Marilyn Crawford, center, with her attendants, LaRue Farnes and Shirlene Griffiths, reigned over Homecoming activities last week.

Trophies Awarded For Homecoming

Charming brunette Marilyn Crawford reigned over two days of Homecoming activities with her attendants, LaRue Farnes and Shirlene Griffiths. Miss Crawford was sponsored by Engineering and Technology students. Pi Kappa Alpha sponsored Miss Farnes, and Lambda Delta Sigma sponsored Miss Griffiths.

The queen and her attendants were introduced at a pep rally Friday night at the fieldhouse.

Alpha Chi Omega captured the trophy for best all-around float in Saturday's parade. Other float trophies were garnered by Kappa Sigma, most artistic, and Chi Omega, most original entry.

Chi O's Score

In house decorations, "Roning's Greatest Show on Earth," at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house, received the nod of judges for first place in fraternity competition. Sorority trophy was won by Chi Omega for "Roning's Chuckwag-on."

"The Rams are in the Stew" was theme used by Lambda Delta Sigma, who took top honors in the organization contest.

House decorations were judged on appropriateness to Homecoming spirit, cleverness in carrying out the basic theme, originality, construction, and use of the house including inside appearance.

An estimated crowd of 15,000 persons lined Logan streets for the Saturday parade in downtown Logan. Twenty bands from Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, marched in the parade which featured other floats and dignitaries.

Bands En Masse

Pre-game ceremonies included grand entry of the high school bands into the stadium. All of the bands joined with the Utah State band to play "The Star Spangled Banner" under the direction of Dr. N. W. Christiansen.

Thousands of spectators watched the Utah State-Colorado A & M football game. The Colorado Rams defeated the Aggies, 21-7.

Other features of the Homecoming included alumni reunions and dinners.

Note of Thanks

President Louis L. Madsen expresses his appreciation to all who contributed to the success of what has been termed the best Homecoming celebration in years. He expresses his thanks to the students, faculty, fraternities and sororities, committees, organizations, and alumni secretary, Logan-Cach Chamber of Commerce, residents of this area, alumni, and especially the football team.

Educational Policies Defended by Gov. J. Bracken Lee

"I defy anyone to prove I have harmed the school system of this state," Governor J. Bracken Lee told a fair-sized crowd in the Utah State fieldhouse Wednesday afternoon.

Characterizing himself as a friend of education, he stated that elementary education received nine-million dollars more, and colleges three and one half million dollars more in the last biennium than ever before.

He defended his policy toward education by stating that he wanted money spent honestly on education.

"I want the goodwill of school people, but I want it in an honest way," the governor said.

"There has been more new building at USAC during the last four years than in the previous 20 years," he claimed.

Money that would have gone into unnecessary salaries went into buildings, in the governor's opinion.

He called for a return to the ten commandments and the golden rule in government and stated, "It's high time to return honesty to government."

Labeling pressure groups as un-American, Governor Lee reiterated, "I never made a promise to people in return for votes and I refuse to do so today."

He called for people to awaken to the danger of un-American elements in their midst.

Answering his critics, he stated that if they were traced down, they would be found to be the ones he "kept from putting their hand in the taxpayers' pockets."

"I'm just a little bit ashamed of my generation; ashamed because we have let you down," he declared. "We have mortgaged

Campus Chest Drive Begins Saturday, With $3,000 Goal

By TOM BROWN

With a goal of $3,000 set, the Campus Chest drive begins on campus this weekend, and they're asking you to "Give 'til Your Chest Swells."

The Chest drive annually collects funds to contribute to polio, tuberculosis, Red Cross, Cancer, and other worthy fund campaigns. Under the direction of Joyce Barkle, student councilman in charge of the Chest, the drive will begin this Saturday, and run until Nov. 15.

Next Tuesday, at 11 a.m. in the main auditorium, a "chest" auction will be held, Miss Barkle stated. At that time, the services of some college officials will be auctioned off, for a price of course, to perform various and sundry duties. Who knows—you may have a dean washing your dishes!

Carnival, Dance

The big carnival and dance will be held Friday, Nov. 7, at LaDaSa. A meeting will be held this Friday, at 12 noon in the women's lounge of the Commons, for all representatives of groups planning to have booths at the Carnival.

Various units on campus will compete in the fund-raising campaign. A sweepstakes trophy will be awarded to the group that has raised the most during the campaign.

Get Your Tickets

A lucky dance ticket contest also is being conducted, with the winner to receive a radio-phonograph console, Miss Barkle noted.

Committee members aiding Miss Barkle are Don Bybee, dance and carnival; Marion Nielsen, finance and receipts; Mary Ada Gardner, auction; and Margaret Fletcher, publicity.

During the drive, it is customary for each student to donate at least $1.

Board Considers Findings of Survey Group

Discussion and adoption of an institutional survey highlighted action at a meeting of the college Board of Trustees last week-end.

Reporting to the board was Dr. Fred J. Kelly, chairman of the survey. The board asked for a permanent copy of the survey, with several hundred other copies to be printed for reference.

Change College Name

Among the many recommendations of the survey were appointment of a business manager to be placed under the direction of President Louis L. Madsen, and a dean of students with administrative responsibilities, to act as assistant to the president.

Another suggestion of the committee was that the name of the college be changed from Utah State Agricultural College to Utah State college. This would make possible a better understanding of the purposes and educational capacities of the college.

