Buzzer Ball Will Feature 52 Personalities Trustees Respond To Council Queries

Announcement of Utah State College's '53 personalities will be made at the annual Buzzer Ball Friday.

Mary Draper, his 13 piece orchestra and vocalist will furnish the dancing music in the union building.

Draper and his orchestra have played at Saltair, Hotel Utah, and at the Rainbow Rendezvous in Salt Lake City.

Over 100 of Utah State's outstanding students have been competing for the 52 personality pictures in the Buzzer, U.S.A.C. yearbook, personality section, according to Darrell Deem, editor.

Candidates for personalities have been selected on the basis of their willingness to help and active participation in school functions in order to carry out the '53 Buzzer theme, "We Learn to Succeed".

Selection of winners was popular balloting by the student body.

The 52 personalities will be featured in a special section of the Buzzer.

Patricia Boucher and Vape Christensen have planned the intermission program which will include vocal solo, Leifon Johnson; tap dance, Sandra Lee Richards; and a modern dance, LaVonne Jensen and Dick Wain.

Chairman of the Buzzer Ball is Billie Dee Payne with Pat Williams as assistant chairman.

Other committee workers are Van Dunn, dance cards; Jackie Berry, Adlin Jean Fabricius, decorations; Jerry Sherratt, publicity. Admission is by student body cards and the dress is beads and bare.

The dance will begin at 9 p. m.

Trustees of Utah State college met last weekend on campus in sessions which produced a new director of Snow Branch college, a somewhat evasive written reply to student council queries, and an approval of the name change of the college.

However, Trustees declined to comment either way on the rumors that President Louis L. Mathen would be asked to, or has resigned.

Career Conference Continues Today

Following a keynote assembly Tuesday, featuring Dr. Daryl Chase, and first-day meetings Wednesday, final sessions of the campus Career Conference will be held today.

A number of careers will be treated during meetings today. Printed programs listing times, places, and speakers, are available from the student personnel office, or the information center in the main hall.

At the assembly Tuesday, Dr. Chase stressed the value of general education in maintaining jobs, and getting advancements.

Regarding the current college situation, Dr. Chase said it appears to him that they are just too much.

He was accompanied by Roy L. Halverson and Elaine Johnson of BAC, who provided musical numbers at the assembly.

Problems Solved At Movie Meet

Movies in the Union Building cafeteria area will go ahead as scheduled, Ken Hayes, committeeman in charge, reported late Wednesday, following a special meeting.

The meeting was called when several of the Logan theatre operators raised questions about holding the movies, and desired that they not be shown.

A student council delegation, headed by President Dean Hubbard met with the Trustees Saturday morning, and among other things, asked for a clarification of the rumors concerning President Mathen. Speaking for the Board, Trustee Arthur Woolley of Ogden stated:

No Reply
"This Board does not feel called upon to answer rumors."

The student council submitted a prepared list of questions, statements and proposals to the Board, and got a variety of responses.

The first question: "Why was our former Dean of Students, John N. Symons, forced to resign?" was not answered in the session, but Trustees, meeting in executive session formulated a written reply which is included at the end of this article.

Enterprise Profits

The council, as a second point, asked that after bond requirements have been met, enterprise profits of the Union Building be returned to the Union program. The Trustees readily agreed to this, stating that legislation to this effect has been introduced in the State legislature, known as House Bill 128.

Lengthy discussion on the proposed change of name of the college resulted in a motion by the trustees to change the name, and introduce the legislation necessary to do so. However, considerable disagreement among Trustees over the proposed names of the two Branch colleges resulted in no action on the Branch name. Failure to include the names of the

The dance is Friday, 9 p. m., in the Union Building. Dress is beads and bare.

LIFE'S EDITORIALS

Public Relations Is Exigent Problem

Three of Utah's major newspapers this week have commented editorially on what Governor Lee has called the "bad condition" at Utah State. All of them have said one way or another that the college needs, if nothing else, a better public relations policy on the administrative level.

One of the newspapers, the Salt Lake Tribune, criticized especially the board of trustees who declared last Saturday that "the board does not feel called upon to answer rumors." The board SHOULD feel called upon to answer rumors, said the Tribune, and in all ways maintain its public trust.

