Flanagan's Return Engagement Set For March 20

Critic Praises Rendition of Gounod's Opera

BY MARGARET FJELSTED

A fine presentation of Gounod's opera, "Roméo and Juliet," is hampered only by the opera itself, in Utah State's production now being staged at the Capitol Theatre.

A finished production is achieved by student performers under Prof. Walter Wentz, head of vocal music, and director of the annual production, and Dr. N. W. Christiansen, director of the orchestra.

Seen in the dress rehearsal performance were Beth Olsen, as Juliet, and Eugene Tuetler as Romeo. Bonnie Tuetler-Solmer will sing the lead role tonight.

Love and Death

The opera is aptly described in the Metropolitan Book of Opera as "a long love duet or two," which is just about what this melodic but unperturbed composition is. Gounod has managed to make lyrical and lovely serenades between the leads, Romeo and Juliet, which are soothing and beautiful.

However, emotion commensurate with the tragedy as found in Shakespeare's famous romantic drama is notably absent. A lack it also felt in the absence of Shakespeare's immortal lyrical poetry for the libretto contains only the famous, "Romeo, where art thou?" It would seem that the whole work could benefit with more of Shakespeare's deep and moving interpretation.

Beth Olsen was a graceful and beautiful Juliet whose voice is as melodic as the sentimental music demands. Eugene Tuetler's high tone voice possesses a fine, true range and the notes of the two are beautiful.

Powerful Baritone

Maughan McMurdo has emerged as a baritone of power and sensitivity in his interpretation of Capulet. Doreal Sigurd is a soothing and lyrical Mercutio, and Carl Hill is also memorable as Tybalt. The supporting roles of Barbara Olsen as Stephano and Peggy Tuetler, Gertrude, were finished performances. Also adequate in other supporting roles were Tom Van Ness, as Benvolio; Dennis Simons as Paris; Kent Paulsen as Gregorio; and Earl Faulkner, as the Nurse. Truly laudable are the

Piano Improvisations To Highlight Concert

BY DONNA QUAYLE

Monday, at 8:15 p. m., Alec Templeton, pianist and improviser extraordinaire, will present the final program of the year. His appearance in the college fieldhouse has been arranged by the college lyricism bureau, and Cache Valley Civic Music Association.

The Templeton program, divided between his interpretations of standard compositions, and his inimitable informal improvisations was announced by Prof. Arthur Holmgren, chairman of the lyricism bureau.

Templeton will play "Prelude and Arion," by Bach and "Tenor," by Schubert; "Arabesque No. 1," by Debussy; "The Little White Donkey," by Jacques Derr; "Joy," by York Bowen; "The Wanderer" and "Berceuse," by Grieg; fantasy improvisation on the "Artist's Life," waltz, by Strauss and Temptation; "Tarentella and Canzone Venetiana,"

More Numbers

"Impromptu in A-flat Major," by Schubert; "Arabesque No. 1," by Debussy; "The Little White Donkey," by Jacques Derr; "Joy," by York Bowen; "The Wanderer" and "Berceuse," by Grieg; fantasy improvisation on the "Artist's Life," waltz, by Strauss and Temptation; "Tarentella and Canzone Venetiana,"

"Filet Mignon," improvisations on a popular theme, "Gounod Weeds No. 1," and improvisations on four melodies, all by Templeton.

The pianist was born in Cardiff, Wales. At the age of two he could play from memory the tunes he heard played by organ grinders in the street.

Began At Age 4

He began studying piano at the age of four with Margaret Humphrey. At sixteen, he entered London's Royal College of Music, where he recorded the highest grades in the college's history. He also studied at the London Academy of Music.

Mr. Templeton first appeared in America with Jack Hyson in a series of radio broadcasts for the Standard Oil Company.

Since he made his formal concert debut in the United States, at Chicago's Orchestra Hall, he has appeared in almost every state in the Union, every province of Canada, and in the Hawaiian Islands.