In the survey report are 15 chapters. At the board meeting, however, the discussion dwelt largely on chapter one which is a "Summary of Findings and Recommendations."

Costs Too Low

One important phase of the report emphasized that Utah State has the lowest cost per student, and lower building expenditures, than any of the mountain states Land Grant colleges. Salaries for personnel are also lower than any of the 15 other institutions in the area.

Chairman Thorpe B. Isaacman of the Board requested that the survey be printed. When the copies are available, Student Life will announce complete details of findings and recommendations.

Prexy Club Meets

An important meeting for members of the president's club will be held Wednesday at 12 noon, in room 101 of the Commons building, according to Nora B. Thurgood, vice president of the student body.

President Louis L. Madsen will be in attendance at the meeting to speak, and officers for the club will be elected.

Presidents of all clubs and organizations on the campus should have representatives at this meeting, Miss Thurgood stated.

Ghosts Caper On Halloween

BY ANN HAMILTON

Tomorrow night in some parts of Ireland, the "Vigil of Samon" will be celebrated. Samon is the lord of death and some people will believe that on Halloween night, Samon will call together certain wicked souls.

In a section of the United States, the lord of dance will call the Aggie student body to a big Halloween sport dance Friday at 9 p.m.

There will be no calling together of wicked souls here, although assistants to the lord of dance, Ruth Carlson and Orma Linford, have made reservations for several witches, goblins, ghosts, and black cats to spend Halloween at LaDe'Sa ballroom. They will act only as decorations.

A freshman quintet and piano and drum combo will perform during intermission. One member of the quintet will sing a solo.

Jack Dunn's eleven piece orchestra will provide music.

Admission will be student body cards.

Prof. and Mrs. Moyle Q. Rice will be patrons.

Voters Go to Polls Tuesday To Select New Leaders

Voters of the nation will go to the polls next Tuesday to determine who will be the next president of the United States.

The election will climax three months of active campaigning by Republican candidates, General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Richard M. Nixon of California, and Democratic candidates Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Senator John Sparkman of Alabama.

Utah voters will also decide who will sit in the governor's seat and in the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

Candidates for governor are J.

Bracken Lee, who is seeking reelection for the Republican party, and Democrat Earl J. Glade, mayor of Salt Lake City.

Utah candidates for United States senator are Arthur V. Watkins, Republican, and Walter K. Granger, Democrat.

Douglas Stringfellow, Republican, will oppose Ernest R. McKay, Democrat, for the representative post. Reva Beck Bosone, incumbent Democrat, and William Dawson, GOP hopeful, are vying for the second district congressman's seat.

Numerous other county and city positions throughout the state will also be decided.

LIFE'S EDITORIAL

Agathon Chairman, Planning Needed

To some of the students who are new on the campus, and even to some who aren't, Agathon is a new word. The expression was coined last year as name of Utah State's "educational fair."

Last year Agathon attracted thousands of townspeople, high school and college students to Aggie acres to see what we on the campus are accomplishing academically, scholastically, and socially.

Chairman Needed

You may wonder why we mention Agathon now, when it won't take place until next May. As a matter of fact, Agathon won't even take place in May unless groundwork is laid now. In October, that groundwork can't be laid until a student chairman and committee members are appointed.

Applications for chairman were reviewed by student council last spring and one was appointed. However, other commitments stood in his way and he was forced to resign. Since then, Student Life has run several articles advertising the fact that the position is open, and applications will be accepted.

Key Position

Chairmanship of Agathon should be one of the biggest and most sought positions on the campus. The responsibility and opportunities for leadership are comparable to a studentbody officer.

However, to the average student, applying for Agathon chairman has one advantage over applying for studentbody officer. Studentbody officers are elected by the students and must go through campaigns and election proceedings. Agathon chairman will be selected by student council on the basis of his qualification and willingness to lead the activity.

Perhaps there would be more incentive for students to apply if more distinction and recognition were given to the position. When one considers the work involved in planning and integrating the activities that take place during Agathon, the few student award points given to the chairman would hardly seem recompense for his efforts.

Although Agathon chairman doesn't yet receive a white A sweater or have a private office, the chairman who does his job well will have the satisfaction of knowing that he has helped to sell Utah State college to the state and itself.

Agathon is too good to let it falter now. If qualified students would willingly accept the position, they would be doing a service to themselves and the school.

The staff of Student Life hopes that the students are going to get behind the "educational fair" and give it the shot in the arm it deserves.

Fresno to Replace Cash

We note with pleasure a clipping taken from the student newspaper at Fresno State college. Headlined: "Drive To Replace $180 Stolen From Utah State Team Starts Next Week."

In the lead, the article states:

"The student public relations committee, headed by Chairmen Glen Stevens and Gary Cregger, was ordered to raise $180 by the student council Wednesday, to replace the amount allegedly stolen from Utah State College football players in the Ratcliffe Stadium fieldhouse during Saturday night's football game."

Continuing, the article states: "A drive will begin next week to collect donations from FSC students to replace the $180 stolen from the members of the Utah State football team at last Saturday's game. Several watches and rings also were taken."

Students Donating

"Donation boxes will be placed in the foyer of the student union, on the circulation desk in the library, and in the faculty post office. Organizations also are being asked to pledge donations to the fund and these should be turned in to Mr. Cregger or Mr. Stevens. Several of the sororities already have made pledges."

