The Freshman Year

VOLUME 1, COPY 1.

HERE, DAY BEFORE TOMORROW

PRICE—ALL YOU'LL PAY!

STAFF

Published once in a lifetime by a couple a "Poor Nut" at the Utah State Agricultural College. Entered as very rank matter in the Post Office when no one was looking.

Editor-in-Chief—The Editor does not care to reveal his name. If more information than this is wished, write your name plainly on fifteen different kinds of tin cans; put a half dollar in each; send to the Student Life Office in care of Fresh Paper and see if we care.

Associated Editor—This is nobody's business except ours. She has worked hard and pleads for the same protection given the Editor.

GET YOUR TICKETS NOW!!

In case any one is unaware of the fact, the ticket sale for the Fresh play began a long time ago. It will continue up until Tuesday evening. If you are unable to procure a ticket before then, do not get discouraged. Stay in line at the bookstore until you get your ticket. Such an opportunity never fades unheeded as shown by the vim, vigor and vitality with which the students are buying their tickets. Keep the old stuff up; when you get your ticket, the show may be over but we can still use the money.

Declaration of Intent (or Independence.)

Before progressing to a very great extent in this haze of nonsense, it is imperative that everyone become acquainted with the purpose of the Nutty Belly-Haw.

We, like all of the rest of the model Freshmen in the class, have hereto-forfeited our inward feelings and desires to keep our immature thoughts in the background. As the Fresh play, "The Poor Nut" is nearing, we received the necessary stimulus to arouse our imagination and senses to try and put out a nutty paper. Naturally, we must let the students of the school know that the play is coming, so we set ourselves down to think a mile and write an inch. Since our show is a comedy, we must express our opinion of it in the same way.

If in this edition of the regular paper, we cause any ill feelings toward us or organization of the Campus, we hereby say with sweet-smelling flowers furnished free of charge by the City Floral Shop.

Editor-in-Chief—Horace Hulme.
Associate Editor—Phyllis Lewis.

A FRESHMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

This is the essence of modern schooling.
Come regular to school and cut out the fooling.
If you are going to have knowledge, wisdom and all,
Get into the harness and out of your stall.
You have been dumb long enough, get off the grass,
Be a human being and not a Jack ass.

But these dumb Profs. our patience impose,
They tell us it's nasal and not merely nose,
Calcareous is our heel, gastrocnemius for a calf,
Get into the harness and out of your stall.
But laugh if you will and be the big ass,
Then learn let's patella and not a knee cap.

I am gathering my knowledge from wisdom's great tree
But as bright as my crown, it is sorta groene.
Being humble and submissive is all I can do
And work like a #2477, until I pull through.
Then after life is o'er and I come to perfection
And Gabriel sounds forth for the first resurrection,
I'll be first up that morning, so as to be seen,
That my hat has changed color and is no longer GREEN.

—James B. Harvey.

Complete for 'Poor Nut'

The Freshman Class has shown great deal of enthusiasm in its dramatics this year. They intend to put over one of the big ones, and that play ever presented by a Fresh Class.

The play itself is putting forth unifying efforts to be justice to this Collegiate Company "The Poor Nut." The Staff includes:

The Business Manager of the play is Edwin Clements, a very capable Freshman, who was Student Body President in his high school days. Frank Cranshaw and Phyllis Lewis are his assistants.

Her assistant, Helen McVicker; Willis Hess is Technical Director; Hal Berrett and Hugh Fuller as assistant directors; Roy Sainsbury, electrician; LeRoy Manning is Foreman of the stage; and Alton Peterson as assistant; Phyllis Lewis is Costume manager with Pandora Wallace as assistant.

With the cooperation of this dependable staff and talented actors, "The Poor Nut" is a bang! Laugh, Nerts, you'll love it. We even guarantee laughs for a Scotchman.

Picking the Cactus

EDITH ANN GUNN AS MARGIE BLAKE

Edith Ann Gunn began early in her childhood days to play for a career as an opera singer or actor. When we saw her act we suggested that she had better take up opera singing, but when we heard her sing we decided she was a great actor and had her try for a part in the Fresh play.

Miss Gunn, who comes from Sever county has been very helpful towards the fellows. Therefore she has not been very popular. However, when she found this was true she immediately tried for the part of the demure, lovable girl who pushes herself into the best of society and starts a romance with our hero by kissing him, when he is too bashful to do it for himself. She won over a squad of applicants that looked like an American bread line of would-be Margies because of the fact that she is one of the boys' best choices for help. Miss Gunn has always been adapted to her part and interprets it to perfection.

Rehearsals for the Freshman play to a sudden standstill last week due to the fact that one of the prominent leads in the show slipped and sprained his leg. He should have been rehearsing on his homey home.

Mr. Woodruff, prominent Freshman from Newton, who has been playing the part of Hal Smith in the play, surprised everyone in the school with his sudden eloquence with the prominent young lady, Miss Ruth Garff. He has been carrying the part very well and the other members of the cast were fearing that he could not play the part now. At this writing we understand, however, that he has recovered sufficiently to carry the part to perfection.

Close Date
Lucille Christiansen came home the other night after a big date with Dal Hatch as looked at said, "Say Edith—I wonder if a Scotchman has close love."

Edith, rather curious, inquired, "What?"
Dal flashed back—"Oh, at times."

Kissing women is like smoking cigarettes, you feel better if you change brands.

Must be days of depression when the man forgets (1) to pass the engagement rings and (2) "Bluebirds" to the "Sororas"—Eve White!

Willie will now sing the famous song about entitled "Till we meet on my hand."

Someday—"The day without a girl is incomplete" and I intend to read "The day without a girl" would be a taste of Heaven."

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER: "The children tell me that you are a very good man, but I am not sure if you are a very good man or not."

WIFE CHILD: Put the doorknob in the mailbox for a day, and then...

Well, at last it looks as if "old But" has found the Rockies. Continued thawing of the snow assures us that spring is "just around the corner." With spring comes the annual round of outdoor summer sports, principally track, tennis, basketball, and football. The weather is a major factor in the progression of all of these sports, does it or doesn't, as good as it seems to improve. Despite the fact that the elements are against us every effort possible is being made to hurry these spring sports up. Dick Romney has got his eye on the track program. Jack Coffey has the snow shoveled from the tennis courts and Ray Hunsaker is racing to get his spring intramurals, such as baseball, going.

SPRING FOOTBALL IS INTERESTING. At the same time Coach Ramsey is also making preparations for the issuance of football "grinders" whom we hope will be Rocky Mountain "champs." MODIFICATION OF PLAYING CODE

The National Football Rules committee modification of the playing code has been the best of very much common, both pro and amateur. The committee has modified the game for players, hence the modifications of 1951. But now, regardless of this, the question before Utah State is whether or not to modify the game for players, hence the modifications of 1951. Winter intramurals are coming to a close with the handball tournament, progressing in the same manner that has been characteristic of all the intramurals sports. The Cougars, led by Edward Romney put the game back in the air after the half. The Cougars, led by Edward Romney put the game back in the air after the half.

There is a possibility that Golf will be wanted in as an intramural sport. It is our opinion that we should have this year popularized the sport.