STUDENT LIFE agrees with its big brothers in Utah journalism that Utah State's public relations policy has been bad lately. We'll even go so far as to say the damage which has reportedly been done our reputation throughout the state recently is entirely the result of bad public relations.

CO-EDS, PLEASE, NO JEANS!

What should determine the policy of the clothing girls should wear to college? The type of college? Utah State college has been called a "cow college." Therefore, if girls want to wear jeans on campus, it's okay . . . provided they're milking cows!

However, there is a lot more to this institution than agriculture. More and more, Utah State is adding and expanding in the fields of the arts, humanities, business, social sciences; no more is agriculture the predominant subject taught here.

In any business, the employees are expected to dress so that they present a neat, businesslike impression. Would you expect to find secretaries coming to work in jeans or with their hair put up in bobby pins? It's time we woke up to the fact that what Utah State needs is better public relations—and the best public relations we can encourage is the impression we give visitors to the campus. The impression that they carry with them is passed around, vocally and in print.

There are exceptions to every rule, as in this case, art labs and certain intramurals; but, just because a girl has only one class in the afternoon is no excuse for her casually dropping into class wearing "jeans."

If you don't think people care about the way the women dress on campus, just ask the Aggie male sitting next to you his opinion on the question of wearing jeans on campus. He is, of course, the final judge.

AGGIES—CHECK WHAT'S

Up and Coming

SATURDAY, FEB. 21

MONDAY, FEB. 23

TUESDAY, FEB. 24

Delta Phi Assembly, Auditorium, 11 a.m.; Rodeo Club, AH 103, 5 p.m.; Spurs, Men's Lounge, 5 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 25

Canadian Club, Women's Lounge, 5 p.m.; IK, Men's Lounge, 5 p.m.; Beta Phi, Institute, 7 p.m.; Delta Phi, Institute, 7 p.m.; Engineer's Wives, Women's Lounge, 8 p.m.; Faculty Dancing Group, Union Bldg., 9:30 p.m.

For Utah itself is manifestly healthy, notwithstanding what the Governor or any of its trustees say or allow to be said. Aggies are going to classes with as much enthusiasm as can be expected at this time of the year. Presumably they are learning at a normal rate. Research studies are moving forward. Basketball games are being won (yea, verily). Careers are being considered. Term papers are being written. Parties are being planned. Letters to editors are being fashioned. In short, a progressive, democratic institution is not only alive, but kicking.

Therefore, Utah State's administrators, from the Governor down, are misrepresenting the college before the people of Utah when they hint at bad conditions here without more explanation, or when they do nothing to set right an impression to this effect. That's bad public relations of a pretty high order.

Especially is this bad at the very time when the State Legislature is considering the 1953-55 budget for Utah State and the other higher-education institutions of the state. A Cache county member of the legislature last Saturday suggested to Utah State's trustees that they give the legislature some assurance of the college's essential soundness. This the trustees did not do. Viewed most kindly, the trustees' omission of this act was bad public relations.

As the Tribune said in its editorial (Tuesday morning), "The trustees have a solemn responsibility to settle the problem promptly and then follow a consistent policy of good management that will not invite rumor and speculation."

And finally, in lieu of assurance from the board of trustees, Student Life hereby assures the Utah Legislature that Utah State is in good condition all around, thank you, and still quite able to do what it has always done; produce intelligent citizens.

Board Action on Name May Be Too Little, Too Late

Action by the Board of Trustees last weekend in approving legislation which would effect a name change of the college from Utah State Agricultural college to Utah State college, is commendable, but perhaps is "too little, too late."

The Trustees, in approving the name change, made no provisions for changing the names of the Branch colleges. In the case of Branch Agricultural college, for instance, it would be necessary to decide on a new name, for there no longer would be an agricultural college of which BAC could be a branch.

Before any name-changing legislation could be passed, provisions must be made for the Branches, and this would be very time-consuming.

There are but 21 days left in this session of the legislature, and more than 400 bills now face legislators. Sifting committees are currently going through bills and casting aside many. There is little chance, as we see it, that the name change bill will go through this session.