"The public relations committee under the chairmanship of Cregger and Stevens is handling the drive. Cregger urged students to contribute to show the public and Utah State that FSC 'not only has a good football team but also a heart.'"

HUBBARD'S CUPBOARD

President Hubbard Praise Committees, Organization

BY DEON HUBBARD

Thanks Dave Gittens and all your Homecoming committees for an excellent Homecoming celebration. The chairman of such an event has to take a lot on the chin. He has to accept a great deal of criticism and I'm sure he gets very little thanks. Dave, did a fine job and I think he should know that.

Bob Chambers did a good job with the parade, as did all other committees.

The house decorations this year were exceptionally good. Congratulations to Sigma Phi Epsilon and Chi Omega for choice decorations.

Open House Good

The open house idea should certainly be continued. The SAE, Sigma Kappas and Chi Omegas, particularly, made everyone feel welcome and at home. There was always someone on hand to make introductions and show you around.

Utah State is a friendly college. Our fraternities and sororities help make it a friendly college and also prove that our Greeks are not unfriendly and snobbish.

Quality Floats

Those winning floats of Kappa Sigma and Alpha Chi were as good as any Logan has ever seen. Unless you have helped build a float it's rather hard to appreciate how difficult and time-consuming such a project is, along with classes and other responsibilities.

The Pi Kappa Locomotive, the smoking volcano of Sigma Kappa, the beauty of Sigma Nu, and each other float were all credits to their organizations.

Entrance Exams Set Saturday

All students with less than 96 credit hours, who have not taken the entrance-placement exams, should take them Saturday, at 8 a. m. in the engineering auditorium.

Lower-division students should either take the exams at this time or make other arrangements, stated Darwin Goodey, of the psychology department, who will direct the tests.

Students should bring the special IBM pencils, available in the college bookstore.

To Sigma Chi we owe, "Lighted A upon the Hill," a symbol of a great Agricultural college Aggie spirit.

Greek units are an important part of the college—let's appreciate them.

It would also be unfair not to give recognition and thanks to independent units which, with greater difficulty than the Greeks came through with excellent float and house decorations.

What Our Readers Say---

Asphalt Fault

A number of us have been wondering just what were the reasons for making some of the sidewalks around the new Union Building of asphalt when most of them, and the steps are of cement... It rather detracts from the appearance of the building.

Traffic Trials

Editor, Student Life:

This letter is written with the fact in mind that there are many problems in our traffic system that will be worked out with time; but nevertheless, these writers feel that most of the present system is confusing and unfair to student drivers.

Members of the traffic committee, faculty, and police and many students have been interviewed, and after much thought and meditation, the following is presented.

Parking Fine?

The idea of having restricted areas for classes is good to an extent. But many students feel they are being discriminated against.

The problem of arriving at and leaving the campus is a problem that is serious and should be changed.

We were told that the reason for the one-way street in front of the library was that it is too dangerous to allow two-way traffic with all the pedestrians crossing the street and that in winter it causes traffic congestion at the corner of 4th North and the Commons.

This seems like poor reasoning because of the following: First: ask any student who tries to cross the street now. It is as bad as, if not worse than, when there was two-way traffic. The drivers don't have to worry about on coming traffic and consequently give no heed to the pedestrians. The problem is not to make the street one-way, but to enforce the speed limit of automobiles using the street.

Library Volume

From personal experience, it is much harder to get to school by way of the south hill because of the vast increase of cars letting people off at the library.

Because there are many cars parking back of the library and by the rural arts, that enter by the south greenhouse road, the congestion is not done away with on the library street; rather it is moved north of the library entrance about 20 yards.

Have you ever been so unfortunate to try to leave the campus by way of the Union building and found that the chain is up across the road? You have to turn around and go north to 7th, and much to your surprise you find the road is blocked by ROTC students drilling.

Graveyard Shift

Thus you have to leave by way of the graveyard or go up to the prefab area and come down on US highway 89, to 4th North—a waste of time, gas, and rubber.

Wouldn't it be more sensible to let students leave by the library and then enforce the speed law for those few who endanger the lives of those students who cross the street?

Picture the cars this winter around noon. Instead of two routes to leave the college, there will be one, 7th East. Hundreds of cars will be trying to go down town and will merge at 7th East and 6th North. Slip roads and fast drivers spell danger. Where lies the danger? At the corner of the Commons and in front of the library, or on a hill covered with snow.

Another situation that needs changing is the traffic tickets that are issued. Hundreds of tickets have been given, and yet not one court of appeals has been held. One dollar may not mean much to some, but to others it is quite a bit, especially when they are working their way through college.

Parking Curb

Another discriminating fact is the parking situation at games. Saturday when we went to the game, there was a police officer who was apparently reserving the north side of the street near the stadium for someone special. We asked him who, and how we could get permission. He either didn't know, or didn't want to tell us. So we moved and parked elsewhere. We pay as much for our ticket as anyone else, and feel that the parking should be on a "first come, first serve" basis.

From observation and conversation, it seems that the system has been set up for those constant violators, but the mass of students who do not violate the system have to pay the penalty.

Are we still using the grade school system of mass punishment or don't you think it would be better to give the law to those who are guilty?

Strange Ritual Dates Way Back

BY LORI BURNHAM

you Christian? Probably. Civilized? Definitely. Superstitious? nevertheless all you civilized, non-superstitious Christians are to indulge in a pagan ritualistic observance of the "Vigil of," the god of death. Sound serious? Well, don't fret yourself into a daze over it.

