Alumni Return To Campus For Annual Homecoming

College Trustee, Fred M. Nye, Dies In Ogden

High tribute was paid Tuesday to Fred M. Nye, Ogden business leader and member of the Utah State Board of Trustees, who died last week-end.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mr. Nye in Ogden. Several college officials were in attendance, including Pres. Louis L. Madsen.

Born In Kansas

Mr. Nye came to Ogden in 1891 from his native city, Eureka, Kan. He was born there Feb. 13, 1876, a son of J. C. and Elizabeth Hubbel Nye.

He was active in Ogden business affairs, serving as president of the Fred M. Nye company for 54 years. He took an active part in the Ogden First Presbyterian Church, and also served 54 years as its treasurer.

Active Mason

Mr. Nye was also active as a Mason, being a member of the Unity Lodge No. 18. On Jan. 20, 1926 he was elected grand master of the Utah Grand Lodge, and also had been master of the Unity Lodge. He also participated in other affairs of the Masons.

He served as president of the Ogden Rotary Club, and was a member of the Utah Society, Sons of the American Revolution. He had numerous business connections, and was known as an ardent sports enthusiast.

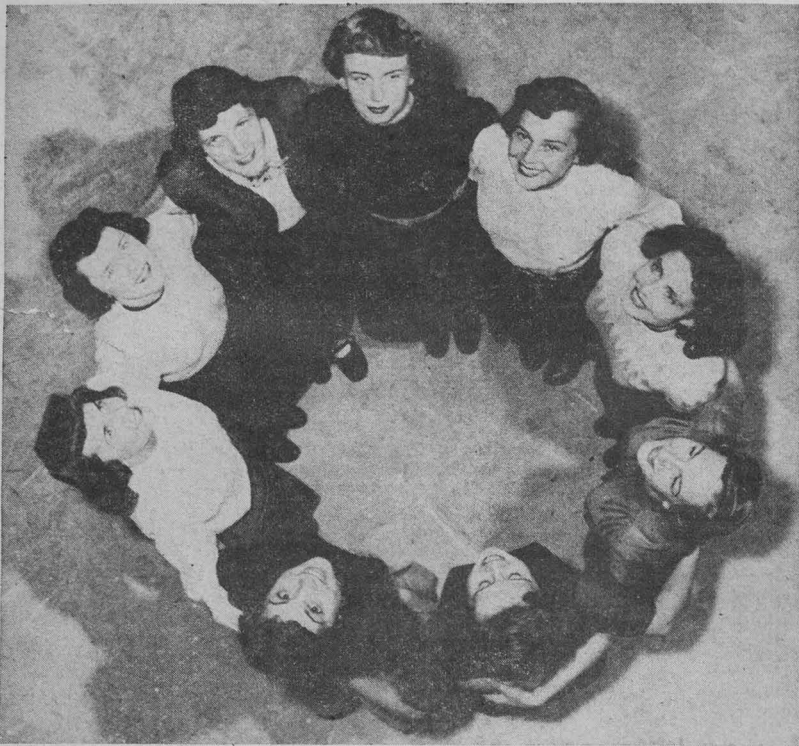

He was first appointed to the Utah State Board of Trustees in 1931, and has served almost continuously since that time.

At his funeral services, the following tribute, signed by President Madsen, Deon Hubbard, student-body president, Le Roy Blaser, alumni secretary, and Dr. Kenneth Stevens, Faculty Association president, was read:

WHO WILL IT BE?—That's the question being asked as these girls compete for the title of Homecoming queen. Vying are, clockwise, starting at the top, Arlene Meyer, LaRue Farnes, Leota Hunsaker, Marilyn Stohl, Joan Wilson, Marilyn Crawford, Judy Barker, Sandra Lee Richards, Sue Simmons. Aggie alumni and students will participate in the planned events of the 62nd annual Utah State Homecoming weekend, today and tomorrow.

Dave Gittens, student chairman has announced, "Final details are now being carried out on the Homecoming plans."

Window displays, showing student activities, are being encouraged among the Logan merchants. The winning display will be announced at the student pep rally. Utah Aggie pennants will be displayed on the curb lines along main street; also the Cache Chamber of Commerce is planning for street decorations," reports Joe Nelson, publicity chairman.

Girls who are running for Homecoming queen are Marilyn Crawford, sponsored by Engineering and Technology; Shirlene Griffiths, by Lambda Delta Sigma; Joan Wilson, Chi Omega; LaRue Farnes, Pi Kappa Alpha; Leota Hunsaker, Ag Club; Marilyn Stohl, Kappa Sigma; Sandra Lee Richards, Scabbard and Blade; Patricia Butters, Intercollegiate Knights; Joe Ann Forsgren, Delta Phi; Judith Ann Barker, Sigma Kappa; Arlene Meyer, Foresters; and Sue Simmons, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The Utah State student body voted for queen candidates all day Wednesday in the Main hall. The winning queen and her two attendants will be announced at the pep rally, tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Aggie Fieldhouse. A snake dance will follow the rally.

Lighting of the traditional "A" on the mountain will be done Friday night by the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Three trophies will be awarded for the best house decorations, in which campus fraternities, sororities, clubs and dorms are competing. Judging will take place tonight from 7:30-9:30 p.m. by impartial out of town judges.

Appropriateness to the Homecoming spirit, cleverness in carrying out the basic idea, originality, construction, and use of the house, including the inside appearance are the five points that will be judged.

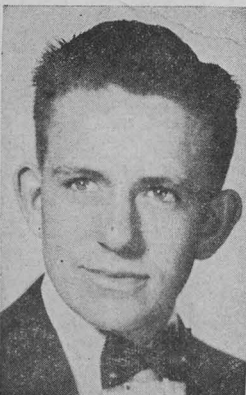

Saturday at 10 a.m., a parade down Logan's Main street will include 20 different bands from Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, and Nevada high schools. Floats are being built by Greek and Independent campus organizations, and the Logan-Cache Chamber of Commerce.

Three trophies will be given for the best all around float, the most artistic and the most original entries.

Planned for Saturday noon are special banquets and class reunions.

Utah State Aggies will meet the Colorado A & M Rams in the Homecoming football game, Saturday, at 1:30 p.m. in the Aggie stadium. Halftime activities will feature the Aggie Marching band and the introduction of the queen and her two attendants.

Lee Drive 'Hoax' Speaker Says In Campus Meet

BY HUGH BARNES

Governor J. Bracken Lee's economy drive was branded "a hoax" by Col Rampton, campaign manager for Earl J. Glade, at a Democratic rally held Wednesday afternoon at Utah State college, at which Ernest R. McKay, Democratic candidate for congressman from the first district, was featured speaker.