We still strongly feel that the legislation should be introduced this session, even though there appears little chance for enactment. Introduction now would "set the door open" at least partially, so that in two years, during the next session, the task would not be quite so difficult.

Perhaps this whole issue points up a weakness in the Utah Legislature. It bi-annually often enough for this body to meet? It would seem that with so much legislation to be considered, and so little time in which to do the considering (60 days), that the lawmakers could well consider meeting yearly at least.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

On the Platter in--

HUBBARD'S CUPBOARD

BY DEON HUBBARD

Student Body President

The Associated Women Students are this week doing a big service to the students of Utah State. A Career Conference can be of valuable service to each student who avails himself of the opportunities of such a conference.

Successful, well-informed people have gone far out of their way and at their own expense have come here to hold sessions in their respective fields, that we might become better acquainted with our chosen or prospective careers.

Much frustration of college is in not knowing where we are headed. Many students are just filling groups and haven't yet selected a major. Many students with majors don't know the job possibilities in their field.

Looking For a Wife?

General education in these areas is excellent, but we also know where we are going.

We are not college just for a diploma. We are here for a career. We are here for a career. We are here for a career.

Grades may find us as important as you had them. If you have selected the phase of education.

A good example of this, I believe, was the absence of students at the opening session of the Career Conference. Dr. Daryl C. Chace, former dean of students here, now director of B.A.C., is a scholar and an author. He presented excellent talk, interesting, humorous, educational, and those who were not in attendance missed, on Tuesday, a part of our education, the reason we are in college.

Human Relations

Dr. Chace emphasized the importance of a liberal, well-rounded education and in a scholarly manner gave evidence with statistics and testimony of importance to know and why most of life's activities are human relations. Our career, regardless of how technical and scientific it may be, will probably not be as successful as it might be unless we have a liberal, well-rounded education and the ability to live with and pleasantly associate with people.

Opportunities at Utah State are a liberal education are excellent. Our lecture programs are good and well attended, our assemblies are good, but not so well-attended particularly if a speaker is involved.

Our faculty is excellent. We have many authors, lecturers, specialists on our campus. The specialists are not using outside of the campus. Their own students are benefited but could not we in the rest of the campus broaden our education by learning from these people.

Are we at Utah State interested enough in our education that we would make worth while the efforts of the assembly by sponsoring such an educational medium where we didn't have to attend, or no roll call was taken, grade given?

Classes, grades, rollcalls, tools of formal education. Lectures, assemblies, lectures, conferences, student activities, name just a few, are the tools of an informal or occupational education. Let's make Utah State laboratory of human relations.

Meistersingers, Chansonettes Present Musical Assembly

Meistersingers and Chansonettes will present an assembly under the direction of Prof. Walter Welti today at 11 a.m. in the main auditorium.

The program will include "America the Beautiful," "Lacrymosa," from Mozart's Requiem Mass, and "Snowflakes," by Chansonettes.

Meistersingers will sing, "A Mighty Fortress is our God," "Give Me Your Tired," which is taken from the inscription on the Statue of Liberty, "Sunset," and other numbers.

Novelty numbers, as well as popular and semi-classical ones, will be sung.

Chansonettes were organized during the war by William Manning. Prof. Welti organized the Meistersingers when he returned from the Navy. Membership is competitive, each member trying out before the group.

This will be the first Thursday assembly, instituting a new policy of scheduling no assemblies during weeks plays are presented, and two assemblies the week following.

Officers of the 28-member women's chorus are Barbara Olsen, president; June Lacey, secretary; Gary Richardson is president of Meistersingers and Lee Flinders is secretary. Anne McDonald accompanies the girls' group and Kenneth Cutler the men's.

Gardner Plans Agathon Dance

"We're working on plans for a new band for Agathon," comments Mary Ada Gardner, chairman of the Agathon dance. "We realize that this year's Agathon going to be bigger and better and we want to do our part to attract high school students to Utah State," she said.

Mary Ada is a junior majoring in home economics education and sewing, textiles and related areas. She came to Utah State on a scholarship offered to her as a graduate of Dixie college.

At Dixie, she held a studentbody office and was active in music, drama, and dance. She is from George.