As a composer he has published serious music such as his "Piano Quatre," "Music Mountains and Conquest," and on the lighter side his "Modernizing the Mayday" series. "Mr. Bach Goes To Town," "Maurit Matriculates," and "Scarlett Stoops to Conquer" are also wrote the musical comedy score for "Book Tarkington's" "Seventeen," which was recently presented on Broadway.

Praised By Musicians

One of America's foremost musicologists and the editor of "Etude," has said of Templeton: "If ever an artist treated music as a human thing, it is Templeton. He simply realizes that music is one of the ingredients of living that make men enjoy."

After becoming a citizen of the United States in 1940 he made his home in Connecticut where he listens to music, makes music, thinks music, talks music, composes music, and has fun with music. His tastes include everything from Bach to bebop.

Alum Policy Set for Seniors

In accord with practices at most colleges and universities, the Board of Trustees adopted a policy which will automatically make all graduating seniors members of the UNAC Alumni Association with a paid two-year membership. The Board adopted this policy and made provisions to include our present senior class under this new arrangement. In the past there has been some time elapsed between graduation and the time that the senior class office of a graduating class. During this time many graduates have felt that they had been abandoned and had been forgotten by their school. In order that this should have means of keeping in touch with its graduates, the Board adopted the policy which will keep the seniors in close touch with the school upon graduation.

This policy will provide that each senior in the fall quarter be charged a regular graduation fee of $10. Five dollars of this amount will go to the Alumni Association and will be used to give the graduating class a reception at Commencement and to pay for the first two years of Alumni membership.

Alumni Membership Advantages

- Membership in the Alumni Association provides for the following advantages and benefits:
 - a. Membership affords the best way to demonstrate interest and support of the college and its programs after leaving the campus.
 - b. Members receive the Utah State ALUMNI, a major publication nine times a year, full of Aggie news and reports on the college.
 - c. The Association maintains Alumni chapters in all major areas where Aggies are located. Members receive invitations to participate in these chapters.

Utah State Celebrates Founding Anniversary

Utah State this week celebrates 65 years of growth and achievement since its founding on March 8, 1888.

And as Utah State celebrates its 65th anniversary, it has every reason for optimism as it faces the future.

Perhaps we at the college, and those concerned with its administration could well emulate the principle of faith faith set forth by John T. Caine III as he addressed the Founders' assembly this week.

Closing his remarks with an appeal for faith, the speaker, a son of a "founding father" of the college, asked for those at the college to have faith in each other, in their country, and in God.

We feel sure that if this principle were lived fully in activities and dealings at the college, much of the petty bickering and individual differences could be resolved.

No Retirement Forecast

Although some have commented that 65 is the time for retirement, there is nothing in our "crystal ball" that indicates retirement is a college prospect. Recent opposition at the college has been "painful" for some, but actually has strengthened the college. Faculty members seem united; and students actually seem more interested in their school work.

Roots Are Deep

Utah State will continue in its progress. Its roots are too deep for surface tension to destroy. The strong leadership of President Madsen will insure the continued development of the college. A vigorous, united faculty, and a strong student body are essential to the development, but neither is impossible to attain.

This Founders' Week is cause for thought of past college achievements, and also contemplation of accomplishments yet to come.

participate in chapter meetings, class reunions, Homecoming festivities, football and basketball parties, and other special college events.

d. The Association endeavors to keep you in contact with other Aggies in your locality so that you may continue to participate and associate with your old Aggie friends.

The regular life membership of the Association is $25. The $5.00 fee may be applied to the life-time membership. The regular $2.00 yearly dues of the past are not applicable in this manner. This $5.00 fee therefore gives the graduating senior the advantage in becoming a lifetime member of the Association.

Affects This Year's Seniors

This new policy will apply automatically to all graduating classes after 1953. However under provisions made for the '53 class to participate your officers have discussed this matter and have sampled some opinion of class members. Everyone agrees that our class should be the first to start this program. Your officers have therefore approved the addition of this extra $5.00 fee to the regular spring quarter registration fees which will be collected at registration realizing that belonging to the Alumni Association is the only way for us to keep touch and informed about Aggie events.

Respectfully,
CLASS OFFICERS OF '53.

