Theme: Community Voices Amplified

In partnership with the Transforming Communities journal, the Conference on Community-Engaged Scholarship and Teaching (CCEST) is pleased to announce a call for submissions from conference presenters to further develop and contribute their work to the 2024 conference proceedings special issue, which will showcase their innovative community-engaged research, teaching, solutions, and initiatives.

About CCEST

The Utah Conference on Community-Engaged Scholarship and Teaching brings together academics, practitioners, and community partners to explore the intersections of scholarship, teaching, and community engagement to address issues affecting communities throughout Utah. CCEST provides a platform for sharing best practices, fostering collaboration, and amplifying the voices of communities to improve the well-being of all. This year's conference theme was "Community Voices Amplified," highlighting the importance of centering and elevating the perspectives, knowledge, and experiences of communities in research, teaching, and practice.

Submission Guidelines

We welcome submissions from accepted presenters of the 2024 CCEST. Submissions may take the form of any manuscript or multimedia submission type currently accepted by the Transforming Communities journal, which can be found here:

Manuscript Submission Guidelines: <https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/tcjournal/styleguide.html>

Multimedia Submission Guidelines: <https://digitalcommons.usu.edu/tcjournal/multimedia.html>

Peer Review

All submissions will undergo an open peer review by experts in a related field. Read more about our open peer review process and sign up to become a reviewer:
