Fountain-Naming Contest Planned

WANTED: A name for the new fountain room in the Union building.

With the completion of the fountain room tentatively set for May 1, Glenn Blaser, Union manager is looking for a suitable name for the fountain area.

During days of the temporary Union building, "meet you in the TUB," was the slogan, and Prof. V. D. Gardner has suggested to Mr. Blaser and STUDENT LIFE that some slogan such as "meet you in the elbow room," or other is needed.

Prizes Offered To Winner

STUDENT LIFE, under the direction of Mr. Blaser, therefore, is sponsoring a "name the fountain room contest." And there are benefits for submitting contest suggestions.

If an individual suggests the name selected, he will be given free use of the facilities of the game room for an entire week, and five free meals in the new fountain room.

For any organized group on campus — fraternities, sororities, clubs, honorary organizations, departmental groups, etc., suggesting the winning name, one free evening in the Skyroom for a dance, party, or activity, will be awarded.

Deadline Set April 2

Flanagan Flock Fiddles For Friday Foot-Frolic

BY DIANA WALKER

AWS Tri-School Conference Set Saturday

Members of Associated Women Students' councils from University of Utah, Brigham Young University, and Utah State College will convene on the Logan campus Saturday for a tri-school convention of AWS groups.

Representatives from the three schools will meet to summarize and discuss the program of each school for the past year. Mary Helen Tweedie, USAC AWS president announced.

The meetings will begin with a general session at 9 a.m., followed by a tour of the Union building under the direction of the union board at 10 a.m.

Three Groups

The girls will reassemble in three groups for freshman orientation program, social programs, and educational programs, which include the Career conference that the AWS sponsored at USAC recently.

At noon a luncheon and program are being arranged in the cafeteria with Diana Walker, freshman representative, as chairman. Numbers from the Sigma Nu assembly will be presented during the luncheon.

Concluding session after lunch will be a general meeting of reports on suggestions and improvements to help in setting up next year's activities.

Arrive For Dance

Brigham Young University students will arrive Friday night for the Ralph Flanagan dance. Blind dates for the girls are being arranged by Alice Welti, sponsor representative, and Palma Lundahl, junior representative.

This year's conference is the first that the three schools have conducted. General secretary is Joan Lee Wilson, AWS secretary for Utah State, and publicity director is Judy Barker, AWS reporter.

"Ralph Flanagan and his orchestra will play for the student body dance Friday in a return engagement at Utah State," reports Ron Austin, socials committee head.

Dancing will begin at 9 p. m. in the main ballroom of the student Union building.

Tickets for the dance may be purchased in the main hall or else at the Centre Record Store downtown at $1.50 per couple. Heels and hose will be the appropriate dress.

Vocalist Harry Prime and the Young Sisters will also appear with Flanagan and his orchestra at the student body dance.

Previous Show

Flanagan and his orchestra played here Jan. 22 for the Class of '54 Junior Promenade.

The Flanagan flock has been described as "America's Number One Band," by the country's leading music publications ever since they played their first date at Wrentham, Mass., in March of 1950.

Flanagan, 34 years old, does most of his own arranging and also does some composing.

High School Invited

Letters have been sent to five of the high schools, located in the valley, inviting students to attend the student body dance as part of the public relations program.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be Deane and Mrs. Carlton Culmsee and Dr. and Mrs. S. George Ellsworth with President Louis L. Madsen, Dean Joe E. Whitesides, and Dean Leah Farr as special guests.

Refreshments will be served at the dance to those attending.

Assisting Austin on the socials committee with the Flanagan dance are: Norma Hector, tickets; Glen Winn, refreshments; Don Bybee, patrons and coat checking; Dexter Davis, drapery; and June Lacey and Diana Walker, publicity.

April 1 Deadline Announced For Award Requests

April 1 is the deadline for submitting applications for scholarships. Dr. Joel E. Ricks, chairman of the awards and honors committee announced today.

A number of scholarships are being offered again for students. Included are the Class of 1927 Research Scholarships, Lt. Clyde P. Baugh scholarships, and the Johnsen Scholarships.