Hubbard's Cupboard

BY DEON HUBBARD
Studentbody President

Students and faculty members have complained a lot about what they thought was bad relations between faculty and students. We as students have felt that the faculty members were not behind us, particularly in extra- and co-curricular activities. Some feel that they haven't been attending games, assemblies, rallies, and dances. The faculty, I believe, have thought that they haven't been wanted or haven't been taken into our confidence.

This feeling is not a problem; it is merely a misunderstanding. Student council met with the faculty at their regular meeting this week to talk over some of these problems.

We were graciously received, given a prominent place on the agenda, and given most of the time of the meeting. It was good to note the spirit of friendliness and cooperation we can get from the faculty if we will do even less than our share.

We were given by them a vote of confidence and cooperation in helping us to put across campus activities. This was evidenced by the good attendance made possible at an excellent Founders' day assembly which our faculty not only attended, but they dismissed classes so that students could attend.

We are living in a college community; students and faculty alike live together. The faculty members purchase activity cards which entitle them to attend all student functions. The council expressed to them on Monday that they are welcome to play with us as well as work with us.

Are you working with a club, a committee or a fraternity which doesn't have a faculty consultant? We can use these faculty members well, not for chaperones or censors, but for consultation, for the work and advice which they aren't afraid to give.

Talk to one of the deans in the Student Personnel office about your adviser. Maybe he has advised the same organization too long, and both he and you would like a change.

Our faculty are here to serve, they want to serve, so let's give them a chance. Let's give them our friendship and confidence. We can learn so much from them outside the classroom.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibber

"Who th' heck turned this in for criticism?"

Should Drowsy Aggies Get Union Building Nod?

We cannot help but notice the number of Aggie students who persist in using the couches in the lounge of the new student Union for beds. It seems in very poor taste when a fabulous, beautiful setting that is created in the lounge should be marred by a prone, sleeping individual who has no respect what-so-ever for those around him.

In the first place, it seems a person would not like to be seen slumbering in a public place such as the lounge of the Union that could be compared with the lobby of a hotel, the waiting room of a restaurant or other public building.

Secondly, no individual should fail to realize that the presence of his feet on the furniture of the lounge is a rude, sloppy habit that is destructive to the couches and chairs if not revolting to look upon.

When a person takes it upon himself to sprawl out over a couch, he deprives others of the privilege of using the furniture. This alone is a selfish gesture.

It can be said that Utah State has one of the finest student Union's in the country, certainly the finest in the Rocky Mountain area. For the sake of our own reputation and prestige let's take it upon ourselves to use the lounge with respect and discretion. We do not feel that to use the couches for beds is in good taste.

Institute Calls 100 to Session

The Management Institute on Friday and Saturday will bring some of the industrial and business leaders to the campus from Utah and Idaho, according to C. C. McBride, general chairman of the advisory and planning committee.

Registration requests indicate a very interest in the institute program among leaders in the field. Many have come in from Salt Lake, Provo, and Ogden, as well as from smaller centers and from northern Utah and southern Idaho.

College students and faculty members are invited to attend the sessions without charge. They will be held in the banquet room of the Union building from 8:30 Friday morning to Saturday noon. Registration

Registration day approaches again. To those who are prepared in advance, registration is a simple procedure. If, on the other hand, everyone leaves course planning until registration day, the result is congestion and confusion.

The spring quarter schedule bulletins will be available Thursday, March 5. Advisors are being invited to set aside for advertisement all available time from now to the end of the quarter. Students may well take the initiative in contacting advisors with regard to spring quarter registration.

Union Dance Friday to Climax Founder Week

Highlight of social activities for Founder's Week will be the dance Friday evening at 9 p.m. in the Union ballroom. Dress for the dance will be heels and hose, according to Ron Austin, chairman of the socials committee.

Officers of the Golden Anniversary club, which is composed of graduates of the college prior to 1953, will act as patrons and patronesses. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Tarbet.

Concluding event of the week-long list of activities and observance of the founding of the college 65 years ago will be a radio broadcast Sunday afternoon. Professor Joel E. Ricks, head of the department of history, will trace the history of the college from 1888 to 1953.