Mr. Rampton cited figures from the Utah State auditor's office as proof of his claims. Cost of government for the state of Utah has risen from 71 million dollars in 1948, during the last Democratic governorship, to 86 million dollars in 1951, during Governor Lee's administration, he reported.

Federal aid to Utah increased from 10 million dollars in 1948 to 13 million dollars in 1951 despite Gov. Lee's asserted disdain for federal aid. Mr. Rampton stated, if elected, Mayor Glade, he said, would tell you where state funds were spent.

Clinton D. Vernon, Utah attorney-general, urged students to vote for a man that would "return dignity to state government and permit others to do their jobs without the type of feuding and fussing of the past four years."

Reese N. Reese, Utah State auditor, told the audience that he believed in economy but not at the expense of health and education.

Mr. McKay accused Republicans of having a "garbled platform" and of having two heads, "Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Republican."

He urged the re-election of Democrats because at "least they know where they are going." "People are the most important thing in government," he stated. Mr. McKay briefly outlined the history of both political parties and told of always adhering to Democratic party ideals.

Milton B. Taylor, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, told students that it was important to examine the issues of an election before voting.

LIFE'S EDITORIAL

Howdy, Aggie Alums!

Enjoy All Activities

WELCOME ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF UTAH STATE!

Here it is Homecoming time again, and we're glad to have you back on the campus. We think that a Homecoming has been prepared for you that you'll enjoy.

Originally, Gov. J. Bracken Lee had planned to be in attendance at the festivities, but because of his pressing duties he will be unable to attend. We're sorry he can't come, for we know he would have enjoyed the activities planned for him.

Look the campus over while you're here. With the new union building nearly complete, and a number of improvements made on the campus, the "new look" should be pleasing.

Visit your old "haunts," and be sure and say "hi" to your favorite faculty members. This is your Homecoming, and you should enjoy it. There's plenty of activities going on, so take them all in.

Visit the frat and sorority houses, and look over the house decorations. Even the dorms—Lund Hall and the nurses home—are decorated this year. Don't miss the big rally tonight in the fieldhouse, and don't forget the dance Saturday night at La De Sa.

Hats off to Dave Gittins and LeRoy Blaser for this year's Homecoming, and welcome to all you visitors!

Voting Requirements Are Listed

For the Approaching Election

With the election campaigns drawing to a close all students should check the qualifications for voting. It should not be necessary to remind college students of their duty and obligation to exercise their voting privilege.

Voting Requirements

For your convenience we are listing the regulations or requirements for voters here in Utah.

1. Reside in the state one continuous year, in the county four months and in the precinct 60 days.

OR—(and we have two alternatives not understood by many students.)

2. A student can vote wherever he considers his home residence.

OR

3. If he considers this town his residence but has employment or for other reason leaves the state during the summer months he can still vote in Utah.

If your residence for voting purposes is elsewhere, you should investigate the possibility of obtaining an absentee ballot.

Remember, you can not vote unless you are registered, and your last chance to register is next week, October 28 and 29.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HUBBARD DUDE IT

EDITOR, Student Life:

The letter to our Student Body President last week by an alumni or "We the alumni", or Mr. Anonymous was rather amusing to me. My observations of Deon Hubbard, the energetic President, both at the Idaho-AC football game and on the campus are much different than our alumni friends. One of the neatest and smartest dressers among the men, in my opinion, on the USAC campus is our Student-body President. Some of our poorly dressed males (levi's and T-shirts) might take a few lessons on how to dress for going to college from our well-dressed "Dude." Mr. Anonymous I'll say to you, Deon Hubbard isn't a "disgrace to the school."

An Aggie Student.

HUBBARD SQUASHED

Editor, Student Life:

In many ways, I think that the letter directed to President Hubbard carries constructive criticism that has aroused a point of concern to the administration and students.

One of the biggest problems of the present day race for survival among the mountain states' colleges is the outward impression that the school has upon high school students, the future students in our colleges.

The question basically at stake, I feel, is: Is Utah State an agricultural college in its entirety? Are all the courses offered at the college directly related to and dependent upon the subject of agriculture? When a student gets a degree from this college as an art major, is the only thing he has been instructed to create of direct relation to the subjects of agriculture?

To all of these questions the obvious answer is no. Of the present student body only 18 per cent are enrolled in majors of art culture or courses directly related to agriculture.

What are the rest of the students taking as majors? From six other schools and 55 departments the remaining number of students are enrolled in majors of art, English, education, forestry, engineering, home economics, business economics, speech, drama, pre-med, physics, chemistry, journalism, etc.

Do these people plan to go to work in occupations related to agriculture? For the most part, the answer is again no. Our schools in engineering, physics, art, home economics, English, and so many others have men and women on the faculty who are known nationally for their achievements and work. Our school of agriculture as such is one of the finest in the nation for both the students produced and members of its faculty. There is reason to be proud of all the schools on our campus.

School Branches Out

Since the original act in 1888 that established our school, there have been many growths and developments in different fields. We are not directly holding to the principle of "teaching such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic art," as is stated in the Land Grant act.

Therefore, I do not feel that we should represent ourselves as a college devoted entirely to agriculture. And I think that President Hubbard's garb at the football game a couple of Saturdays ago was uncalled for as Mr. Anonymous commented.

How often does he wear such dress to class? Was his dress typical of the dress worn on the campus from day to day? Were the mayors, with whom he was sitting at the game in front of the stands, dressed in such attire?

How many students in the stands at the game were wearing boots, string ties and ten gallon hats? Do the political science majors wear such clothes to their classes? Do you ever see the administration or faculty dressed in such a manner for college functions on your

Sheep Train Carries Prexy To Confab

BY DEON HUBBARD
Student Body President

Well it wasn't exactly a cattle car, but did you ever ride a freight train for nearly two thousand miles, with three stock cars of sheep as your passport?

The railroad allows a stockman transportation with his livestock to market. He must ride with the livestock, no not in the cattle car, but on the same freight train.

That seemed the only form of transportation available for our student body president to attend the National Student Association Congress, and Student Body Presidents' convention.

Ridin' the Rails

In a summer meeting of the student council (which only part attended and thus no quorum) the opinion was that the council could not support this trip, so my thoughts turned to free transportation and freight trains.

It only took 96 hours to get from Chicago to Indiana University at Bloomington.