Details of the scholarships are listed in the school catalog, or may be obtained from Dr. Ricks.

Awards and Honors Convocation is slated Sunday, May 3, in the LDS Institute, at 3:30 p. m. At that time, all scholarships will be awarded, and honors conferred.

Concerning Scholarship Gold "A" awards, all students with three successive quarters of "A" grades are eligible. The grades do not include those of basic physical education or military science, Dr. Ricks noted.

Any student eligible for the Gold "A" must make application himself by April 1, to Dr. Ricks. Heavy work in the registrar's office prohibits them from supplying the committee with a listing of eligible students.

Dr. Ricks urged any student desirous of obtaining any of the scholarships to apply immediately.

Agathon Assembly Tryouts Slated

Auditions for Agathon assembly will be conducted Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the Little theatre, according to Carol Felix and Dennis Simmons, chairmen.

The assembly will be presented April 28 to the student body and during April and May at high schools in the area.

Individuals and organizations are urged to try out for positions on the assembly, Mr. Simmons said.

Legislature Appropriates Biennium Fund, Appoints Eight to Board of Trustees

Utah's 30th legislature raced to a close last week, after enacting 171 pieces of legislation. College interest in legislative action focused on appropriations and appointment of members of the Board of Trustees.

Legislators voted $3,300,000 for administration of Utah State during the biennium 1953-55; $550,000 for the extension division, and $775,000 for the experiment station.

These figures in all cases are less than requested by the college, more than recommended by Gov. J. Bracken Lee, and more than 1951-53 appropriations.

New Trustees

Appointed to the Board of Trustees by Gov. Lee, and confirmed by the Senate, were Matthew Cowley, member of the Council of Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Reed Bullen, Logan radio executive, and R. J. Potter, Box Elder county commissioner, and agricultural leader, new members with four year terms; Mayor Jack V. McLea of Roosevelt, and Dr. George Fister, Ogden physician, to two-year unexpired terms.

Re-appointed for four year terms were Roger C. Armstrong, Ephraim; Carl W. Peterson, Kenilworth, and Charles R. Hunter, Cedar City.

Woolley Transferred

Not re-appointed were Glenn G. Nielsen and Herschel Bullen Jr. of Logan, while Arthur V. Woolley, Ogden attorney, was transferred to the Board of Regents of University of Utah.

Originally, Gov. Lee had recommended re-appointment of Trustees Bullen and Nielsen, along with the appointment of Emma K. Laub. All three were rejected by the Senate.

Gov. Lee also proposed to transfer Dr. Adam S. Bennion from the University Board of Regents to the USAC Board, in the switch that put Mr. Woolley in the U of U board.

Effective July 1

Dr. Bennion declined to accept the USAC appointment, and his non-acceptance brought the appointment of Mr. Cowley.

The new appointments will take effect July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year.

Board members with two years left to serve are Thorpe B. Isaacson, chairman; Fern B. Ercanbrack, George D. Preston, and Newell V. Sanders.

About The Crumbs In

HUBBARD'S CUPBOARD

BY DEON HUBBARD

Some time ago a woman student at Utah State spoke to me about a subject that could come under several titles; manners, courtesy, politeness, civility, or culture, a I'm sure other terms could be used.

All society have their individual forms of manners. In our particular society there are certain little courtesies that are expected of men in connection with women—tipping a hat, opening a door, helping a lady on or off with her coat, relinquishing a seat on a bus, and a dozen little things.

This could I referred to earlier has attended another university, and was, I'm sure, rightfully disturbed about the manners at Utah State. To be more specific she had attended a class all one quarter as the only girl in the class. Never once, as she struggled with getting into and out of her coat did a chivalrous male ever attempt to aid her.

I've been told by other girls that these same manners often came on a date or at a party, and are not just classroom or campus manners.

How often during an assembly have you seen people continually come in or out? Moving up or down the aisles or disturbing a dozen people as he or she moves in or out of the center of a seating section? Banging doors and people playing on a nearby piano are other signs of an individual thinking only of himself or not thinking at all.