At USAC, Mary Ada is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega.

Other members of the dance committee include: Ronald John, Agathon Thorpe and Bert Howard, thea; Jaleen Allen, correspondence; Bonnie Higbee, posters; Emma Rae Jorgensen, refreshments; Margaret Greaves, programs, and Jan Eggen, intermission.

The dance will be held Friday, May 1, in the Union ballroom.

Blood Money

Alpha Kappa won the $10 prize offered by Alpha Zeta to the organization contributing the most blood during the recent drive. Alpha had 50 per cent participation. Alpha Kappa rated second with 40 percent, and Delta Phi third with 36 per cent.

Students will have another opportunity to donate Mya 6 and 7.

Snowbound Car, Empty Gas Tank, Irrked Debators

Utah State debators found themselves in a situation which they could not argue their way out of when they became snowbound in Wyoming last weekend. It was an aftermath of the annual Rocky Mountain Speech conference which four students and Dr. Rex Robinson attended on Feb. 13 and 14.

Vira Beth Robison, Nora B. Thurgood, Vard Swain and Royce Harr participated in debate and extempore speaking at the meet. Nora B. took two second places in extempore and the teams won 50 percent of their debates.

Plans are now underway for the next tournament which will be held at McMinnville, Ore., the first part of March. Dr. Robinson plans to take the entire debate squad to this conference.

Not only did the debators find themselves snowed in at Rawlins, Wyo., they also ran out of gas in the "frozen North." Royce Harr, phrased the situation quite nicely when he announced:

"Dr. Robinson made us get out and push the car five miles in order to save gas!"

When asked how they enjoyed the trip, the debators only comment was, "Rawlins isn't the most pleasant place in the world to spend 24 snowbound hours."

Arnold Air Group Flies To Coast

Thirty-five ROTC cadets of the Arnold Air Society are flying to Long Beach, California, today to inspect the North American and Douglas airplane plants.

Under the supervision of Maj. I. J. Church, the men will make the trip in two C-47s, returning Saturday. In a considerable amount of off-duty hours the students should be able to see some of the sights of Long Beach.

Baby Saved

James M. Callan, 8-day-old baby of W/O James M. Callan, USAF ROTC, was saved by a pint of blood donated by Richard B. Meek in an exchange transfusion immediately after birth, on Feb. 11. Callan was told, by doctors that the child was suffering from red blood cell agglutination, a form of blood clot sometimes occurring when the mother is Rh negative and the father Rh positive, and that an immediate transfusion was necessary.

Mr. Callan called the college Air Science department and asked for a donor. When the request was made in the class Callan instructs, Richard B. Meek, Logan, volunteered and arrived at the hospital 10 minutes later.

The transfusion was a success, and Mrs. Callan and child arrived home yesterday.

State Prep Grapplers Will Hold Meet Here Feb. 20-21

BY CLAIR PETERSON

Utah State Agricultural College will host the Utah State high school wrestling meet Friday and Saturday. The Aggie fieldhouse will be the scene of the week-end meet.

Some 20 schools and over 100 grapplers will attend the meet under the direction of Cal Still and George "Doc" Nelson. The contestants will come to Logan from all parts of the state to participate.

The state wrestling meet is one of the largest individual sport meets that the State High School Association holds each year and this year's meet will get underway at 7 o'clock Friday evening with 48 different bouts. The semi-finals will begin at 10 a. m. on Saturday morning. The semi-finals will have 48 top class matches.

24 New Champs

The finals will start Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. with 24 bouts on the agenda. The officials stated that two mats will be going at all times. Twenty-four champions will be crowned Saturday evening.

Karl Schleckman, wrestling coach at the University of Utah and Merrill Croft, coach at the Deseret Gym in Salt Lake City, will referee the 120 bouts over the two day grunt and groan meet.

The eight top men in each weight division will participate in the meet, and the wrestlers will be housed in the Rural Arts building on the campus.

All Region One schools will enter men in the meet with the exception of Logan high school. Each school has proved that they have some good men in the different weight classes. South Cache and North Cache introduced the sport just this year and they showed a lot of enthusiasm.

Weber Defends Title

Last year when the meet was held at Payson, Weber high school of Ogden carried home first place honors. They are expected to field well rounded squad for the meet this week-end. Others from Region One who are expected to be tough are Box Elder, Ogden and Bear River.

Qualifying meets were held last Saturday in Brigham City, Davis high school, Payson and Millard. The state was broken down into four sections and a round robin was held in each area. In the area meet at Brigham City, Box Elder took first place.

Area Two was won by Davis high, with Payson high and Millard high schools copping the top spots in area Three and Four, respectively.

Box Elder Favored

Each of the four sectional winners are expected to provide rough competition for the other schools attending the meet. Box Elder is considered the tourney favorite. Incidentally, the Bees copped second place in the state meet last year.

Other down-state schools who are expected to show a lot of competition are East, Jordan, Carbon, Delta, and Uintah. Other schools have top men in their school who show well in some weights.

Several familiar faces will be entered in this year's meet, including some of last year's champions who will be back to defend their crowns.

Some of them are: Juno Uyomatsu of Box Elder, Robert Thompson of Weber, Norman Prince of Cedar City, LaVae Smith of Millard, Merrill Nielson of Delta, and J. M. Nielson of Payson.

High school and Utah State students will be admitted to the meet with their student body cards and 50 cents. The general public will be admitted at $1.00 per session.

Swim Outcome

Utah University captured top honors of a Skyline Conference swimming meet last Saturday by downing Utah State and Montana in the Logan Senior high school pool.

Utah racked up 58 points while Utah State placed second with 24 and Montana third with 15.

Aggie Basketballers Take Both Denver, Wyoming Tiffs

Wyoming

BY STEVE HUFFAKER

The Aggies of Utah State made it five in a row Saturday night as they nosed out the Wyoming Cowboys 78-76. It was a matter of three periods to one in favor of the Ags that turned the trick.

The game was a natural, pitting the defensive strength of the Cowboys against the uncanny offensive maneuvers of the Aggies. The Ags playing in spurts almost made a runaway of the game in the third quarter, but the Wyoming crew wouldn't say uncle and fought them right down to the wire.

Leading by 15 points with 11 minutes left in the game the Ags suddenly went cold at the hoop. In this dramatic last period the Cowboys pulled within two points with 3 minutes remaining. The Farmers fought them off, however, and gained a victory which gives them a much tighter foothold on third place in conference standings. The loss dropped Wyoming from first to second place behind Brigham Young.

One interesting fact about the game was that although the Cowboys are ranked nationally in defense their patterns weren't good enough to stop Capt. Darrell Tucker, Ag star, and the conference leading scorer. Tucker picked up a total of 19 points, most of these coming by being at the right place at the right time.

Last year the Aggies were the only team in the conference to beat the Wyoming club. This coupled with the Cowboys urge to stay atop the league standings made this game one of the "sweetest" victories the Ags have won.

Percentage wise Utah State is the top team in the conference. The team leads in field goal per-

Colorado A & M

By BILL GREEN

It was Capt. Darrell Tucker, who took the leading role in dumping Colorado A & M 74 to 61 here Thursday night. Tucker popped in 20 points in the first half of play, but he only added 6 more the second half, for a grand total of 26 points.

Bill Hull was second best for the Farmers, tanking 24 points. Hull hit his hook shot around the key hole with the greatest of accuracy. Bill also nabbed 18 rebounds from the boards, raising his conference rebound lead.

Butch Brown and Jack Clark, put on their usual show, snaring passes, stealing the ball and playing an all around fine floor game. Brown scored a total of 10 points to aid the Aggie cause.

Frank Condie was the replacement for Bart Johnson. Bart was out of the lineup with a slight case of measles. Condie filled Johnson's shoes very well, dunking 8 points and working smoothly with the other regulars.

It took four minutes, before a field goal was scored. Butch Brown hit a short one from the foul line, which started the ball swishing.

cent, foul shooting average, and total rebounds. They also tie with BYU for most points per contest. Other than this the Ags have the league leading scorer in Darrell Tucker and top rebounder in the loop in Bill Hull. Hull is also fourth in scoring.

Utah State has five more games this season. Three of these are league games with Montana, New Mexico and Denver. The other two are a twin bill with Gonzaga this week end.

