Organizations Using Union Building

Members of the Julliard String Quartet who will appear in the quarter's first lyceum program Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Logan L D S tabernacle are Robert Mann and Robert Koff, violinists; Raphael Hillyer, violist, and Arthur Winograd, cellist.

String Quartet Will Perform Monday Night

The Julliard String Quartet will present the first lyceum of the quarter Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Logan LDS Tabernacle. Prof. Arthur Holmgren, lyceum chairman has announced.

The quartet will present a program consisting of works of Beethoven, Dvorak, and Debussy.

As the resident quartet of the Julliard school, it is considered the best in the profession from the school. They also record on Columbia Masterworks records.

Quartet members are Robert Mann, violin, Robert Koff, violin, Raphael Hillyer, viola, and Arthur Winograd, cello. On the program they will play Quartet in G Major, Opus 18, No. 2, by Beethoven; Quartet in F major, Opus 9, (America) by Dvorak; and Quartet in G minor, Opus 10, by Debussy.

Julliard School of Music is located near Columbia University in New York City. It was endowed by a Mr. Julliard for a reported 35 million dollars.

It instructs in all phases of music, and is considered a stepping stone for the Metropolitan Opera Company. The "Met" is part owner of the school.

The Lyceum Monday is co-sponsored by the College lyceum bureau, and the Cache Valley Civic Music association. Admittance will be only by Civic Music or student-body cards.

Dance In Union Set Saturday

A studentbody dance, Saturday night at 9 p.m. in the Union building, will be the opening social event of the quarter.

The dance has been arranged especially for the benefit of new students, to help them get better acquainted with the present students and the new Union building.

Ronald Austin, chairman of the dance stated that studentbody cards will be needed for admission, but if students do not have their cards, a 75 cent admission fee will be made.

As a special treat, Val Green's orchestra from Ogden will be on hand to play for the dancing.

A special intermission program also is planned.

Make Up Pix Now!

Make-ups for class pictures in the Buzzer will continue today and Friday, in the men's lounge of the Commons building, editor Darrell Deem announced.

"This will be the last chance for getting pictures into the 1953 book," Deem stated.

Meanwhile, business manager Glade Howell stated that payments for space in the book must be made immediately.

Play to Have Unusual Stage Setting

"I Remember Mama," John Van Druten's play which will be produced this month at Utah State, will be staged different than any other seen in Logan, Prof. George Tanner, director announces.

Staging for the play will be accomplished in five different stages, Prof. Tanner noted. However, lights will be focused only on one stage at a time.

Continuous Playing

This style of staging is used more consistently in stage productions in New York, Prof. Tanner commented, and after being used, each stage is readied for the next scene. "In this way the play goes continually with no breaks for re-staging," he added.

In the play, Joleen Ashman will play Katrin, with Barbara Gaddie as Mama, and Edwin Rogers as Papa. Others included in the cast are Shirlene Ingram, Dagmar; Carolyn Conover, Christine; Larry Wright, Mr. Hyde; H. D. Killian, Neils.

More Cast

Katherine Coleman, Aunt Trina; Connie Phillips, Aunt Sigrid; Maxine Clayton, Aunt Jenny; Cecil Wells, Uncle Chris; plus Karma Rae Rex, Annice Benson, Kaye Heinz, Wyoma Heckman, and Lori Burnham.

Student Life Moves First; Blaser Named Director

Student Life Tuesday moved into offices in the new Union building, the first organization to occupy space in the new million-dollar structure.

The newspaper was followed closely into the building by the student council, who held their first meeting in their offices Tuesday night.

Scribble Issue Held for Investigation

Circulation of the fall quarter "Scribble," Utah State literary magazine, has been suspended by the student council because of certain material termed "objectionable."

Scribble was to have been distributed Dec. 19, and when the issue came out, Dean Carlton Culmsee of the school of arts and sciences asked that circulation be withheld until an investigation of the magazine could be made.

Council Acts

A special student council meeting was held, and Editor Vern Bailey and staff members appealed their case to the council.

The council did not permit distribution of the magazine, and called for all issues to be confiscated.

The council asked Monte Merrill, chairman of the student publications council, to conduct a survey to obtain student opinion about the issue.

Meeting Today

A special publications council meeting has been called for Thursday at 12 noon in the union building to consider possible ways for taking the survey, and also to consider the whole question of Scribble, Mr. Merrill stated.

Scribble, generally considered a literary magazine, was revamped by the present staff and made a humor magazine. The council expressed the feeling that some of the material included did not meet the standards of the studentbody.

G. Homer Durham Lectures Saturday

Dr. G. Homer Durham, director of the Institute of Government and head of the department of political science at the University of Utah, will be guest speaker at a dinner meeting sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m., in the Bluebird.

Dr. Durham, formerly a member of the political science faculty at Utah State, is the author of many distinguished books and articles and has also been accorded the honor of delivering the annual Reynolds lecture at the University of Utah.

Reservations are limited but all interested students and faculty members are invited. Those desiring to attend are urged to notify Mrs. Webb in the Commerce department by Friday noon.

Buzzer began their "moving-in" processes Wednesday.

As finishing touches are added to the building, various groups will move in.

The ballroom, fountain room, skyroom and lounge will be completed first, with furnishings and equipment.

Television, Too

Aggies will have television in the building also. A television set, a gift to the Union building, will probably be installed around Jan. 15.

Glenn Blaser, formerly assistant registrar, has taken over duties as manager of the building. He was appointed by the board of trustees during the holiday vacation.

War Veteran

A veteran of World War II, he is also a graduate of Utah State, and has served as assistant to President-Emeritus Franklin S. Harris. He also was veterans coordinator.

Student organizations, for the benefit of students desiring to locate them, are housed on the second floor. Student Life is room 213, on the north side of the east-west hallway on the second floor, with Buzzer occupying room 215, two doors east of Student Life. Student council is located across the hall from the Buzzer office.

Parking Area Created

Included both sight-seeing and bus-and parking lot north and east of Lund Hall is now under construction, reports Harold Wadsworth, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Completion will depend on weather conditions.

The project was recently approved by the board of trustees, the committee on buildings and grounds, and the president.

Traffic and parking problems on the northeast part of the campus are expected to be helped when construction is completed, according to Mr. Wadsworth.

The Birds I View

Ever since the Union Building was proposed, students at Utah State have been looking to the future. Now, at last, construction is completed. Where once one could find his solitary life, now lies a building big enough to hold a million ground hogs on a rainy day. This, building is the SAC's own Taj Mahal.

Atom Bomb Shelters
Hundreds of unique features are included for the Union Building. They include atom-bomb shelters, individually monogrammed commodes, for which there are thirteen enough of one a piece; canopy-covered escalator to the girls dormitory from the ballroom to the status Club, a 13 story parking lot with facilities for scooters and carriages, a round dance floor for square dances, and helicopter pads for high flying students.

Unbalanced Students
And after that there is a nice little network of doors that open to student who thinks he is unbalanced and well he might be. For the student who must have his drink every hour on the hour there are six fountains conveniently scattered about several acres.

However, it is only fair to warn the students that the plaster on the wall is very allergic to the human touch. Any curious Aggie attempting to bother it will find that it crumbles and falls off. Maybe he uses the wrong after shave.

Brigham Young University
Overheard an interesting conversation between a professor and student that had to come to the AC because there was no room at the BYU. Seems that this professor teaching his little four year old daughter three words not to say—hell, damn and BYU.

Aggie Cagers See Big Sight

Aggie cagers, who recently returned home from a very successful holiday basketball tour, managed to find time to see the sights of the "Big Town" as well as to cop the tournament championship.

As outsiders, the Aggies were rated as underdogs in every battle they fought and in response to the unfavorable publicity they received at the hands of the New York papers, the Farmers really showed the City Slickers a thing or two about basketball. The first upset came when Utah State defeated New York University the first night. From here, they sailed on to hand losses to Miami and Manhattan.

The way Coach Cecil Baker tells it, New York night clubs were quite an attraction for our hoopers. After their final game, Waldo Hatch, a former student of Utah State, invited the entire team to one of the city's top night spots as his guest. Here was where our own Bill Hull starred. Egged on by his teammates, he consented to dance the "Oopsey Daisy" with six lovely chorus girls during the floor show. It has been reported that he mastered the dance very well indeed. What a night. A championship ballgame and a dance with, not one, but six gorgeous night club entertainers. Well, so goes the life of a basketball player.

Registrar's Office Lists Procedure

At the end of the fall quarter many students received "F" grades which they could have prevented had they followed the proper procedure for withdrawing from courses or the college. (See page 48 in College catalogue.) To prevent such difficulties, students are urged to observe the following procedure:

1. Have any changes in program approved by the instructor and adviser.
2. Have withdrawal from a course approved by the instructor and adviser. After the beginning of the fourth week, these withdrawals must also be approved by the academic dean.
3. If it is necessary to withdraw from college, begin the procedure in the Registrar's office and follow it through to completion as directed. Be sure to clear with the Student Personnel office.
4. Do not under any circumstances just drop a course without clearance and do not leave the college without clearing through the Registrar's office and the Student Personnel office.

Make-up Tests

College entrance tests for all new students and other students who have not taken them will be given Saturday, January 17, at 8 a.m., in M280.

Transfer students with more than 96 hours of transfer credit are not required to take these tests, Dean Joseph N. Symons pointed out.

College Nursery School Gives Introduction to Life

BY JEANOR KNOWLES

Baby-sitting for about 20 three and four-year old children of Utah State Agricultural college students presents little problem, thanks to a cooperative nursery school near the college campus.

The nursery operates from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Mothers of the children act as assistants with other mothers, all of whom are wives of Aggie students, they can enroll their children in the nursery at no cost.

The children think the cooperative school is a fine idea too. There they can work and play together in two pleasant buildings in the prefab housing area north-east of the college. Play equipment for indoor and outdoor activities is furnished by the college.

Play with Blocks and Toys

There are two rooms in each of the buildings. One room is especially for play with blocks and construction toys; one room for dolls and "play house" equipment; one for clay, easels, crayons, scissors and paste, and one for puzzles, books, records and record player.

In good weather, the children play out-of-doors in a play-yard which has wagons, slides, swings, bars, and other play equipment.

The school, which is the first of its type in Utah, is sponsored by the child development department of USAC. Bruce Gardner, assistant professor of child development, instructs the mothers in a two-hour class one night a week. Thus, by assisting at the nursery and attending the class, they receive experience and adult education.

This is the fifth year of operation for the co-op nursery. When it was begun in 1948, a quonset chapel was used. A little over a year ago, the nursery moved into its present quarters.

One in Morning—One in Afternoon
For the first two years of operation, there were two groups of children, one in the morning and

Mrs. Josephine Turner, wife of the dean of forestry at USAC, is director of the nursery.

Apparently the school has been successful, for one mother, who is now in Los Angeles where her husband is getting a master's degree, wrote to Mrs. Turner recently to ask how the nursery was established and to get suggestions for running a similar school there.

Dave Fausett Appointed Carnival Head

Dave Fausett was this week appointed 1953 Winter Carnival chairman by the Student Council.

Dave, a senior in languages, was a member of the Winter Carnival committee last year. He is also president of Sigma Nu fraternity.

This year's carnival, to be held in early February and to depend upon the amount of snow available, is still in the tentative stage of planning, says Mr. Fausett.

Complete plans, which will include the Snow Ball, skiing at Beaver bowl, snow sculpturing on the quad, snow shoe racing, and the selection of a Snow Queen and King, will be announced soon, according to Dave.

ROTC Policies

Col. Karl C. Frank, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, has released to Student Life the policy of the Department of Army concerning the ordering of ROTC graduates to active duty.

The policy, as announced by Col. Frank, is as follows:

"A. The primary procurement source of junior officers for the active Army will continue to be from graduates of the ROTC program. It is, therefore, anticipated that all ROTC graduates who meet established criteria for active duty will continue to be ordered into the active military service.

"B. The criteria, to include length of prior service, established for ordering ROTC graduates to active military service may vary from year to year because of the varying needs of the service.

"C. No guarantee can be offered to any group of persons in the ROTC program that they will not be ordered to active duty on or shortly after graduation.

"D. In establishing criteria for future active duty programs for ROTC graduates, insofar as exemption for prior service is allowed, service in the Armed Forces between June 27, 1950, and a date to be announced will be given equal consideration as service between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945."

Special Courses Set For Vets

A "postman's holiday" has been declared for members of the Organized Reserve Corps, and veterans.

Certain classes in advanced Military Science may be taken for college credit without the student being under contract in the advanced ROTC program.

Members of the Reserve Corps, and veterans who are interested in keeping up-to-date with latest developments in equipment, tactics and technique, are invited to enroll.

ARE YOU TOUGH ENOUGH FOR THIS JOB?

If you can make the grade, the U. S. Air Force will award you a commission, your wings and pay you over $5,000 a year!

CAN YOU "take it" 6 days a week? For 52 weeks? Can you meet the high standards required to be an Aviation Cadet? If you can—then here's a man-size opportunity! An opportunity to serve your country and build a personal career that will fit you for responsible positions both in military and commercial aviation.

It won't be easy! Training discipline for Aviation Cadets is rigid. You'll work hard, study hard, play hard—especially for the first few weeks. But when it's over, you'll be a pro—with a career ahead of you that will take you as far as you want to go. You graduate as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force, with pay of $5,300.00 a year. And this is only the beginning—your opportunities for advancement are unlimited.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must have completed at least two years of college. This is a minimum requirement—it's best if you stay in school and graduate. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

YOU CAN CHOOSE BETWEEN PILOT OR AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

If you choose to be an Aircraft Observer, your training will be in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

New Aviation Cadet Training Classes Begin Every Few Weeks!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination.
3. Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

Where to get more details: Visit your nearest Air Force Base or Air Force Recruiting Officer
OR WRITE TO: AVIATION CADET HEADQUARTERS, U. S. AIR FORCE, WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

9 Girls Named To Compete For Prom Royalty

Nine girls will compete for title of Junior Prom queen at the Junior Prom assembly Jan. 20, according to Bob Tenen, chairman of the queen contest.

Candidates and their sponsors include: Peggy Millward, Alpha Chi Omega; Joanne Ahlstrom, Chi Omega; Ruth Carlson, Delta Phi; Arlene Meyer, Foresters; Lillian Farnes, Kappa Delta; Vera Stevens, Lambda Delta Sigma; Laila Ray, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Jeanne Mathen, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Goldy Mebas, Theta Upsilon.

From its Union Three finalists will be selected at the assembly by judges. The queen and her two attendants will be introduced at the Junior Prom Jan. 20 in the Union building.

Marian Nielsen was queen last year, with Neeltje Eagen and Jean Marie Christensen as attendants. Ralph Flanagan and his reserved band will provide the music for the dance, which will be held from 8 p.m. until midnight. Flanagan will bring a 14-piece orchestra to Logan for the Prom. The outfit records for RCA Victor, with Harry Prime as vocalist.

Ticket Sale Starts

Tickets, which cost $2.50 a couple, go on sale in the main hall today.

Governor J. Brockton Lee has been invited to attend the dance, along with other state and local officials and educational leaders. Chairman of the Prom is Mary Davis. Members of the committee include: Jim Slack, ticket sales; Marilyn Rich, refreshments; Phil Sorenson and James Mortimer, publicity; Sidney Wendling, assembly; and Emma Lou Hansen, invitations.

Officers of the Junior class are Durion Howard, president; June Lacey, vice president; and Arlene Meyer, secretary.

Pledges Sought For Blood Drive

Approximately 500 pledges to donate a pint of blood each were received during registration time. Bob Zundel, publicity director for the drive, stated Thursday.

Goal for the drive is some 800 pints, and plans are now being made to obtain the additional pledges. Announcement of the plans will be made soon.

Alpha Zeta, agricultural organization, is planning to offer a prize of $10 to the organization who contributes the largest percentage of blood in the drive.

Meeting Slated

"Organic Fluorine Compounds and Their Uses" will be discussed at a nutrition seminar at Utah State Thursday evening, according to Dr. Louis E. Harris, chairman of the Institute of Nutrition.

Dr. Theodore M. Burton, associate professor of chemistry, will lead the seminar, with Paul D. Larson, associate professor of dairying, and student Ali A. Jassim as speakers.

The meeting, which will be held in Room 101 of the Commons, from 5 to 8 p.m., is open to students, faculty members, and the public. Dr. Harris said.