Caboose are hardly rough riding at all. There is about 4 to 6 inches slack between each coupling holding the cars together. There are usually about a hundred cars which means about 40 feet of slack jerk each time the train stops and starts, and as the caboose and engine play tag going up and down the rolling hills of the Mid-West.

It was only necessary to change cabooses 7 times, and we had only one 10 hour wait in North Platte, Nebraska, to feed and water the sheep.

Lost Sheep

At Clinton, Iowa, the sheep were transferred to a different train, but I wasn't, so from there to Chicago they put me on the head end. Oh, to be a freight train engineer.

Trainmen are interesting people and present a stimulating view of life.

But to bring all this chatter to a point that means something, it is necessary to get off our own campus, get away from home, see what others are doing and how they do it. It is necessary to see how other student governments operate and talk with other leaders. However, the world of information available cannot be gathered by one individual or even a few people. It must be done by many of us.

There is now an evaluation program of all Utah secondary schools. We have at present the Kelley survey of our own campus. Now we must survey and evaluate our own student government and all student activities, to find out what is good and what is bad, what is worth having and what should be discarded. Where should student money be spent and is our student government organized and operated in the best possible (Continued on Page 11)

Queen Candidates Reveal History

In honor of the 62nd Homecoming celebration, twelve Aggie queens are vying for Homecoming queen.

A freshman journalist major from Logan is Homecoming queen candidate, Judith Ann Barker. She works in the news bureau, on Student Life as a feature writer, on Buzzer as freshman section editor and is publicity manager of AVS.

Judy also swims, dances, skis, and gives humorous readings. Sigma Kappa sorority sponsored her for the queen contest.

Exchanges Fete Night Shirts Brick Parties

Homecoming's coming. Here's a peek at the practices of the University of Kansas during Homecoming.

Instead of having a plain rally at U of K it seems that everyone's night shirt, then dons his night shirt, does a traditional "snake dance" through the streets, and finally ends up chanting yells at a bonfire. The dean of women, and head of the state board of education don't have to do the snake dance. They ride in a car—but they too wear night-shirts.

At Princeton fifteen wounded warriors were sent to the infirmary after a clash between freshmen and sophomores recently.

At second degree burns when aquatic freshmen used boiling water to repel an "invasion."

San Jose State's "Spartan Daily" in their satirical "plan for the greatest, most ruthless initiation week in history suggested stationing sophomores equipped with high power rifles atop buildings to pick off uneasy freshmen.

From the Columbia University "Daily Spectator" concerning their past proxy, a gent named Ike. The paper endorsed Stevenson for national president, denouncing Eisenhower as being a "plodding, orthodox, unimaginative thug."

"This time from the University of California, "Daily Californian" to Mr. Nixon: "Barfoot boy with cheeks of tan, what did you do with the 18 grand?"

Here are a few instances in which mislabeled letters or an inverted clause created choice journalistic headlines:

Criminal Jury Dismissed; Hamm Fails to Identify Yeggs.

Maddened Steer Kills Farmer with Ax.

Pampered Do in Bed, asks Divorce.

Twisted words and faulty punctuation have created these:

"Having broken both ankles in a collision, Mrs. McKnight is recovering under the care of her physician."

"The faulty accident occurred at the corner of Broadway and 40th street as the dead man attempted to cross."

Large Scales Purchased For 'Fatties'

Ladies, do scales have the habit of breaking when you step lightly on them?

Then don't fret or worry. The scales buildings and grounds are installing just for you and any of you generously proportioned co-sins. It has a capacity of 30 tons with a platform big enough for a semi-trailer.

Although it is specifically designed to weigh hay and grain, the college purchased it so they will be sure of honest weight. Perhaps if you approach Student Life we can't of only help you get weighed but we'll put your picture in the paper.

The only catch is that it won't be finished till November so hold on to yourself.

She is a member of the sponsor corps and is Scabbard and Blade candidate.

Talented in the musical line, Sue Simmons from Twin Falls, sings, plays the piano and violin.

While in high school she was secretary of the senior class, vice president of girls' league, Holly queen at the Christmas dance and member of the Psi Chis.

Sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon, Marilyn Stohl, "Star and Crescent Girl" of Kappa Sigma, is a senior majoring in secretarial science. Marilyn is the vice president of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She comes from Tremonton.

"While attending Logan High, Joan Wilson was Junior Prom queen and last year she was attendant to the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." Joan was a member of the sponsors in high school as well as being one at USAC.

A sophomore art major, Joan likes painting for both her enjoyment and school publications. She is a member of and is sponsored by Chi Omega.

Vice president of the senior class and girls athletic association and a member of girls league council while in high school, Leota Husaker is a freshman sponsored by the Ag Club. She likes dancing, music, sports and sewing. Leota was also a candidate for Miss Box Elder.

The Foresters' "Daughter of Paul," Arlene Meyers, Smithfield, is their candidate for queen. Active in student government, Arlene was secretary of her freshman class and is now secretary of the Junior class and vice president of Kappa Delta sorority.

Being a sponsor and attendant to the Open House queen are some of the other honors she has won.

Ever since she was six months old, Sandra Lee Richards has worked in movies. The most recent being "Two Tickets to Broadway" and "Just for You."

Sandra has been associated with the yearbook staff, pep club, operettas, plays, and the honor society in high school at Glendale, Calif.

Campus Wanderings

BY FAT WILLIAMS

Now that we have succeeded in confusing the freshmen a little bit more and perhaps ourselves as well, we can get down to the business of Homecoming. Ah, yes, that is the time when old alums return to reminisce a little and to show the present Aggies what to—should we say, look forward to. If some morning you should find a liberty bell hanging on your front door it is not a sign that the revolution is still on but rather a reminder to be a good American and vote on November 4.

Rabbit meat is good to eat. Got the habit. Eat a rabbit!

Strange Bugs We're being invaded! Not by supermen but a strange species of bug. They crawl up legs, arms and necks, trying to be friendly. But they make us crawl and we brush them off.

Take a look in Main 102 and you will see a rug that was once green but has been stained red by their blood. Bug bombs or DDT doesn't affect them. Do your good deed for the day—kill a Box Elder bug.

We stu! robbed! Shouted the team on their return from Fresno. During the game the guard deserted the locker room and the Aggie team had their valuables stolen.

Treasure of Laughter A few items from Louis Untermyers book A Treasury of Laughter.

"Some people object to divorce," said the Reno lawyer. "But the large number of divorces proves that America is the land of the free."

"Porch," said the lawyer from New York, "but the steady persistence of marriages shows that it is also the home of the brave."

