Slack, Bishoff, Larson Win Upper Class Election Finals

BY VERN BAILEY

Jim Slack and Garth Bishoff were elected presidents of the two upper classes Wednesday, as only 157 students went to the polls for final class elections.

Edris Larson nabbed the senior class secretary position, to complete the roster of new class officers.

Jim Slack won the senior class presidency by defeating Dave Gittens on a 40 to 31 count.

For junior class prexy, Garth Bishoff edged Tom Brown 45 to 37.

Edris Larson won in a walk-away, polling 45 votes to 25 for Rilla Dee Payne, the other senior secretary nominee.

Hoosier

Slack, who hails from Fort Wayne, Indiana, has been a dominant figure in campus politics, and narrowly missed being elected to the one year councilman post during recent student body elections. Jim is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, is a Blue Key member, and is active in Scabbard and Blade. He will receive an ROTC award during the Thursday military review.

"I will attempt to plan more activities and functions for next year's senior class, in an attempt to mold it into a closely-knit body," Slack stated when quizzed about next year's plans.

For Garth Bishoff, a Montpelier, Idaho, lad, the election is a repeat performance. Garth was also president of his junior class in high school. At present he is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, and has been active in intra-mural athletics.

Voice of Class

"My chief interest in gaining this position," Garth said, "is to work with the student council, and act as the representative voice for a revitalized junior class."

The new senior class secretary, Edris Larson, boasts years of secretarial experience. Now serving as secretary of the English department, Edris is an Alpha Chi, and was last year's sophomore AWS representative. Edris is a native of Logan.

The complete slate of class officers, chosen at the elections of the last two weeks, will be:

Senior Class — President, Jim Slack; vice president, Palma Lundahl; and Edris Larson as secretary.

Junior Class — Garth Bishoff, president; Jan Eggen, vice prexy, and Joan Wilson, secretary.

These officers will assume their respective duties next fall.

Cecil Wells as "Uncle John" gets ready to help Sharron Beckstead get the best of Audrey Kirton in a heated discussion from the college play, "Her Husband's Wife," which started last evening and will run through Saturday.

'Her Husband's Wife' Is Good Theatre

MY MARGARET FJELSTED

If you're in need of a bit of escape, "Her Husband's Wife" will provide it, and delightfully. The comedy began a four-night run Wednesday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the college Little Theater.

Dr. Chester J. Myers as director has brought together an inexperienced (so we are told) group of thespians who manage, collectively, a smoothly coordinated two hours of rather uninhibited gaiety, and a good deal of credit to themselves.

Audrey Kirton of Draper is the maid of unexplainable Cockney accent and competent activities whose main job is caring on stage and off numerous medicinal beverages. These are the property of her hypochondriac mistress, Irene Randolph, played by Sharron Beckstead of Preston, Ida. Sharron is most adequately pretty and tearful in the role of the solicitous wife who decides, incomprehensibly, that her end is near and her husband must be provided for. She proceeds to find him the perfect second wife to console him after she's gone, this is the person of Emily Ladew, played by Jeanne Noble.

Emily is dowdy, at first. What happens when she decides she has been insulted by her friend's "trust" starts things rolling, belly-laughs among them. Jeanne makes the Pygmalion type of transformation for which she shows excellent understanding.

The husband of the triangle is Pat Casey of Richfield who highlights the play with a very funny drunk scene, done competently. A colorful bit of dialogue passes between Randolph and Richard Belden, the "other man" played by Robert J. Dean, Provo. Here the relaxed manner of Mr. Dean helps loosen up the action, and some of the funniest parts of the comedy are his periodic expletives.

Providing backbone to the drama is Cecil Wells of Salt Lake City, who does an "Uncle John" is a well caricatured character part. "Uncle John" is the family politician who's rather given to take the side of his pretty niece, Irene, but who tries to stay on the good side of everybody. This, of course, backfires, and Uncle John is in constant hot water.

It's a lot of fun, and a play you'll go to just to enjoy yourself. If there were any morals to be drawn, we couldn't find any.