Professor Ricks is author of a volume that was published in 1938 during the half-century celebration of the founding of Utah State Agricultural college.

Events of the week were keyed Tuesday in the Founders' day assembly. John T. Caine III, a nationally-known agriculturalist and Aggie graduate, was principal speaker.

Mr. Caine told the audience of students, faculty members, alumni and townspeople that the college was located in Logan because of a three-county feud between Weber, Utah, and Cache counties over location of the industrial school, mental institution, and agricultural college.

Weber county insisted on having the industrial school, and Utah county selected the mental hospital. Cache county, being the smallest of the three, had to settle for the college.

"From this beginning, under the influence and guidance of wise men, the college has grown and prospered, even though it was built on a rocky foundation," Mr. Caine said.

Other speakers included President Louis L. Madsen, and Herschel Bullen, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Sigma Nu Frat Will Present Assembly Tuesday in Main

Finale of the winter assembly season will be presented Tuesday by Sigma Nu fraternity, according to Nora B. Thurgood, student-body vice-president.

"Halls of Fedley," title of the assembly, is a take-off on an imaginary college (closely resembling Utah State) by the name of Fedley. Dick Headlee plays the role of president of Fedley college, and Eldon McLatchie, Jarvis Anderson, Diz Hurd, Marc Bell, and Dick Cloward will be featured in the hour-long program.

All Sigma Nu's will participate in the assembly, under the direction of Jerry Sherratt, pledge class president. Pledges are busy constructing scenery and an orchestra and chorus will be featured.

The Sigma Nu's have challenged

ed Kappa Delta to a contest for the best assembly. Losers will throw a party for the winners.

Kappa Delta will present the second part of the competitive show in April.

It's the size of the FIGHT in the man!

That's right! In the U. S. Air Force, it's not the size of the man in the fight—it's the size of the FIGHT IN THE MAN! And Aviation Cadets must have plenty of it. For Cadet training is rugged. If you're good enough . . . tough enough . . . smart enough . . . if you can take it while you're learning to dish it out, you can have one of the most fascinating careers in the world. You'll be equipped to fly the latest, hottest planes. You'll be prepared to take your position as an executive, both in military and commercial aviation as well as in industry. And while you're helping yourself you'll be helping your country.

WIN YOUR WINGS! It takes little over a year to win your wings as a Pilot or Aircraft Observer (Navigator, Bombardier, Radar Operator or Aircraft Performance Engineer). But at the end of your training you graduate as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force, with pay of $5,300.00 a year.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE? To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must have completed at least two years of college. This is a minimum requirement—it's best if you stay in school and graduate. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

New Aviation Cadet Training Classes Begin Every Few Weeks!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will give you a physical examination.
3. Next, you take a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet training class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

WHERE TO GET MORE DETAILS:

Aggies Finish A "Statistical" Season In Montana

BY ANDY HAYS

Leading in most of the statistical departments but the wondrous column, Utah State's successful eagles will wind up their conference and season's schedule tomorrow night at Montana University in Missoula in a single game battle.

With a 7-6 record for the Skyline season and a 17-12 overall, Coach Cec Baker's Utags need this Montana win for a cinch on undisputed third place. There is an outside chance that New Mexico and Colorado A&M could tie the Farmers if Montana is the victor tomorrow and the Lobos drop both BYU and Utah on foreign floors and the Colorado Ags top Wyoming at Ft. Collins and Denver at Denver.

This would take some real doing by the two eastern slope league members and it is a good bet that each will drop at least one of the two encounters to cinch the third place spot for the Aggies. However, nothing is impossible in the Skyline conference.

Tucker Needs Eight

Utah Captain Darrel Tucker needs but eight points to break a conference scoring record set by BYU's Joe Nelson three years ago. Averaging a torrid 21.3 per game, the 6'2" All-American candidate has the best shooting average from the field in 13 games (.431), the top free throw mark for his number of games (.819) and is fourth in total rebounds. One of the better defensive men in the area, Captain Tucker has by far the least number of personal fouls with 22 for an average of about 1.4 fouls per contest.