Postcards Printed

Colored picture postcards of campus scenes are now being printed, and will be available before long at the bookstore.

The cards will sell two for 5 cents, and will be an effective means of publicizing the campus, officials in charge stated.

Award Deadline Is January 14

January 14 is the deadline for submitting studentbody award points for fall quarter, according to Anna Marie Heyraud, student councilman in charge of the awards committee.

Students who worked on publications or in organizations one quarter only will receive points, now. Other points will be submitted spring quarter.

Points for spring quarter, 1952, which have not been turned in yet should also be submitted by Jan. 14.

Fifty award points entitle a student to attend the awards banquet spring quarter, and 200 points entitle a student to receive an "A" award.

Organization heads are cautioned by Anna Marie not to deprive any student of receiving recognition by failing to submit points earned.

Any student who feels he was given a ticket unjustly should appear at Student Traffic Court to plead his case.

Aggies Stun Garden Fans With Tourney Win

Underdog Ags Fight to Win Hull Leads Ags In Scoring And On Rebounds

BY GARY R. BLODGETT

The Utah State Aggies had more than just New Year's Eve to celebrate when they returned home to Logan after winning the New York Holiday Festival championship in Madison Square Garden, New York.

A special basketball assembly will be held today at 11 in the Main auditorium, honoring the basketball team for their victories in the Madison Square Garden holiday basketball festival.

Movies of the championship game between the Aggies and Manhattan will be shown and the members of the squad will be introduced.

The assembly will also be a send-off for the team, which will leave today for skirmishes this weekend with Wyoming and Colorado A & M.

Members of the booster and assembly committees have charge of the assembly.

Underdogs, and given but a ghost of a chance of winning by most sport writers and enthusiasts throughout the nation, the Aggies met and upset three top teams of the nation—New York University, Miami University of Ohio, and Manhattan College of New York.

Baker Pleased
"I'm well pleased with the fine showings the boys made and we had a wonderful time," said Coach Cec Baker. "Of course we were rated underdogs but that didn't bother us—look what happened last year, we were rated to finish seventh in the conference and we came out in the runner-up spot," added Baker.

The "unknown" fifth man of the Ag quintet may have been found in Frank Condie (6-2) forward and transfer from the University of Utah. Condie hit for 25 points in the three games—an average of 8.3 points per game.

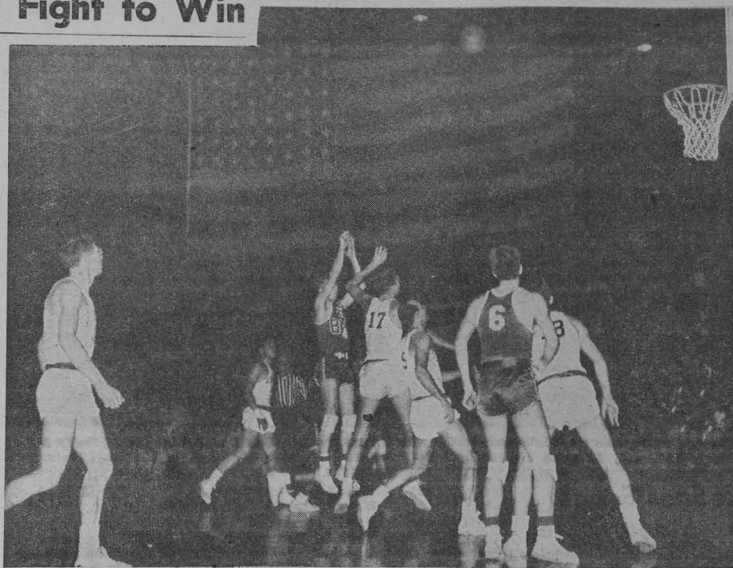

Bob Harbertson, who is a "deadly" hitting set-shot artist, was the outstanding floor man and a top scorer of coach Baker's cagers. Harbertson is believed by many to be one of the best set-shot makers to hit Madison Square Garden.

Capt. Darrell Tucker suffered a sprained ankle in the opening encounter but failed to slow up through the pressed efforts of the Aggies to eke out a 79-78 victory.

Big Bill Hull was the scoring leader and big gun on the boards for the Utags. Hull averaged a little better than 17 points per game. In the Miami contest Hull fouled out early in the second half but not before he had dumped in nine counters.

Other sparkplugs for the Aggie cagers were Bart Johnson, who ably filled the shoes of Bill Hull in the late stages of the games, and Cordell (Butch) Brown who was put on the firing line replacing a tired Aggie.

The Utah State Aggies deserve "a pat on the back for a job well done."

Ag Bill Hull partially blocks a shot from a BYU player in last Saturday's game while Clark and Condie follow. Harbertson is in the background. The Aggies dropped the contest 72-66.

Statistician Rates Tucker High Scorer

By A. HAYS (Statistician)

Official statistics recently released by the Aggie athletic department publicity staff show that the big three in the Utah State basketball scoring efforts thus far this season have been first stringers Bill Hull, Bob Harbertson and Darrell Tucker, each consistently pouring the ball through the hoop in 13 games thus far. Tucker, the senior guard who captains the Utags, has a 15.6 average while center Hull has 14.3 and Harbertson, guard, 14.2.

Jack Clark, the number four man on the starting five, has a 7.4 average, the rest of the squad registering below this point.

In their 13 outings thus far with their seven won six lost record, the Aggies have tallied a total of 873 points to their opponents 887.

The Ags seem to be making their best performance of the scoring efforts in the free throw department as they have a better-than-average 76 per cent team average on the basis of 267 free tosses made in 349 chances at the stripe. This includes all of the free throws attempted including the one and one situation that is new this season.

Against BYU last Saturday (BYU 72—Aggies 66) the Baker coached lads could hit a 386 percentage making 22 of 60 shots from the field and 22 for 31 at the charity stripe for a .709 percent.

The Utags have had 214 personal fouls called against him to date with Bill Hull averaging a trifle better than 4 fouls per contest to lead the pack.

Late Cougar Rally Beats Aggies 72-66

Utah State just didn't have that last-half aplurge last Saturday night as they went down to defeat 72-66 at the hands of the Brigham Young Cougars.

It was even-steven throughout the first half with both teams garnering not more than a five point lead. The half ended 35 to 33 for the Cougars.

Upwards of 5,000 Aggie-Cougar faithfuls jam-packed the Aggie fieldhouse to boost their favorite team. Many didn't even get close enough to see the game while many others were turned away.

Throughout the first half it was all Bill Hull. Hull with his outstanding board work and over-the-head hook shot kept the Aggies in the running. Big Bill, often guarded by two Cougars, racked up a night's total of 21 points.

It was a completely different story in the second half as wear and tear of the two teams' Eastern jaunts began to show. The Cougars at this stage of the game were playing the whole bench, using a fast break on the Aggies. Cec Baker, on the other hand, had little depth in which to rely on and it soon showed, as the Cougars steadily pulled away.

Conflict between the game officials and the time officials broke out in the waning seconds of the third period when Aggie Jack Clark shot a long one just as the buzzer sounded. The shot was good—and ruled as such by the game officials. Two points were recorded

Wrestling Opens Against Pokes

Utah State's varsity wrestlers, defending Western Division champions, will face a severe test Friday night when they meet three-time Skyline champion, Wyoming, in the Ag fieldhouse. Starting time is 8 p.m.

Six lettermen will return to this year's squad to form the nucleus for coach "Doc" Nelson's grapplers. These six lettermen are Max Grunig, captain; Boyd Whitby, Larry Montgomery, Nak J. Nakamura and Ralph Parkinson.

"Doc" Needs Help
At the present coach Nelson has hardly enough material to comprise a team and word has been sounded for anyone interested to contact "Doc" at the fieldhouse.

Graduation and ineligibility will definitely hurt the Aggies. Lost through last year's graduation are Wayne Wadsworth, Kent Nelson, and Bob Stoddard. Wes Christensen, captain of the 1952 squad will be ineligible for wrestling.

"We are not yet in top physical condition," said coach Nelson. "Our practice sessions have come in spurts throughout the holidays but we are now ready to settle down to good hard drills—we hope to be ready for the Cowboys Friday."

on the big clock but seconds later were taken back. The score then remained—without the two points—until after the crowd had gone home.