20th century version of the old Savage ceremony is Halloween — a good excuse to give a party. However, our ideas on Halloween hangovers from traditions that date back a long, long way.

Saman Black Cats

Wonder where we got the black cat, and those nasty ghosts float around October 31? According to the Druids (who, incidentally, date Christianity considerably) their boy Saman called to all the wicked souls who had been condemned to inhabit the animals for the preceding year. This produced many criminal spirits more or less on the loose for the evening, free to howl, chains and otherwise perturb people. And the black cat — He hated the animal most likely to be inhabited by an evil spirit. It's ant-eyed sneer that did it.

course, folks are no longer afraid of ghosts, or cute black pussies. It wouldn't bother you to spend Halloween in the Logan cemetery, it? And you don't worry when a little ebony kitty crosses your way?

king for apples, now a Halloween party gimmick, and roasting nuts, merely a strategic way to promote a little necking before the in this enlightened age, are derivations of the ancient Roman festival of Pomona, celebrating the harvest. Some say that the pumpkin for pies, jack-o-lanterns, and other goodies, you know, is also a remnant from the harvest festival, along with the color orange, useful when combined with black (the shade of death) in the form of paper.

U. S. Customs

one of the current customs peculiar to the U. S. are worthy of. Take trick-or-treating. This interesting game involves lots of children who roar around October 31 (in disguise, so their parents won't be sued), demanding protection payments from harassed holders. If they do not receive a jellybean, a spudnut, or a fifth bourbon, depending on their age group, they feel perfectly free to rap the windows, pull the lightswitch, or burn the house down, depending on the age group.

in all, Halloween usually presents the opportunity for a real-up good time. However, if your evening has been scheduled for a dance, or a tame little party, don't forget that the youth of America has unofficially set up October 30 as "Cabbage Night" dedicated to bigger and better organized vandalism.

'Ag' Homecoming Is Acclaimed 'Best In Years'

BY MARIE MERRILL

Here is our "Aggie" Homecoming in a nutshell. After an exciting round of chilly snake dances, saddening football games, colorful parades and enormous dances, we fold up our memories along with dilapidated house decorations and queen trophies for another year.

"Bangs" in the form of noise-makers and cheers started off the celebration at a spirited pep rally and snake dance on Friday night. Andy Hays, chairman of the event, acted as Master of Ceremonies to introduce the queen and her attendants. The Sigs added their touch to the festivities when they set ablaze their large block "A" on the eastern hill, an annual event for the fraternity.

Parades, Parades

Parades, parades, and more parades! Who says the American Legion has them all beat? To Bob Chambers, chairman, goes much of the credit for the many comments that this year's Homecoming parade was the best in years. In addition to the many outstanding floats, a few collegiate touches were contributed by Student Life's amazingly up-to-date "Stuart", and the Sigma Nu boys' most graceful couple, Eldon McClachy and Jarvis Anderson, who greeted spectators and ably assisted various members of the visiting bands.

Hard Fought Game

Losing a hardfought football game is always a disappointment, and even more so in the midst of a Homecoming celebration. Festivities suffered a momentary lull when the outcome of Saturday afternoon's game stood at 21 to 7 in favor of the Colorado Rams. But "Aggie" fans, thrilled by the splendid showing of their team, refused to let even this saddening event dampen their spirits.

Dances, as tradition will have it, marked climax to the big occasion.

"A college fraternity in Alabama was shut down by the school authorities when it was learned that the house mother was 19 years old." —Oregon Daily Emerald, University of Oregon.

Femorals

The all-campus ping-pong tournament is well under way this week with a large number of entries participating. The competition is in singles and doubles, with special interest in the trophies to be awarded winners.

Intramural volleyball begins next Wednesday in the Smart Gym. Games are to be played every Wednesday at 4 p.m. until the close of the competition, and team schedules may be acquired in the intramural office.

The dance club extends an invitation to any interested parties to join them every Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Women's Gym. They practice many different forms of dancing, such as modern, tap, and ballet, and participate in assemblies and recitals during the year. The square dance club also extends an invitation to new members. They meet Wednesday at 7:30 in the men's gym.

Queen Adds Crown To Her Many Titles

Before turning the page of the 1952 Homecoming at Utah State college, let's take one last look at the beautiful queens who ruled over the weekend activities.

Native of Idaho, Marilyn Crawford, Homecoming queen, has lived in Logan, Oregon and California.

Her high school days were spent in Indio, Cal., at Coachella Valley Union high school. During her freshman, sophomore and junior years, she participated in talent shows, dance contests, in the glee club and band, in girls' athletic association, in Thespians, in the California Scholarship Federation as secretary and was in the junior class play.

Average 2.7

Besides maintaining a grade point average of more than 2.75 and continuing all these other activities, Marilyn was crowned Cotton Queen in September, Miss Coachella Valley in February, La Quinta Hotel Queen in March, received $250 from the Calif. Scholarship Federation for winning the girls division in April, and delivered the valedictorian speech at graduation in June.

She took third place in the Miss 4th of July contest at Oceanside, Calif.

USAC Graduate

Marilyn's father, Malcolm J. Crawford, is a graduate of USAC. This is one reason for her return to Logan. And although she liked Logan when she lived here before, Marilyn says, "I like it even better now." She is majoring in psychology.