MUSIC HIGHLIGHTS

Romeo and Juliet Chosen Annual Opera

Presentation of Handel's "Messiah," Gounod's opera "Romeo and Juliet," and numerous performances by the Chansonettes and Meistersingers have been announced by Walter Welti, head of the vocal music department.

Climaxing fall quarter activities presented in December by a chorus of 130 voices. Opportunities for soloists are still open.

Winter quarter will be devoted to preparing the annual opera, "Romeo and Juliet," which marks the high points of the year's activities. Many parts are available and auditions will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 7 p. m. in Main 132.

Sopranos, mezzo-sopranos, tenors, bases and baritones are needed, according to Professor Welti. Auditioners should select an operatic aria or some other song which will give them opportunity to demonstrate the range and power of their voice.

A spring choral song program will be the last event of the season. Choruses will combine to present a summary of the year's activities in the form of songs ranging from classical favorites to popular numbers such as "Shrimp Boats."

The Chansonettes and Meistersingers, Utah State's two choral groups, are looking forward to presenting several programs in Utah and Idaho. Widely known for their music, the choruses are directed by Professor Welti. He has announced that a few vacancies for tenors still exist in the Meistersingers.

New Religious Council Meets

Student religious council consisting of representatives from each religious group on the campus has been organized, according to the Student Personnel office.

Sponsorship of an annual religious institute, better harmony between different denominations, and improvement of religious facilities available on campus are among their aims.

Students and religious leaders from the surrounding area will be invited to a religious institute planned for November, which is Religious Emphasis month. Complete plans will be announced later.

John Willis, representing Delta Phi, was elected chairman of the group. Lowell Douglas of Westminster fellowship was named vice-chairman and Eileen Gibbons chosen secretary. Directors are: Jack Gasper, Newman club; Jafar Al Sufi, Moslems; and Shirlene Griffith and Marlin Fairbourn, Lambda Delta Sigma.

Dean Joseph N. Symons was chosen advisor by the group.

Vets Should Expect Notice

World War II veterans will soon receive a "Notice of Training Status," according to Asa L. Beecher, veterans' coordinator.

Upon receipt of this notice, all veterans should take immediate notice of item six, which lists the major for which the veteran concerned is held accountable by the Veterans Administration.

Should any veteran be registered in any major which differs from item six on his notice, he should report to the veterans administration office in Main 15.

Flyers Needed

More cadets are needed in the Air Force flight training program, according to Col. Robert J. Hill and Dean Carlton Culnisse, who have just returned from an Air Force ROTC conference at Maxwell A.F. base in Montgomery, Alabama.

They also stated that the Air Force expects to obtain 80 per cent of its officers from college ROTC programs this year, and that 75 per cent of these of-

Citation to Fred M. Nye

"In the passing of Fred M. Nye, the Utah State Agricultural college recognizes the loss of a staunch friend and supporter. He was first appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1931 and has served almost continuously since that time. Trustee Nye's contributions to the Institution in the field of finance and business management have been highly esteemed. But his influence upon this great college cannot be measured in terms of ordinary values. He brought to the deliberations of the Board a strong intelligence, high principles, and sound judgment nurtured through a highly successful career in business, civic and Church activities. He gained the confidence and respect of everyone who knew him.

The Board, Administration, Faculty, Students, Alumni, and Friends of the Utah State Agricultural College share sorrow with the family on the passing of this splendid man. But our deep sense of loss is tempered with gratitude for the long service he rendered to education and for the example of steadfast purpose and high ideals which he set for us and our youth. We honor in his name the memory of a citizen great in aspiration and accomplishment.

Homecoming

At intermission, two modern music selections will be given by Lynn Schumann on drums and Arthur Smart, piano.

Homecoming chairmen are LeRoy Blaser, faculty representative and Dave Gittens, a junior student.

Chairmen of special events are: Gordon Stock, queen candidates; Andy Hays, pep rally; Ruth Carlson, house decorations; Bob Chambers, parade; Bonnie Rose, dance; and Joe Nelson, publicity chairman.

We Wuz Robbed! Farmers Are Foiled At Fresno 'Fracus'

BY RONALEE SELWONK

We wuz robbed!

From the cries of the team and others who went to Fresno State last week, one would wonder if they had an extra passenger traveling on the buses and trains with them—old Dame Fate herself!

From start to finish, the trip was full of unusual events and happenings.

The band and sponsors left Utah State Thursday evening by bus and auto, and from Logan to California, everything went as expected. But the minute they entered California, kpoof!

No New Composition?

LeRoy Blaser, alumni secretary; John P. Dalby, band director, and Dean Joseph N. Symons traveled by automobile. Mr. Blaser thought that Mr. Dalby should see Inspiration Point and Emerald Isle, so he directed the band leader to take a different route than the buses. After traveling four hours in search of the great Inspiration Point (they thought perhaps Mr. Dalby could get inspiration to write a great song or other musical composition), they arrived there, only to find that the route wasn't really shorter—in fact, it was more than a hundred miles longer.

By the time the groups arrived at Fresno, they were "bushed" and really ready to retire. However, the over-anxious room clerks had haphazardly assigned them to any empty rooms he could find. It took Blaser, Symons, and Dalby about two hours to find out who was staying where and with whom.

Oh, For a Cool Drink!

Saturday they went out to Fresno State campus to drill for a couple of hours. After little more than an hour in the hot California sun, they were virtually "cooked."

Again Dean Symons and Mr. Blaser came to the rescue. By luck and a little ingenuity, they located one concession stand which had some ice, and another which had some hot soda water. What happens when you mix the two? Well, at least the kids didn't die of thirst.

Meanwhile the team, traveling by train, was stalled when a generator in the locomotive burned out. They telegraphed to Fresno, and Dean Symons sent the California State Highway patrol out to meet them and escort them to the stadium.

The team arrived just in time to change clothes and rush out onto the playing field. The game went off without undue excitement except for a reversed decision of a referee which threatened to break up play for a moment, but order was soon restored.

Symons Starts Sleuthing

When they got back to the locker room, they found they had been robbed, but not just in the game. Thieves had broken into the room and taken off with all the money, jewelry, and other valuables.

Despite the careful sleuthing of Dean Symons (Utah State's criminology expert) and the Fresno police, nothing definite was uncovered.

When the band and sponsors returned to their hotel, they thought they also had been robbed, in a different way. All the power in the block had gone out, and they were in total darkness.