I was exposed some time ago to graduate record exams, which all graduate students over the nation take. Each student is compared to his college and to the national percentages.

In comparing results of hundreds of past tests, the two areas students at Utah State are lowest in are, fine arts, and literature. Whether this reflects these departments on campus, our curriculum, or us as individuals, I don't know. Maybe this is not even important, or possibly it is good we are more concerned with real and practical phases of life.

I have wondered though, if there is any correlation between this aforementioned fact and our manners in general.

I have wondered if there is any correlation between literature, fine arts and an assembly and lyceum program. The poorly attended assemblies have been the speakers, or musical groups. Is not this phase of college education important?

I am not certain our administration and faculty are fully convinced of this medium of education. First is the exceedingly low budget given by the administration to lyceums and assemblies. If it weren't for the Civic Music organization down town and money from the Associated Stu-

Are Dues Due?

Editor, Student Life:

I was just a wee bit provoked when I was "forced" into dishing up $5.00 extra for tuition and fees for Spring quarter registration. This sum, it stated on the fee card was for "Alumni dues." Now it might be all right for the "scalpers" in this institution i.e. Bookstore, to squeeze every penny they can out of us, while we are enrolled as undergraduates, but do they have any right to say how we spend our hard-earned cash after we graduate?

If the Alumni Association can not function without forcing graduates to affiliate, it should be discontinued.

dents budget there would be no lyceums. We have heard of very few lectures this year. The answer to this is always that students won't go and hear a good lecture, why spend money on them? There again is part of the responsibility of education, especially the informal education must come from the efforts of the student himself.

To look again at the encouragement from the faculty, you will notice by going through the schedule of classes that there are over 30 classes or labs being held at the Tuesday 11 o'clock hour. The military department is the worst offender during this long established free hour.

I don't propose to answer these questions or solve the problems. I would like to throw those ideas out to you for your reaction, with the hope of aiding Utah State and its students.

Manners, fine arts, lyceums, assemblies, school spirit, are all subjects where there may or may not be correlation between or among them, but I believe there is.

Council Organization Needs Change Now

With election-time less than a month hence, immediate consideration is necessary on the question of representation on the student council.

As presently constituted, the council consists of one-year councilmen, elected from the seven schools of college; three three-year councilmen; and the president, president and secretary. The four class presidents also vote with the council as ex-officio, non-voting members.

This system of representation, however, has not worked. Activity of the student council is not divided on the basis of the seven schools, and by electing councilmen from within the schools, unequal representation is created.

When this system was proposed, STUDENT LIFE said an editorial, dated April 26, 1950:

"What are the chances of success for such proposed system? We would say good enough to warrant a trial. First, would give representation to some groups who have practically withdrawn from the college, notably the Foresters. Such representation, we hope, would be inducement to make such groups an integral part of the school, participating in its activities and supporting its aims."

When suggested, this system seemed the logical thing to do "warrant a trial." The "trial," however, has not been made, and the system has not proved successful practice.

It has not functioned to induce greater activity among those schools which formerly complained of lack of representation.

Once accorded their "rights," the schools concerned had the responsibility of active political participation.

But, in elections last spring, and more recently in elections, some council candidates either were unopposed, or were elected by so few voters, that the voting was a farce.

In order to achieve more adequate representation of the studentbody on the governing council, ALL students should be allowed to vote on ALL candidates.

We recommend that the system of representation in schools be abolished! In order to effect this abolishment, we propose more student representation on the new council.

Article III, Section 1 of the student constitution should be made immediately by the present council, and the matter placed before the studentbody for a vote prior to the regular spring election. This would put the constitutional revision in effect before that time.

Since the present method has failed, action to insure democratic representation on the council should be taken without delay, thus making the improvement applicable at next year's council.

Action Needed to Halt Examination Cheating

Before we write winter quarter into the history books, we must comment on some actions during winter quarter test week.

Apparently to compensate for a lack of knowledge, or for indolence during the quarter, some person or persons forced entry into campus buildings last week and stole copies of examinations. Break the law, and you break the law. In this instance, geology-graduate school officials, and the physiology department.