By the way, the sets were made and designed by Prof. and Mrs. Floyd T. Morgan. With some ingenious contriving they made everything — except the piano. George Tanner is lighting director, aided by Sidney Jensen.

Madsen, Berntson Quizzed During Salt Lake Sessions

BY STANLEY HATCH

(From Notes by Ray Nelson)

Former President Louis L. Madsen and Secretary Russell E. Berntson were interviewed Wednesday at the State Capitol building in separate sessions before the Adam S. Bennion investigating committee.

The Governor's office was charged with bringing political pressure to bear on the administration by Dr. Madsen. He also made the charge that the Board of Trustees had interfered in his administration of the college. The question was posed by the former president: "Have I been a poor administrator, or have the Governor and the Board made good administration impossible?"

Berntson Interview

Mr. Berntson stated during his interview with the committee:

"I pledged Dr. Madsen my loyal support when he was appointed and I haven't ceased. Any difficulties have come from lack of definition of power in the various departments and lack of clarification of responsibilities."

He further suggested that, "The business manager's office and the financial wing of the board should be separated. The duties and responsibilities of my office and the president's have never been clearly defined to me. I have been, and still am, willing to submit to the president's authority."

Week Dedicated To Western Activity, Events

BY LORI BURNHAM

Western Week is trotting rapidly across the turf toward us innocent and unsuspecting Aggies. The five days between May 18th and May 23rd will have one thing in common with Test (dirty word) Week — everyone will be roaming raunchily around in dandy Deon-type duds. And that's an order. All recalcitrant kids will be clapped into a Kangaroo Court cage constructed across the trail from the Bird. FACULTY MEMBERS ARE UNDER THE JURISDICTION OF THE JEANS POSSE. In just four frantic days you will find out what Harry Reuben Reynolds looks like in a Hopalong Cassidy costume.

The quad will be pregnant with pounding, pulsating activity every nooning. Monday many mounted speedsters will lacerate the grass in suspense-filled barrel and cloverleaf races. Tuesday varied rapid riding relays of relatively humorous quality will rank. Wednesday a bouncing broom-polo bash will further bruise the boondockles. Thursday is dedicated to a better defended America, but Friday wild-cow milking and calf-tying should create an interesting diversion during daily 12 o'clock Bird-babbling.

The Dale Evans of Utah State will be chosen Monday the 18th just after late labs—5 p.m.—at the Fairgrounds arena. Any A.C. cowgirl coed can compete. Ponys will be provided, unless you prefer providing your own. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dunbar will judge the gals, who will be rated 60% on equestrian ability and 40% on poise and personality. The Queen will wield the wand over the whole Wild West Week, reigning royally over both Rodeo and stocking stomp. Brunson's Studio is awarding the winner a genuine glamour photo.

The Annual Intercollegiate Rodeo will cap this action-packed panorama on Friday night at 8 o'clock. Any college is eligible to enter, each competing school contributing a 6 man team. The events scheduled include much mayhem such as Brahma bull riding, saddle and bareback bronc breaking and bull dogging. The final bar will be pounded out in the floor of the PUB ballroom to the beat of Wade Ray's spastic band. Dance starts at 10 o'clock after the rodeo, and will wind up along with western week at 1 a.m.

Foreign Students Honored In Dr. Meyer's Gardens

BY CRAIG HOWARD

Take one part scholar, add an equal portion of understanding and a dash of alacrity; mix well and temper with long years of travel and academic experience—the result will be Utah State's friendly internationalist, Prof. George A. Meyer.

Perhaps it's the ingredients that cause Dr. Meyer to exert his friendliness and interest towards the students from foreign lands who attend Utah State. Perhaps the desire to make these people feel at home goes even deeper. Whatever the case, students from all nations will once again have the full use of his house and gardens Sunday afternoon; an occurrence that is anything but uncommon for the Meyer household.

The beautiful gardens which surround the Meyer home are a result of hours of labor on the part of the esthetics loving resident. Gardening is a time consuming hobby, but it takes only a portion of Dr. Meyer's keen interest and driving energies.

Dr. Meyer is head of the Language Department and in his field has a working knowledge (he modestly calls it "messy") of 14 languages. He feels most at home in French and Portuguese, yet dabbles in such interesting dialects as Catalanian, Sanskrit and Old Norse. He smilingly claims to know a "little bit" of the English language.

Outside his field, Dr. Meyer makes a point of keeping up to the minute on diverse subjects such as biology, politics, philosophy, etc. He is a fiend for travel and often reminisces on his experiences on the continent or south of the border. Hum a tune and Dr. Meyer will pick it out for you on the piano, concert style.

Name anything that could be classified under mental stimulation and you can bet Dr. Meyer includes it in his daily dozen.

Probably more important than all of his other past accomplishments and hobbies is Dr. Meyer's standing as a true internationalalist. He judges individuals on their own merits and is firmly convinced that nationality has nothing to do with character and basic human qualities. His friendliness and interest in foreign students stems from a genuine desire to understand different cultures and ways of thinking.

His hospitality and friendliness will not soon be forgotten by those he remembered when they were so far from home.

problem if such becomes necessary.

Dr. Madsen recommended a change in state legislation that would avoid a governor's being able to appoint an entire Board during his term of office.

Rep. S. J. (Vean) Postma added evidence during the interview to back up part of Dr. Madsen's charges.

Dr. Madsen expressed his concern for the welfare of the college and further stated: "Nothing is wrong with the real work and function of USAC. I feel we have made great progress and many advancements in several areas during the past three years. The failure of the Board of Trustees to understand the bounds of its authority and political pressure have created an unrest and many misunderstandings."

Dr. Madsen met with the committee at 10 a. m.; Secretary Bentson at 2 p. m.; and members of the Alumni council conferred between 2 and 5 p. m. Additional testimony was called for from former Deans Joseph N. Symons and Ione Daniel.

We're All In The Same Boat; Dissension Weakens Us All

Now that the dominant problems of Utah State are pointing towards an acceptable solution, another situation comes to mind. It is a problem in its own right. A student problem. One which would, if reconciled, add to the quick recovery of the college.

The problem is this: Among student groups on campus there seems to be a great deal of strife and ill will. Loosely dividing the factions into three overlapping groups we can set up arbitrary boundaries between the independents, religious interests, and the Greeks.

This strife does not affect all those included in these groups. It concerns the extremes primarily, and the means, by association.

Quarreling and wrangling over religious or social principles only serves to unsanctify and lower very admirable ideals. Such quibbling is unnecessary.

When competition between groups becomes more a drive for power than for the betterment of the institution; when groups desire power in order to take advantage of their competitors once in office, we definitely have a problem. It becomes an unfortunate situation, which results in dissension and constant schisms.

GOALS OBSCURED

Undoubtedly these aren't the conscious motives of any group. The bitter competitive touch and go struggle for important student posts sometimes obscures the true ideals and goals.

Wholesome competition is desirable. There is no need to weaken groups in order to bring about much needed unity. Yet a new type of respect must be cultured for one another.

It is not our purpose to give adverse criticism for the sole sake of criticizing. Rather, we would like all elements concerned to consider the situation, and if they find any part of it true, attempt to formulate a solution.

This is our suggestion. Each group, which can identify themselves as a part of one or more of these three factions should do a little introspective self-study as to the purpose of their founding.

The school is the whole which we are all a part. It is the school which becomes the common denominator. It is the school which must set policies that will be commensurate with the pleasure of ALL the students. This can be achieved only if we shy away from religious controversy in an unappropriate segment of life, student government. The policies we must formulate and support are those which engulf us all, not the negative ones that discriminate against any single faction and by their existence cause dissension and discomfort.

It is sheer misconception to think the problem stems from a split between "haves" and "have-nots," morals and immorality. The schism evolves from jealousies, prejudices and misunderstanding. Unity can only rise from a reversal of these same feelings.

We may be separated into groups, but we are also united in a school. If ever a college needed the push of level-headed students banded together by a unity of purpose, now is the time. The unity achieved by the universal support of the things that we now have and expect to have in the near future will be Utah State's greatest asset.

done to the president more than has already been done. I do not favor the board to split him further, rather the board suffer than for him to be embarrassed even more so than he has already been embarrassed.