I KNOW LEE IS HONEST, BECAUSE HE ALWAYS SAYS SO BUT

HIS STATEMENTS DO NOT CONFORM TO THE FACTS:

Lee claims to have spent less money, but: His Administration spent $107 million more than any previous one. Lee said he would reduce the number of state employees, but State Auditor records disclose there are more employees on the state payroll now than ever before in Utah history.

New Religious Council Plans Institute November 21

Representative of all religious denominations is the newly organized Student Religious council.

John Willis has been elected chairman of the student religious group and is the representative from Delta Phi. Representing the Westminister Fellowship club is Lowell A. Douglas, newly elected vice chairman of the council.

Eileen Gibbons, representing Beta Pi, is secretary of the group. The four directors of the Student Religious council are: Marlin Fairbourn, of Lambda Delta Sigma; Jack Gaspar, from the Newman club; Jafar Al Safi, representing the Moslem students, and Shirlene Griffith, Lambda Delta Sigma representative.

Dean Symons, faculty advisor for the Student Religious council, has announced the purposes of the organization, which are: 1. To make students of all faiths more conscious of religious opportunities available on campus. 2. Promote better harmony between USAC students of all faiths. 3. To direct and plan an annual religious institute for students and religious leaders.

4. Provide at least one special on-campus religious activity each quarter and assist in other student religious programs both on and off campus. 5. To coordinate religious opportunities offered students by off campus units, and 6. To awaken all to the purposes of religion.

The officers and directors, with Dean Symon's guidance, have planned a Religious Institute to be held November 21, on the Utah State campus.

November is national Religious Emphasis month and the sched-

Bob Turley Resigns As Councilman

Robert Turley, student councilman in charge of assemblies, Tuesday night resigned from the student council because of his pressing school work. He is a senior in the school of engineering and technology.

Recently, he was married to the former Maurine Johnson, and the added responsibilities of family life, along with the course work of engineering left him little time for council duties.

Studentbody President Deon Hubbard expressed regret that Turley found it necessary to resign, but expressed thanks for the work he has accomplished thus far this year.

Nancy Bowen was appointed temporary chairman of lyceums until a new student council member is selected.

Students in the school of engineering and technology, the unit Turley represented on the council, are invited to submit applications for the position. The application blanks are available in the studentbody office and are due Nov. 12. No primary election is necessary, and the election will be conducted Nov. 19, when the freshmen class officers are selected.

Girls! Submit Preference For AWS Ball

The annual AWS "Preference Ball," set for Nov. 14, is in full swing, according to co-chairman Ruth Schick and Beverly Thompson.

During the week of Nov. 3-7, tables will be erected in Old Main and girls can make their applications for the "most preferred man."

It cannot be stressed enough how important it is that the girls have the correct address of the three names they are allowed to submit to the committee.

The student personnel office, room M133, has a complete file of every student in school including their Logan address.

"If the invitation is sent to the wrong address, the committee cannot be held responsible for your date not showing up. So please check his address," Ruth and Beverly said.

Others on the "Preference Ball" committee are: Nancy Bowen, orchestra; June Lacey, Margaret Greaves and Margaret Sutton, preferences; Carol Bird, decorations; Jeannine Madsen, dance cards; Donna Rae Fargenson, intermission; Carol Kennington, patrons; and Judy Barker and Bette Reese, publicity.

LD S Slates Semi-Formal

Lambda Delta Sigma's first semi-formal dance of the year will be held Saturday at 8:45 p.m. at the institute.

Loving cup competition between the men's chapters will begin with this dance. At the end of the year the chapter which has taken the most Lambda Delta Sigma girls to the Lambda Delta sponsored dances during the year wins the loving cup.

Decorations for the dance will center around the theme of "Witchcraft." Music will be furnished by the Cacho Swingette. Admission will be by a Lambda Delta Sigma activity card or by a guest card.

Corages are out of order. Committee head for this dance is Jay Hawks. Committee members include Joan Johnson and Lorna Nielsen, decorations; Eva Sorensen, refreshments; Carolyn Munk, dance programs; and Beth Olsen, intermission.

Senior Sweaters

Orders for senior class sweaters will be taken Monday through Friday in the Main hall. Price is $16.95 and delivery may be expected within four weeks.

Directory Sale Begins Monday

This year's Student Directory will go on sale next Monday in the main hall, Vern Bailey, directory editor announced today.

The directory will sell for 25 cents this year, and will be considerably larger than last year's. It also will include home-town addresses, as well as Logan addresses and phone numbers.

Sponsors of the directory are the Blue Key. A distinctive cover for the directory was designed by Robert Hatch, former student at Utah State.

The directory will be on sale until all copies are sold.

Aggies Will Attend Forensic Tourney

The Rocky Mountain Forensic League tournament will be held at Brigham Young university Oct. 31, and Nov. 1.

Utah State college will be represented by five debate teams: Martin Pond and Jim Allen; Mavis Mitchell and Kathleen Lennon; Vira Beth Robson and Loraine Storey; Charlene Lind and Nadean Fowler; Royce Harr and Arthur Martin.

"Taking part in the events will be: Miss Robson, Mr. Harr, and Miss Fowler; impromptu speaking Mr. Pond, Mr. Allen, Miss Mitchell, Miss Lennon, and Mr. Martin; discussion; Miss Robson, Mr. Harr, and Miss Lind, extemporaneous speaking and Mr. Allen; radio.