It was finally straightened out with the final score reading B.Y.U. 72, Utah State 66.

GARY R. BLODGETT

Coach Cec Baker and his basketball cagers well deserve a feather in their cap for their fine showing in New York's Madison Square Garden in which they romped home with the Holiday Festival championship.

The Aggies met three of the top teams of the nation—New York University, Miami University of Ohio and Manhattan College of New York. Utags—odd as it may seem—upset the three teams by only a combined four points.

A banquet was held last night in the school cafeteria honoring the members of the basketball team. The team was previously honored at a luncheon at the Bluebird cafe.

Ags Away

The Aggies will leave tonight for a two game stand with the Wyoming Cowboys and Colorado A&M Rams. The Utags meet the Cowpokes Friday night at Laramie and Saturday night at Fort Collins.

Darrell Tucker who suffered a sprained ankle in the Garden encounter and a bruised thigh and charlie-horses in the B.Y.U. contest will be in shape for the Wyoming-Colorado tilts.

Rounding out the Aggie squad are: Bill Hull, Harbertson, Jack Clark, Don Tuft, Bart Johnson, Cordell (Butch) Brown, Don Budge, Ivan Allred.

Sightin' In

BY LARRY MONROE

The hills are full of happy deer these days. All of the seasons are over and there isn't much snow. All they have to worry about now is predators and game law violators.

The deer herds are pretty well bunched up by now, but there are still lots of single deer in the lower hills. The deer that I have seen are in very good condition for this time of the year, but that doesn't mean that they are in good shape every place.

The deer have the hills pretty much to themselves these days. There are a few porcupines and some grouse and once in a while a jay bird scolds. All of the other forms of life that you see in the summer and fall months have either pulled out for Florida or hit the sack for the duration.

If we continue to have the mild winter that we have had so far the deer that survived last winter will think that they are at last in Utopia (wherever that might be). But by the same token, if we continue to have no storms then there will be no water next summer and the fishermen will moan and groan. Oh well, win a few, lose a few.

Pi Kappa Alpha, last year's winners of Open House, show some fancy form as they shape up their giant human pyramid. Preparations for the celebration are underway now.

Open House Is Coming Soon

BY BOB EVANS

Blaring martial music, pompous processions of levi and tee-shirt-garbed Greeks, wobbly human pyramids (which occasionally are suddenly reduced to an unshapely heap of twisted arms and legs), burly weight lifters and dizzy relay-runners will all be part of the rather dull but highly entertaining show to be staged in the Aggie fieldhouse on January 21.

Yeh—I'm talking about our annual Open House.

This little deal (called by some a "great event" or "spectacular exhibit") is a splurge by the Intramural department, featuring many varied contests, in which campus organizations try to outdo their rivals by having more members present (percentage-wise), decorating their stall in the north bleachers in a more humorous, original, or artistic manner, and competing in odd (some are very odd) floor contests. Among these latter are included the bulldog-pull, in which two contestants face each other on hands and knees, attempt to pull each other across a line into a circle between them by means of a strap passed about their necks; the doozy-izzy relay (this events probably draws more laughs than any other. It is a team event; the teams line up and dispatch members, one at a time, to the other end of the floor where each is given a baseball staff. Each contestant leans down and places his forehead on one end of the bat, which is held upright on the floor, and attempts to circle around it five times and then run back to his team. In past years some participants have been so fast that they ran headlong into the audience, or attempted to climb the wire fence, or simply collapsed, completely indisposed (long sentence, huh?) and the shoe scramble. Of course you all know what this is. Contestants remove their brogans and throw them into a pile. After the pile is reduced to a scrambled heap, owners charge back en masse and proceed to scatter the footwear until they find their own. Wendell Hess, who was in charge of this affair some years ago, was knocked in the head and almost decked by a flying piece of footwear which he swears must have been a combat boot.

There are two phases of sports events after the grand entry and decorated-booth competition, team and individual. Examples of the former are dizzy-izzy relay, trampoline gymnastics, badminton, knee basketball (sounds thrilling, what?) sack race, shoe scramble, and volleyball. Some events in the "individual" category, in which individuals take part and earn points for the organization they represent, include elbow wrestling, foul pitches (baskets), Indian wrestling, push ups, rope climb, weight, lifting and the obstacle course.