Truste Preston stated: "You mean you would rather than for one man to suffer? I do not feel that way. We have been here a long enough. The vicious rumors that have started about every member of this board will not only hurt the board and the school, but our own private businesses as well."

Truste Isaacson answered: "I would rather the board suffer. I would rather the board suffer than for one man to suffer. I do not want the president further humiliated. I am sure that you do not want any stigma on this man because of the harm that has been done in this position without doing it. I am sure that you would see another position without any harm to the school or the president."

Truste Preston stated: "I feel that the board should be protected but not at the expense of the president. I am sure that you would see another position without any harm to the school or the president."

Truste Gardner stated: "We should not hesitate to tell the president that we will not be employed after July 1."

Truste Isaacson asked: "Do you think this is the best way to proceed?"

Truste Gardner stated: "I don't think it is the best way. I don't think it is the best way. I don't think it is the best way."

BOARD RELEASES MINUTES

Events of Madsen Dismissal

Ed. note. The following minutes of the Board of Trustees were released today by a board committee consisting of Arthur Woolley, George D. Preston, and Ulfen G. Noyes with the authority of all the members of the Board.

STUDENT LIFE prints them for your information and further understanding.

SPECIAL TO STUDENT LIFE
MINUTES OF THE SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE UTAH STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, HELD IN HOTEL, UTAH, SALT LAKE CITY, APRIL 13, 1953 AT 5 P. M.
Chairman Thorpe B. Isaacson stated the reasons for this meeting, and he felt very badly about the trend of condition that caused the holding of this meeting. Chairman Isaacson went on to say that he had hoped the board and the present administration at the college could have made progress with the problems that had developed. Chairman Isaacson stated for the benefit of the three new board members who were present that some weeks ago he was presented with a letter signed by all of the members of the Board of Trustees except two requesting that he call a special meeting of the Board of Trustees. The letter is as follows:

Dear Mr. Isaacson:
We believe that the best interests of the College justify a change in the administrative head of the Institution, and respectfully request the Chairman to call an executive special meeting of the Board of Trustees to consider the selection of some well qualified person as present in place of the present incumbent."

Respectfully,
Herschel Butler, Jr., Glenn G. Nielsen, C. W. Peterson, Arthur Woolley, Geo. D. Preston, W. W. Gardner, J. V. Sanders, C. C. Armstrong, Chas. R. Hunter, J. McLean, C. S. Fitter, members of the Board.
The chairman further stated that members of the Board of Trustees had authorized Chairman Isaacson to write to Dr. George Albert Smith, Jr., Harvard University, and ask him if he would be interested in meeting with the Board of Trustees. This was done, and Dr. Smith replied in the affirmative, and Dr. Smith is outside ready to meet with this Board of Trustees if that is your desire.

Truste Butler moved that the Board hear Dr. Smith, and the motion was seconded by Truste Peterson and carried unanimously.

Dr. Smith then appeared before the board.

After Dr. Smith had retired, Chairman Isaacson reported to the Board that he had a visit with President Madsen after the Saturday meeting in Logan and that the president had informed him that he had told Mr. Bertson, Secretary to the College, that he had recommended his dismissal. Due to the fact that this meeting of the board was an executive meeting and confidential, Chairman Isaacson did not feel it wise or appropriate to inform President Madsen of the forthcoming special meeting. However, Chairman Isaacson in answering President Madsen's question, informed him that the Board had not discharged him, but that Chairman Isaacson further stated that he did take the opportunity of informing President Madsen that there was a great question as to whether or not he should be retained as president. The board apparently agreed with Chairman Isaacson.

Chairman Isaacson informed the board that he had information to the effect that President Madsen had received or would receive an offer for employment.

Chairman Isaacson again stressed the fact with emphasis that he did not want President Madsen fired or hurt in any way, and he urged the board to take the college's most serious injury.

Truste Isaacson further stated that he did not want the board to be embarrassed, at least not until after President Madsen's departure.