The group will participate in the activities all day Friday and on Saturday. Friday night most of the students will attend a presentation of "Hamlet," directed by Dr. Harold I. Hansen, who was formerly on the USAC speech staff.

The title role of "Hamlet," will be portrayed by Lodi Woodbury, a former student at USAC. Another member of the cast is Rue Johnson, also former Aggie.

The debate proposition is "Resolved: That the Congress of the United States Should Enact a Compulsory Fair Employment Practices Law."

The discussion question is "How Can we most Effectively Combat the Threat of Communism."

Lee Defends

Paying tribute to President Louis L. Madsen, president of Utah State, Governor Lee emphasized, "I have the greatest admiration for President Madsen, and his ideas on education deserve wider circulation than here."

Union Committies Plan Occupancy

BY ELEANOR TAYLOR

Students and visitors to the campus for Homecoming Friday night had a preview of the Union building as it will look when it is officially opened. All the lights in the ballroom, skyroom, lounges and corridors were on, giving a clear "outside looking in" view.

"That is the only view most people will get of the building until the school takes over, probably around Dec. 1, according to Harold Dance, chairman of the Union committee.

2,000 Couples

Social events of the college will be held on the main floor ballroom, a preview of the main floor is that the entire area, with the exception of the service kitchen, may be opened to use for one social function.

Provision is also made through the opening or closing of partitions to accommodate functions ranging from very small groups up to approximately 2,000 couples.

Ready Winter Quarter

Not all of the building will be occupied this winter. It is anticipated that the bookstore, cafeteria, fountain room, ballroom and some of the student offices will be ready for use by winter quarter.

Reports indicate that the game rooms will not be ready until next year when more funds will be available to purchase equipment.

Dedication of the building will be held next spring when the weather is good, Mr. Dance said.

Frosh Elections Set Nov. 12, 19

Primary elections for freshman class officers will be held Nov. 12, with final elections on Nov. 19. Positions are open for president, vice president and secretary of the class.

All applications for these offices must be returned by Nov. 5. These applications are available at the studentbody office in the Commons.

There will be a meeting held for all managers sponsoring candidates prior to the primary election. The date will be announced later.

Apostle Speaks

Elder Matthew Cowley of the Council of the Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will be the speaker at the Sunday evening services held at the institute Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

These services were started this fall and are under the direction of the institute priesthood group with Newell Warr as acting president.

JOAN WILSON
... AWS Secretary

J. Wilson Elected AWS Secretary

Joan Wilson, sophomore from Payson, was elected secretary of the Associated Women Students last week. She was chosen by the popular vote of the women students.

This summer, chosen on appearance, poise and personality, Joan reigned as "Miss Payson." During high school, she was active mostly in dramatics. Her school took region championship when she was a junior.

This year, Joan was appointed section editor on the Buzzer. She is also working on the college radio and in W.A.A.

Affiliated with Chi Omega sorority, Joan was chairman of the Homecoming tea last week.

At the present time, she is majoring in secretarial science.

Other officers of AWS are: Mary Helen Tweedie, president and Fran Shoup, vice president.

What has happened to the Aggie scoring punch???

In the five up-to-date games the Farmers of Utah State have scored "only" 42 points for a per game average of 8.4 points.

The defense, on the other hand, is tops in the conference with the exception of pass defense which is considerably lower.

Homecoming Success

Last week's homecoming game with the Colorado A&M Aggies was a great success. Even though the Farmers lost the grid tilt they looked good in holding Colorado to 21 points (considerably less than other A&M opponents.)

Other homecoming activities consisted of a parade along Main from 2nd South to 6th North. A dance at the La De Sa climaxed the two day activities.

Marilyn Crawford Elected Queen

Miss Marilyn Crawford, eighteen year old Freshman from Indio, California was chosen by popular vote to reign over the homecoming festivities. Her two attendants were LaRue Farnes and Shirlene Griffith.

The queen was sponsored by Engineering and Technology. LaRue was sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha and Shirlene by Lambda Delta Sigma.

Jack Hill bounced back into the lead in the conference ball juggling department last week when he picked up 109 yards against Fresno. Hill is also sixth in the offensive passing department with 24 completions out of 52 attempts.

Hutchkins helped Hill out in the passing department as he has been on the receiving end of 18 passes for 180 yards. This is second in the conference, next only to Harry Geldine of Wyoming.

League point standings so far are as follows:

SOCIETY
Alpha Chi Omega	150
Sigma Kappa	125
I.D.S.	100
Chi Omega	75
Kappa Delta	0

INDEPENDENTS
Skippers	150

The trophy awarded the champs of the fraternity league was given after the championship tilt between S.A.E. and P.K.A. on the Quad at noon Wednesday Oct. 29.

A large crowd of spectators saw the P.K.A. squad pound and smash the S.A.E. team into submission to the victorious tune of 19-12 to gain the trophy for the 1952 fraternity touch football championship.

Aggies Outdo Ram Team In Statistics

By ROD JENSEN

Tipping a hitherto unblemished Ram line apart with sledgehammer drives, Utah State's oft-beaten Aggies escaped with a "moral" victory against Colorado A & M last Saturday, despite the 21-7 scoreboard setback.

Coaches called it the Farmers' outstanding performance of the season, and 9,400 Homecoming fans were quick to cheer the tenacious exploits of their team, which was knocking heads with what may be the eventual conference champion.