Disheon conduct is not tolerated in modern society, and certainly should not be permitted in an educational institution which purports to teach fundamental principles of living.

We ask that anyone who had anything to do with these recent campus break-ins should be sought, and when discovered, given the full measure of punishment.

This whole question of examinations needs some serious thought. That some cheating on examinations occurs cannot be denied. Until human beings become perfect, there always will be some who resort to dishonest conduct. However, teachers and students should cooperate in eradicating the problem.

First of all, students must realize that they are not in college merely to pass examinations and make high grades. Exams are but ways of testing the knowledge one has acquired. Not only do exams reveal what a student knows, but also may be an indication of how well one's instructor has taught.

The basic knowledge of the course material, then, is the important thing—not the grade for the course or the exam. However, for lack of something better, we must be content to compete for grades and high marks, for they are written in the books, and by the books we are judged.

In giving examinations, teachers should not rely on the same prepared test for each quarter. Subject matter is bound to vary somewhat each time it is presented, and therefore, the tests should vary. Repeated use of an examination breeds cheating among students, for it seems that someone always manages to get a copy of the test from a previous quarter.

Now, just do a word test week. We like it. It has some disadvantages, however, but the benefits undoubtedly outweigh the shortcomings.

It is imperative during the examination week, that teachers and students abide by the rules. Even if a test is not necessary in the class, students should meet with the instructor during the time. Repeated instructions from the President's office have explained that all classes should meet during their scheduled test periods, but many did not do so during the past quarter.

However, we will take exception to this on one point—that is exams on Saturday. Because of many students who have Saturday jobs, who have commitments on Saturday, exams periods on Saturday are not satisfactory. We are glad to note in this connection that the Saturday exams have been scheduled during the coming Spring quarter test period.

Sightin' In

BY LARRY MONROE

The recent onslaught of warm weather and sunshine has brought an onslaught of all the old fevers to outdoorsmen aroundabouts. The fishermen are thinking of wetting a line and the riflemen are thinking of getting out and burning a little powder. Some that like the out-of-doors and its offerings are just thinking of getting out and commuting with nature.

Snowmobile Trip

I had the opportunity of taking an interesting snowmobile trip last weekend with my friend Emmett Devine, the inventor of the erstwhile over-snow vehicle. We went up the left fork of Blacksmith Fork canyon and came out on top of the world somewhere up in those mountains. During the day we saw several bunches of deer and quite a number of elk. There were also several other forms of wildlife around. All of the deer and elk were in fine shape and they were all lively and strong.

The elk were actually fat and they seemed to have remained undisturbed throughout the entire winter. One old bull that we saw was so large that he had trouble navigating up the mountain. He still had his antlers and they were really beauties.

Chuck Time

I also looked around for a chuck or two just the other day. It was just a little windy and it is still a little early for them to be out in full force, but they are out and around. A chuck is not too alert when he first pokes out in the spring and some of them can be approached to a very close distance. This of course makes the killing of them quite easy.

I think that it is possible to overshoot rockchucks just as easily as it is to overshoot anything else. Consequently, it might be good conversation to sort of ease off on chucks for the first few weeks that they are out. In the first place, they are easier to sneak up on and hit and in the second place they still haven't given birth to this year's young, unless my knowledge of chucks is astray. And by shooting females now, we destroy future sport that we could otherwise save by waiting a little before going out and blasting everything.

The nature of shooting these animals is such that it is more often than not impossible to determine the sex of the chunk before you shoot it. The chances of coming across a female are just as great as those of coming across a male.

Of course there are some people that say so what and try to give you the old bunk about how all wild animals are harmful to human interests and so forth. Ironically enough, these will be the first to scream about the good old days when there were plenty of things to hunt and how now the government or whoever else is handy to blame has let everything go to pot.

Human at Fault?

Possibly an excess of game for the area that it inhabits can be a true detriment to people living in the area. But it looks like the human being is the one that has invaded the domain of the animal. Now we are saying that we must eliminate the wildlife because it is being impolite and taking some of our crops or ruining our shrubs. We might be able to use a similar excuse on each other some day. Say there's an idea. The department of the Interior might some day have a Human Conservation Service alongside of its Fish and Wildlife Service.