Recount In 'Mural Points Gives Trophy To Pi Kaps

Club Champs Foresters, Kerr Hall

Pi Kappa Alpha snatched the intramural trophy away from Sigma Alpha Epsilon in a whirlwind softball finish, despite the fact that the SAE's knocked off the Pi Kaps, 14-2, in a game erroneously billed "important."

Miscount of total points led fans to believe that an SAE win over the Pi Kaps and a softball championship would be sufficient to give the Sig Alphas their fourth straight intramural gonfalon.

2-Point Difference

It wasn't enough even if SAE trips Lambda Delta Sigma today at 4 p.m. in the championship softball game. Best the SAE's could do would be to finish the 'mural race with 1,141 points, two shy of Pi Kappa Alpha's winning 1,143.

Actually, it was Pi Kap's 13-1 triumph over Sigma Phi Epsilon Wednesday that "iced" the 'mural jewels for the champs.

An error in addition of the points scored in winter carnival back in February resulted in a four-point deficit for the Pi Kaps that had the picture in a victory for SAE by two points, but a check of the figures revealed otherwise.

Softball Trophy

If the Sig Alphas cop the softball tilt this afternoon, it will be their third championship of that sport in a row, the second since the traveling trophy for the sport was adopted.

In the other two leagues, Kerr Hall copped their first championship in the club league as the Foresters continued their dominance of the department circuit.

Femorals

Incumbent officers for the Women's Athletic Association were nominated last Monday by the outgoing officers, with elections scheduled for the near future. Candidates are Nena Rae Hawkes and Bernie Tomlinson, president; Nedra Nielsen and Virginia Thompson, vice president; and Yvonne Rippon and Diane Nordman, secretary. The intramural manager and her assistant will be appointed by the executive council. The WAA Awards Banquet will be held on May 25, 6:00 at the Bluebird at which time the old and new officers will be honored. Anyone who wishes to attend the banquet should contact Palma Lundahl immediately.

Water baseball is in full swing this week. Tonight Kappa Delta will play Lambda Delta Sigma at 5:00. Next week's games include Kappa Delta vs. Sigma Kappa on Monday, Rockets vs. Skippers on Tuesday, and Alpha Chi vs. Chi Omega on Wednesday. Spectators are welcome to watch the games.

Douglas Andersen Fills Dad's Shoes, And How!

Belatedly we learned what gave the "winged feet" to Douglas Anderson, Utah State freshman, who won the half mile against BYU Saturday. He wore the spikes which his father, Sterling, "Punny," Andersen, wore when he was a sprint star at USAC. "Punny" attended the college from 1920-28 and starred in the 100, 220, and quarter. He also played a fine game of football despite the moniker he carried. Although Saturday was a cold windy day with snow flurries, Doug won in a good time, 2:02 minutes.

The Western Division meet at Provo Saturday is next test for Douglas Andersen and the Utah State thinclads.

Aggie Golfers Save The Day; Western Division Meets Sat.

Previously winless, Coach Cec Baker's golfers kept Utah State from going completely blanked in the victory column against University of Utah spring teams. Farmers baseballers dropped a twin bill to the newly crowned champions, 14-4 and 5-1; the netters lost 8-1 but linksters deprived the visiting Utes from a grand sweep, winning 10-8.

Coach Ev Faunce's nine close a hard-luck season Friday at Provo against the mediocre Brigham Young University Cougars. The tennis team will oppose the Cougars, Friday, and then Saturday racquetters, divoters and thinclads swing into western division action.

Against the Utah diamond team, the Farmers were simply out-classed at the plate and outfield. The Utes won the opener hands down, 14-4 and in the nightcap, excessive errors cost lefty John Dawson a 5-hit triumph.

Jerry Dahlberg and Fred Golding sparked the Aggie linksters with scores of 76 and 78, respectively. Dick Farnley, Utah, fired the day's best round with a 74. Utah State's doubles team coped the only tennis match.

GREEKS

Alpha Chi, Theta U State Spring Formals Saturday

By BETTE REESE

Alpha Chi Omega's sundry social schedule will be climaxed Saturday evening in the Union Building Skyroom according to chairman Charlene Liljenquist. A "Cocktail For Two" theme will be initiated to the melodies of Dick Beecher's capacious combo. Preceding the ball is a banquet at the Bluebird where the little sisters will toast the graduating seniors. The "Outstanding Pledge" will be announced at the banquet also. A party honoring Mrs. Johnson, house mother is planned tonight at 6:00.