The obstacle race sometimes produces amusing antics. Last winner, Jerry Wallace (who was in an auto accident and will not be able to participate this year) was going like a streak around the field house, made his flying leap through the suspended bicycle tire and missed, swinging back and forth caught around his middle with his wind knocked out. Another fast boy, a few years ago, raised his rump a trifle too soon after crawling the course back and forth under the trampoline and found himself with a pair of trap-door levis.

Open House Queen will be announced after the grand entry. Assembly for choosing the Queen will immediately follow the Junior Prom assembly next Tuesday. Students are urged to attend, so as to be in an informed position before disputing the decision of the judges, which is final.

'Murals Are Going Again

BY BILL BOWLES

Defending champions of the Fraternity League "A" basketball tournament, S.A.E. will be out to make it two in a row in the Fieldhouse Monday, Jan. 12 at 12:00 noon. S.A.E. pits its strength against a powerful Delta Phi team for the 1952-53 championship of the Fraternity League.

In the Club and Department League the championship game will be between a spunky five from Wellsville and a new team to the League this year, the Drones, a powerhouse squad from the East. The championship game time for the 1952-53 season of the Club and Department League will be 12:00 noon Tuesday, Jan. 13 in the Smart Gymnasium.

The final weeks schedule for the Intramural "A" Basketball Tournament is as follows: Smart Gymnasium, Thursday, Jan. 8 at noon, Malad goes against the Foresters; Friday, Jan. 9 at noon

Nebo-Alpine will play the Bear Lake team; Monday, Jan. 13 at noon a Brigham five is pitted against the Engineers. Fieldhouse, Thursday, Jan. 8 at noon the Sigma Nu five goes against the L.D.S. squad; Friday, Jan. 9 at noon the P.K.A. team goes against the S.P.E. squad.

Open House Next

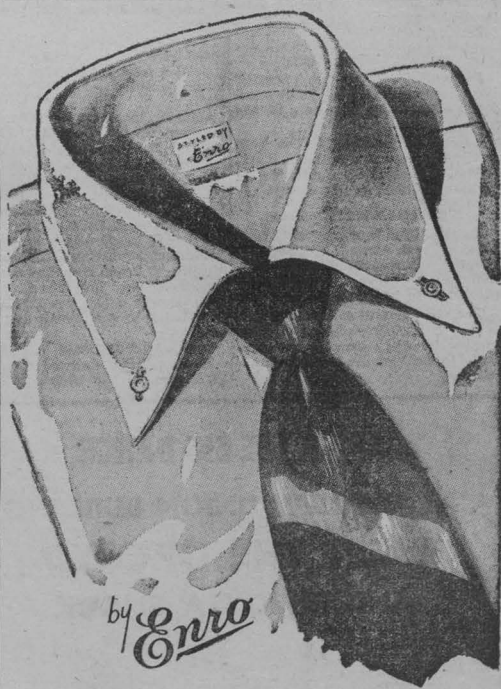

Next on the agenda for Intramural sports program is the gala event of Open House for the enjoyment of all. This great event which is held but once a year will be staged in the Fieldhouse Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m., admission will be student body cards. The traveling trophy which is awarded the winning team on an average of all events is now held by the P.K.A. fraternity, the 1952 champions. The trophy must be won three years in a row to be held permanently by any team. In the 1953 runoff P.K.A. will surely be the team to beat.

PRACTICAL GIFT HEADQUARTERS

Jean McBride Awarded Women's League Gift

Jean McBride of Hyrum, has been awarded the first annual scholarship offered freshman girls by the Utah State college Faculty Women's League.

Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McBride is a graduate of South Cache high school. She registered winter quarter at Utah State.

Mrs. D. W. Pittman, chairman of the scholarship committee comments, "This is but another phase of the regular girls' loan fund set up in 1920 by the league for the purpose of assisting college women to complete their school work."

"To date 667 young women have been assisted by this means, representing a total of $40,000 which has been loaned and re-loaned to worthy women students."

Last October the scholarship became a part of the regular girls' loan fund, when the decision was made by the league to assist high school graduates in their freshman year. Mrs. D. A. Burgoyne and John C. Carlisle are the members of the scholarship committee.