Enough ranting and raging. The indoor matches are still going strong and the interest is mounting. Jay Jensen of Logan Rifle and Pistol club tells me that his club has started a new round-robin tournament among the members of the club. This will determine the club champ and give them a basis for their annual NRA award for the best shot in the club and so forth. There are some good matches between club members and the competition is keen. The door is still open to any student to come over and shoot with the club. They meet on Thursday nights on the rifle range downstairs in the ROTC building.

Well, I'll see you around.

Utah State's ROTC rifle team placed 14th in recent Southwest Invitational Rifle meet held in El Paso, Texas. The Aggie team journeyed to El Paso by plane with the University of Utah's rifle team.

Winners of the 24 team meet in Texas were the boys from the University of California, also last year's winners. Second place honors went to the University of San Francisco.

The Aggie team travelled by Air Force transport to El Paso. The met the University of Utah and made the journey to Texas with them. The plane was piloted by Captain George Mattes, AFROTC instructor at Utah State.

Ray Purser Stars

The Aggies came home with one individual honor when Ray Purser, captain of the Ag team shared individual honors by tying for high place man in the kneeling position with a University of California man.

The travelmates of the Ags, the University of Utah team, took 20th in the 24 man meet and were the only other college represented from Utah.

While the team was in El Paso, they took a sightseeing trip to Juarez, Mexico, where they took in a day of Mexican excitement.

Team members making the trip to Texas were Ray Purser, Captain, Ray Hlavaty, Rollo Brunson, Lon Neal, Robert Bell and Clair Parker. Accompanying them were WOJG J. M. Callan, Range Officer and Sgt. Max Lujon, Range NCO.

A bill in the New York legislature would force night clubs to provide a square foot of dance floor for each patron. This should solve the problem of the fellows with square feet and an urge to dance.

This in Sports

GARY R. BLODGETT

Well, sports fans, this seems to be the "lull" season again—that in-between time when basketball is completed and the spring activities have not yet gotten into full swing.

As our attention turns from the Aggie cagers (who incidentally completed a very successful season—capturing third place in the Skyline conference with a 6-6 won-loss record) we see the spring activities begin to get underway.

In baseball we see the possibilities of a good season (couldn't be any worse as the Aggie nine finished in the cellar last year). The Farmer diamond-men, however, lost few men in the 1952 graduation and Coach Ev Faunce hopes to use the year's experience to the best possible way in coming up with a winning combination.

Track Prospects

Track prospects will be out in full force with the change of spring weather (still a little cool for thincled safety) and with a number of returning lettermen the Aggie speedsters should come out in pretty fair style. Last year the Utags finished fourth in the Western division and third in the Skyline conference.

Returning to this year's squad will be such greats as Cordell Brown in the hurdles, Bart Johnson in the half mile, John Ford, broad jump, and Jim Erz in the shot-put. LeRon Johnson will again carry a good share of the load in the sprints and possibly the hurdles.

Congrats, Jordan H. S.

A look at play from the scene of action last week saw the Jordan high school basketball quint down the Weber Warriors, 52-42, to garner the 1953 class "A" basketball championship at the Ute fieldhouse.

South high school wound up in third place, East took fourth, West fifth, North Cache sixth, Ogden seventh and Carbon, eighth.

Congratulations Jordan!!

Arlen "Ted" Hansen, who graduated last June with a photo-journalism major, has been appointed operations officer of the photographic department at Wright Air Force base in Dayton, Ohio.

As an Air Force ROTC cadet, he was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from college last spring. He left last weekend for his new assignment, following a leave spent in Logan.

Cold Weather Forces Athletes Indoors; Season Opens Mid-April

GARY BLODGETT

Spring athletic equipment was brought out of moth balls last week as the Aggie thincleds under the coaching of Cal Stoll, and the Aggie diamondmen, coached by Ev Faunce, officially opened spring drills.