From Blackout to Reno

With the aid of a few candles they could scrounge and some matches, they felt their way up the stairs for seven flights and changed clothes. Amazingly, they got away without missing too many clothes, although Mr. Blaser reports that they were able to find half a suitcase of odds and ends after everyone had gone.

They left Fresno early Sunday morning, and, except for a stop at Reno, came directly home. That one stop at Reno was most fortunate, because it was the only place they stopped that they really came out on top. Attendants at the club kept such close watch on the college kids that they didn't get to play the slot machines or games of chance. As a result, they arrived home with their shirts still on their backs!

SUB Schedules Winter Opening

Although the Student Union building will not officially open until the beginning of winter quarter, the ball room will be in readiness for the annual Christmas ball, according to Harold Dance, chairman of the Union Building board.

Financial difficulties will prevent the immediate furnishing of some rooms and offices of the Student Union building, but the cafeteria, fountain room, lounge, and book store are expected to be ready for use by the first of next quarter.

A union director will be appointed by Nov. 15 and be ready to begin with student activities winter quarter.

Because of weather conditions, the dedication of the building will be postponed until next spring.

Leaders Must Turn in Names

Leaders of campus organizations were reminded today by Nora B. Thurgood, vice president of the studentbody, that names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all club officers should be turned into the student personnel office.

Each group president should gather this information, and turn it into the office. This should include presidents, vice presidents, and secretaries, along with any other governing office in the organization.

Lists of the campus leaders will be compiled when the information is submitted.

Presidents Meet Set Wednesday

A meeting of the Presidents' club will be held Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 12 noon in room 101 of the Commons building, chairman Nora B. Thurgood announced.

All presidents of clubs, fraternities, sororities, and organizations on campus should plan to be in attendance at the meeting. Important campus affairs will be discussed, Miss Thurgood noted.

Teachers to Determine Students' Registration

Check lists have gone out to all faculty members to determine who is and who is not properly registered, reports William H. Bell, registrar.

Teachers who have the yellow to report for class will be required cards of students who have failed to forward them to the registrar's office.

Students who are attending classes but are not included in the official registration list will be required to call at the Registrar's office and take care of their registration.

Beginning this week withdrawal from classes is not permitted except when circumstances beyond the control of students exist.

Applications for admittance to candidacy for graduation are due this week from all seniors who expect to graduate this spring. Applications can be obtained from the senior's major professor, according to Registrar Bell.

It's important that these applications be turned in early in order to give the Registrar's office time to check graduation requirements and give students time to make up any deficiencies they may have, concluded Mr. Bell.

Debaters Prime For Tournament

Debaters and forensic students are preparing to participate in the Rocky Mountain Forensic league tournament to be held at Brigham Young university on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Activities include debating, discussion, extemporaneous, impromptu, after-dinner and radio speaking.

Participating schools include Utah State, Montana State, University of Denver, Colorado A & M and B Y U.

Other trips planned by the Utah State debaters include meets at western Oregon and Redlands, Calif.

SPONSOR TRIP

Fresno Doings Recounted

By RUTH CARLSON

After a thrill-packed weekend, filled with activities, the Aggie Corps of Sponsors returned to Logan this week from their first big trip of the year.

The corps traveled to Fresno, Calif., to perform a precision drill at the Utah State-Fresno State College football game.

The girls left Logan last Thursday evening by bus, and arrived in Fresno the following day. A side trip was taken by way of Lake Tahoe, including points of interest along the way. At Reno, Nev., a tour was taken through the world-famous Harold's Club. (No gambling!)

Fresno extended a welcome-hand to its guests for the weekend, and the girls in blue were royally feted at a studentbody dance, fraternity openhouses and many other activities. Following the game and dance, the Corps again boarded the bus for home.

A little difficulty arose as the girls were checking out of the hotel. Because of a short in the electrical system, lights and the elevators were not in use for several hours, and all packing was done by candle-light. With all the elevators out of use, the baggage was transported, by hand, down seven flights of stairs. (The girls said this all added to the fun of the trip!)

After recuperating from the many hours of travel, the Sponsors were back for drill this week at Aggie land.

Tough Luck Ags Get Robbed And Beaten At Fresno

BY ROD JENSEN

Utah State's Aggies entered the danger zone of acquiring a "losing complex" this football season by dropping their fourth game of the season to an unimpressive Fresno State eleven last Saturday.

Dropping the close one with momentary lapses is developing into a habit for the men of Coach John Roning, who fell flat on their faces on pass defense and let Fresno score four touchdowns via the airbus before nearly 13,000 fans in the coast city.

Final score was 27-21 for FSC. But the Bulldogs had to come from behind, if that is any consolation, after the Farmers' Jack Hill darted nine yards to score early in the contest.

It was a freshman lad from Wisconsin, Fred Bistrick, who punctured holes in the Aggies' defensive web with his long-looping passes. Prior to the Utah State tiff, Bistrick had not passed for a single TD in three games.

Earl Lindley, wingback, who like Hill, was benched in the game's opening minutes, came through in excellent style with his best ball-totin' of the season.

Lindley racked up the Utahs' final touchdown late in the game when he crashed off left guard and bounced three would-be-tacklers off his shoulders on a 21-yard sprint for six points.

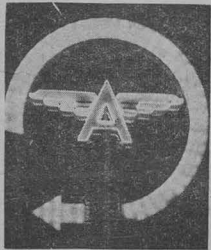

Fullback Del Campbell received credit for Utah State's other TD on a four-yard smash through center.

Outstanding player for the Ags, however, was Hill, who picked up 109 yards in 23 carries. His efforts once again planted him on top of the conference's ground-gaining department. Game films add emphasis on Hill's work against FSC.

Besides lugging the leather in such splendid fashion, Hill booted three placements to run his total to five straight this season, plus one field goal.

And to make the trip even more deploring was the fact that $500 in cash and valuables was pilfered from the team during the tiff. Some game!

Touch Football Approaches End Only Two Teams Left in Leagues

BY BILL BOWLES

The Intramural touch football tournament has reached its climax. The only remaining undefeated teams are: SAE, and PKA. Of the fraternities; the Engineers and Ag Club of the school departments; Wellsville and the Wildcats of the club teams, according to Don Tuft, organizer of the touch football program.

The strong aggression of SAE is sporting a 26-0 victory over Sigma Chi. These two teams will meet head on Wednesday, October 29 at noon on field number 1 on the quad.

The departmental teams will meet on the number 1 field of honor at 12 noon Friday, October 23. Tuft reported. The Engineers squad defeated the Eposeters by a score of 13-6 and whitewashed the Faculty 19-0 in their preparation for the championship battle with the Ag Club who sports a 2-0 forfeit record in their only scheduled contest.