Statistically speaking, it was a one-sided game for Utah State, but still shrouding the campus is the fact that Colorado A & M's opportunistic Rams gobbled up two Aggie fumbles and converted them into game-winning touchdowns.

First break in the game came in the opening quarter when Barry Fleniken, starting at tailback for the injured Jack Hill, fumbled the ball on the Farmer 24 and A & M recovered to set up a 19-yard TD run by a galloping Negro ghost, Alex Burl, a 5.5 man in the 100-yard dash.

Utah State struck back to knot the score at 7-7 in the second period. A long drive downfield, sparked by fullback DelRay Campbell and wingback Hal Garner, resulted in a touchdown, with Garner finally bulging over from the 4.

Colorado managed to take a 14-7 intermission advantage with a crawling touchdown just before the half.

The pitching arm of Don Burroughs, a 6-4 all-American candidate, provided the visiting Colorado.

Sightin' In

BY LARRY MONROE

The death toll among the nation's nimrods continues to rise. Headlines tell of some fool shooting a man or two or some other fool kicking off due to heart failure. All of this is black ink on the record. It causes some people to frown upon hunting and hunters and some day, my buckos, it is going to cause some prohibitive and very curtailing legislation that is going to sting some of us that like to get out and enjoy the sport.

There isn't much excuse for a lot of the incidents that occur during the season. One fellow recently spotted the lights of a gas stove in a tent, mistook them for a deer's eyes shining in the darkness and let fly. Well, he got what he was shooting at all-right, but it happened to be some unsuspecting camper cooking breakfast.

There are really no vigorous and sincere safety programs in existence against hunting accidents. Somebody publishes the ten commandments of safety once in a while, and occasionally some punk sits down at a typewriter and decries the fact that everybody gets killed going hunting.

What it boils down to though, is that if all of this stupid stuff continues in the field, the hunters will someday find that they may feel free to junk their guns, because hunting has been outlawed or it is illegal to use guns or some other business.

Some hunters have the brains to stay well hidden while they are out and thus don't get shot, but they manage to kill themselves before they get back. Most forms of hunting are pretty strenuous and most of the men that go hunting are not physically conditioned for the effort. The result is that we read in the daily blast that poor old Joe died of heart failure while on a hunting trip.

Maybe he didn't die—maybe he just ruptured himself or broke a few bones. That's not so bad because he is probably on the Blue Cross plan.

The moral of all that moaning is—if you don't want to spend the time to get yourself in shape, then tone down hunting efforts to fit your muscles and lung power.

Well, the old pheasants are about to catch it. I wonder what would happen if everybody that went hunting was careful not to break down fences, leave gates open and shoot buckshot into the farmer's front yards. I would like to see poor Cy's face if everybody thanked him after they had hunted in his fields. If Cy didn't collapse, I'll bet a dollar to a doughnut that he'd invite you out again. He might even take down his "No Hunting" sign.

radoans with their final touchdown of the game. And the Farmers credited Burroughs with the Ram triumph.

After a shaky first half when the lanky Ram quarterback completed only three aerials, Burroughs came back to throw eight strikes in the second half, for an 11 out of 19 total. Aggie ends gave the big fellow a nasty afternoon, however, crashing in on him with teeth-rattling tackles.

Utah State's backfield played a major role in the Farmers' fine showing. Garner showed fans some of the hardest running seen in Aggie stadium for a long time and worked his way into a regular starting position at wingback.

Campbell, who has been nominated by intermountain sports writers as a possible all-American potential, was the game's top ground gainer, picking up 115 yards against what had been called a tough A & M line.

Kent Harris, a freshman tailback who earned his wings against Fresno State the previous week, turned in an excellent job for the Aggies. He may, in fact, have worked his way into a starting slot against Wichita this Saturday.

Outstanding for the Utags on the line were Joe Cipolla, end; Russ McGraw, linebacker, and Dale Gardner, tackle.

Statistics showed Utah State accumulating 18 to 8 first downs and leading in almost every department but passing, where stats had the Rams out front 99 to 79 yards.

By GARY R. BLODGETT

The Utah State Aggies, gunning for their second victory and the breaking of a four game losing jinx, will meet the University of Wichita Saturday in the Veterans stadium, Wichita, Kansas.

Although carrying but thirty-eight players, the Shockers from Kansas will be back with twenty-one lettermen, five transfers and two All-Conference titleholders.

The Aggies, on the other hand, are suffering from injuries, and the inability to piece together a "scoring" backfield, (42 points in five games for 8.2 points per game).

But don't count the Farmers short; with Flenniken, Lindley, and Co. carrying the pigskin something is bound to explode.

Shocker Data

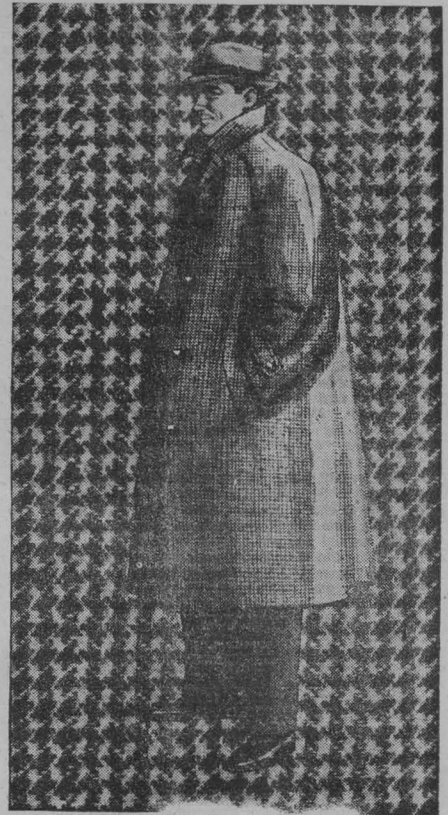

Carrying a good share of the Shocker load-both on offense and defense, will be letterman Dick Sanders. During the 1951 grid season Sanders passed at a 447 clip as well as doing a good share of the ball handling and signal-barking.