Spring-like weather brought the athletes out in full force but recent cold winds whipping across the State campus has forced both the tracksters and baseball team to continue workouts indoors.

The Aggie diamond-men were only slightly hurt by last year's graduation, which should leave Coach Faunce with an experienced team to open the 1953 season. Coach Faunce will work his boys indoors as long as the weather is unfavorable.

Last year a late winter thaw forced the Utags to stay cooped up inside for a considerable length of time, which incidentally, may be the cause for the winless season in which the Aggies finished in the cellar position.

The opening game of the season will be staged April 18, when the Farmers play host to the University of Utah. All games will be played on the Crimson field at the Logan Senior high school.

Track Outlook

The Aggie track team will probably be weak in the distance and strong in the field events according to Coach Stoll. They will probably show much better in the conference meets than they will in the dual meets.

Coach Stoll said that we weren't hurt too much by graduation, and there are some good looking sophomores coming up on this year's team. Stoll also added that Freshmen may also try out for this year's track team if they have completed two passing academic quarters at Utah State. The Aggies have a track meet coming up on April 10 here in Logan with the University of Utah. They will have one with Montana University on April 17.

Baseball Mentor Ev Faunce talks over the situation with two of his team. Pitchers Ray Hlavaty and Jim Hill who will see action in upcoming ball games tell Ev that the old fast ball is working.

Last year's relay team for the Aggies is back in full force. Star miler, Harold Jones was lost to graduation as was Joe Armillio, shot putter. Ron Johnson, Aggie quarter miler, will be back in good shape this year. Johnson turned in an impressive record on the cinder paths last year. He showed his heels to more than one conference hot shot in the long spring last year much to the surprise of all of his opponents.

Stars Return

John Ford, broad jumper, will also return to the saw dust pit this year. Shot put man will be Jim Erz. Mat Trontell will throw the javelin again this year. Cordell Brown will run the hurdles and the sprints for the Aggies this year.

Last year's Aggie team, placed third in the Western Division meet and fourth in the conference. Since there have been no meets thus far, it is hard to say which of the team's will be strong and who will be the power house in the conference.

There is still a possibility that a few more men might turn out for the track squad, since some of last year's men that did not graduate have still not started to work out, but the main part of the track team is now working out and getting into shape.

Festival Will Stress Poetry About Christ

The annual poetry festival will be held Saturday, April 25, according to Dr. Chester J. Myers, head of the speech and drama department.

"Jesus in the World's Poetry," is theme of the festival, stated Prof. Gwendella Thornley, chairman.

Selections for the poetry syllabus include some of the best works of old and contemporary poets. Included are poems by Milton, Spenser, the Brownings, Rossetti, Matthew Arnold, Ben Jonson, Thomas Moore, and translations from Edmond Tost-and. There are also selections from contemporary poets, including T. S. Elliot, Masefield, Wylie, Teasdale, James Weldon Johnson, Sandburg and others.

"All the poetry about Jesus is written with the sincerity and depth of feeling that any great poet would treat such a theme," said Professor Thornley.

The poetry festival has been an annual affair since 1947, when it was revived after having been discontinued during the war years. Each succeeding year a different theme has been chosen. Last year's theme was "Contemporary Poetic Thought," and the theme in 1951 was "The Sonnet."

Students interested in participating in the festival should contact Professor Thornley in Main 201.

Radio Tryouts To Be Held

Program auditions for KVSC will be held Wednesday, March 25 in Main 202 from 2 to 4 p.m. Any student wishing to submit a program for broadcast, is asked to write a sample program and be prepared to give part of it at the audition.

Programs may be musical, live or recorded, commentaries on people or events of significance, reviews of plays, movies, music, books, talks or discussions on interesting subjects.

New KVSC staff members are Phillip Monson, Ruth Schick, Robert Evans, and Jane Vickers. "They were chosen for their willingness to help the staff," stated Prof. Burrell F. Hansen.

Staff meetings will be held tonight at 5 p.m. in Main 204.

Girls' Loan Fund

Money for loans to upper-class women on the campus is available through the girls' loan fund committee of the Faculty Women's league.