THETA UPSILON'S Spring formal features heralding their Ideal Man. The outgoing favorite, Fred Goding will resign his throne to Theta U's newly elected Paragon who will be recognized at the Country Club, the scene of the social. The girls had an exchange with the SPE's Monday at the fraternity house where delicacies and dancing were enjoyed.

That crazy SIGMA NU Chanticleer! Themed to "Ocean Interlude," the White Star Formal will kick off the twenty-four hours of festivities May 22, ave Faucett (Hod extraordinary) is chairman of the annual fracas. Jan Eggen, present Sigma Nu girl, will abdicate to one of these candidates: Jeanne Bowen AXO, Iris Godfrey KD, Janet Bates SX, Treva Harper XO, Carol Felix KD, Carol Fulkerson AXO, Joan Lee Wilson XO and Lois Ray AXO.

SIGMA KAPPAS are "cleaning house." Don't get alarmed, readers, McCarthy hasn't invaded, they are having the annual spic and span day Saturday. Two new pledges Mardie Mallory and Frances Maher, were recently welcomed to the fold. A crashing canyon exchange was held with Sigma Pi last Monday.

PI KAPPA ALPHA's blossom time toe-tapping was Saturday in the Union Skyroom preceded by a banquet in the campus cafeteria. Dick Beecher's down-beat boys furnished the music, according to Ross Allen and Bob Mortimer, chairmen of the formal. Joe Nelson edited the "Garnet and Gold," Spring Formal publication, which was presented at the dance.

SIGMA CHI's officers for the ensuing year are Steve Hayward, consul, Pres Thomas, pro-consul; and Dick Lewis, Annotator. The White-Cross alumni banquet and party at Hotel Eccles was termed a success by Clair Peterson, alumni chairman in charge. Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu are collaborating to function more more efficiently at a Donnelly party Friday.

Replacing A. Hays as Eminent Archon of SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON is Bill Creer. Other execs include Jack McLea, EDA; Dick Smith, Recorder; Perry Brady, Warden; Dave Saunders, Herald; Jack Taylor, Chronicler and Jerry Welker, correspondent. New Phi Alpha pledges are Jay Del Lee, Darrell Firth and Glen Peterson.

Rumor has it that the CHI OMEGAS are going out with married men. Yes, this Friday night is the Fathers and Daughters Banquet at the Bluebird, states Nancy Norton, chairman.

Trying to remain impartial seems to be the shibboleth of the Cardinal and Straw sisters. The mothers will be holding a buffet supper at the chapter house Friday evening the same time as the Dad and Daughter party.

KAPPA DELTA SORORITY boasts ten recently initiated actives. They are: Pauline Tate, Carolyn Thorpe, Nancy Stallings, Janet Walters, Vernice Hillyard, Connie Smith, Lois Holman, Norma Hector, Ann Woodward, and Ruth Andrews. Gus Rich's resort area will be the scene of a well-earned KD-SN get-together. Being women of their word, the girls will treat the kiddies from the Castle on the corner in recognition of a superior assembly. This is the pay-off! Dum-dum dum-dum . . . DRAGNET!

Swing Sing has been sung for another year and per usual many versus linger, negatively or otherwise, in our memories. Some choice slams are worthy of resurrection. Sig Alph sons were accredited with: "The Sigma Chis were met one night upon their lighted A. Dean Symons caught them in the act and now he's on his way."

After-CHI OMEGA copped the scholarship cup, they lived it up by vocalizing to the tune of "Grandma's Lye Soap". Jeanne Price, Peg Nielsen and Mary Rhodes were polled as being the outstanding members of the congregation.

Emphasizing the apparent satire of the college situation were the SIGMA KAPPAS by warbling "Old Utah State ain't what it used to be. The old AC has lost all its faculty — Gone to BYU. You may be there too, before this mess is through. Who will President Madsen's replacement be—Isaacson or J. B. Lee."