"Femorals"

Last Saturday saw the close of one of the most successful Winter Carnivals in many years for the Women's Athletic Association. In spite of the lack of snow, a record number of teams entered. Many thanks are due Bette Reese, women's manager. Chi Omega copped overall honors, followed by Alpha Chi, Rockets, Skippers, and Kappa Delta, in that order.

The Rockets' first place snow-shoe relay team consisted of Elaine Timmerman, Barbara Farrell, LuDean Thurston and Deon Johnson. The next four places were claimed by the Skippers, Alpha Chi, Chi Omega, and Kappa Delta, respectively.

Chi Omega dominated the women's downhill race, placing four of the first five brackets. Gay Jones came in first; Rene' Raymond, second; Alice Welti, third; Becky Adams, fourth and Marian Beveridge, fifth.

In the slalom, DeAnn Wilson, Alpha Chi, led the field, followed by Gay Jones, Chi Omega; Rene' Raymond, Chi Omega; Carol Felix, Kappa Delta, and Alice Welti, Alpha Chi.

Intramural basketball is in its next-to-last week. Alpha Chi Omega and the Rockets are ahead in

The Aggies didn't stop until they had scored 74 points for a well earned victory.

The Aggie fans were neither worried nor doubtful about the final outcome. The farmers held a substantial 46 to 26 half time lead, giving the fans a restful seat.

Bob Harbertson, who has been in a slump the past few games, played like his own self in the waning minutes of the ball game. Bob hit a long shot from about 35 feet out, which brought cheers from a crowd of 3500 fans.

Saturday night's win over the powerful Wyoming Cowboys, gave Coach Cec Baker's men a 6 win, 5 loss record. The Aggies have a tough road schedule ahead of them, when they meet Denver, Montana and New Mexico.

the Sorority and Independent leagues with three wins apiece. Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, and the Skippers are in second.

Because the Dance Contest is scheduled for the first week in March, water baseball and badminton have been postponed until Spring quarter. Girls who are unaffiliated may participate in the dance contest with an independent group by contacting the intramural office.

Aggie Hoopsters Leave Home For Two Tiffs

Aggies Go Over The Hill With Wins In Mind

By ANDY HAYS
Utah State's surging cagers, riding on the crest of a five game winning streak, will trek across the mountain this week-end for a pair of Skyline battles that will have the team to do with the determination of the league's third place spot.

Denver's Pioneers tonight and the Lobos of New Mexico at Albuquerque on Saturday are slated for the twelve man Aggie squad that left yesterday afternoon by train for Denver.

Coach Cec Baker stated that the Pioneers are always tough on their home court and, although in last place at present, can do much to spoil the Utags bid for the third place spot in the loop. Denver lost to the Farmer home court, 76-70, earlier this season.

Must Win Two
To get the third place sewed up, Ags will have to win at least two of their next three contests, giving them a 8-6 mark for the season.

Captain Darrel Tucker can set a new record in Skyline scoring annals if he maintains his present 19.6 point per game mark. The record of 19.6 was set by Aggie Bert Cook last season during league play. The 6'2" senior made 22 points against New Mexico and 21 against Denver on the home court.

Sparkplug Cordell Brown has been ailing with an injured back this week and was replaced by Bob Harbertson in the line-up during practice drills. Coach reports that Brown, the key to Utag's successful home stand, will probably be ready to go against Denver tonight. Harbertson or Frank Condie will replace Brown if his injury still bothers him.

Starters Listed
The starting line-up for week-end will include Bill Hull at center, Tucker and Brown at guards, and Bart Johnson and Jack Clark at forwards.

Traveling by train to Denver and then to Albuquerque, the Aggies are considering flying home from the Lobo school on Sunday due to the poor train connections from that area to Utah.

The traveling squad includes: Tucker, Clark, Condie, Bob Spigman, Hull, Harbertson, Don Tuft, Lee Boothe, Brown, Ivan Allred, Johnson, Don Budge.

Ag Matmen Lose Two League Tilts

The Aggie grapplers lost out to BYU and Utah in their last two wrestling contests. Plagued by injuries and sickness and a lack of wrestlers, Doc Nelson's matmen had a tough time of it in their recent trips to Provo and Salt Lake City.