Seniors will be given preference for the loans, which are made for one year at a nominal rate of interest. To date, 770 loans have been made from this fund.

For further information, students may consult Dean of Women Leah Farr in the student personnel office.

'Green Valley' Is Union Film

"How Green Was My Valley" is the movie that will be shown today in the Union building, according to Ken Hayes, chairman of the movie committee.

The movie, which stars Walter Pidgeon with Maureen O'Hara, Donald Crisp and Anna Lee, is a 19th century portrayal of economic conditions and labor problems. These problems are set forth in the transformation of a lovely valley in the hills of Wales into a grim and grimy mining district. As the district disintegrates, so do the lives of its people.

The movie will be shown at 1, 3 and 8 p.m., and admission will be by studentbody cards and 25 cents.

Shakespearian Play is Chosen

"Much Ado About Nothing" will be presented April 22 to 25 as the college's annual Shakespearian production.

Members of the cast are Reed Durham, Larry Wright, Dick Waite, Paul Evans, Cecil Wells, Lee Cantwell, Lynn Burton, Jarvis Sanderson, Paul Wilcox, Charles Tate, Weldon Hyer, Vern Coleman, Delwin Pond, Jay Meservy, Gerald Speth, Glenn Winn, Ann Patrick, Sandra Lee Richards, Carma Croshaw, and Barbara Gaddie.

The play will be presented on Shakespeare's birthday, April 23, following the college tradition of presenting one of his plays on that date. A matinee performance has been scheduled on April 25 for high school and college students attending the Poetry Speaking festival.

Debaters Win Forensic Honors

Utah State debaters returned from an Oregon forensic meet recently with their share of high honors.

Jim Allen topped first place in the experimental division (salesmanship) and Roselyn Nebeker and Marie Merrill placed second in the junior division of women's debating. Vira Beth Robson made the finals in job application and Nadene Fowler was among the impromptu speaking finalists.

PE Department, Dr. Myers Plan Assemblies

Two assemblies are scheduled for presentation in the Main during the next week, with an assembly slated by the physical education department today and a talk by Dr. Chester J. Myers set for next Tuesday.

Today's assembly will be directed by the faculty of the P. E. department. The program includes the following numbers:

"Arkansas Traveler," dance by the faculty.

Fencing demonstration by Wendell Picht and Michael Hawie, with June Day as narrator.

Tap duet by George Chingus and Tom Geary.

Comic song by June Lacey. Spanish tambourine dance by Abdol Hajabania.

"Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," modern dance, by Dick Waite, Carma Browning, Larry Hansen, Margaret Fletcher, Tom Geary, LaVonne Jensen, Carma Croshaw, Weldon Hyer, and Miley Furgis.

Dr. Myers, head of the speech and drama department, will tell about his tour through Europe last summer at Tuesday's assembly at 11 a.m. in the Main auditorium.

Dr. Myers traveled in 17 European countries from March to August last year. He lived with

AWS, Studentbody Applications Due

Applications for president, vice president, and secretary for the Associated Women Students are due Friday, according to Mary Helen Tweedie, AWS president.

Applicants for president must have been members of the AWS executive council, and applicants for secretary must know how to type.

Elections will be held next week. The new president-elect will attend a national AWS convention in Columbus, Ohio, during the week of April 2-5. Miss Tweedie will accompany her to the convention.

Students interested in applying should obtain and fill out the official application blank, which may be obtained from the studentbody office in the Union building. Then the application must be signed by the registrar (applicants must have a 1.5 average). Completed blanks may be left in the studentbody office.

Elections for studentbody posts and for sophomore, junior, and senior class officers will be conducted during April and May, declared Deon Hubbard, studentbody president. The date and time for elections and applications must be set by student council. This will probably be done at the next meeting, on Tuesday.

Tentative deadline for filing applications is April 1. The primary election will probably be conducted April 8 and the final election one week later.

Among the experiences he had were these: while visiting the Latin quarter in Nice he was caught in a Communist rally; he slept in a hall in Naples and also in a public "pub"; and he was invited to live in the palace in Denmark with the king's private telegrapher.