The two victorious club teams will face one another on field number 1 Tuesday, October 28, at noon on the quad. The Club team victors are both sporting records of sound thumpings to their previous opponents. The Wildcats defeated the Brigham team to the tune of 15-0 and the Wellsville squad romped over Malad 20-0 Tuft stated.

All interested matsters should contact Ray Watters at the Intramural office in the Smart Gymnasium prior to this date, so the pairings can be scheduled and final championship matches held November 25.

Hotchkins, Hill High In Statistics

Sophomore Jack Hill has burned up the league at Utah State this year. Jack has consistently been up in the top of the statistics lists every week and at the present he is leading the conference in ball carrying.

Jack played standout freshman ball last year and earned his letter for his efforts.

He comes to Utah State from Kaysville and is a graduate of Davis High. He was a fine all-around athlete at Davis and was selected to the all-state basketball team.

Femorals

As intramural softball moved into its third week, Alpha Chi Omega took the lead, defeating Chi Omega and Sigma Kappa. Sigma Kappa followed in a close second and Lambda Delta Sigma moved into third. Kappa Delta and Chi Omega were in the cellar with three defeats each.

In the independent league, the Skippers garnered first place honors by winning all four of their games. The other teams still had games to play to decide their positions.

Sightin' In

BY LARRY MONROE

I was going out to take some pictures the other day, but about the time the hills got photogenic, they also got full of artillery. Being a timid soul and not used to bullet wounds, I fled for my life.

I would hate to be a deer right now. If I were a deer though, I believe I would come into town during the hunting season, since all the hunters are out in the hills. That would be one way of avoiding them. (Notice to any deer that may read this: I will be watching for you.)

I have talked with several people around school that have already shot a deer. Everyone says that they are pretty scarce this year. From the amount of blasting going on, the few deer that are left must really get around.

Sumpin' Old—Sumpin' New

It is interesting to note the variety of weapons that are being used. One friend is using an old .45-70 of Civil War vintage. I know another friend that hunts with an old Winchester single-shot gun that he loads black powder cartridges for. Then of course there is Dean Turner down at the Forestry school—the dean and his pals use muzzle loaders (and always bring in the bacon).

On the other extreme we find guys that are using such pieces of armament as a 7mm Weatherby Magnum, which one hardly soul lugs around. The advantage of that is that while those guns usually weigh lots, you don't have to walk very far. Just spy a deer on some mountain top and let him have it (in the eye if you please). But then you've got to walk up there and get him anyway.

I haven't seen any of the new Winchester .308's floating around. That cartridge in the new light weight rifle should be ideal for requirements hereabouts. While I haven't seen any of the rifles, I have heard plenty of talk about them and alas, already some of the real hep handloaders and wildcat boys are making plans for the .308 brass. One fellow I talked with suggested that the present case be necked down to .25 caliber to produce something on the order of a short .25-06. We'll see it before we die.

Seasons for the Birds

The majority of the duck hunters did well on the first day. It was clear and calm on the duck ponds but the birds seemed to be flying anyway. Major Bruce over in the military department said that he and his companion got their limits of ducks and some geese by 2:00 in the afternoon.

There has been a lot of griping about the way the seasons are set up this year. The deer season couldn't be more inconvenient for fellows going to school. They will either have to miss some classes, miss the Homecoming activities or take a chance on a last minute try. It was the opinion of one local conservation official that I talked with, that the season would be altered next year to open on the last Sunday or Saturday in October, or some similar arrangement.

Too many people get excluded under this year's setup. The fish and game regulations should be constructed with the idea of giving everyone an even break, which this season's regulation doesn't.

The duck season is a little different matter. It is long enough so that everyone that wants to can get in plenty of good shooting before the season closes without hitting the opening day. Of course not everybody can make it out on a Friday noon, but they have several weekends and what not to scatter shot all over the marsh.

Consider then the impoverished seeker of the buck. He has to eat so he can't knock off on Monday. Chances are he won't get to go until Saturday night or Sunday and then he only gets one day. Without luck, kids, he gets no animal.

Anything to Save A Buck

An interesting thing was mentioned in a conversation the other day, by an old deer hunter. A good way to keep flies off of your deer during hot weather is to sprinkle the cavity with pepper. It works.

Aggies Meet Aggies for Homecoming

Despite the weather, enthusiasm should be high Saturday when the conference leading Colorado Aggies tangle with the Utags in the latter's Homecoming game in the A.C. stadium. Game time will be 1:30 p.m.

Seeking their first conference title since 1927, the Aggies from Colorado look for this to be the year as they have a record of four victories against no defeats in all-around play. They also lead the Skyline Eight Conference with two wins and no defeats. Their two wins were over the powerful Wyoming Cowboys and Montana Grizzlies.

On the other side of the fence, Utah State (also the Aggies) will be out to finish something started last year when the two teams fought to a 20-20 tie over at Fort Collins. The Utags record for the 1952 grid season is not too bright as they have won but one game while dropping three. The Staters lone victory was over the last place Montana Grizzlies.

Don Burroughs Back

Colorado lost 15 lettermen in last year's graduation but as fortune would (or would not) have themselves back again with the nation's seventeenth-best offensive passer in Don Burroughs, six foot senior. Burroughs is expected to carry a good share of the Aggie load in Saturday's contest.

Utags Back With 27 Lettermen

The Staters are back with 27 lettermen; among them are Ralph Cavallucci, Joe Cippola, George Hotchkiss and Matt Trontel at ends; Larry Montgomery, Darwin Brown, Steve Worthington and Captain Dale Gardner, tackles; Dave Kragthorne, Wes Christensen and Dale Jasper guards; Lew Edwards center; Perry Brady, Earl Lindley, Jack Hill, Barry Flenniken, Bud Paul, Russ McGraw and Delray Campbell backs.

The annual "homecoming" dance with its beautiful queen and attendants will be held at the La De Sa at 9 p.m.

Around About in Sports

BY GARY BLODGETT

The Utah State gridmen will be in for sixty minutes of hard fought football Saturday when they tangle with the Colorado A & M Aggies in the Staters' annual Homecoming game.

Fresh with a 47-0 victory over the Montana Grizzlies, the Coloradoans should be heavy favorites over the Staters, who lost a 27-21 thriller to Fresno State last weekend.

The Utags' pass-defense looked weak in the Fresno contest and that is just what the Aggies from Colorado would like as they have one of the top passers in the nation in Don Burroughs, six-foot, 185-lb. senior.