Other ballhandling lettermen are: Connie Hoffmann, Bill Klobuchar, Charles Baldon, Ray Coleman, Beverley Winston, Eli Romero and Allen Taylor.

Lack Scoring Punch

The Utags have one of the best defensive teams in the conference but just can't seem to provide that scoring punch. Saturday's line-up is uncertain but it is expected that McGraw will again do the signal-barking with Barry Flenniken and Earl Lindley doing a good share of the ball toting.

Kent Harris, although only a Freshman, has been playing a bang-up job as an Aggie halfback and should be primed for Saturday's contest.

MR. STRINGFELLOW . . .

Accusing labor of having one of the "most vicious monopolies in America," Douglas Stringfellow, Republican candidate for Congress from the 1st District, affirmed his support of the Taft-Hartley law to students assembled on the quad Thursday afternoon.

He called for an end to farm price supports and for a farmer-operated agricultural program without controls. (Reprinted from Student Life October 24, 1952.)

Frankly, Mr. Stringfellow, don't you think you have a serious lack of background of intelligent understanding on both farm and labor problems?

As one veteran to another, I think I understand you. You have won the sympathy and respect of many people through your very effective and dramatic speech before church groups and young people. However, I find in looking over your background that you are not qualified to serve the people of Utah in the high office you are seeking. There are many millions of American veterans who served their country fully as well as you did. I do not believe the governed should submit to being represented by you wholly on sympathy through your own self-education.

Alpha Chi's To Hold Annual Barn Dance

BY ROSE MARIE WRIGHT

Alpha Chi Omega's traditional Barn Dance will be held Saturday night at the Smithfield Kiwanis Lodge. Harvest decorations will provide the atmosphere for the event.

Along with dancing, games will be played and there will also be a program and refreshments.

Chairmen are: Ruth Carlson, Neeltje Eggen and Donna Rae Jorgensen.

A lecture and tea, sponsored by the local alumni, will be held Saturday at the Alpha Chi house. The theme of the afternoon will be cerebral palsy, the national project of Alpha Chi.

"Phi Alpha" was the by-word Monday night at the Alpha Chi and SAE's held their exchange. The SAE house was the setting for a program, refreshments, and dancing.

Sigma Chi Rush Party

Sigma Chi's will hold their first major rush party tonight at the house. Rush chairman, Leif Johnson, plans on having a stag party with plenty of entertainment and food.

A chapter dinner was held Wednesday night at the Sig house. Bob Murray, 1950 graduate, related a few of his experiences while earning his "wings" in the US Air Force. Jay Van No, ex-Aggie football great, spoke on his affiliation with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sig Derby chairman, Clair Peterson, announced committees for the annual party.

Chi Omegas Move

Chi Omegas are moving to their temporary home Thursday and Friday. Coburn's home, at 46 North 2nd East. The phone number will still be 593. Anyone who would like to help with the moving is asked to drop down to the house with your car. Plans are being drawn for the new house and building will begin spring quarter.

Theta U Plans

At Theta Upsilon meeting Monday night plans were made for the Community Chest Drive.

Open house was held following the game Saturday. Many alumni visited.

Delta Phi Conference

A chapter conference was held by Delta Phi Wednesday afternoon and evening. The national officers were in attendance.

There will be a hayride Friday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served after the ride and then the group will go to the dance.

A fireside is scheduled for Sunday at 9 p.m. in the Institute. Selby Boyer, formerly president of the British mission, will be the speaker.

Dream Girl candidates will be presented at the regular meeting next Wednesday. Plans are under the wing of the "Dream Girl" formal on November 15.

Halloween Party

Wednesday night at the Peace Officers cabin up Logan canyon. Pi Kappa Alpha and rushers held a Halloween party in the form of a misfit affair. Spook alley, skits, dancing, and refreshments added to the fun.

Next Pi Kap rush party is scheduled for Tuesday. Cards, roulette, and dice will change the Pi Kap house into a gambling casino!

Date for the annual Bowery Ball has been set for November 25. Brothers will begin the beard contest Thursday, October 30.

Six new Shield and Diamond brothers have finished goating and will be officially accepted in the fraternity in active ceremonies next Sunday. They are: Richard Squires, Lewis Knudsen, Ronald John, Junior Wankler, Charlie Jones and Darwin Crozes.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu's held their first rush party of the season Tuesday night at the Castle. Large portions of fried chicken were served and films and music by the brothers furnished the entertainment for about 60 guests.

Plans were laid for a get-out-the-vote campaign by the Sigma Nu's. Dick Headlee was appointed chairman of a committee which will furnish transportation for all those who have no way to get to the polls on Nov. 4. This plan was carried out successfully on the last day of registration.
