Staff Development Committee (SDC)

- Mission:
  SDC is dedicated to the training, education, and retention of all Library employees

- Membership:
  10 people representing all departments & all job classifications

- Leadership opportunities for all!
  NO ONE is safe from serving as the chair!
OUR CHARGE:

- Identifying training needs
- Organizing continuing education programs (workshops, seminars, Staff Day, etc.)
- Promoting stress-relieving activities
Staff Day – the main SDC event

- An annual event for all library staff
- Purpose is to learn about the library, strengthen relationships, and HAVE FUN!
Staff Day

- Offers diverse activities
- Mixes fun and SERIOUS
- Brings people together
- Fosters conversations with colleagues
- Features variety of speakers
- Grassroots effort — planned by the people, for the people…
RECENT STAFF DAY THEMES

- 2005: Carnival
- 2006: Strategic Planning (not popular)
- 2007: Library Olympics
- 2008: Folklore & Storytelling
- 2009: Be Well, Be Safe, Be Happy
- 2010: Giving Back to Our Community: Volunteer Projects
Staff Day 2006: Strategic Planning

- By far it was our most unpopular!
- We learned that Librarians Just Want to Have Fun!
Staff Day 2007: Library Olympics
STAFF DAY 2007: LIBRARY OLYMPICS

08/03/2007
Staff Day 2007: Library Olympics
Staff Day 2008: Folklore
Staff Day 2008: Folklore
Staff Day 2009: Be Well, Be Safe, Be Happy

- Developed to complement a campus wide “Be Well” program
- SDC members created training materials starring our very own talent, in order to keep the staff engaged
- Staff Day launched a fitness challenge that culminated 30 days later with a “Be Well” lunch
Staff Day Awards

- Each year we honor an employee from each employee class: Classified, Professional, Faculty
- Staff members submit nominations, describing the accomplishments of the nominee
- The previous year’s winners serve as the judges
- Winners receive a free day off
OTHER SDC ACTIVITIES

- Spotlight of the Week
- Table Talks
- Departmental Open Houses
One of the SDC’s Reporters on the Run, tracked down these talented employees for an in-depth, insightful, and highly professional interview. No frivolous questions were left unanswered. No library employees were intentionally injured during this interview.

All three appear to enjoy their calling to librarianship. The call came to them from different entities. For Cindy it was her landlord, to whom we will be forever indebted. Emily was influenced by Ronald Jenkins, Director of the Logan Public Library. Trevor simply heard voices in his head. Emily demonstrated wisdom beyond her years by indicating Cataloging was her favorite course. However, we must question her choice of least favorite course, since she cited the movies she was forced to watch as part of her Multicultural Sources & Services class! …

- Anyone who has attended a conference, training, or workshop is asked to present a summary of their experience.

- Also features special training or current awareness:
  - Web 2.0 technologies
  - New Institutional Repository
Departmental Open Houses

- Offered every couple of years
- Departments take turns hosting open houses
- Departments plot and scheme creative ways to show what they do and who they are.

Activities have included:

- The Price is Right (Acquisitions)
- Baby Picture Matching (Digital)
- Mission Impossible Video (Systems)
- Circus (Cataloging)
EATIN’ MEETINGS

- First Friday Lunch (monthly potlucks)

TREATS ANYONE?

Come to the Holiday Treats Exchange!
Cookies, Breads, Candy or???????

Everyone loves home made treats at Christmas Time.

Bring in your favorite home made holiday treats.
Please bring 3 dozen to exchange
and an extra dozen to sample.

Also be sure to bring your recipes to
to exchange with others.

If you just want to sample that’s fine too.
But please bring a canned food item for the food pantry if you aren’t making something.

Why is SDC important to us?

- Breaks down barriers between departments
- Builds esprit de corps
- Enhances reputation (other people want to work here!)
- Happy workers = productive workers