This will be the last ball game for Tucker as he has racked up 50 points in a brace of games against Gonzaga last week on the Utah hardwood. He has tallied 1,059 points in his three seasons as an Aggie regular.

Top Point-Getters

As a team the Aggies have racked up the most points of the season for a 924 total and a 71.1

point-per-game average. With their .725 average for shots from the free-throw line, the Utags have another first as a .389 average for shots from the field is likewise first. The team is second in rebounds total.

Coach Baker will take a twelve-man squad to Missoula, leaving tonight by training returning on Saturday to Logan via the same route.

Harbertson Recovers

It appears that guard Bob Harbertson, who went into a disappointing slump right after the Aggies' road trip back east, might have recovered to the extent of winning back his starting berth. The 5'10" junior pumped in five for six from the field against Gonzaga last Saturday in a scant six-minute appearance, appearing to have regained his feel for the hoop.

If Harbertson starts, he will be at guard with Cordell Brown, Bill Hull at center, Tucker and Jack Clark at the forwards. Bart Johnson would start in place of Harbertson if the coach decides to do so.

This will be the last varsity contest for five Aggie seniors who turned in 40 minutes of unsubstituted action against the Gonzaga quint last week, Tucker, Clark, Bob Springman, Frank Condie and Don Tuft will be donning the Utah State silks for their last appearance.

Aggie Wrestlers Enter Conference Meet

Utah State grapplers will travel to Provo this week to join with six other schools of the Skyline conference in the 1953 conference meet in the Y fieldhouse Friday and Saturday.

Bouts will begin Friday and run through Saturday with the championship bouts being held Saturday evening. All conference schools with the exception of Montana will be represented.

BYU Strong

BYU, defending conference champions, and Utah University, defending Western Division champs, look to be strong again in this year's meet. Utah is weak as a team but hopes to make up for it with individual strength.

Colorado A and M will also be powerful with Wyoming strong in some weights while Utah State, winless in season competition, will be somewhat handicapped with injuries but hopes to place winners in some of the weights.

Montgomery Out

Larry Montgomery, Utah State heavyweight hopeful, will not compete in the conference meet due to a shoulder injury suffered some time ago. In six conference dual meets the Utags lost five and tied one, the tie coming with B.Y.U., 18-18.

The Aggies lost to Utah twice, Wyoming twice, and BYU once.

Undeclared Duo

Boyd Whitby and Max Grunig, 1950 Mr. Utah, will carry a good share of the Aggie wrestling load. These two are the only undeclared grapplers on the Nelson-coached crew.

Two unidentified wrestlers brush up on grappler tactics prior to the Skyline conference title meet to be held at Provo Friday and Saturday. Utah State will enter seven hopefuls in the two-day event.

Tucker Should Be Given All-American Berth Honor

The Colliers magazine recently came out with their All-American basketball selections. Joe Richey of BYU was placed on the first team selection.

We feel that Utah State's own Darrel Tucker should have been placed on either the first or second team. Tucker has been omitted from the All-American teams thus far. On the basis of being the top conference scorer in one of the top conferences and also of captaining his team from the bottom to third place.

Bill Hull has also been short-changed in the "All" selections. He is the second place scorer in the conference and leads in rebounds. Please have a look over in our yard, somebody and see what we have.

GARY R. BLODGETT

HOT OFF THE WIRE . . . Darrell Tucker 1953 basketball capt. has been chosen to play for the College All-stars in a tour with the world-famous Harlem Globetrotters this summer.

Tucker is number one scoring ace of the Skyline Conference and is the only representative of the conference to play for this year's All-Stars. Bert Cook, former team mate of Tucker (1952 season) also played for the Stars last season.

Although records are not available (by Skyline statistics) it is believed that Bill Hull, 6 ft. 6 in. pivot-man is heading for a record in the rebound department. Hull has 175 rebounds to date in conference play.

Why?? Why? You ask . . . all the talk about Darrell Tucker? It is true if it hadn't been for the remainder of the squad to assist him, he would not be receiving this high honor.