Pigskins A'Flying

Burroughs, rated number 17 in the nation's offensive passing, is also leading the conference in that department with a total of 432 yards. Burroughs is also leading in T.D. passes with seven.

The pigskin will be flying on the Staters side of the fence also, as they have the third best ball slinger in the conference. He is Barry Flenniken, Utag, tailback.

Odd But True

Odd-but-true — both the Colorado A & M and Utah State gridmen are known as the "Agies". However, the Utah Aggies have the colors of blue and white while the Coloradoans sport the colors of green and gold. Another oddity of the A & M Aggies is the cannon used at all home games in which they fire after each touchdown and at the starting of each game.

The Utah Aggies have won but one conference title since its beginning in 1900, however they have tied twice. The Utags lone honor came in 1921 with the two deadlocks coming in 1935 (with Colo.) and 1946 (with Denver).

Colorado A & M has won six titles while tying for one, but have failed to capture the title since 1927.

Stringfellow Airs Views At Quad Rally

Accusing labor of having one of the "most vicious monopolies in America," Douglas Stringfellow, Republican candidate for Congress from the 1st district, affirmed his support of the Taft-Hartley law to students assembled on the quad Thursday afternoon.

He called for an end to farm price supports and for a farmer-operated agricultural program without controls.

"Our present economy is based on war and preparations for war," he charged. "We need an economy based on peace and preparations for peace," he stated.

The present Democratic platform, he characterized as "a mass of promises to vicious minorities."

He stated that the real issues of the campaign are corruption, peace or war, and socialism.

Mr. Stringfellow declared his independence of minority groups and stated, "I am committed to no one and I make no commitments to any group."

Democrats have brought a growing debt and a shrinking dollar, he charged. If a person should approach a bank for a loan with the same credit rating as the United States government, he would be refused as a bad risk, he claimed.

He pledged his support to the United Nations provided the United States is not used as it has been in the past.

Mr. Stringfellow opened a question period after his speech but the fair sized crowd preferred to talk with him individually after his address.

No, President Hubbard, you do not. I feel that you are misrepresenting the student body and the college, President Hubbard, because some of us just didn't come here to wear the boots and ten gallon hats. Your picture in the front of the '52 Blue Book is definitely misleading because of your string tie, big hat and plaid shirt.

Are you representing the students in such a manner as you suggest? I don't think that you are.

WHO'S REPUBLICAN?

Editor, Student Life:

After noting the treatment given Senator Taft in your issue of October 16 we are forced to ask: Why must you persist in your ill-advised, subjective support of Governor Stevenson? General Eisenhower is that man.

This courage is everywhere evident in the General's campaign. Consider for a moment that Eisenhower is a political novice. Imagine the courage which he must possess to seek to learn to swim politically.

Cash & Carry

We Wuz Robbed

Utah State's football athletes met misfortune in more ways than one last Saturday when the Aggie dressing room was broken into and about $200 in cash and over $300 in watches, rings and other jewelry was stolen.

"We have the California authorities as well as our local police on the job to recover the money, but as yet we have few leads," said Professor Whitesides, director of athletics for Utah State.

The trip to Fresno was full of tough luck from the beginning when the generator of the train burned out and the Aggie gridmen, behind police escort, arrived at the game just before the opening toot of the whistle.

To add to troubles of the week-end trip the athletes found their hotel rooms in darkness and had to light candles (what ones they could find) to find their way around.

But that isn't all—during the game a reversed decision by the referees almost called "quits" to the game.

What a trip that must have been!!

Aggie Alumni Make Outstanding Records

BY LORI BURNHAM

Homecoming is due to roar into town this weekend, and with it will come an influx of returning alumni, back to the old alma mater, Utah State college.

At any rate, Homecoming gives us undergraduates a chance to proudly welcome back our alums, many of whom have done so much to bring recognition and approbation to the name of USAC.

Eugene Gardner, who graduated as valedictorian of his class in 1935, won world wide fame through his discoveries in the field of nuclear physics. His isolation and identification of the meson was hailed as a "milestone in nuclear science." He died in Vallejo, California, as a result of his experiments with berillium.

Another brilliant scientist who graduated from the AC is Dr. Claude Zobell, who is now professor of micro-biology at The Scripps Institute of Oceanography. He was a member of the Galathea expedition, exploring oceanic depths between Japan and Australia, and his findings have been reported in "Life" and "Time" magazines.

The Bravest Man
Sam Parkinson Cowley, called by J. Edgar Hoover, "The bravest man I ever knew" was an outstanding F. B. I. agent. Graduating in 1925 he was killed ten years later in a gun battle with "Baby-face Nelson," then public enemy No. 1.

During his career he had a hand in the apprehension of many big-time criminals, including "Pretty-boy Floyd" and the notorious John Dillinger, whom he shot on June 22, 1935. Hoover said of him, "Sam Cowley's courage was beyond heroics. He was brave enough to be completely honest in the little things as well as the big things—that's the kind of courage that can carry a man proudly from the cradle to the grave."

World Famous
Another Aggie counted among the well-known and successful is Daken K. Broadhead, now the president of the world's largest company manufacturing radio transcriptions. His company, The Allied Record Manufacturing Co., is located in Hollywood.

These are but a handful of our grads that have distinguished themselves, and thereby their college.

Letters to the Editor

in the turbulent waters of the White House. How great must be the trepidation which he must overcome in order to emulate our only living ex-president, Herbert Hoover, who attained his high office after having previously held only one other elective position in his life—Treasurer of his college class.

In view of this supreme display of fearlessness, we must overlook Ike's minor inadequacies, such as his ignorance of domestic affairs, his rather one-sided training in foreign affairs, oriented as he is toward our European policy, and his obvious difficulty in formulating any meaningful program of positive action on any issue, winking as he does, to throw a juicy bone to every salivating political dog.

Yet, the very fact that a man like Ike is actively seeking an office for which he is woefully unprepared, is evidence enough of his strength and fortitude. The fact that on every hand he has been forced to compromise, and then compromise his compromise, expounding as he has, a policy entirely foreign from his personality and attitudes, shows clearly that his struggle has been one of appoeptic proportions.

In the interests of fair play and good sportsmanship we, students of Utah State College, are morally bound to support actively and vigorously a man who is, in keeping with our finest Aggie traditions, GIVING IT THE OLD COLLEGE TRY.

Yours for no communism, less corruption, and still less positive action.

Library Reveals Caged Volumns

BY KAY MATHEWS

Did you know Utah State college library has some crazy books?