Sightin' In Student Life SPORTS

BY LARRY MONROE

Well, I don't see any polecat skins hung up on anybody's fence these days. I guess the farmers all went to the Snow Carnival and forgot the varmint hunting for the present. Well, it looks like those varmints will be around for awhile so it makes no difference.

The corner of the Student Life office that is occupied by the sports and such was flooded with a deluge of material this week from one Guy Atherton of St. Paul, Minnesota. There seems to be about 50 or so reams of paper, scattered around here and the gist of it is "don't kill the doves." This Atherton bird is really crazy on these doves. In glancing through some of his clever material, I notice that he has made some rather profound observations.

Shakescare Too

Old Earthshaker Atherton tells us this: "Beauty goes first. Then fertility. . . . Then wildlife. . . . Finally man perishes. Such is the tragic sequence of lands once fertile and covered with forests. . . . Now given over to a few wandering wild tribes. . . . and the desert." I like bird lovers although they don't like me. But this lover and his kind takes an almost fanatical stand on a subject that makes hunters and sportsmen (this guy calls 'em vandals) shudder. He has page after page of drabble that he uses as convincing evidence against shooting doves.

Sensible Management

Well, it would be possible to wipe out the doves if they were not a managed game bird. It would be possible to wipe out any game species in fact, if there were no sensible management programs to insure that a proper balance were maintained.

Many people criticize the game management programs on the basis that they just don't work out. The only management programs that fail are the ones that don't get any cooperation from the people that are trying to help.

Wildlife management is a scientific process that is taken care of by men that are not only trained in the practices of it, but who also spend a good deal of their time out of doors and thus are intimately acquainted with the animals they protect.

Well, that's the story for now. Keep your powder dry.

It will be the conference meet to be held in Provo, March 6 and 7. The Ags had a wrestle with Wyoming scheduled for this weekend, but due to a lack of members for the team, they could not make the trip according to Doc.

Feminine snowshoers show looks amused and confused over their extra long feet. The lack of snow didn't seem to hamper the snowshoeing event of Winter Carnival.

Just a little something on the Sideline—As I was watching the Aggie cagers work out for the final practice before traveling to Denver and New Mexico, I watched Ed Bart Johnson pitching foul shots.

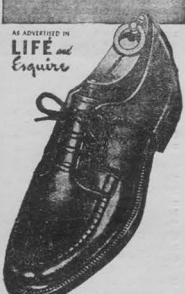

As most of you may have noticed big Bart has had considerable difficulty in finding the hoop from the charity lane. But yesterday Johnson shot 25 fouls—missing but one, his 21st.

Brown Shines on Defense
Butch Brown turned legsy-turvey last Saturday against Wyoming as he held scoring ace Bill Sharp to six counters. Sharp, Wyoming's top scorer and fourth in the Conference with a 17 plus average, was completely bottled up by the hustling Aggie forward.

Weber High Defends Title
For the first time in prep wrestling history, the State wrestling meet will be held in Logan—at the Utah State fieldhouse Friday and Saturday nights. Box Elder will be leading Revere One while Weber and Ogden will be close runners-up.

Weber is the defending champion having won the state title for the past four years.

Founders' Week Speaker To Be John T. Caine III

Founders' Week will be observed March 1 through 8, with principal activities scheduled for Tuesday, March 3, according to Leftoy A. Blaser, executive secretary of the Alumni association, who is general chairman.

The college was founded March 8, 1888.

Speaker for the Founders' Day assembly Tuesday, March 3, will be John T. Caine III, nationally-known agriculturist. Mr. Caine is manager of the national western stock show at Denver, Colo., and has been called "dean of the American tanbark trail."

"Spirit of the Land-Grant College" will be theme of the week. The Golden Anniversary club, composed of graduates of 50 years ago, will be honored.

Luncheon, Opera, Too
Following the assembly on Tuesday will be a luncheon honoring the guests of the college.

The annual opera, Ground's "Romeo and Juliet," will be presented March 4 and 5 at the Capitol theater as a feature of Founders' Week.

