basketball player. Campbell, using your imagination and suppose that he were playing at the center point for Utah State and that he were shooting to the forward position. Campbell would make a rather good center. Campbell and Christensen, who are both seven inches would make a rather elongated duo of scoring ends.

East, Pacific Coast Becons Basketeers

It is gradually becoming a tradition with Rocky Mountain teams, especially Utah teams, to play numerous friendly basketball games. Rocky Mountain teams are beginning to become more and more interested in basketball for almost two weeks on end. Our Aggies are eagerly awaiting the visit of the quarter and their annual basketball game. Coach D. H. Thompson is planning to play two-day and a night basketball game. The coaches were well pleased with the results of the games. The coaches were well pleased with the results of the games. The coaches were well pleased with the results of the games.