These books are kept in the cages so that the circulation on them can be checked. When they are let out it is for a very short time.

In the top cage are books and material about Utah and books written by Utah authors. In this cage there are many old church books which are now out of print. Some of these books are: The Women's Journal, which was combined later with the Men's Journal to make the Improvement Era. There are many old Utah magazines and manuals and historical books of Utah. Also there are books that were put out in the form of Mormon propaganda. All of these books are out of print and are very valuable.

The lower cage has old college material. In it are old bulletins put out by the USAC, Buzzers, books with clippings of the USAC which were published in the Her-

'51 Queen Tells of Reign

"A lot of exciting activities are in store for this year's Homecoming queen," commented Rose Marie Wright, last year's Homecoming queen, who will turn over her crown tonight to her successor.

Last year's reign was like "life in the clouds" she stated. She began her official duties at the pep rally Friday, where coach John Roning placed the crown on her head.

Saturday, she was "her majesty" of the Homecoming parade, and was introduced to the spectators at the football game during half-time.

She also met Gov. J. Bracken Lee during the football game. Miss Wright was sponsored by Delta Phi fraternity in the queen race. Her attendants were Marian Nielsen and Bonnie Reese.

Although she commented that she felt like a "has-been" her activities as Student Life Society editor, a member of the Sponsor corps, and Dream Girl of Delta Phi, speak otherwise.

ald Journal and the old Student Life's.

Some ancient and unique books which have been donated to the library along with all the master theses that have been written are kept in this cage.

Honor Rating Given To '52 'Buzzer'

Buzzer received a "second class" in the National Scholastic Press All-American critical service for college yearbooks published during 1951-52.

The Utah State yearbook competed with 19 other yearbooks in its enrollment class of 2000-3999 students.

In that enrollment class two yearbooks were rated "All-American," ten "First Class" and six "Second Class."

Editor of the book was Joan Clifton. Other staff members were Dorothy Marshall, LaRue Vincent, Lois Blood, assistant editors; Hal Reintjes, business manager; Pat Peiper, artist, and George Mitton, photographer.

Section editors were: Maxine Tripp, Janet Pond, Greta Ashcroft, Frances Fullmer, can Marie Heywood, Paula Stanger, Carolyn Pond, Marion Moe, Miley Fergus, Carol Nielson, Darrell Deem, Romona Stephens and Mary Helen Tweedie.

THE STORE OF GREATER VALUES

THESE HANDS ARE PRICELESS!

They protect the American way of life . . . our homes, our freedoms, our future.

These Hands, sensitively trained to respond acutely to the commands of an alert mind and courageous heart, are the hands of a United States Air Force Pilot.

The skillful touch of these hands attunes the blasting speed of modern jet aircraft to effective missions in discouraging any enemy. These hands are supremely capable of flying and fighting these machines with devastating effect.

These Hands belong to young, spirited American men (not supermen) who desire to live unmolested in a free America . . . who want to enjoy the same rights and opportunities open to all real American people.

These Hands belong to our sons—yours and mine. Youth who must decide today how they can share in defense of our nation and also better themselves. To insure greater chances of their success, today's college men should be encouraged to complete their education and then serve their country best by enlisting as Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Air Force.

Theirs is the choice of becoming either a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After graduation as Second Lieutenants in the U. S. Air Force, they wear the silver wings of flying executives and begin earning nearly $5300 a year.

These Hands represent a man ready to qualify for this tremendous task because he is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition, especially eyes, ears, heart and teeth. He possesses at least two years of college and the inherent urge to fly.

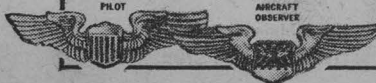

These Hands shape the destiny of America . . . the difference between our survival and oblivion. The U. S. Air Force needs the hands, the minds and the hearts of young Americans who desire to make the American way a greater way of peace and happiness for all.

John Broberg will be in charge of the election. Ace Raymond, Ralph Porter, and Keith Spencer will furnish music for the gathering and Douglas Bergeson will be the master of ceremonies. Guests will include President Madsen, chairman of the USAC athletic committee, the Board of Trustees, and members of the coaching staff.

Education Frat Reunion
Another reunion to be held during Homecoming is the Phi Delta Kappa breakfast at 8:30 Saturday morning in the Hotel Eccles banquet room. This will be the first time that this reunion has been held at Homecoming and plans are being made to make it an annual affair. The professional education fraternity includes many students as well as members of the faculty and other teachers throughout the state.

A highlight of the week-end will be the annual alumni luncheon held at the Commons cafeteria at 1:20 a.m. on Saturday. All former alums and their friends are invited to attend. President Madsen will give the official greeting at 11:30, after which the executive committee will make appropriate introductions.

LeRoy Blaser, of the alumni office, urges that the alumni take advantage of this luncheon to meet old friends and visit the campus. Parking space will be reserved near the cafeteria for all guests during the luncheon and the game.

Queen Will Reign At Fieldhouse Pep Rally Tonite

One of the largest cheer sessions of the year, Homecoming pep rally, will be held on the eve of the Colorado A & M-Utah State football game at 7:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse.

Everyone—alums, parents, and students—put in their appearance at the rally last year and it is hoped that Aggies will be in full force tomorrow night, Andy Hays, chairman, stated.

Highlight of the rally will be the announcement and coronation of the Homecoming queen from the court of 12 candidates, along with words from Coach John Roning and Captain Dale Gardner.

The band and cheerleaders will be there, and Mr. Hays will act as master of ceremonies.

Rooters are urged to bring all of the noise makers available to add to the celebration. Tin pans, cow bells, bugles and all other noise makers will help add to the din, Mr. Hays continued.

Delta Phi, USAC senior class, Intercollegiate Knights, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Sigma Kappa, Pershing Rifles, Canadian club, and Ag club.

Marching Corps

Marching units will include Utah State's ROTC Sponsor Corps and Pershing Rifles.

Bob Chambers, Smithfield, is chairman of the parade, assisted by Norman Olsen, Brigham City.

The parade will be the first homecoming activity on Saturday. Other events will include the football game between the Aggies and Colorado A & M at 1:30 p.m. in the stadium. Concluding event will be a dance at 9 p.m. in La De' Sa ballroom.

Float, Decoration Winners To Be Announced at Dance

Homecoming dance Saturday night at La De' Sa will pull the final curtain on Aggie Homecoming activities for another year.

Jack Dunn's eleven-piece orchestra will provide the downbeat for the dance when it begins at 9 p.m.