On Friday, March 6, associated students will be hosts to graduates, visitors, and students at the Founders' dance at the Union building ballroom.

During the week openhouse will be held at the Union, with members of the studentbody and student council assisting.

Aiding Mr. Blaser on the Founders' Week committee are: George D. Clyde and Dr. Chester J. Myers, reception; C. Lester Pock, invitations; Mrs. Jessie Auld, Merrill, luncheon, and John Stewart, publicity.

Trustees Respond

Branches in the legislature may result in a delay of the name change, perhaps for two years.

Two Appointments Asked
The council recommended that the Board give immediate consideration to the appointment of a Business Manager, and a Public Information officer for the college, and the Board agreed that such appointments would be desirable, and that they are working toward filling these positions.

The Board indicated that they had had some difficulty in obtaining the services of a full-time physician for campus duties, but they agreed to a council proposal to study possible reorganization of the presently inadequate health service.

Dean Daniel Hearing
Also meeting with the Board was former Dean of Women, Ione Daniel. She appealed to the board for a reinstatement, contending that her dismissal last June had created "widespread unrest among the faculty, destroyed her professional reputation and violated her dignity of person."

Mrs. Daniel agreed, upon suggestion of Trustee Woolley, to ac-

Mr. and Mrs. Glauser are owners and operators of Glauser's cafe in downtown Logan. Trying out the new gift are, left to right, Nora B. Thurgood, student vice president; Burton Howard, junior class president; Deon Hubbard, student president, and Carol Bird, member of the socials committee. Whetten Named Lester B. Whetten, currently head of the department of agriculture at Mesa County Junior college, Grand Junction, Colo., was named by Trustees as new director of Snow college in Ephraim. Director Whetten succeeds Dr. James A. Nuttall, who was transferred to Utah State as assistant registrar.

Following is the reply, prepared in executive session, which the Trustees submitted to the student council in response to the query about Dean Symons:

February 11, 1953
Executive Council of Associated Students
Utah State Agricultural College
Logan, Utah
Dear Council Members:

The Board of Trustees desires to make answer to your question with reference to the resignation of Dr. Joseph N. Symons.

The Board does not feel required to account for or give reasons for actions taken by the Board in accordance with the authority and duties imposed on it by law to manage the affairs of the Utah State Agricultural College; but in as much as the Executive Council of the Associated Students and others have asked for specific statements, the Board is making this public statement.

Some months ago, Dean Joseph N. Symons was offered an executive position of responsibility, prestige, and trust which the Board felt was a distinct recognition and promotion, at an increase in salary. Dean Symons informed the Board that he was not interested in this position or in any particular position of administrative responsibility but that his preference was teaching and counseling. Therefore, the Board suggested to President Madison that he tender another position to Dean Symons as Professor and Acting Head of the Department of Sociology. Dean Symons did not accept this position.

At the same time Dean Symons was offered the first position, with an increase in salary to him, the Board suggested to President Madison that Joe E. Whitlock be tendered the position of Dean of Student and his position was tendered to him and he accepted. This change will effect an economy at the college.

Dean Symons voluntarily presented his resignation to the Board, a copy of which is hereto attached. The Board regrets losing the serv-

'Fountainhead' Is Today's Movie In Union Series

"The Fountainhead," starring Gary Cooper and Patricia Knight, with Raymond Massey and Robert Douglas, will be shown today at the Union building cafeteria, as the first of the Union club's board's program of film calls.

Changes have been made in the schedule which was previously announced, Ken Hayes, chairman, announced.

The new film schedule is: "Christopher Columbus," Feb. 12; "Harvey," March 5; "Bagdad," "Twelve O'Clock High," March 12; "How Green Was My Valley," March 19; "Rhapsody in Blue," March 26; and "Tap Roots," April 2. Other films will be announced later.

Until adequate funds for buying the films to the college, an obtained, a charge of 25 cents per studentbody cards will be made.

ices of Dean Symons from this college.

The Board took these actions without advice of any kind and without any covert purpose, but solely in the belief unanimously expressed in the meeting of the Board that the changes recommended as stated above would effect an improvement and betterment in the Administration of the affairs of the State Agricultural College.