But be that as it may, you must agree Tucker is the best (at least one of the best) players in the Rocky Mountain area.

Many Aggies See Tourney Action

A number of Aggies, or former Aggies figured prominently in the recent all-Church M-Men basketball tournament at Salt Lake City.

A hustling team from Logan Fifth ward, composed entirely of Utah State students captured third place in the tournament. Jack McLea, a member of the Fifth ward quintet was named to the all-church team.

Mac Gardner and Reed Hadfield, graduates of '52 played on the Washington, D. C. team, and Gardner was named to the all-Church third team. Both are in the Air Force in Washington, D. C.

Benny Mangus, a former M-Men star from Logan Fifth played on the Reno, Nev., team, while Dell Nichols, member of the winning Brigham City team, and a former basketball player at the college, was named the most valuable player of the tournament.

Coached by Darrell Tucker, Ag casaba ace, College Hill ran into some tough competition at the tournament, but managed an eighth place position in final standings. The College Hill team, like the Logan Fifth, was an all-Aggie squad.

Brigham City Fourth ward captured the tourney crown, 49-45 in an overtime period from Edgemoor ward of Salt Lake City. Several Aggies also played on the Brigham team.

Aggie Hoop Captain Tucker Chosen to Play On College All Star Team Against Globetrotters

Sightin' In

BY LARRY MONROE

The termination of the nice weather also terminates the outdoor bench rest and target shooting for a while. But even at that it can't be too many months and then all of the ardent and not so ardent can get out again and punch targets full of holes.

The indoor matches are still going as strong as ever. If anything, the storm and cold helps them along. The Logan club had a little match with the Collinston boys the other night down in the local primer burning hall.

A fellow was telling me a funny thing that came out of the hunting season this year. He said that they had sighted a couple of deer and were blasting away at them in the spirit of true sports etc. Anyway they shot some 50 rounds at the deer and didn't score a hit. They were talking over their marksmanship when a fellow came along through the woods and stopped to chat. His only comment was, "Well, did the boys take that hill?"

This and that and so on. That's about all for now. So keep your powder and your noses dry.

Utah State's All-American candidate, captain Darrell Tucker, has agreed to play with the College all-Stars in the annual world series of basketball against the Harlem Globetrotters in the tour that is promoted by Abe Sapperstien, manager of the Trotters.

Speaking yesterday with Henry Hannin, the director of the fourth annual tour, the Aggie ace stated that he would play nine games, possibly more, of the 22 tilts to be played this year that will start with a double header series in Madison Square Garden on March 29. Tucker, who needs but eight point in one remaining game to shatter the Skyline scoring record, will not join the team until they come to Laramie, Wyo. He will then travel to the west coast, back through the south to play the last game in St. Louis.

There will be no all-Star-Trotter game played in Utah.

Twenty-two college seniors will comprise the squad, but will be chosen to play in particular areas so that a traveling squad of twelve will be maintained. Such stars as Johnny O'Brian of Seattle, Bob Houbregs of Washington, Walter Dukes of Seton Hall, and Dick Knotsman of Kansas State will be Tucker's teammates on the tour. No other Skyline player will take part in the tour according to Mr. Hannin.

Tucker is the second Aggie to be chosen to the all-American studded squad as last year's Utah State captain, Bert Cook, was chosen to the all-Stars.

Dates for the visiting sponsors will be arranged by the university, and a special party has been planned for those who are engaged or pinned.

The girls will furnish their own sleeping equipment for the lumber party which will be held at the union building following the dance. Breakfast will be served Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m., after which the Aggie sponsors will leave for Logan.

Dress Is Formal Uniform

Sponsor uniforms will be worn down to the university to all the meetings and the banquet. The dance will be formal.

A trip to Bryce, Zion, Grand Canyon, and Las Vegas is being planned. The national sponsor conclave will be held April 29, 30, May 1, 2 and 3 at Branch Agricultural college. Purpose of the convention is to discuss forming a national organization and voting on national headquarters. National officers will also be elected.
